COLLEGE BOARD APPROVES CHANGES IN ACADEMIC PROGRAM OF SCHOOL

Staying astride with the changing world, the Colorado College Board of Trustess during the summer approved changes in the academic organization of the college.

The following changes are now in effect:

(a) The former School of Arts and Sciences becomes the Lower Division and its dean becomes the Dean of the Lower Division.

(b) The former School of Letters and Fine Arts becomes the Division of Humanities, with the addition of the departments of philosophy and religion.

c) The School of Social Sciences (minus philosophy and religion) becomes the Division of Social Sciences.

The Committee on Instruction, in order to provide a smooth transition to the new organization, has approved the following alterations in graduation requirements:

"Students admitted prior to October 1, 1951, as majors in philosophy or in religion may elect, for graduation requirement purposes, to be considered either as members of the Division of Social Sciences or the Division of Humanities."

"Majors in other fields who are members of the junior and senior classes in 1951-52 may count credits in religion and philosophy as being either social science or humanities."

Futher changes in the academic program are:

(a) Dance will be administered as a part of the Music Department.

(b) Sociology will be administered as a part of the Department of Economics, Business and Sociology with Professor Curran as head of the combined departments.

(c) The courses in speech, drama and radio will be administered by the English Department.

(d) Associate Professor Krutzke has been designated as ad-

Faculty Adds Four New Members Over Summer Months

Last April the TIGER informed the students that five new faculty members would be on the campus this fall. Since that issue four more faculty members have been added to the list.

The man most in the limelight this fall is our new head football coach, William Heiss. Mr. Heiss received his BS at the University of Illinois in 1946. From there he went to the University of Detroit where he was assistant backfield coach and freshman basketball coach. In 1948 he transfered to Adams State College as the head football coach and assistant basketball coach. In 1950 he went to Minnesota State Teachers College as head football coach.

Shove Chapel will be the headquarters for Howard R. Burkle, new dean of the chapel and assistant professor of religion. Dean Burkle went to Central Missouri State Teachers College for his BA in 1945. In 1948 he received his BD from Yale University, and the following year in the same school he was awarded his STM. From 1947 to 1949 he was chaplain for Milford Preparatory School, in Milford, Conn. He was an assistant professor in philosophy, religion and ethics at Yale in 1950.

ENROLLMENT FIGURES SHOW MEN STILL EXCEED GALS ON CAMPUS

Don't fret yet, girls, the men are still plentiful at Colorado College—in fact they stil outnumber you. Contrary to the belief of many returning yound co-eds, there is no scarcity of the male sex in the rolls of CC students as yet, and unless the draft situation changes severely there are no indications that there will be in the near future. True, the number of men students on campus has dropped sharply — not as sharply percentage-wise as in most other schools thruout the nation, however. At the same time the number of women on the campus has risen, making the dating ratio even tougher for the coeds.

At this same time last year CC had enrolled 1,053 3students, including 613 men and 383 women. By Tuesday of this week the registrar's office, headed this year by Mrs. M. E. Scoggin, released figures showing 470 men and 455 women. This is a decrease of 143 in male enlrollment and an increase of 72 in feminine registration.

Two factors, of course, have entered into the male enrollment decline. The draft situation, which prompted many enlistments, is known by all. In addition, a fact not considered 'by many, the GI Bill is rapidly running out, leaving CC with only 100 veterans registered this year, as compared with 220 last year. No more freshmen register under the GI Bill, meaning that when CC lost 120 GI students, the normal enrollment this year might have been 933. Instead, it is now 925, many more than expected by college officials..

Latest figures from Mrs. Scoggin show the following:

	Men	Women	Total
Freshmen	90	143	233
Sophomores	118	112	230
Junior	115	82	197
Seniors	118	59	177
Grads., Visitors, Special Students	29	59	88
	470	450	925

Cheerleaders to Be Chosen For First Time by Student Body

The student body of Colorado College will vote on the coming year's cheerleaders next Tuesday morning immediately following chapel. This new system of choosing the pep squad was inaugurated last Monday by the ASCC at the recommendation of Enthusiasm Chairman Al Schoenfeld. The new system is part of an extensive program to promote school spirit on the CC campus. It is as follows:

Friday, September 21—

All students, Freshmen through Seniors, interested in trying out for the pep squad will meet at 4:00 p. m. in Perkins Hall to register as candidates and learn some of the cheers.

Monday, September 24—

All candidates will try out before a committee picked by the Enthusiasm Chairman. These preliminaries will be held at 4:00 p. m. in Perkins Hall.

Tuesday, September 25—

Finalists will go through one yell each before the student body on the lawn north of the chapel immediately following chapel services.

Students will be handed ballots on leaving the chapel. They will mark these ballots after tryouts and place them in ballot boxes. Ballots will be counted Tuesday afternoon by the A.S.C.C. Election Committee, and results will be announced as soon as possible.

The purpose of the meeting Friday is to get the names of all those interested in being on the pep squad. The meeting Monday and preliminary tryouts are to narrow down the wide field of candidates expected. The election of seven cheerleaders will be picked to lead the cheers for the next school year.

Previously, cheerleaders have been elected by the old cheerleaders and the Enthusiasm Chairman. It was decided at the meeting Monday, that the new plan would be a more democratic one. It will also place on the cheerleaders a responsibility to the student body as a whole.

Remember, any student now attending CC is eligible to run and be elected to one of the seven spots on the pep squad, so all interested should be at Perkins Hall next Friday afternoon at 4:00.

Restrictions Relaxed For NAVCAD Applicants

Draft restrictions for men wishing to apply for the Naval Aviation Cadet program have been relaxed, Captain K. E. Jung, commanding the Denver naval air station, announced today.

Previously, applications could not be accepted from men who had received a notice to report for preinduction physical examination.

Men may now apply for the Naval Aviation Cadet program up to the time they actually receive their orders for induction. Applicants must be unmarried, between the ages of eighteen and twenty-seven, and have a minimum of two years college.

Those men in the Rocky Mountain area who have been rejected recently due to having received their notice to report for pre-induction physical may re-apply, Captain Jung said.

Accepted candidates will be ordered to report within four months to Pensacola, Fla., where they will undergo eighteen months of intensive flight and ground training.

Cadets who successfully complete this training will be commissioned Ensigns in the Naval Reserve or Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve and as-

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE
COLORADO COLLEGE
COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO

September 18, 1951

A WELCOME TO STUDENTS FROM PRESIDENT GILL:

I am very happy to have this opportunity to welcome you officially to Colorado College and to greet you as an important part of the great Colorado College family.

We are very proud to welcome you the returning upperclassmen and to thank those organizations and students who were largely responsible for the success of this year's Freshman Orientation Week. Without the plans of these groups, plus the eforts of those students who returned to the campus early, such success could not have been possible.

We are proud also to welcome the outstanding group of Freshmen and transfer students who have come to Colorado College for the first time this year. We are glad that you have selected this college and we shall do everything possible to help you prove that you have made a wise choice.

You will find the faculty and the staff most anxious to help you with your individual problems.

The 1951-52 school year is off to an excellent start. It is my privilege to offer you all the facilities of this great organization and my hope that you will find happiness and success within its walls.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM H. GILL,
President.

Sigma Chis Hold Annual Watermelon Bust Saturday

There'll be about two tons of juicy ripe watermelons floating around at 1117 N. Nevada Ave., next Saturday. The occasion will be the annual Sigma Chi watermelon bust, held every year at the Sig house on the Colorado College campus. It will be the first all-school function of the year for the Tigers. Festivities will include watermelon eating contests among faculty members, house mothers, and fraterity and sorority officers.

JUST TO CLARIFY THINGS

We hope that this first issue of the TIGER for the new school year is not too confusing. We are trying to present an idea that was planned last spring to show the new students and their parents what organizations we have on the campus. By doing this, it is our hope that it will aid both the students and their families to understand what these organizations do to help develop the person.

A college not only builds a person mentally, but equally important it builds him to live better and to fit into the society that is always surrounding him.

We know that all the different organizations that make up our campus are not included within these pages and we regret that we were unable to get them all. However, we want to thank everyone who helped in giving us the information and devoted the time to write a few words about their respective groups.

If these articles on the different organizations have enlightened a great many individuals we have accomplished our purpose. If they still leave a lot of questions unanswered we hope to answer them all as the year progresses.

At any rate we tried, and we will keep on trying so that everyone, everywhere will know what it takes to make a good American college.

U. S. National Student Assn.

Colorado College was represented at the National Students Association Congress August 20-29 by Jim Hill, Ned Pfeiffer and De De Staskal. One of the highlights of the convention was the strengthening of NSA services on campus.

National Students Association was organized to give the students of America a speaking voice. NSA is often called upon by the Congress of the United States to get student opinion on present day issues.

Steps are being taken toward world co-operation by sending student representatives to International Conferences abroad. At our National Congress this summer, France, Norway, Holland, Canada, Switzerland and South America sent representatives.

This year NSA has made arrangements to sponsor a nation-wide student art exhibit. We are anxious to have as many entries as possible and any students interested may enter their work. Entries will be shown in exhibits on campuses throughout the United States and will be professionally judged. All NSA member schools are eligible to have this exhibit displayed.

On the CC campus the NSA group is in charge of soliciting for the campus chest, releasing student discount cards, blood typing, and publishing and selling calenders with school activities dated. NSA is working to establish a Mountain Day on which everyone can legally cut classes for an all-school picnic. This group also helps the Student Council with many of its activities.

The meetings are held on Wednesday nights at 7:30 in Lennox.

Campus NSA officers are: Jim Hill, president; John Cecil, vice-president on student affairs; Sue Schlessman, vice-president on international affairs; Tom Freund, vice-president on national affairs; Carolyn Slack, secretary; Ned Pfeiffer, treasurer; and Tom Freund, public relations.

YOUR Honor Council Meets

By AL STRAND

All members of the Honor Council are elected by representatives from each class. They number twelve in all and it is their duty to act as jurors in cases of violations of the honor code. At present there is one vacancy which will be filled by honor council appointment.

The present members of the Honor Council are:

George Hamada, Hagerman Hall, Main 6660.

Janet Adams, Howbert House, Main 6660.

Mose Harrison, Jackson House, Main 6660.

Nancy Wolfer, Hershey House, Main 6660.

Ned Mann, Phi Gam House, Main 5714.

Tom Groom, 1123 N. Cascade, Main 458-W.

Bob Malowney, 631 N. Cascade, Main 2676-J.

Jack Fitzgerald, Jackson House, Main 6660.

Tom Dunton, Phi Gam House, Main 5714.

Marty Healy, Hamlin House, Main 6660.

Chapel Choir

The Colorado College Chapel Choir and Concert Chorus welcomes all students for private auditions in Shove Chapel today at the following time:

4:15-5:30 P. M.

This is final auditions and those who have not yet tried out should appear at one of these times.

Under the direction of Professor Edward B. Greene, the former Chapel Choir and Concert Chorus will this year be combined into one organization, headed by student officers, and dedicated to a high standard of musical performance on the campus and elsewhere. The activities of the chorus will be both musical and social. In addition to singing for the Tuesday chapel services, the chorus looks forward to trips away from home, a Christmas program in Shove Chapel and a campus concert including one extended choral work, to be performed in the spring. Both secular and sacred music will be sung.

Those who have previously sung in any choir or chorus are especially urged to try out for the Chorus. Tenors are especially needed in order to keep the Chorus as large as possible.

The Chorus will rehearse two hours a week: on Mondays at 4:30 and Thursdays at 4:30 or 7:30. All rehearsals will be held in the basement of Shove Chapel. The work of the Chorus will count as one hour credit a semester, but those who prefer to do so may sing without credit.

The Chorus offers to all students an opportunity to become acquainted with a great deal of fine music; to sing in public with a congenial and creative group; and finally, to enjoy the excitement and the "life" which goes with fine choral singing.

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

Three male students were brought up before the Student Council last spring where they were tried for misusing privileges in and around the girls dorms. Each was fined $25 and received a stiff reprimand.

Camera Club

Last year under the auspices of both the Publications Board and the ASCC, a new organization, the Camera Club, was formed in order to provide an outlet for those students that have an interest, no matter how small, in photography. The ASCC gave financial aid in order to set up a complete and modern darkroom. With the help of the administration a room in the basement of Hagerman Hall was set aside for the exclusive use of the Camera Club as a darkroom.

The club will provide an opportunity to meet with fellow photographers both on and off the campus and to exchange helpful information with each other. Dr. Paul E. Boucher, faculty advisor, is well known throughout the photographic world as a skillful photographer and technician; he will be able to provide members of the camera club with invaluable aid and advice.

Darkroom equipment includes a DEJUR 4x5 Koolite enlarger, developing print dryers, negative viewers, 5x7 Brumberger contact printer and all the other necessities to provide the photographer with the needed tools to produce good prints. All members are entitled to use the darkroom as often as they like.

Plans for the coming year include field trips, lectures and exhibitions. The TIGER, Nugget, Alumni News and the local papers will often ask members of this organization to take pictures for them. Through this, good experience in taking pictures may be gained and also the chance of reselling pictures at a small profit.

To join this newest and most interesting organization on this campus the only prerequisite is interest in photography and $2.00 a semester for dues. A fancy camera with hot and cold running water is not necessary, just an interest. More information may be obtained from either Tom Freund or Larry Levy in Hagerman Hall.

Associated Women Students Play Vital Role On Campus

The main purpose of Associated Women Students is to coordinate and unify the activities of all the women students on campus. It is headed by the AWS Board which is made up of the executive officers, who are elected by all the women students in the spring, AWS committee chairmen, and the presidents of the Quadrangle Association, Women's Athletic Association, Tiger Club, Independent Women, and the vice-president of Panhellenic. The president of AWS is a member of the Student Council and the Committee on Undergraduate Life. Every woman student registered at CC is automatically a member of AWS and AWS group on our campus ia a member of a national organization, the Intercollegiate Associated Women Students.

AWS begins the year with an annual fall conference and luncheon held at Bruin Inn, at which time plans are discussed and formulated for the coming year.

Welcoming Committee

The AWS welcoming Committee makes plans in the apring for the welcoming of all new women students in the fall. Welcomers write letters during the summer to the new girls. The Welcoming Committee assists the ASCC in meeting trains and helps the girls to get settled in their rooms. Freshman Week is climaxed by an AWS party in Bemis Commons for both new and old students. At the end of rush week, the Independent women and AWS give a dinner for all girls not attending sorority preference dinners.

Orientation

A freshman orientation program consisting of two meetings is provided by the AWS vice president and the Personnel Committee. At the first meeting, members of the faculty and upperclassmen give short talks about various phases of college life, the academic side is particularly stresed. Extra-curricular activities are stressed at the second meeting at which time thumbnail sketches are given of the activities of each club or organization and blanks on which the freshmen can express their interests are provided. The Personnel Committee then sorts the blanks and sends the names of those interested to the various clubs and organizations.

The Men Are "Out to Lunch"

At the beginning of the second semester, AWS sponsors its annual Gold-Diggers Ball. It is a turn-about dance at which the women present their dates with original corsages and pay all the bills for the evening. A king is elected from the candidates presented by the fraternities and the Independent Men and an award is given for the most original corsage.

Integration

As well as attending national or regional conventions in the spring, the AWS executive officers meet with the AWS officers from other colleges in Colorado for a leadership conference.

Publications

Our publications committee is in charge of the publication of the "Tigress Tips," a handbook sent to all new women students. Several years ago it revived the Kinnikinnik and pubilshed the first few issues before it was taken over as an ASCC publication.

The AWS Vocational Guidance committee works with the Counseling Center in providing occupational information to students and giving vocational and psychological tests to all who are interested.

Volunteer Work

The AWS Service Committee is very active thruout the year. It arranges for students to do volunteer work at Half-Way House, a rehabilitation center for patients recovering from TB and heart disease, the YWCA, where they are Y-Teen group leaders, the Child Care Center, the Red Cross, and the Girl Scouts as assiatants to Girl Scout leaders. The Service Committee has also worked with the Women's Educational Society in helping to sponsor and orientate the foreign women students. Last year they sponsored an old clothes drive for a school in Japan and a drive for old books and magazines for hospitala and the Half-Way House. During the year they sponsored open meetings with speakers from the organizations in town to interest the girls in volunteer work. This fall the Service Committee opened a secondhand book store as a service to both old and new students.

"WHAT WAS THE NAME OF DON QUIXOTE'S HORSE?"—Seems to be perplexing the freshmen class that took tests for two days during Freshmen Orientation Week in Cossitt Gym.

Red Lantern

Once again it is time for the Red Lantern of Colorado College to assume a dominate part in freshmen traditions as well as college affairs.

Just what is the Red Lantern? It is a group of twelve senior men who have been selected for outstanding merit and service during their junior year. It is the job of these twelve men to preserve time honored traditions and customs that have been developed through the years at Colorado College.

You may wonder what does traditions and customs entail. Here is a simple enumeration:

1. Usher at all chapel services as well as graduation.
2. Take charge of freshman assemblies.
3. Hold "Kangaroo Kourt."
4. Special assistance to the president of the college.
5. Supervise the annual Freshman-Sophomore fight.
6. Aid in making pre-game and post-game activities a success, (pep rallies, bon-fires, half time ceremonies, ringing Cutler Bell, etc.)
7. Sale of freshmen Dinks.
8. Over-all supervision of freshmen activities and behavior during their first semester.

This year the Red Lantern is headed by Ned Mann. Others included in this organization are: Rolly Rogers, Dick Yates, Andy Gambucci, Bill Dewire, Jack Fitzgerald, Warren Arter, Bob Malowney, Bud Eastwood, Jerry Graham, Jim Hill and Jerry Dummer.

Music resembles poetry; in each are numerous graces which no methods teach, and which a master hand alone can reach.—Pope.

Sing Out CC with Music Workshop

The Colorado College Music Workshop has planned its first regular meeting of the year for October 9th. All students are invited to attend. The Workshop will present as spenker Mr. David Kraehonbuehl, distinguished member of the college music faculty. Mr. Kraeheabuehl's subject will be "Motion and Emotion".

The Music Workshop is a student run organization open to all students with any interest whatsoever in music. The Workshop is at present making plans to present members of the Music Department faculty and faculty of various other departments in a series of lectures and panel discussions thruout the year. The Workshop expects to present several programs of student performances on which student works will be featured.

For the past four years, the Music Workshop has sponsored a choral group known as the Workshop Singers. The membership of this group has always been open to the entire student body and has not neecessarily been restricted to members of the Workshop itself, or to music students. It has been a place for students who are genuinely interested in music, and especially in singing, to come and enjoy themselves. The group is student directed. Plans for Workshop Singers this year are being discussed at present. Anyone interested should contact Mark Orton, Jim Barnes, or Gretel Muenzinger, or leave his name with Mrs. Pond at the secretary's office in Perkins Hall.

The exact time and location of the first meeting of the Music Workshop will be announced soon. Look for an announcement in this paper.

Play An Instrument? Help Boost the Band

The college band is a typical American institution. In its brassy exuberance it is best able to represent and bolster the school's pride in itself, while in its quieter moments the band serves as a cultural medium which reflects the tradition of its alma mater. A student orgaaization, it provides a satisfying experience to the participants, and at the samo time offers invaluable instruction to the future professional musician. Its very life, though, depends upon the effort and devotion givon it by the individual members, and its ultimate fate is determined by the support and enthusiasm of the entire student body of the institution which it represents.

The Colorado College Band needs every one of you who plays a baad instrument, especially flutes, oboes, clarinets, bassoons and French horns. Those who cannot schedule the band course for credit, may join it without credit.

Applicants may contact the band director at Tenney Hall during the day, or through the Music Department offico at Perkins Hall. The regular rehearsal timo is at 4:30 P.M. on Tuesdays and Fridays at Tenney Hall.

Independent Women's Assn.

The Independent Women under their new officers, Dottie White, president; Lynn Aldridge, vice president; Pattie Pierce, secretary, and Ellie Pribbino, treasurer have planned many wonderful events for the forthcoming year. The Independent Women believe that one misses out on a great deal of college life by not belonging to some social organization on the campus. The IWA invites all unaffiliated girls to join and come to their meetings held every Monday night in Lennox. Through this important campus organization comes participation in campus activities, such as intramural sports, ASCC and AWS.

Membership in this organization is not binding. If for any reason a girl wishes to leave the organization she will be free to do so. For example: if she wishes to join a sorority later, she will no longer be an Independent. The IWA wants to help each girl find her niche on campus.

To give a better idea of what the IWA plans for the forthcoming year here is a partial list of their activities. The IWA has two all-school formal dances. Many picnics, hay rides, splash parties are included in the schedule. Pre-football and hockey game dinners are held and afterwards all members go the the game en masse. Most of these affairs are held jointly with Crown & Lance.

Crown & Lance

You will find as the school year moves on that C&L plays an important part in the activities of the entire school. It is the purpose of C&L to satisfy the needs of the unaffiliated men on campus. Membership is open to all, and by developing a democratic cooperative spirit among our members we strive to develop the social, athletic, and cultural aspect of not only Crown & Lance, but the entire school.

Crown & Lance meets every Monday night in Lennox House at 7 p. m. for a business meeting and social hour.

SORORITIES

Delta Gamma

We of Delta Gamma welcome all you newcomers to Colorado College and in particular you who are foreigners to Greek organizations. Sororities have been a collegiate institution for almost 100 years, and many lasting friendships have been made through their existence. Way back in 1873 three girls couldn't go home for Christmas because the weather was too messy for traveling. Instead of moping about they decided to form a secret society based on their ideals of friendship. Thus Delta Gamma was born. The colors bronze, pink and blue were chosen and our pin—an anchor of white gold. Growing steadily Delta Gamma was admitted to National Panhellenic in 1902 as a charter member. And we haven't stopped growing; as of 1950 there were 74 college chapters, including four in Canada, and 130 alumnae groups thruout the country. Every year many DG's spend lots of time, energy and money on our No. 1 national project, Sight Conservation and Aid to the Blind.

In 1932 the Delta Gammas invaded the CC campus and were the first national sorority to take that brave step. Thru the years we bought and paid for our own house and tried to win friends and influence people.

Last ycar the Delta Gammas suddenly waxed artistic. For our Homecoming float we constructed a gigantic and beautiful skunk and amazed ourselves by winning first prize. Our other artistic feat was chirping our way to second place (girl's division) in the annual song fest.

Delta Gammas heve held campus offices both this year and last. Last year's president of the Quadrangle Association and this year's treasurer are DGs. In the list of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" was a Delta Gamma and also on the role of

Gamma Phi Beta

Alpha Phi Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta was started at Colorado College in 1932. Members of Gamma Phi are recognized by their pin, which is a crescent moon. The pink carnation is the sorority flower and brown and brown are the G. Phi colors. School activities are well represented by Gamma Phis both in the last and the present school year. Among campus leaders G. Phi contributed many girls including WAA president, Wakuta president and president of NSA. Student Council members included four Gamma Phis and Honor Council members included two Gamma Phis. AWS was headed by a member of Gamma Phi and the Service Committee was led by a Gamma Phi and included five G. Phi members. The literary magazine of CC, the Kinnikinnik, had as its business manager a member of the sorority, and its staff included five other sorority members.

The two freshmen commissioners chosen to represent their class were Gamma Phis. Two of the sorority girls were active as cheerleaders.

At last year's AWS award dinner Gamma Phi members led the list of outstanding senior women with four of the eight girls chosen being G. Phis. A Gamma Phi was chosen by the student body as the most outstanding senior woman of her class. The scholarship award for the highest scholastic average during the four years, was given to a member of Gamma Phi.

Another Gamma Phi was awarded the outstanding woman uth-

Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta was founded at Indiana Asbury College in 1870, which is now De Pauw University in Greencastle, Indiana. It is the oldest woman's fraternity which has been active constantly thru the years. One of the four founders was invited to wear the pin of Phi Gamma Delta, but she would have had no vote in the chapter, and in order to have a vote, she organized a fraternity of her own. Because of this connection, Phi Gamma Delta is her brother fraternity.

The main project of Kappa Alpha Theta is the Institute of Logepedics in Wichita, Kansas. This institute does exactly what its name implies, works with deaf and dumb people, mostly children in trying to correct their defects. It is one of the largest and best institute of its kind in the country.

Another project of the sorority is the Foster Parent Plan whereby an orphan in Europe is adopted and receives food and clothing for its care.

In and around campus, many KATs have received notable recognition in the past year by holding such offices as AWS vice president, dorm president, cheerleaders, serving on Pick and Pan and other offices.

Theta beauties were voted queens to many functions last year including the titles of Miss CC; Sigma Chi's choice for the Miami Triad; Kappa Sig Stardust Queen and a Colorado College Theta was voted Miss Esquire in a contest held last year on college campuses thruout the nation.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Delta Zeta chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded at Colorado College in 1932, the same year in which the three other national sororities became active on this campus. This chapter is one of 82 chapters of the national Greek letter organization founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill., in 1870, in the continental United States and Canada. Distinguishing emblems of the sorority are her symbol, the wise old owl, the colors of sky and sea blues, and the pin, a small golden key.

Kappas may be found active in many phases of college life and frequently boast honors and awards. When the grade averages for last semester were compiled it was discovered that Kappa had emerged above the other sororities scholastically for the third consecutive semester and therefore gained permanent possession of a scholarship cup which travels among the sororities until one wins three times and another is started. Two Kappas were selected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" last year, and two more were chosen to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary. For the present school year Kappas hold the offices of president, secretary, and treasurer of the Associated Women Students, three are hall presidents, and there are several hall councilors. Another girl of KKG received the Perkins Prize presented annually to a sophomore on the basis of grades.

All is not serious study at the Kappa house. Throughout the year there are different social events. Among the dances given are the Kappa Carousel in November, a Christmas formal, the Korral dance in March and the spring formal. Other highlights include a chicken dinner given the chapter by the town mothers club, the annual Kappa-Phi Delt baseball game with a treasured milk can trophy, a style show and luncheon, held last year for the fourteenth time, and a spring tea honoring the faculty and administration.

In the field of extracurricular activities Kappas also take their part. Last year Kappas were presidents of the German and Riding clubs and held the positions of copy chief and society editor on the TIGER. Queens come from the chapter too. At the annual Miami Triad dance the Phi Delts' queen was a Kappa, and another reigned over the fourth annual NCAA hockey championships, held at the Broadmoor in March, after being selected by nine top hockey teams from throughout the country.

CROWN & LANCE SMOKER

This Saturday night at 7:30 in South Hall Crown & Lance will hold a smoker for all unaffiliated men students on the campus. Movies of last year's CC-Idaho State football game and the 1950 NCAA Hockey championship game will be shown. Refreshments will be served. Come to this informal smoker and see CC sports in their full glory.

DANCE POSTPONED

The Independents regret to inform the student body that the previously scheduled all-school informal dance to be held this Saturday the 22nd will be postponed to a later date. Although it will inconvenience the Student Body we cancelled the dance in an effort to co-operate with the other groups on campus.

Beta Theta Pi

This year Gamma Delta of Beta Theta Pi celebrates its 37th year on the Colorado College campus. The Betas have have been leaders in campus activities, and in scholarship have topped all the other local fraternities during the last two school years. The Betas are represented in athletics on the CC football team, captain of CC's golf team and winner of the cross country race for the past two years. In addition the entire chapter participated in intramural sports. In campus activities a Beta is editor of this year's Nugget, and chapter members are on the Inter-Fraternity Council, NSA, Student Council, Honor Council, Red Lantern, Growlers and TIGER staff and numerous other campus organizations.

Social functions began last Sunday with a jam session and informal record dance and many more of these are planned during the year. Ranking high on the chapter's social calendar are the annual Beta parties for each sorority in the fall. Other major dances including the Miami Trial and Christmas and spring formals.

The Betas, well known as a singing fraternity have held the district song cup for the last two years, and were second in the CC song fest. They also presented a minstrel act in the campus chest variety show and have sung at various college functions.

Nationally, Beta Theta Pi has over 60,000 members in 96 active chapters. The first fraternity chapters at 32 colleges were established by Beta Theta Pi. It is the only national fraternity which has been above all-mens scholastic average every year but one.

The Betas have been distinguished leaders in all fields. Over 1,000 are listed in "Who's Who," which is an average of about one out of every 37 living Betas. Among these men are Paul V. McNutt, Charles E. Wilson, Senators Butler and Wherry and the late Wendell Wilkie. At present on the U. S. Supreme Court there are two Betas, they are Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Justice William O. Douglas. Locally prominent is Mayor Blunt of Colorado Springs. And so from men on campus to men in business the Betas have and will continue to play an important part.

Kappa Sigma

The Kappa Sigma fraternity was founded at the University of Virginia on December 10, 1869. From its beginning it has remained one of the top five in membership. The organization of Kappa Sigma is much different than most large national fraternities. Most fraternities have a central office with high salaried men managing the affairs. Kappa Sigma is run by successful men who are interested in the fraternity to devote their valuable time and energy.

There are 125 active chapters scattered out in the United States and Canada and these chapters are divided into 27 districts which are arranged on a convenient geographical basis. Each of these districts has a conclave which is held during the even years, and the national conclave is held during the odd years.

The Beta Omega chapter of Kappa Sigma, here at Colorado College, was founded March 12, 1904 and is the oldest fraternity on the campus. During the last war the chapter was inactivated for three years. Eight members returned, and from this nucleus the chapter grew to what it is today.

Last year Beta Omega contributed many of the outstanding varsity athletes. They had four of the first five men in basketball including the captain of the team, and five men on the baseball team. This fall the chapter is proud to have ten men on the football squad. During its 47 years on this campus, Kappa Sigma has always had its share of the intra-mural sports trophies and home coming honors. It has always been a well balanced fraternity with men participating in all phases of life here at CC

Worthy of mention in any discussion of a fraternity system, is the development of fraternity alumni chapters. Kappa Sigma, along with many other national fraternities, has an alumni chapter in practically every large city in the U. S. The alumni of our chapter here at Colorado College is helping graduates in finding employment and getting started in the business world. Much attention is given to the maintenance of good chapter-alumni contacts.

It would be impossible to tell

Phi Delta Theta

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1848. Since that time, it has grown into one of the largest national fraternities, having issued 131 charters of which 113 are still active and boosting 76,000 brother members. Phi Delt was brought to Colorado College in 1913 and installed as Colorado Beta of Phi Delta Theta.

Phi Delta Theta is one unit of a large system of organized college men which dates back to the very beginning of American independence, established firmly in most colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

Greek letter fraternities have become the accepted form of student social organizations, and they are a powerful and dominant factor in the maintenance of harmonious relations between institutions. Their success thru more than a century proves that they have filled a need—the need of young men to associate with others of their kind in intimate friendship in an environment that favors the development of sound character and cultured minds.

These are the things which Colorado Beta of Phi Delta Theta are constantly striving for: friendship, fraternity, sound learning and character. We feel that we have been at least partially successful in quest of these ideals.

Colorado Beta is proud of its many members who have brought honor to it by outstanding accomplishments in all phases of college activity. There is no office on campus which many Phi's have not held at times in the past. Phis now hold these offices on the campus: Student Body president, business manager of the Nugget, business manger of the TIGER, sports editor of the TIGER and many others.

Phis of distinction include many famous names such as: Benjamin Harrison, Fred M. Vinson, chief justice of the supreme court; William Allen White, Van Heflin, Tommy Harmon, Doak Walker, Lou Gehrig, Bob Chappius, Frank Lloyd Wright, Wendell and Ken Niles, Powell Crosley, George Trautmann and Alvin Dark. More Phis are listed in the Senate and House of Representatives than any other national fraternity including Colorado's Senior Senator Eugene Millikin.

Inter-Fraternity COUNCIL NEWS

This year more than ever the Inter-Fraternity Council is striving for closer and more friendly relations between fraternities. If harmony can be maintained thruout the school year among the different chapters a greater school spirit will be present.

For those who are not familiar with the internal organization of the IFC it is a group of ten men, two from each fraternity, who navigate the general course which fraternities pursue. The president of the IFC for the coming year is Ned Mann of Phi Gamma Delta. He is assisted by Dick Yates of Beta Theta Pi.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is conspicious on campus in that it sets down all the rules for rushing, on the fraternity level, during freshman week. It imposes the fines as well as the punishment for violations of these rules. In fact, all through the school year the IFC keeps an eye on all intramural competition. The word of the IFC is adhered to by all of the chapters which to a certain degree are subordinate to it.

Without the full-hearted cooperation of each fraternity on campus we would not have the strong IFC we have at the present time. It serves and is served by all five national chapters here at Colorado College.

ORGANIZATIONS

Phi Gamma Delta

"Life begins at forty," so goes the old saying. This week Phi Gamma Delta is celebrating its forty-third anniversary. Just three years ago the Fijis began a record which is thus far unparalleled by an organization since Colorado College has been founded. During the school year 48-49 the Fijis won the Homecoming parade, and the majority of intramural contests; therefore having one leg of the necessary three in a row to capture the coveted all participation trophy.

The next two terms, 49-50, 50-51 proved just as victorious for the Fijis. The grand total came to 24 intramural victories out of thirty-two in three short years. Their Homecoming float was awarded first prize during the same period. So now the lady in gold with a laurel wreath in her hand stands in the trophy case at 1122 N. Cascade forever. For the first time in the history of the college the Phi Gams can point with pride, by possessing the impossible.

Nationally Phi Gamma Delta has 84 chapters residing at all the big universities in every state in the Union. She is among the top five, and her black diamond with a white star is being worn by over 20,000 men.

Here on campus Fijis are found in every walk of life. The Honor Council president for the past two years, the Nugget's business manager for two years, and this year's editor of the TIGER, all are Phi Cams. At the last graduation exercises a Fiji was honored with a Phi Beta Kappa key.

On the basketball squad a Fiji was picked as most valuable player, choice for all conference, and Colliers magazine choice of All-American for small colleges. Fifteen Fijis are on the gridiron, eight on the baseball diamond, and two playing first string hockey.

This year the house has decided to support a foreign student and shall be the only house which will room and board one student. It has been the policy in the past to have one student at each house, but this year there will be just two male students registering from abroad.

Life may begin at forty, but no one ever said where it stopped. Even before forty, in the teens, twenties and thirties, the Phi Cams compiled an amazing record. Thus who knows, the Fijis may live as long as infinity.

Sigma Chi

Sigma Chi is one of the oldest and largest of America's international fraternities. It was founded by seven students at Oxford, Ohio in 1855. Since the fraternity was founded over 124 active chapters have been established in the great colleges and universities from California to Nova Scotia, and from Florida to British Columbia. At Colorado College the white cross of Sigma Chi was raised for the first time on April 22, 1905. The present chapter house was purchased in 1924 and eight years later a wing which comprises most of the living room and a number of the study rooms was added. In 1949 the final payment on the mortgage was made, and in a large ceremony the mortgage was burned.

The role of Sigma Chi in your life is not limited to just your college years. Sigma Chi is a place where you develope friendships and interests that you keep thruout life. A large part of Sigma Chi is the alumni organization which is connected with the undergraduate chapters. There are over 120 alumni chapters all over the world, and these groups meet very regularly to maintain old friendships.

The question is frequently asked, "What does a fraternity have to offer that makes it worth all the time and effort that must be put into it?" We at Sigma Chi feel that your college education should include training in getting along with people in work and play. This phase of your education is best accomplished as a fraternity member. The intimacies of chapter life promote mutual understanding and develop personality. A fraternity man learns to respect the opinions of others and by so doing he develops poise, initiate, tact and judgement.

Some of the new students feel that joining a fraternity would be detrimental in their efforts to at-

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 22...THE WOODPECKER

Woodrow almost bit off more than he could chew when he tackled the cigarette tests! But he pecked away 'til he smoked out the truth: Such an important item as mildness can't be tossed off in a fleeting second! A "swift sniff" or a "perfunctory puff" proves practically nothing! He, like millions of smokers, found one test that doesn't leave you up a tree.

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness tests...

about all the important men who have gone out into the world from this chapter, but it is worthwhile to mention a few of the well-known figures. Al Hill, a Texas oil man, is prominent in Colorado Springs, owner of the famous Seven Falls and recent builder of the beautiful new Garden of the Gods Club. Gerald Schlessman is a member of the board of trustees of Colorado College and owns a controlling interest in a number of public utilities. Joe Rohrer is the owner and operator of radio atation KRDO in Colorado Springs. Dr. David Crabb, a professor of business here at CC, is now on a leave of absence to work witb the atomic energy commission in New Mexico. Jay Verlee is the city recreation manager of Colorado Springs. Larry Wolfe is the co-owner of Frederic's Jewelers. Paul and Everett Conover are prominent in civic affairs along with Major A. M. Johnson who is advertising manager for the Gazette-Telegraph. Jim Starrak, who graduated from CC last year, was an All-American hockey player for tbree consecutive years, and Robert Crabb won the state amateur golf tournament this summer.

Kappa Sigma, in upholding its national honor, has produced such men as Warren Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations. Lowell Thomas, famous news commentator from Denver, Colo.; Drew Pearson, one of the nation's leading columnists; Senator Estes Kefauver, head of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee; Hoagy Carmichael, the ever popular song writer and Mel Patton, the fastest man afoot holding the world's record for the hundred yard dash.

Kappa Sigma is proud of its history and will always maintain its high standards and active participation in extra-curricular activities on campuses thruout the nation. Our own local chapter, with capable assistance of Mother Haugh, has planned to have another full year of successful social events.

The music department has the good fortune to add two more members to their already distinguished company.

Mr. Paul V. Anderson an instructor of chamber music and the cello is a member of the string quartet. He went to the University of Wisconsin in 1944 to get his MM, after receiving his BM at Texas State Teachers College the preceding year. After he finished his college education he became a member of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra and from there he went to Chicago to play in the Grant Park orchestra.

Warren H. R. Stannard, assistant prof. of music, received his MB in 1949 and MM in 1950, both at Yale. An instructor of the oboe, flute and basoon he taught at the Neighborhood Music School, New Haven, Conn., in 1949; Yale from 1948 to 1950 and then at Oberlin College from 1950-51.

Mountain Club

The Colorado College Mountain Club, affiliated with the Colorado Mountain Club, is primarily an outdoor organization. It is designed to promote interest especially in the mountains of Colorado, and to enable those who enjoy the out-of-doors to get together.

The plans of the Mountain Club include several ascents of 14,000-foot peaks during the next few weeks. Mt. Democrat, Pikes Peak and Pyramid Peak are among the proposed climbs. The two former are non-technical and are open to all members of the club. While the weather holds, the emphasis will he on rock climbing on the cliffs around Colorado Springs. We plan a rock school consisting of several periods of instruction to introduce the new members to technical climbing. Simultaneously, there will be hikes in the local mountains for those who do not wish to rock climb.

As in the past, the club will do considerable ski mountaineering. This year square dancing is also included in its program. There will be several overnight trips, one to Boulder for a climb on the Flat-Irons and a hike to Arapahoe Glacier.

Members of the club have had expeditions to such places as the Tetons, the Sierra Nevada, Monument Valley, Canyon de Chelly, Grand Canyon of the Colorado, the Canadian Rockies and the Volcanoes of Central America. During the warm months or on skies, club members have ascended many of Colorado's high peaks.

This Sunday, an afternoon picnic in the Garden of the Gods is planned as a get together for interested persons. Contact Howard Smith at Hagerman Hall for a place.

A meeting is scheduled for Friday, the 28, where one can register as a member. It will be held in Lennox House at 7:30 p. m.

Speaking of Sports

By DALE ARIE

Welcome sports! The TIGER welcomes all the old-timers back as well as extending a cordial welcome to all newcomers along with an invite to all to send their gripes to this column along with the roses and we will try to get all the dirty linen washed.

As you all know by now, Colorado College has a new football coach Bill Heiss, who incidentally is a swell guy. Heiss led his small but spirited bunch of footballers to Denver Hilltop Stadium for the first game of the season. We won't go into that here. What we do want to say is that though out-scored, the Tigers were never out-fought nor out-classed.

Fumblea led to the downfall in the way of four touchdowns which would have been cut to probably one without the bobles. Heiss aays as much in a statement made to the TIGER this week. He aaid, "Our game with Denver waa somewhat of a disappointment in that we didn't score. However, we felt that we played a better game than the acore indicated, for if one were to scan the atatistics and compare yardage he might aurmise that the game had ended in a two or three touchdown to one score in favor of Denver. It was our own mistakes which made the game one sided. We were well pleased with the work of the majority of our players and with their apirit and enthusiaam—both of which we will need if we are to improve enough to win our share of games thia aeason."

This Saturday is an open date with Montana State coming up the following weekend. Montana State took it on the chin from Utah State 55-0 last week. Comparative scores are impossible at this stage of the game but we are going on record right now with a prediction of a victory by at least two touchdowns in the RMC opener for the Bengals.

"C" Club

Prior to World War II the athletic letterman's club of Colorado College, more commonly known as the "C" Club was one of great strength. During and right after the war it sagged to unknown depths. Now after great work on the part of such men as Glenn Blagg, Tony Esposito and advisor Cheddy Thompson the club is on a steady upward climb. This will ultimately lead to the success it previously had enjoyed.

It will be up to such men as President Ned Mann, Vice President Bill Dewire, Treasurer Jim Hill, and Corresponding Secretary Bill Hanson to maintain and further the success of this year's "C" Club.

The "C" Club has its own room in Cossitt Hall where it has its semi-monthly meetings. This room is for the enjoyment of any letterman, past or present, of Colorado College. Here he and his friends may drink cokes, listen to the radio, play cards, checkers, ping-pong or just plain relax. The walls of the room tell a picture story of their own. Besides the mural on the east wall, there are pictures of all-time CC greats both men and teams.

The "C" Club is proud of its many members and realizes that a sound body is as important as a sound mind. It is felt that here at Colorado College both should be developed.

TIGER GRIDMEN ESCAPE INJURIES BUT LOSE TO STRONG D. U. CLUB

By RAY SCHERER

It is my impression after seeing last Saturday night's football contest that CC's gridmen really have nothing to hang their heads about. Denver's big and fast squad was undoubtedly more experienced and therefore out of our class. If the two schools had met last year with their teams, it might have been a different story, but who's to say? I think that the boys played a good game, better than the 41 to 0 score would indicate. Bill Perkins and Ben Snyder stood out defensively, while Boucher and Gambucci ran well with the ball. With some strong workouts from the team in blocking and pass defense, the season should prove to be a good one.

The boys are idle this week, but will continue to work hard in preparation for their first conference game a week from Saturday with Montana State who dropped their first encounter to Utah State 55 to 6.

One of the good points concerning last Saturday's encounter was that the boys gained good experience without paying for it with injuries. There were a few bruises and strained muscles and ligaments, but nothing serious enough to impede anyone's progress.

At the end of the first period, CG looked surprisingly strong, altho they were trailing by a 6 to 0 count. They started off the second period with a drive deep into DU territory which was halted by a costly fumble and was followed by many more. Until the first miscue, the spectators were on the edges of their seats. A nice pass from Sarlo to Kensinger was one of the highlights of that march. However, Denver's recovery and sterling ground attack netted fourteen more points before half time.

The second half found more fumbles and hard running coupled with a potent aerial attack which led to Denver's score. Gordon Cooper, DU's rangy end hauled down his share of passes from rifle armed Sam Etcheverry. With such a combination Denver should have more success than last year.

Soccer Team Opens Against Turners Sun.

The C. C. Soccer team is starting its second year of competition and prospects for a much stronger team seem very bright. The nucleus of the team which won 3, lost 3 and tied 1 in conference play and finished second to Colorado Mines in the post-season playoffs, is returning. Captain Saad Sahawneh, Frank Kim Maung and Mel Smith return for duty in the forward line, while Frank Daly, Russ Lachaelt, George Rushitsky and Walt Stone are back for defensive duty.

The team plans to open its season with a practice game at 2:30 Sunday afternoon on Stewart field, with the Denver Turners, an industrial league team. The official opening for the Colorado Soccer Association is scheduled for early in October.

Any men interested in learning to play soccer should contact Saad Sahawneh at Jackson House or Mel Smith at the Beta House.

The present school year activities will also have the leadership of many Gamma Phi members. Quadrangle Association is under the direction of a Gamma Phi, with other sorority members as vice president and secretary, and Tiger Club president. WAA president is also a G. Phi.

Another G. Phi member heads this year's Service Committee. Acting as social chairman on the Student Council is a Gamma Phi. Gamma Phi members were active in the freshman orientation program and many of its members were on Yatahe, the honorary sophomore welcoming committee.

Three Gamma Phis are dorm presidents this year with several other members serving as councilors and officers.

During the year Gamma Phi social functions are many and include the traditional Kappa Sigma-Gamma Phi football game in the fall and the spring picnic with the Betas. Two formal dances are given each year as well as several informal dances and parties during the year. A weekly coffee hour is held at the house each Wednesday, as the break for the student from their studying in the afternoon.

HILIGHTS OF HOMECOMING ACTIVITIES ALUMNI GATHER FOR CLASS REUNIONS

By DOYNE BURROWS

For the benefit of the freshmen, one of the biggest affairs on the campus is Homecoming when the old grads return to chew the fat and to see the activities going on at their Alma Mater. This year Homecoming will be celebrated November 16 and 17. There will be no classes on Friday, November 16, thus allowing social organzations to prepare house decorations and floats for the big event. Each year floats have become more clever and elaborate, making the alumni say, "Gee, things weren't that good in my day."

Al Schoenfeld, enthusiam chairman of the college, is also chairman of Homecoming and is already at work organizing committees and laying the groundwork for this momentous occasion.

Not only alumni return, but many parents take this opportunity to visit the campus to see the big football game, with CC's old rival, Colorado School of Mines, attend Open Houses, and the Homecoming dance at the Broadmoor Hotel, climaxing the two-day celebration.

One of the outstanding features will be three class reunions. It might seem strange to some students, especially new ones, who think of class reunions at commencement time, that CC should schedule them at Homecoming. The fact of the matter is that CC alumnae enjoy the time of year when the campus is a beehive of activity rather than commencement when most of the undergraduates have gone home.

The principle reunion will be the 50th of the class of 1901. Committee members have been planning this for more than a year and the Naughty-oners will start arriving on the campus Thursday, November 15 to begin celebrating their golden anniversary. Another reunion is the silver anniversary of the class of 1926.

Mr. Al Hill, a 26-er, who recently built the Garden of the Gods Club on the Mesa, has invited all members of the class, their respective wives and husbands to have the reunion dinner out there.

Although the class of 1921 celebrated their silver reunion five years ago, they want to get in the act, too, and plan to gather for their 30th reunion at Homecoming time.

College Operated Radio Station Opens Officially Tuesday Afternoon at Four

Thanks to the enthusiastic, ceaseless efforts of Woodson "Chief" Tyree, director of speech and radio at Colorado College, we can boast the first non-commercial educational FM station in Colorado! Chief started the original radio workshop over stations KRDO and KVOR about three years ago, using in the initial stages of the project the school's public address system in Cogswell theater.

The equipment for KRCC is located in South Hall on the college campus, just west of Hayes House, on Cache la Poudre street. It is programmed from equipment now located there and from numerous telephone lines which cover several main buildings on the campus. These include: Perkins Hall, Washburn Field, Shove Chapel, Cutler Hall, Cossitt Hall, and other buildings, by short extension.

The transmitter itself is a full size 250 watt General Electric FM transmitter. This power is limited to 10 watts for the present.

The antenna, a "GE Doughnut" is located atop a 100-foot tower at the side of South Hall on the Hayes House lawn. This tower is made of aluminum. The complete structure weighs about 250 pounds.

All engineering for the tower was done by the CC engineering department under Prof. Edward Sampson, Jr., and Pete Tyree, '50, a graduate student in the college this past year.

The effective range of this transmitter is four miles radius without an outdoor antenna on the receiving set. The range is about 16 miles radius with an outdoor antenna. Charles Edmonds, a senior who receives his degree from CC in June, and a professional radio engineer, has given freely of his time and experience on the project. Without his assistance and that of Peggy Merle-Smith, '51, Colorado College's own KRCC, FM station would not have been possible at this time.

Mr. David Hart, former instructor in speech at CC, and students of Prof. Howard Olson's classes in electronics, have likewise contributed greatly to the project.

This year the members of the Vodvil Review contributed $200 to start construction on walls for a new studio, as an addition to South Hall.

Joe Rohrer, '32, owner and manager of KRDO, and James Russell, owner of KVOR, also have given their advice and help. Particular students who have given technical help are: Milton Norton, '50, Lawrence Kelly, '51, John Mann, '51, Alvin Dargel, '53, Hooker Danforth, '52, Vernon Thompson, '51, Jerry Dummer, Joe Price and Prof. John Fundingsland.

The station offers obvious student training possibilities both as a workshop in electronics as well as an outlet for speaking and writing for radio and public relations for the college. It is only limited by our industry and ability to use it.

We hope to be able to get a library of assorted selections, sound effects and two tape recorders some time which will put us in a relatively secure position.

Miss CC 1951-52 To Be Crowned at Tiger-Nugget Ball

Who will reign as Miss Colorado College of 1951-52? The chance to cast your vote for the candidate of your choice will come at the annual Tiger-Nugget dance to be held this year in the newly redecorated ballroom of the Antlers hotel. The time is Saturday night, October 6, after the CC-Colorado Aggies football game from 10 until 1.

Comely queen candidates who will vie for the honored title of Miss CC have been chosen by the Independent Women's Association and the four sororities. Representing the IWA is Joan Todd of Colorado Springs. Carrying the colors of Delta Gamma is Mary Crawford, who hails from Burlington, Iowa. DeDe Staskal, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, is the candidate of Gamma Phi Beta. The members of Kappa Alpha Theta nominate Denver's Betty Davis. Kappa Kappa Gamma's choice is Nancy Shyrock of Pasadena, California.

Date dresses will be the order of the evening for the coeds and sport coats or suits and ties for the male contingent. No flowers.

KRCC BROADCASTS CHAPEL SERVICES

The opening Convocation in Chapel on September 25 was broadcast by KRCC directly from Shove Chapel beginning a series of Chapel broadcasts which will continue throughout the school year. Announcing the first Chapel program was Lynn Jones with Bill Tyree and Jan Van Hoosier engineering.

Congratulations!

After many months of preparation Colorado College's own FM station, KRCC, will officially open on Tuesday, October 2.

Our sincere thanks and congratulations to those responsible for the establishment of this station. It is one of the few non-commercial FM stations in the country and one of the very few college-owned radio stations in the entire West.

I sincerely hope that every group on our campus will do their best to obtain an FM receiver. We hope, in the near future, to use KRCC as part of an all-college communications system.

Wm. H. GILL, Pres.

WHY CHAPEL?

The other day we decided to find out why the CC student must attend the compulsory chapel period each week. We felt this was in opposition to the democratic principle of freedom of worship, and in a liberal American college we felt this hour should be optional.

In talking to a member of the administration, the situation and the reasons for the policy as it now stands were clearly explained. It was pointed out that Mr. Shove had NOT demanded an obligatory weekly program when he built the chapel, and this current rumor has no foundation whatsoever.

Colorado College has always had religious services as part of its activities. Daily morning sessions were held in Perkins Hall for many years before our chapel was erected. But just why does the school emphasize this phase of its life so strongly?

In keeping with the present-day attitudes toward modern education, the school feels it must be responsible not only for the academic enlightenment but for the social activities and the spiritual stimulation of its students as well. Each of these three main aspects of collegiate life must be stressed with equal importance as far as the administration is concerned, and it is for this reason that the present course of action has been evolved.

It is our hope that this brief explanation may have helped to clarify any existing doubts in the minds of the student body, and that, as a result, we shall all work together to make our chapel program in the future, more worthwhile for all of us.

Five Fraternities Pledge 59; Betas Head List Numerically

Colorado College's five national fraternities this week announced the pledging of 59 new men, most of whom are from a freshman class of 94 men. Announcement of pledge lists came following one week of rushing, during which each fraternity conducted one party. Numerically speaking, Beta Theta Pi dominated the lists with 29 pledges, one of the largest pledge classes in the fraternity in five years. Phi Delta Theta took 12 pledges, Kappa Sigma seven, Sigma Chi six and Phi Gamma Delta five. Among the pledges were 15 men from Colorado Springs.

Formal pledging took place in the fraternity houses Sunday afternoon with pledge training due to last during the first semester and with initiation coming the end of January, 1952.

GI's Should Have Funds to Carry Them Over Until Dec. 10

Veterans planning to take education or training under the GI Bill this Fall should make certain they have funds of their own to tide them over until early December, according to John T. Cooper, Jr., Manager of the Veterans Administration Center in Denver.

Veteran-students can help matters, he said by not writing to VA about delays in their checks until after December 10. Replies take time that otherwise could be spent in processing subsistence checks.

Cooper added that his office is doing everything possible to keep delays to a minimum. It has even gone to the extent of suspending, for the time being, those administrative procedures not directly related to the main job of getting veterans into training, he said.

Cooper emphasized that none of the suspended operations will in any way deprive veterans of their rights to GI Bill training.

Three factors, all coming at the same time, have contributed to the delays in getting subsistence allowance checks to students, he said.

First, it has been necessary to reduce the number of VA personnel who process the papers to GI students.

Second, GI enrollments this Fall are expected to be heavy.

And third, VA still is working through the last-minute load of applications for training that came in just ahead of the cut-off date for starting training, this past July 25.

Cooper emphasized that delay in mailing out subsistence checks will not prevent eligible veterans from starting class on time this Fall. When checks do arrive, he added, they will include all payments due from the time the veteran started class.

Formal Rush Week Ends with 87 Coeds Pledging Sororities

Colorado College's four national sororities Sunday afternoon announced the pledging of 87 new CC coeds, practically filling the first semester quota of each of the four Greek letter organizations. Pledge lists released from the office of the dean of women, Miss Sallie Payne Morgan, showed Kappa Kappa Gamma with 24 pledges, Delta Gamma with 22, 21 girls on the Kappa Alpha Theta list and 20 taken by Gamma Phi Beta.

CC's rushees just completed a week of rush parties, which were concluded Saturday night with preference dinners, and were formally greeted by the members of the active chapters Sunday afternoon. Pledging will continue for the entire first semester, with initiation ceremonies due early in the second semester, February, 1952.

Included in the list were 11 girls from Colorado Springs.

Pledge lists were as follows:

Kappa Kappa Gamma—Sally Ann Condon, Doris Corley, Millicent Demmin, Helen Kipp and Eleanor Tutt, all of Colorado Springs; La Von Gehrke, Cynthia Mitchell, Mary-Jeanne Perenyi, Jo Anne Warner and Marcia Weese, all of Denver; Martha Anderson, Baytown, Tex.; Lewise Austin, Pasadena, Calif.; Judy Baker, Newport Beach, Calif.; Mary Lane Turner, San Marino, Calif.; Dorothy Burger, Janice Lu Held, both of Webster Groves, Mo.; Judy Clave, Webster City, Ia.; Judy Dibble, Hillsdale, Mich.; Grace Jack, Mission, Kan.; Joan Keys, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Sue Pfeiffer, Durango, Colo.; Jennie Lou Singleton, Milwaukee, Wis.; Mary Stevens, Kinsdale, Ill.; and Jane Zerkowsky, Shidell, La.

TIGERS OPEN CONFERENCE DEFENSE SAT.

HOME OPENER AND FIRST CONFERENCE GAME AT WASHBURN FIELD SATURDAY

The scene of Colorado College's rugged football fortunes shifts to Washburn Field Saturday night, where the Tigers entertain Montana State in the season's home opener and first conference game. A battle of conference underdogs, both of whom took severe beatings in opening season games, the game appears to be a toss-up between two clubs which lost 17 men each from rugged 1950 squads. Coach Johnny Mason's Bozeman crew will have a slight edge in experience, fielding a starting lineup of ten lettermen, and with six more numeral winners on the bench.

Not since 1946 has a Bobcat team appeared on Washburn Field. After the two team's battles to a 7-7 deadlock that year they didn't meet again until last year when CC racked Montata State on Bozeman ground, 34-18. Only once in the eight game history have the Bobcats triumphed, 6-3, in 1936. CC has won six and tied one. Last season's team at Bozeman showed flashes of brilliance which should have given them a better mark than the 1-8 record posted. The true potential of the Bobcat 1950 edition was demonstrated when it dumped Colorado State, 18-7, just before Colorado State upset the powerful Idaho State eleven.

Mason, who watched his club battle Eastern Washington at Cheney, Wash., this past Saturday, after losing, 55-6, in the season's opener against Utah University, the previous week, will have an all-letterman backfield to throw at CC Saturday night. George McCormick, Jim Brown and Dean Kennedy, who all weigh in at 165, will be starting at blocking back, tailback and wingback respectively. Jerry Ragland, 180-pound junior, promises to be a thorn in the Tigers' light defense, running at fullback.

As will be the case thruout the season, CC must give up 10-20 pounds per man in the line. Montana's Bobcats will lead off with a 210-pound center, two tackles weighing 240 and 200 and two guards weighing 210 and 200, with another quartet of 200-pounders starting out on the bench. CC's small team will counter with newcomer Spike Sarlo at quarterback, and letterman Wes Boucher, Andy Gambucci and Glenn Scarcia at the running posts. Up front Coach Bill Heiss will make his home debut by starting with Bill Perkins and Brig Young at the ends, Dick Meyer and John Yalich at the tackles, Terry Burk and Ned Mann at the guards and Ben Snyder alternating with Gene Swank at center.

No more Knot Hole at CC—in fact no more charge at all for youngsters in grade schools. Juan Reid, director of athletics, has announced that all young football fans under 12 years of age, will be admitted free to all CC football games, when accompanied by an adult. Children over 12 will be provided with a special-price junior high and senior high school football ticket.

It may not be the 4th of July, but Colorado College is planning an elaborate display of fireworks at the halftime intermission of the Montana State game, Saturday night at Washburn Field. It will be the first such display of fireworks in the beautifully-lighted stadium since Rodeo Week's celebration two years ago, and promises to provide much added entertainment for fans who attend the opening game.

The first intramural meeting of the year was held last Tuesday night with Coach Cheddy Thompson presiding. The purpose of the meeting was to schedule both touch football games and tennis matches for this fall As a result of the drawings, the Kappa Sigs meet the Betas on Tuesday, Oct. 2, the Phi Delts collide with the Sigma Chis on Wednesday, Oct. 3, and on Thursday, Oct. 4 the Phi Gams open their season against the Independents. All games will start at 4:05 on Perkins Field. Referees are urgently needed, so all men who think they can qualify should get in touch with either Coach Thompson or the intramural manager who for the first part of this year is George Hamada.

No tennis matches have been scheduled as yet, but all fraternities and the Independents must subit their teams by Friday noon. Each organization is allowed four singles men and two doubles teams. This means that a maximum of eight men may represent each organization. Once a team has been submitted no changes may be made, that is, no additions or subtractions can be made. Possibly but not probably a few matches might be played this coming week.

A discussion of this year's cross country race at Homecoming will be held at a later meeting since this year's Homecoming game is the last game of the season. Rules governing intramurals along with the rest of the season's football schedule will be sent out to all organizations in the very near future.

Speaking of Sports

By DALE ARIE

Last year's football season was one of major upsets thruout the country and especially among the larger schools, but here in the Rocky Mountain Conference, things went almost according to form. The Colorado College Tigers came through undefeated in Conference play as they were touted to do by most prognosticators, with Colorado State and Idaho State tieing for second honors with identical 3-2-0 records. However, this year things will probably be a little different. Already one upset has been recorded in the form of a win by the Miners from Golden over the Idaho State Bengals. In most pre-season listings, Idaho State has been picked along with our own Tigers to make the Conference race a two-cornered affair. However I don't think that one loss throws the men from Pocatello out of contention, as Colorado College does not look to be quite as strong as last year and will have an extremely hard time going through the season undefeated again this year. Also to be contended with this year are the Teachers from Greeley. They have three returning all-conference selections returning, led by the conference scoring champ, Les Wall. Coach John Hancock has a squad of fifty out this year with 13 returning lettermen and a flock of promising freshmen. On the strength of this, we are not predicting a better record in conference play for the Teachers, but do say, that a 3-2 record this year just might be good enough to get a share of the conference melon. Purely on the basis of advance information sent out by the various schools, this looks like it is shaping up to be a ding-dong Conference battle this year and it looks from here like the Conference winner will have at least one loss and probably two.

Hockey

In reading our morning Bible over the morning coffee, we noticed the Rocky Mountain News carried the story that last year's Michigan whirlwind and All-American wing Neil Celly, will be D. U.'s hockey coach this year. I don't know if that is throwing another log on the fire or not but it sure looks like it. Vern Turner, last year's coach had a healthy dislike for the local aggregation it is true, and we don't think his replacement feels any differently about the Tiger hockey squad. It is sure that if he does have any dislikes, they are of a much more recent origin and he probably will have his Denver pucksters really breathing fire when they hit the Broadmoor Ice Palace. We hope that he takes the opposite approach from Turner in his strategy to beat the Tigers, however, and teaches them some of his tricks as a skater and hockey player rather than the roughhouse tactics apparently taught by Turner.

Cross Country Team Started

Last Monday afternoon the first meeting of this year's new cross country team was held in the wrestling room in Cossitt Hall. Coach Jim Morrow hopes to have a team which will bring home it's share of victories this fall. The Cross Country team will be an official college team participating in several intercollegiate meets both home and away. All men interested in running on the team should contact Coach Morrow.

Station Staff of KRCC

With the opening of the new FM radio station on the campus, Professor Woodson Tyree has announced the appointments of members of the regular station staff.

Charles Edmunds will serve as Chief Engineer with Professor Howard Olson as technical adviser.

The student staff will be as follows:

Program Directors: Nancy Jones, Lynn Jones, D'Arcy Martin.

Librarians, Announcers and Writers: Jerry Bayless, Rosie Musgrave, Ron Schoephlin, Gerald Ketchum, John Murphy.

Advanced Radio Course Open to Upperclassmen

The opening of KRCC, Colorado College's own radio station has prompted the creation of an advanced radio course for students interested in gaining practical experience in actual station operation.

The new course, Radio 335-336-337 is divided into three sections offering two hours credit in advanced radio. Required for admittrance to the new course is junior or senior standing plus two semesters of Introduction to Radio 225-226.

All work in the course will be in conjunction with KRCC FM in cooperation with the regular station staff. For further information interested students should see the Registrar.

LISTEN to the football game Saturday night over KRCC with Dale Arie and Ray Scherer.

Free Chest X-rays For Students at Cossitt October 4-5

Colorado College students and faculty may feel just as others in the American public do—"it can't happen to me"—but when it comes to detecting the dreaded tuberculosis disease members of the CC family can prove to themselves that it hasn't happened to them by a mere 60-second check with the X-ray machine which will be on campus October 4, 5 and 6.

Each year the response to the X-rays on campus has grown and grown, to the point where Dr. Roger Whitney hopes this year to have chest X-rays of 100 per cent of the students and faculty.

The machine is loaned through the courtesy of the Colorado State Department of Public Health and requires only one minute of the student's time. Appointment cards are now being prepared and mailed to each student, giving the specific time at which the student is to meet his appointment.

The machine will be located in front of Cossitt Hall on Thursday and Friday, October 4 and 5, from 9-12 in the mornings and from 1-4 in the afternoons and on Saturday, October 6, from 9-12 in the morning. Chest X-rays are taken of the student while he is fully clothed. Only metal objects in the upper pockets are removed for the speedy process.

Meet your appointment with the X-ray machine! Assure yourself that it "hasn't happened to you," as it has already to so many.

IT'S EASIER THAN EVER!
Students! Make money writing Lucky Strike jingles!
MORE FUN, TOO!

No tricks! No gimmicks! Takes no time—no special talent! You can make $25.
Just write a simple four-line jingle based on the fact that
LUCKIES TASTE BETTER THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!
(or other qualities of Luckies such as those listed below.)

Write a Lucky Strike jingle, like those you see on this page, based on the fact that Luckies taste better than any other cigarette, or other qualities of Luckies such as those listed below. If your jingle is selected for possible use in Lucky Strike advertising, we will pay you $25 for the right to use it and your name in our advertising. Lucky Strike jingles will soon be running in your paper. Start today—send in as many jingles as you like. Be the first to write a jingle in your school!

Just made a great discovery
Which I announce with haste:
Folks go for Lucky Strike because
They like that better taste!

Before each class—and after too,
I do just what I like—
Relax—enjoy the better taste
Of good ol' Lucky Strike!

READ THESE SIMPLE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your Lucky Strike four-line jingle on a plain piece of paper or postcard and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure that your name, address, college and class are included—and that they are legible.

2. Base your jingle on the fact that Luckies taste better than any other cigarette—or on any of the alternate themes below.

3. Every student of any college, university or post-graduate school may submit jingles.

IMPORTANT:
To make money writing jingles, it is not essential to base your jingle on "Luckies taste better than any other cigarette." You may base a jingle on other outstanding qualities of Luckies such as the following:

Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
Be Happy—Go Lucky!
So round, so firm, so fully packed
So free and easy on the draw
Buy Luckies by the carton
Luckies give you deep-down smoking enjoyment
Luckies are the world's best-made cigarette.

Midnight, Saturday, October 6, will see the answer to which lucky girl is elected "Miss CC," at the TIGER-NUGGET dance, held at the Antler's hotel, from 10:00 p.m. to 1 a. m., with music by Will Berg's band.

Betty Davis, chaplain of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, is a senior from Denver, Colorado. She transferred from Monticello, Illinois last year, and since that time, she has become a member of the Tiger and Canterbury clubs, and in her junior year, a committee member of AWS Personnel.

Gamma Phi Beta's candidate, "De De" Staskal, comes from Mt. Vernon, Iowa, and is a sophomore this year. "De De" has been a cheerleader for two years, was co-rush chairman this fall, and will be AWS song chairman next spring. In her freshman year, she was one of the freshman class commissioners, outstanding pledge and secretary of her pledge class.

Joan Todd, head of the regional convention of Independent Women's Association, is a sophomore at CC this year, a member of the Student Council, and NSA representative. Joan hailed from Amarillo, Texas, originally, but now lives in Colorado Springs. Last year, she was runner-up in the IWA national queen contest, and is now a member of the Tiger and Newman clubs.

A junior this year from Burlington, Iowa, Mary Crawford steps up front for Delta Gamma sorority. She transferred here from Grinnell in her freshman year, and is now majoring in history. Mary was candidate for hockey queen last year, and this year is both pledge mistress and song chairman for the "DG's".

Grading System Revised to A, B C

The grading system, 1-7, is to be suplanted this year by the A-B-C system. The reason for this being that over 90 per cent of American colleges and universities now employ the A-B-C system, and consequently the transferring of credits from Colorado College to some other school or vice versa will be greatly simplified.

Freshman, sophmores, juniors and seniors will be under the A-B-C form. All previous numerical grades shall remain as they are, and no attempt will be made to transcribe them in A-B-C system.

There will be no condition grade corresponding to "6" in the numerical system. One either passes or fails unless there is an excusable reason such as death in the family or illness. The significance of the letters will be as follows:

A excellent	4 quality points
B good	3 quality points
C average	2 quality points
D passing	2 quality points
F failure	0 quality points

It will be necessary to maintain a "C" average with each hour. For example if three courses are being

Civil Service Exams Offer Opportunities

Two Federal civil-service examinations designed for the outstanding college man and woman will be announced during the third week of October.

The Junior Management Assistant examination will be open to students with training or experience in the social sciences, business or public administration, who show leadership and management ability. The positions pay entrance salaries of $3,100 and $3,825 a year. Students may also apply if their major study is in government, economics, international relations, industrial management, industrial engineering, sociology, psychology, anthropology, geography, or history.

The Junior Professional Assistant examination, which will be used for filling positions paying $3,100 a year, will be open to students in the fields of bacteriology, economics, geography, geophysics, social science, and statistics.

Persons who wish to do so may apply for both examinations.

These positions will require a high type of professional competence and the duties will involve professional research.

TIGER MEETING

There will be a meeting of the TIGER staff tomorrow at 3 p. m. on the 3rd floor Lennox. We would like to have everyone who is interested and wants to work on the TIGER to come to this meeting, as there are a number of positions to be filled. If you have the desire to write, to get out and meet people, to express your opinion, and hear what other people have to say, and generally have fun, come-on-a-up. There will be REFRESHMENTS.

SELECTED NIGHT COURSES OFFERED TO PUBLIC, SERVICEMEN AND STUDENTS

Opening October 15 and running until December 20, the fall term of extension courses offered by Colorado College will feature a selected list of night courses designed for the local public and servicemen of the region, but also available to students presently enrolled in the college. The courses will be predominantly three-hour credit courses. The fall ten-week semester will begin Monday, Oct. 15, with all classes meeting twice each week from 7 to 9 p. m. One set of courses will meet on Monday and Wednesday, the other on Tuesday and Thursday. All registrations will be in the lobby of Palmer Hall on Oct. 15 and 16.

Charge for the instruction in extension courses will be $15 per semester hour. However, Dean George W. Adams pointed out that should a CC student carrying 15 hours or less wish to enroll in a class of three-hours credit in which there is already substantial local enrollment to pay for the class, the CC student would not be required to pay for the course. Should a CC student wish to enroll in a class in which there are only a few townspeople enrolled, the rate would be $15 per semester hour.

Courses offered will include masterpieces and composition, college algebra, modern history of the Far East, elementary Spanish, international relations, business finance and a special class in modern dance for the layman. In addition the Fine Arts Center will be offering a night class entitled "Painting for Fun."

The modern dance class for the layman is open to all students and faculty, and is available to all faculty members at a faculty tuition remission rate. Molly Lynn's dance class will be a course in fundamental modern dance technique.

For further information regarding the night courses, CC students should contact the office of the dean of the college.

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

N. S. A. is taking over the soliciting for the Campus Chest Drive as its first major project of the year. The Drive will run from November 4 to November 11.

Jim Hill, president of N. S. A., passed out school calendars for sale. Those remaining will be on sale at Lennox book store.

The Council has sent a reccommendation to the Committee on Undergraduate Life for an additional fifty cents to be added to the student fee for the Kinnikinnik.

White sweaters with gold and black emblema are the new cheerleaders' outfits bought from money appropriated by the Student Council.

As a gesture of friendliness, Student Council is serving coffee at Lennox Saturday at 4:00 p.m. for the Student Council of Colorado A. and M.

The Faculty-Student Relations Committee has just been set up. Tentatively it is thought that the professors will give dinners in their homes for their major students with money appropriated.

Ten dollars will be spent, the Council decided, for a Christmas present to Jean Pierre, foreign student.

The customer, feeling in his cups, spilled his drink and began to sob.

"Let's not cry over spilled milk," consoled the bartender.

"Who's crying over spilled milk," sobbed the drinker, "this is whiskey."

A gambler died. The funeral was graced by hundreds of his playmates—dice, poker, stud and pinochle friends. During the eulogy the speaker declaimed: "Spike Morrison is not dead — he only sleeps."

Someone from the rear, yelled: "I got a hundred dollars that says he's dead!"

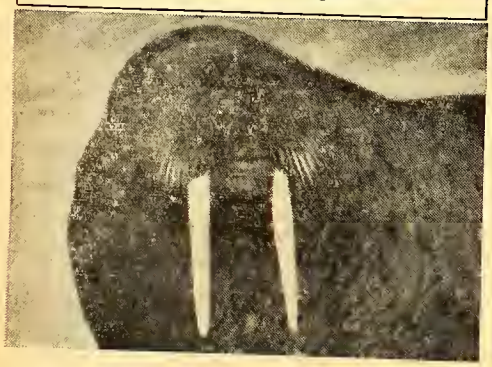
J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test



SHEEDY was a big walrus-flower. "All I ever get is the cold shoulder," he blubbered. So his roommate said: "Tusk, tusk, you old soak—try a new wrinkle on that messy hair: Wildroot Cream-Oil! Non-Alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Freeze your hair from annoying dryness and loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-nail Test!" Now Sheedy's really in the swim! Just sealed his engagement to a pretty young flapper—and he's about to wisker off to an ivory-covered cottage. So water you waiting for? Get a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil Hair Tonic at any drug or toilet goods counter! And ask your barber for professional applications. "Now," you'll say, "Ice sea why there's snow other hair tonic like Wildroot Cream-Oil!"

THE INGLE ANGLE

By DON INGLES

After spending several hours in the Turkish bath the Colorad Springs Music Co. insists on calling a listening booth, I managed to come out with a couple goodies.

For Jazz Fans: "Louisiana" by 'Pete Kelly's Big 7' on Capitol. A real toe-tapper in the Dixieland style by the group from A. B. C.'s "Pete Kelly's Blues". from—Doris Day fans please note: "Got Him Off My Hands". A good touch of torch-song which Doris does as if she was personally burned.

Classical fans and popular fans alike will be interested in "Granada" by Mario Lanza. A very warm and yet powerful rendition by the guy that has caused one of the music businesses biggest sensations. Also available is his album from "The Great Caruso." Both on regular or 45 Victor Red Seal Records.

Sororities Hold Formol Pledging

Formal pledging ceremonies have been held this week by CC's four national sororities. Kappa Alpha Theta gave pledge pins to their neophytes Sunday morning at 10 at the lodge. The new pledges of Kappa Kappa Gamma received their pins Sunday afternoon at 3. Delta Gamma's ceremony was held at the house on Monday evening and was followed by a desert. Formal pledging of Gamma Phi Beta's new pledge class was held in Shove chapel Wednesday at 5:30, with a dessert following.

"Elizabeth the Woman" by Amanda Ellis Hits Nation's Best-Seller List Sunday

The New York Times, on Sunday, September 30, listed "Elizabeth the Woman," a novel by Amanda M. Ellis, associate professor of English at Colorado College among the best sellers throughout the United States. At a champagne autograph party given by the new Kaufman's in Colorado Springs, on August 26, the eve of publication, Miss Ellis autographed 425 books and, according to Publisher's Weekly set a record in the publishing world. The following day, at an autograph party in Daniels & Fisher in Denver, Miss Ellis autographed 225 books. By Oct. 1, over 800 copies of "Elizabeth the Woman" had been sold in Colorado Springs and the book was second on the list of best sellers in Denver.

"Elizabeth the Woman" is a historical novel centering about the red-haired daughter of Henry VIII. It represents twelve years of research and writing in this country and in Europe.

The book has been well received by reviewers from coast to coast. It has received to date, one unfavorable, one luke warm, and thirty-eight enthusiastic reviews. The reviews have been accompanied by cuts of Elizabeth's handwriting, or of the cover-jackets, or of Miss Ellis' picture. Most views state that Miss Ellis teaches at Colorado College.

The Chicago Tribune stated two weeks ago: "The enigma of England's Queen Elizabeth has been probed countless times in fact and fiction, but no author has done a more painstaking and entertaining job than Amanda M. Ellis. The author is a first rate biographer. She knows her subject well but is too good a biographer to paint it in the outrageous colors of sympathy and adulation. The book throws new light on the queen and the times in which she lived." The Los Angeles Times found Miss Ellis' presentation forceful and concluded that "even the most jaded reader of Elizabethan fiction will find this novel colorful and forceful."

Eastern reviewers, too, have praised "Elizabeth the Woman." The Philadelphia Enquirer, in a long review, praised Miss Ellis' style and added, "Miss Ellis writes with understanding. There is much material here for intellectual education. The book appeals, however, to the heart, for it tells of a child's pride of a worldly woman's charm, and a queen's idealism." The Bridgeport, Conn. Post found that "events in the book take on new life, almost a contemporary pulse as you read them. Most of all, Elizabeth herself comes alive as a woman." The New York Herald favored "The color and pageantry" of the book. The Worcester, Mass. Telegram and the Cincinatti Times-Star found it a "very readable" book, and one that was "thoroughly satisfactory and substantial."

In the South, too, the book has been well received. Savannah, Atlanta, Birmingham, and Norfolk reviewers have called the book "highly readable, fast moving, and richly historical," and engrossing" and say that "Elizabeth emerges a fascinating person."

The Omaha World Herald heads the list of papers in the middle west that have given their approval of the book. "This novel," says the reviewer, "from a first rate historian and professor is very good reading, which is the primary requisite for any novel. Elizabeth is no mere historical figure here but a human being of uncommon intelligence and strength of character, along with unquestioned femininity. Moreover, the novel has range and scholarship of no mean order."

CANTERBURY CLUB MEETS SUNDAY NIGHT AT GRACE

Canterbury Club, an organization for Episcopal students at Colorado College, will meet this Sunday night at 6:15 at Grace Church. The program will be in charge of Dr. and Mrs. Patton who will lead a discussion on "Love and Marriage". On the following weekend, Oct. 13 and 14, the Club will go th Thunderbird Ranch.

Kappas to Start Sunday Evening Informal Suppers

A series of informal suppers have been planned by Kappa Kappa Gamma to take place Sunday nights at the lodge with the pledges especially in charge. To start the ball rolling on the new idea, the actives honored the pledges with a supper last Sunday night following formal pledging in the afternoon and preceding the open house that evening. Nancy Shyrock, active social chairman, was in charge. In the future, beginning with this Sunday night the pledges will carry out the planning and cooking of the meals to be held about twice a month.

TIGER-NUGGET DANCE
SATURDAY, OCT. 6

AGGIES EXPECTED TO HALT TIGERS HOME STAND OF TWELVE VICTORIES

Where the Colorado College football team surpassed the half-time fireworks display last weekend on Washburn Field, this Saturday night the Bengals are expected to take a back seat to a fire department fire prevention week demonstration. Before the evening is over this same fire department, aided by a 40-piece band from Ent Air Base, may be called upon to put out a fire—one started by Coach Bob Davis' vaunted Colorado Aggie football machine.

CC officials have slated a gala half-time demonstration, but will make no promises about the outcome of the grid action surrounding the intermission. In fact, Coach Bill Heiss of CC quite frankly admits that the Tigers are looking ahead to the all-important conference game next Saturday at Pocatello, Idaho, against a strong Idaho State club. The Tigers will have only three days of practice following the Aggie game before they entrain on Thursday for Pocatello, and of necessity part of this week's practice has been designed for stopping Idaho State.

Saturday night's visitors are expected to put a halt to one of the sweetest home game winning streaks in the history of the college. CC teams, in winning two straight conference titles, have come through on Washburn Field on 12 straight occasions. Ironically enough, tbe last team to dump CC at home was the 1949 Aggie crew, which won 14-7 on September 17, 1949. Last season the Rams humbled CC, 48-7, for the only Tiger loss in a ten-game season.

However, this winning streak is one of tbe least of the worries of the CC coaching staff. After witnessing an effective offense surprising even to themselves, the Tigers and their mentors have hopes of a successful conference season. The biggest hope for Saturday night's game is an outcome resulting in no injuries, a respectable Tiger performance and no slackening in morale prior to the Idaho game.

Heiss ran his charges through a rugged scrimmage session Tuesday afternoon, plans another lengthy drill until dark Wednesday afternoon and then will give the players' eyesight a game-condition workout under the lights tonight on Washburn Field.

IT'S EASIER THAN EVER!

Students! Make money writing Lucky Strike jingles!

MORE FUN, TOO!

No tricks! No gimmicks! Takes no time—no special talent! You can make $25.

Just write a simple four-line jingle based on the fact that

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

(or other qualities of Luckies such as those listed below.)

Write a Lucky Strike jingle, like those you see on this page, based on the fact that Luckies taste better than any other cigarette, or other qualities of Luckies such as those listed below. If your jingle is selected for possible use in Lucky Strike advertising, we will pay you $25 for the right to use it and your name in our advertising. Lucky Strike jingles will soon be running in your paper. Start today—send in as many jingles as you like. Be the first to write a jingle in your school!

Just made a great discovery
Which I announce with haste:
Folks go for Lucky Strike because
They like that better taste!

Before each class—and after too,
I do just what I like—
Relax—enjoy the better taste
of good ol' Lucky Strike!

READ THESE SIMPLE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your Lucky Strike four-line jingle on a plain piece of paper or postcard and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure that your name, address, college and class are included—and that they are legible.

2. Base your jingle on the fact that Luckies taste better than any other cigarette—or on any of the alternate themes below.

3. Every student of any college, university or post-graduate school may submit jingles.

IMPORTANT:

To make money writing jingles, it is not essential to base your jingle on "Luckies taste better than any other cigarette." You may base a jingle on other outstanding qualities of Luckies such as the following:

L.S./M.F.T.
Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
Be Happy—Go Lucky!
So round, so firm, so fully packed
So free and easy on the draw
Buy Luckies by the carton
Luckies give you deep-down smoking enjoyment
Luckies are the world's best-made cigarette.

Tigers Score Early and Often In First Conference Win 40-13

By RAY SCHERER

With the passing of Spike Sarlo at quarterback and the hard running of the other backfield men, Colorado College's Tigers swept into high offensive gear as they rolled to a 40 to 13 victory over Montana State College of Bozman last Saturday night. The Tigers took the opening kickoff and within fifty seconds produced the first score of the game. Boucher took a neat pass from Sarlo and scored standing up on a play that covered thirty-five yards. They went on to get four more before the first half ended. CC's second TD came minutes later when Chuck Mollin took a pitchout from Sarlo and scampered around his own left end. Jerry Ragland got Montana State's first six points before the first quarter ended.

Boucher set up his second touchdown when he took another pass from Sarlo at midfield and raced deep into Bobcat territory before being hauled down. He later turned the right end for CC's third TD. Tony Genova netted his first of the season when he scored on another end run. Gambucci, after having one touchdown run called back, turned on the speed again on almost an identical play and with some nice blocking on the part of Ned Pfeiffer squirmed and wormed his way for forty-one yards and the fifth CC tally.

In the second half, after a glittering display of firework, the Tigers came back to score their sixth and final touchdown. Ned Mann had quite a night for himself as he booted all but two extra points high and true. Boots like those he kicked Saturday are the ones that often win the close games.

With Coach Bill Heiss clearing the bench in the final period Montana State was able to net seven more points in that stanza as Jack Moore scored from two yards out. He then converted from placement to make the final score read 40 to 13. The Bobcats moved down field to garner sixteen first downs to the Tigers thirteen, but CC gained 458 yards to Montana's 282. Fumbles were still prevalent as Colorado College lost the ball twice on bobbles, one leading to the first Bobcat score.

The Tigers face tough Colorado Aggies here next Saturday night at Washburn Field. Let's back them to the hilt and cheer them on to what can be our second victory of the year.

Newly Recognized Soccer Team Loses Opener to Heinsohn

The Colorado College soccer team, competing for the first time under official school colors, was defeated last Sunday 1-0, by Heinsohn Athletic Club of Denver. The score was a mild upset, for last year the Tiger boosters soundly trounced the Heinsohn team 3-0.

The first half of the game was dominated by the Tigers, but they were unable to penetrate the defense enough for a score. Coalie Walt Stone had only 1 save the entire first half which was indicitive of the fine defensive play by Fullbacks George Rushitsky and Jim Hill. In the second half the Tigers apparantly tired, and the better conditioned Heinsohn team took complete command of the play and finally after 20 minutes of the second half had elapsed, pushed the ball past Vic Koa.

The team on the whole looked fairly good, but there were long lapses when nothing seemed to work right. The first half was marked by ragged play and long kicks, but the team settled down somewbat in the second half and played a better brand of soccer. Vic Kao, Eric Drexler and Horst Herkel stood out among tbe newcomers.

Speaking of Sports

By DALE ARIE

The intramural lid goes off with a bang this week with the football season having already started and the first round tennis matches to be played by Saturday, October 6.

The Phi Cams will be out to defend their all-intramural crown which they have won the past three years. In so doing they have retired the "traveling" cup, emblematic of the championship. They will again be strong favorites to repeat, with the strongest competition probably coming from the Kappa Sigs and the Betas.

It remains to be seen just what the "Woogs" have acquired in the way of athletes in their large pledge class but if the size of the turn-out for their nightly football practice is any indication, they will be mighty tough. As for the Kappa Sigs, it is our understanding that Bill Harley, their passer for the past three years will be dropping out of school by the end of the week, materially weakening the team that fought the Phi Gams tooth and nail for the championship last year.

The Sigs and Phi Delts don't seem to have added much over their last year's teams and probably will be interested only in the championship of the 1100 block. By the time this is in print that particular part of the competition will be ancient history, but after all, we did have to get the Sigs and Phi Delts in the picture somewhere!

The Independent Men will again field a fighting team led by Tony Frasca and George Hamata but don't appear to have a chance of improving their last year's third place finish.

This department is still looking for people who are interested in covering sports events and writing for the sports page. Anyone interested in doing something in this line, be at the TIGER office, third floor of Student Union at 3:00 p. m. Friday. We are also still looking for some comment, constructive or otherwise, which would make this sports page better reading. Don't be bashful men, you don't even have to sign your name!

taken and the student receives a "C" and a "D" he must get a "B" in the third subject to offset the "D" and make a "C" average.

The only difference between the two systems of grading is that under the numerical system (1-7) there are five passing grades and one conditional grade, while under the A-B-C system there are four passing grades and no conditional grade.

Class Commissioner Elections To Take Place Next Thursday

By LIZ HUGINS

Thursday, October 18, is the day for the election of class commissioners. Polls will be open in Palmer from 10:30 to 1:15. At 10 a. m., preceding the voting, class meetings will be held. The campaign managers who wish to campaign for their candidates at the class meeting please contact Patti Pierce, Kathy Smith, or Bob Starks, members of the election committee, before Tuesday, October 16.

Naney Shryock
Kappa Kappa Gamma
"Miss CC—1951-52"

Candidates for commissioners are:

Seniors — Barbara Bletsch, Pat Gormley, Bob Humphreys, Ruth Hunt, Lynn Jones, Ned Mann, Sue Royce, John Sarlo, and Mary Todd.

Juniors—Tom Abel, Betty Brelund, Mary Crawford, Debbie Griener, Judy Johnson, Milburne Kensinger, Chuck Mollin, Barbara Ramsey, and Jack Stieglemeyor.

Sophomores — Bob Carruthers, Julie Evans, Barb Kauth, Peggy Root, George Ruchitzky, Jean Shepperd, Ben Snyder, and B. J. Trotter.

Freshmen—Jan Charters, Sally Condon, Marge Else, Martha Kirtley, Ed Ludmil, Frank Maynes, Sally Powell, Harry Shearer, Jennie Singleton, Jan Skilling, Eleanor Tutt, and Ren Zier.

These candidates were nominated by the various organizations on campus. After their nomination, they were required to turn in a petition containing ten signatures. Finally, last Friday afternoon, the election committee met and determined the eligibility of the candidates. To be eligible, upperclass candidates must have a 3.3 average for two semesters and have taken an average of thirty semester hours a year. Any first semester freshman is eligible.

KINNIKINNIK NEEDS EDITORIAL STAFF; JOB OF BUSINESS MANAGER OPEN

By BOB MAUNTON, Editor of Kinnikinnik

The recent issue of KINNIKINNIK, the campus literary magazine, was well received. Criticism of the entire edition of 1500 copies distributed here and to friends of the college all over the country indicated a general liking for the contents and appearance of the magazine and reflected an increased interest in the publication.

The new issue being planned should show progressive improvement, and may possibly run to more than the former 32 pages. But, like Uncle Sam. KINNIKINNIK needs YOU.

A Business Manager is needed now. Duties are primarily to manage all accounts and handle distribution. Candidates are invited, and all applications should be addressed to the Publications Board, Cutler Hall, before October 17.

Editors for the following categories are needed to fill existing vacancies. Duties are to organize, gather and edit material suitable to their section. Vacancies are in Creative Writing, Dance, Drama, Radio, and Music. Also needed are staff members to do writing, publicity, artwork, and expediting.

More stories, poems, articles, plays, musical compositions, artwork, cartoons, fine photography, etc., must be forthcoming if there is to be a KINNIKINNIK. Manuscript should be typed if possible, should be double spaced with an accurate word count given, and should have the writer's name, address, and phone number in a conspicuous place. KINNIKINNIK would like to publish an 8,000-10,000 word short-story (or short novel) in the forthcoming issue. It is hoped this new opportunity will be an incentive to those writers who feel the shorter forms are not suitable to their style. All manuscript will be carefully handled, considered impartially, and returned at date of publication. The deadline on all material for KINNIKINNIK is December 12.

Leave your manuscript and any other communications at Box 33, Cutler Hall, or call Bob Maunton at 9775-R.

If you are not familiar with KINNIKINNIK, copies are available at no cost at the library, Hayes House, and Lennox, or from any English instructor.

Evening Courses to Begin Next Monday

Night courses for the public, servicemen, and students will open Monday, October 15. There will be courses in Algebra, Spanish, Modern History of the Far East, International Relations, Business Finance, Modern Dance and Art, offering predominately three credit hours each. All classes will meet from 7 to 9 p. m. twice each week, with one set meeting on Monday and Wednesday, and the other on Tuesday and Thursday. Charge for instruction will be $15 per semester hour. Registration will be held in Palmer Hall on October 15 and 16. For further information contact the office of the dean of the college.

Women's Educational Society Plans Annual Luncheon October 13

The Woman's Educational Society of Colorado College will have its annual luncheon on Saturday, October 13 at 12:45 at Bemis Hall. Miss Margaret Cook, president of the organization, states that an important announcement will be made at that meeting.

The Woman's Educational Society was founded in 1889 to aid Colorado College. Its gifts to the College include: Montgomery Hall, a residence for women, given completely furnished, the Infirmary, given completely furnished and equipped, over $60,000 in scholarships and loans to Colorado College students, payments of expenses for several foreign students brought from their respective countries to Colorado College, grants in aid to needy students and gifts to Coburn Library. Last year the Society completed payment on a two-year project of renovating the auditorium at Perkins Hall at a cost of $24,000. This was the first step in a long-range program in modernizing that auditorium.

CC Players First Offering In Rehearsal

CC Players are now in rehearsal for their coming presentation of "Ladies in Retirement" to be given in Perkins Hall November 13, 14, 15 and 16. Featured in the cast will be, Ruth Mitchell, Rosemary Musgrave, Nancy Jones, Paul Hartman, Carol Fisher, Judy Clave and Doris von Holst. The play is under the direction of Peggy Merle-Smith '51 who is well known for her excellent portrayals in many Players productions.

People are badly needed for backstage work on the production and on props and costumes. Since the play has a Victorian setting, costumes of the period must be procured. Anyone knowing where the Players may rent, buy, beg, borrow or steal such costumes please notify them via South Hall as soon as possible.

Anyone interested in helping backstage, on props or costumes, get in touch with any member of the cast. Working on plays is stimulating, exciting and lots of fun, get in on it now!

KRCC Present Drama Program Weekly

KRCC will present the Pick and Pan Theater of the Air, a program of dramatic adaptations every Thursday evening at 7:30. The opening program will be Bliss by Catherine Mansfield, and adapted for radio by Peggy Merle-Smith.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT TO PRESENT WEEKLY CONCERTS IN PERKINS

Colorado College's music department will open the doors of Perkins Hall auditorium on Sunday afternoon, October 14, at 4:30 o'clock, in the first of a winter-long series of Sunday afternoon concerts featuring the best in college and local talent and open each week to the public without charge. Programs will be presented every Sunday afternoon except the first Sunday of each month.

The concerts are primarily designed for a two-fold purpose—first to provide opportunity for performance by faculty members, outstanding students and talented townspeople and second, to promote varied programs of good, entertaining music for the regional public. Due for a maximum performance of one hour, all concerts will be concluded by 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Instrumental and vocal solo appearances, chamber music groups of different combinations and choir and band numbers will alternate their offerings throughout the season.

In the opening concert of the series on Oct. 14 the college will present two-piano music played by Dr. Max Lanner and David Kraehenbuehl. Lanner, head of the music department and well-known to Colorado Springs audiences as a concert pianist, will join with Kraehenbuehl, composer and professor of musicology and music history at CC and also known as

By Liz Hugins

Verdict Suspended

The decision on having an N. S. A. on our campus will be postponed until after the Campus Chest Drive, as the N. S. A. is sponsoring this.

Variety Show

The big topic in Student Council this week was the Variety Show. This big event will take place November 7, 8, and 9. A meeting will be held in Perkins Hall October 17 at 7 p. m. for those interested in participating. Please come with a general idea of your act prepared.

You are always hearing about the heritages of our democracy and the Four Freedoms of our Constitution. You have been taught to appreciate and to defend them with your lives if necessary. Yes, you have been taught to appreciate these principles—or have you? What good is your free voice in affairs, for instance, if you never use it?

Our student governing body is the A. S. C. C. As a member of the student body, you are invited to sit in council and contribute to the discussion. Bring your problems—bring your grievances—and bring your suggestions. Meetings are every Monday afternoon at 4:00 p. m. in the student council room on the second floor of Lennox. Your voice in Student Council can accomplish a lot. Use it—don't just whisper behind your hand!

FOREIGN STUDENT PROGRAM

Let's face it. We must show more consideration for the foreign student program. The seeds of international relations do not grow overnight, but certainly they will not grow if never planted. We must realize the great potentialities of this program.

Place yourself amongst foreign people in a strange country. Upon returning home you will think of these people just as they will have you think, favorably or unfavorably. If unfavorably, you will let your dislikes be known, and by word of mouth combined with the gulability of the individual, hundreds more will soon take on your personal antagonisms.

On the other hand, if your impressions are favorable, many people will soon know of it, and to that degree, international understanding would be improved

It will be argued: "So what? We only have two foreign students here and certainly they alone will never change the course of world events." This is not true. We are a vital part of a great national program that has the most dynamic potentialities for alleviating international differences. We must not regard ourselves as insignificant with respect to this program, for such an attitude if taken by all schools, would mean its collapse.

Here at Colorado College we can show these foreign students how our educational system works and we can show them our habits and beliefs and our likes and dislikes. The benefits to be received by the foreign students as well as by ourselves far outweigh any monetary values that we attach.

As previously stated, we are accomodating two foreign students this year, one from Germany and ther other from Austria. Last year we had five foreign students, and the reason for this decrease was an incapability on the part of Colorado College students to be compatible with them. This entire situation was rationalized and a flowery monetary excuse resulted.

It is imperative that we take as many foreign students as we are financially capable of taking, and that we accept them graciously. A few social functions given up for a cause such as this will never be regretted. Last year we spent $2,000 for one dance which lasted a mere four or five hours. This amount would be more than enough to put a foreign student through a year of college.

It is more true today than ever before that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

—Tom Groom.

Campus CLOSE-UPS

By Helena Spear

If you see a vivacious redhead around campus, don't think it is a freshman without her bow and paddle. It is just Miss Victoria Hann, the new head resident of Ticknor Hall. Known as Vicki to her charges, she hails from Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania. After receiving her B.A. degree from Dickenson College in Carlisle, Pa., Vicki attended Columbia University, where she did her graduate work for her Master's degree.

Vicki was affiliated with Chi Omega while attending Dickenson. Membership in various honorary fraternities was also among her activities. Phi Beta Kappa; Alpha Psi Omega; and Wheel and Chain, a women's group, were just a few. Journalism and dramatics were some of her main interests while in school. One of her talents is playing the organ.

Since this is Vicki's first time west of Pittsburgh, she was told all kinds of stories about the wild and woolly west with its Indians and cowboys. Vicki's mother told her that we probably wouldn't even have electricity out here, so she didn't bring her radio which she wishes she had in order to listen to the World Series. By the way, she is a great Giant fan.

I feel Vicki was well initiated to the customs of the west during the first week she was here at the annual J.C. Chuck Wagon dinner for new students and faculty members. Vicki was called up to the platform to be branded. She must have thought they would really brand her like they do cattle, because when she heard her name called, she began to run away. However, there were some people who were swift runners and caught Vicki. When a person is branded at this party, it is not on the person's rear extremities but on a wooden board. Finally all was ready to brand Vicki. Just as the branding iron was about to be placed on the board, it slipped, and Vicki was branded through her slacks and all. I imagine there were some pretty chagrin J.C.'s that night. Her only wish now is that her scars will remain until Christmas vacation so she can prove to her family and friends that they really brand you in the west.

Vicki thinks that Ticknor is the best hall on campus. Although this hall contains many problems, Vicki feels they are challenges not problems. When asked what she thinks about G.C., her answer is, "It's terrific." Despite being discouraged by people who said she would find this a cold, cruel world, Vicki is convinced it is not so bad after all.

The tuition listed in the first catalog published in 1875 was $39 for the full year.

BROAD BENT VIEWS

Phones ringing—buzzers sounding—radios blaring out—do these sounds bring back fond memories to you upperclass women? Ah, yes! It's Bemis Hall, the mad house of Colorado College! The freshmen have moved in, resulting in a minor riot

Marilou Diemer is the gal to see if you just can't find time to run downtown to get that new skirt or sweater. Marilou is the student representative from Gray Rose, and will be glad to order what you need. Christmas will be here before you know it, and Marilou also has a fine selection of greeting cards—a must for every student. For further information inquire in room 405 of Bemis.

The Class of '55 has already shown that it has plenty of that good old CC spirit, and they are now showing it in another way. Under the leadership of Sue Pfeiffer, a freshman pep club is being organized. The purpose of this group is to aid the Tiger Club in inspiring more pep from the freshman section at the football games. Watch for this club at the next home game—they have some big ideas for the future!

By the way, fellows, you'd better be on your best behavior with the Bemis gals. Wonder why??

The results of the Tiger-Nugget Dance proved quite interesting. Wonder when the McClintock-Clark Date Bureau is going to start operating for profits?

Hats off the Kappa Sig Jam Session! According to residents of Bemis, it was nothing short of terrific!

YOUR Honor Council Meets

On all tests, quizzes, term papers and any work designated by the instructor the pledge must be written out in full and signed by each student. Any work turned in with just the word "Pledge," written on it and signed by the student will not be accepted.

THE INGLE ANGLE

By DON INGLES

This seems to be the season for the revival of old-time show tunes. The latest rehash is the Debbie Reynolds-Carlton Carpenter recording of, "Oh By Jingo" and "He'd Have to Get Out and Get Under." These songs go back before the time of most of the CC gang. The record is on a MGM label, both 45 and 78.

For those that like something unusual in music, try the new Columbia Album (CL6181) by the Alec Wilder Octet. A woodwind octet version of such old standards as "Blue Room" and "Sweet Sue" mixed with some Wilder originals like "Neurotic Goldfish" and "Debutante's Diary."

George Shearing's "Don't Blame Me" and "Brain Wave" are both very tasty records by a very tasty group on MGM recordings.

BEST BETS:

"Black Strap Molasses" by J. Dorsey.

"I've Got You Under My Skin" by George Siravo.

Correction

Last week, the TIGER erred in reporting the new grading system. It should be brought to the attention that under the new system, a Freshman must have 256 quality points in order to graduate. All other students must maintain a "C" or a 2 quality point average or better up to the time of their graduation.

Quality points are rated as follows: A excellent, 4 quality points; B good, 3 quality points; C average, 2 quality points; D passing, 1 quality point; F failure, 0 quality points.

Canterbury Club Plans Trip to Mountain Camp

The Canterbury Club is off to a grand start with many interesting activities planned for this year. Next Saturday the club will be taking a weekend trip to the church's camp in the mountains. From all reports it is said to be cold up there so be sure to bundle up!

Reverend and Mrs. Patton are leading a series of discussions on love and marriage at Canterbury Club meetings each Sunday at 6:30 in the parish hall of Grace church. The meeting is started off by a service in the chapel led by the students. After this there is a supper upstairs and then the program for the night. After the regular meeting there are games or dancing.

All Episcopal members and any students interested are cordially invited to Canterbury Club.

LOST: A pair of horn-rimmed glasses with silver bottoms, probably at Washburn Field. If found please contact Ellie Pribbeno—McGregor.

Greens will be available to amatures as well as pros. Woody Herman and his band may be able to play at the engagement, but in case he doesn't show up, first class discs will be available.

W. Lewis Abbot Club Holds First Meeting

The W. Lewis Abbott club, the sociology club of Colorado College, will hold its first meeting next Thursday night, October 18, at 7:30 p. m. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Abbott, 30 E. Uintah, one block north of the college. The purpose of this meeting will be to acquaint new students with the club, and to elect a vice-president, publicity director, and treasurer. All sociology majors and those interested in becoming sociology majors are urged to attend.

Surprise Party For Kappa Pledges

Kappa Kappa Gamma's pledges were entertained at a surprise party last Tuesday evening when the active members treated their new pledge daughters to a dinner at the Candlelight Inn. The pledges were given treasure hunt clues with which to find their big sisters. At dinner each pledge was presented with a corsage of white roses tied with Kappa blue and blue ribbon. Guests of the chapter at dinner were Miss Margaret Smith, Kappa house mother and Mrs. Henry Perkins and Mrs. Millie Jenkins, alumnae advisors.

Kappas Celebrate 81st Founder's Day With Mon. Dinner

To celebrate the special occasions of Founder's Day and permanent possession of the scholarship cup, Kappa Kappa Gamma will hold a dinner next Monday night at the Swiss Chalet. The second oldest women's Greek letter organization in the country, Kappa will be commemorating its 81st anniversary this Saturday.

Cynthia Haymes, Kappa scholarship chairman, is planning the dinner. Members of the chapter having the highest grade average for last semester and showing the most improvement in scholarship will be honored.

Alumnae members of the sorority will be attending the dinner.

and excellent pianist. They will present an hour of twin-piano music, playing works by Mozart, Brahms and Stravinsky.

Audiences will hear on the following Sunday, Oct. 21, Warren Stannard, newly-appointed member of the music faculty and distinguished oboist, in half a recital of original oboe compositions. The famous "Kegelstadt-Trio" for violin, cello and piano by Mozart is scheduled for the second half of the same concert.

Among other performers of later programs will be Patricia Winter Mendius, mezzo soprano who distinguished herself this summer in the Schoenberg Memorial concert with her performance of the "Song of the Wood-Dove."

Wall Scores One, Keeps RMC Lead

Colorado State's Les Wall picked up a touchdown against Adams State Saturday to widen his leadership in the Rocky Mountain conference football scoring race.

Wall has 42 points on seven touchdowns. Colorado Mines' Ron Bethurum, adding three touchdowns against Western State for the week's best showing, pulled into a second place tie with Jack Jones of Idaho State and Jim Gabbard of Colorado State. All have scored four touchdowns each.

The leaders:

"I should have kept my big mouth shut!"

Fresh out of Bivalve, N. J., he arrived on the campus all bug-eyed and his big mouth hanging open. He was immediately sucked into a "shell game" and found himself making all the quick-trick cigarette tests. But his native instinct told him that such an important item as cigarette mildness couldn't be tossed off lightly. Millions of smokers everywhere have discovered, too, that there's but one true test of mildness.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke... on a pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

TIGERS BUTTED BY RAMS -- TO IDAHO SAT.

Tiger Ground Attack Good; Defense Inept In 54-13 Loss

By RAY SCHERER

Colorado A&M, living up to all expectations, coupled their potent air attack along with crushing ground maneuvers to move over the Tigers 54 to 13. The Rams completed nine out of fourteen passes for 182 yards while they compiled 303 yards on the ground. Thus a home win streak of two years, starting September 17, 1949, and running for 12 games, was brought to a close.

Within four and one half minutes, the Aggies netted their first score, and they followed it up with another before the initial period was over. They added one more in the second quarter which was matched by C.C. for a 20 to 6 count at half time.

Before the third quarter was a minute old the Rams had another on a brilliant punt return, and went on to make the third their biggest period of the night as they found the Tiger's end zone twice more. The final quarter was little different from the others except for the fact that the Tigers got into the scoring column for the second time, while the Aggie aggregation posted their seventh and eighth touchdowns.

Wes Boucher and Andy Gambucci were the ground leaders on the field for the evening, but the mastery of the air lay unquestionably in the hands of one man, Don Burrough. He completed all but two of his attempts. Defensively, the entire Aggie team would have to be cited, while C.C. could point to with pride the work of Ned Mann, Wes Boucher, Ben Snyder, and Bill Perkins. The glaring weakness of the Bengals' defensive play was the sloppy tackling, and the hard running Ram backs took every advantage of it.

The Tigers travel to Pocatello this week end to meet the Bengals of Idaho State in an important conference game. In this game, the Colorado variety of Tiger puts an impressive 11-game conference winning streak on the line. CC will go into the game a slight favorite, but the long trip will have some tiring effect on them no doubt and should make the odds about even by game time. Although both CC and Idaho State defeated Montana State, a comparison of scores is difficult because CC took them on at home after Montana had spent the two preceding weeks on long road trips and were no doubt road-weary, while Idaho State took them on at home and beat them by two touchdowns. From here, it looks like a Colorado College victory by one touchdown.

Soccer Team Drops Second Contest 3-0

Last Sunday the CC soccer team was soundly trounced in its official opening of the 1951 Colorado Soccer Association season. Again the villian was the Heinsohn AC which scored one goal in the first half, and two in the second for the 3-0 victory. CC's offense was unable to gather any momentum, and the front line was unable to keep the ball in Heinsohn territory for any sustained attack. The defense was also very weak, and often Heinsohn would have three or four men in front of the Tiger goal with only two defenders.

The first score came after twenty minutes of the first half had elapsed, and the booters were lucky to escape so lightly in the first half as another shot hit the cross bar and bounded out onto the playing field, and a third shot hit one of the uprights and bounded out of bounds. In the second half Heinsohn missed a great opportunity to score when their center forward missed a penalty kick from twelve yards away, but then they scored two quick goals to run up a 3-0 rout.

This Sunday CC plays Colorado

THOUGH THE SCORE at the end of the game stood A&M 54, the Aggie ball carrier in the above shot had it rough on this pay at least. Shown in the picture for the Tigers are—Wes Boucher, 33; Glen Scarcia, 24; Spike Sarlo, 8; and Terry Burk, 72. Aggies shown are Joe Morocich, 31; Dave Dalton, 88.

W.A.A. News

By JAN COOK

Big news in the women's athletic department this week is the organization of a girls' synchronized swimming group which meets on Sunday mornings at 9 a. m. to go to the Broadmoor to swim. The first meeting was held last Sunday, and twenty-three of the original forty-five contacted braved the early hour which shows an enthusiasm for this type of thing. Present plans include a grand water ballet program in the spring, and small groups will be taken from the large group for exhibition purposes for different organization meetings or wherever performances are desired. Next week, a secretary-treasurer is to be elected. Also the group is looking for a good name for their organization and would welcome any suggestions.

The W.A.A. tennis tournament is winding up this week with a bang. The remaining matches will be played off soon and the winner will be determined.

Miss Dickey has requested that all girls interested in playing field hockey should sign up on the bulletin board in Bemis by Friday noon so that practices for the hockey play-day can start.

• Intra-Mural • BILLBOARD

By ED BAKER

The air around the campus was again filled with flying footballs last week as the seven man intramural football teams swung into action for the first time this season.

The defending champion Phi Gams wasted no time in living up to their role as favorites as they roared to an ominous 38-6 victory over the Independents. In the other games, the Phi Delts whitewashed the Sigs 6-0, and the Kappa Sigs edged past the Betas in a 7-6 thriller.

Most of the teams, unable to get their ground attacks moving, took to the air in quest of victory. The passing of Don Crouse was instrumental in the Fiji's lopsided win, while forward passes accounted for all the scoring in the other games.

Dale Arie's thirty-yard pass to Carl Wendnagle accounted for the game's only touchdown and gave the Phi Delts their victory over the Sigs.

The Kappa Sigs squeezed out their winning margin on an extra

"IF"

IF CC beat Idaho State it will be the 11th straight conference victory for CC. The streak began when CC won its last game of the 1948 season, Nov. 20, over Colorado Mines. In winning the 1949 conference title CC beat all three league opponents. In winning the 1950 title CC beat all five league opponents. This year the Tigers have dumped Montana State in the only league tilt.

IF the Tigers win it will be the third victory in a five game series with Idaho State. CC has won two lost one.

IF CC wins it will be her second victory against two defeats. The Tigers have lost to Denver University, 41-0; beaten Montana State, 40-13; lost to Colorado A&M, 54-13.

IF Idaho State wins it will be the first conference defeat administered CC in 11 league games.

IF Idaho State wins it will be the second victory over CC in a five game series.

MUSIC MEMOS

The first meeting of the Colorado College Music Workshop, formerly scheduled for October 9, has been postponed in order not to conflict with President Gill's lecture. The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday night, October 16 at 7:15 in Lennox House. Mr. Kraehenbuehl will still be present to give his talk on "Motion and Emotion". Refreshments will be served. An open invitation is extended to the faculty and student body for this first meeting.

Misunderstanding Concerning Cut Policy Explained By Dean

By LIZ PARKER

At the request of the Associated Students in 1947-48 a general "cut" system was inaugurated at CC. Since that time revisions have been made in the system which resulted in misrepresentation by the students of some principles of the policy. It was explained by Dean Adams that the policy was established with the assumption that regular class attendance was expected of all students and faculty members. A specified number of unexcused absences each semester were granted to freshmen and sophomores. The number of "cuts" allowed without penalty is equivalent to the number of credit hours in which the student is enrolled.

Absences beyond this number may be penalized by the addition of hours to his graduation requirements. For the first hour beyond the number of credit hours, the student adds one hour to his requirement for graduation. When he has accumulated six extra unexcused absences, two hours are added, and three hours are added when eleven absences beyond the limit are recorded.

When the student has seven unexcused absences a warning of impending dismissal from the college is sent to the student and a copy of the warning is sent to his parents. As the policy now stands you will be dismissed from the college at the end of the semester if your "cuts" amount to twelve beyond your number of credit hours.

Whereas junior and senior majors do not have a restricted number of "cuts" it is understood that their attendanee will be regular enough that their work will not suffer. Dean Adams pointed out that the term "unlimited cuts" was one coined by the students and that it does not appear within the rule book for the general cut policy. Upperclassmen are not exempt from reproval if they abuse the privileges of the "cut" system.

It is understood that all absencea from class in the three-day periods before and after the Thanksgiving, Homecoming, Chiatmas, and apring holidays are to be counted double.

Freshmen and sophomores who maintain a sufficiently high average during the previous semester are not subject to the penalties of the cut policy, but they are expected to regularly attend classes.

It is believed that some improvements can still be made in the "cut" policy. One suggestion was the elimination of the dismissal penalty for violators of the system. Others believe that upperclassmen, in particular, should be prevented from picking up so many penalty hours toward their graduation requirements.

In closing Dean Adams said, "The Committee on Undergraduate Life authorized the appointment of a committee which will include student representation, and that committee will canvas the situation and suggest changes in the present system."

Station KRCC Plans Public Interest Broadcast Series

The first concert of the winter series presented by the Colorado College Music Department was broadcast directly from Perkins Hall last Sunday and re-broadcast at 10:00 p. m. Sunday.

KRCC will broadcast each of the concerts of the series as well as all college activities of public interest as part of its program for furthering good relations between CC and residents of Colorado Springs.

The management of Station KRCC would appreciate notification of events which would make good broadcasts in advance so that arrangements can be made.

Men Students Should Make Application for Qualification Tests

Applications for the December 13, 1951 and the April 24, 1952 administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Serviee System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take this test on either date should apply at onee to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided. Applications for the December 13 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, November 5, 1951.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing dates he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for the use in considering his deferment as a student.

DIPLOMATIC TRAINING PLAN OFFERED GRADUATES BY STATE DEPARTMENT

In order to discover outstanding college seniors and graduate students with backgrounds in foreign affairs and related fields, the United States Department of State has announced its fourth intern program—the foreign affairs intern program—to colleges and universities throughout the United States. The foreign affairs intern program, which will begin in September, 1952, will include 50 members selected through a screening process designed to secure a highly qualified group of people who show promise of developing into top administrators for the challenging years to come.

As was the case last year, the department will select trainees for the foreign affairs intern program from the register of those who pass the Civil Service Commission's junior management assistant examination. This examination will be announced by the commission early in October. Applications must be on file with the commission by November 13, so that the applieant may be certified to take the examination when it is given, in all parts of the country, on December 8. It is of the utmost importance that students who wish to be appointed in the department file for, and take, this junior management assistant examination. The Civil Service Commission will send announcements to Dean E. A. Mathias, in your college placement office and, in addition, the announcements will be posted in all first and second class post offices.

Students wishing to be considered for the foreign affairs intern program must also be nominated to the department by the Department of State nominating board which has been established by the faculty of your college. Selections made by your nominating board must be received by the department not later than December 1, 1951, that is, about one week before the junior manageement assistant examination is given. The department has found that the correlation between those nominated by their colleges and those passing the junior management assistant examination is very close, so that students selected by their college boards have an excellent chance of being selected for the foreign affairs intern program. Students should get in touch with their faculty advisers or the chairman of the nominating board, Prof. J. D. Mertz, as soon as possible and ask to be considered for nomination to the Department of State.

Foreign affairs interns will receive nine months of specialized on-job training which will include courses at the Department's Foreign Service Institute, periodic conferences and seminars, and both observational and work assign-

THERE HAVE BEEN SOME CHANGES MADE

Christmas recess begins Friday, Dec. 21 at 5:00 p. m. instead of Thursday, Dec. 20 at 5:00 p. m. Christmas recess ends Monday, Jan. 7 at 8:00 a. m. instead of Friday, Jan. 4 at 8:00 a. m.

AWS All-School Activity Night Wed., October 24

An all school activity night, sponsored by the Associated Women Students, will be held in Cossitt Gym at 7:30, October 24. Its purpose is to acquaint both old and new students with the various clubs and activities which they can join at Colorado College. All the organizations will be down in the gym and will be represented by their presidents and other members. If you become interested in a certain club, you may join then or attend a meeting or excursion first to see if you are really interested. Whether you wish to join then or not, the club members will be glad to answer any questions on the subject.

The special event of the evening will be acts prepared by Pick and Pan Dance Workshop and songs by the Music Workshop. Also, club memberships will be raffled off. A.W.S. emphasizes the fact that the program will start promptly at 7:30.

The activities which will he represented are the following: Riding Club, Ski Club, Mountain Climbing Club, Camera Club, Town-girls Club, Language Clubs, Chemistry Club and American Chemical Society, Sociology, Psychology and History Clubs, Religious Clubs, Pick and Pan Dance Workshop, Music Workshop, Band, Chapel Choir, Radio Station KRCC, The Tiger, The Nugget, The Kinnikinnik, Tiger Club, Growlers, WAA, and Wakuta.

A.W.A. also wishes to point out that Activity Night is an all-school affair, and that it is your only opportunity to discuss with their officers any of the clubs which you wish to join.

Second Concert To Feature Oboeist Warren Stannard

The second concert of the regular winter series in Perkins Hall next Sunday, Oct. 21, at 4:30, will introduce Warren Stannard the new band director at Colorado College, who is one of the outstanding oboe players in this country. With David Kraehenbuehl at the piano, he will perform the "Partita in G Minor" by Telemann, and the "Sonata for Oboe and Piano" by Leonard Sarason, one of the fine contemporary works written for oboe.

The program will continue with "Five Rumanian Dances" by Bela Bartok, played by Max Lanner. These dances are jewels of short musical forms and an ideal introduction to the style of Bartok. Two members of the LaSalle Quartet, Walter Levin and Peter Kamnitzer, with Max Lanner at the piano, will finish the program with the famous "Piano Trip in E-Flat" hy Mozart, known as the Kegelstadt Trio.

Music students are expected to attend the concerts as regularly as possible and all other students are cordially invited. While a capacity house, composed mostly of music lovers from the city, greeted the opening of this series with enthusiasm last Sunday, it was noted that not enough students availed themselves of the opportunity to hear a fine music program free of charge.

Dr. Alfred Crofts To Lecture Here Tuesday Evening

The Council on World Affairs will celebrate United Nations Day with a lecture by Dr. Alfred Crofts of Denver University in Perkins Hall at 8:00 p. m. on Tuesday, Oct. 23. The lecture is held in cooperation with the UNESCO Council of Colorado Springs. Students and the public are invited to attend.

Dr. Crofts is associate professor of history at Denver University. He has traveled in the Far East and in Europe. He visited Greece during the Greek action directed by Gen. James Van Fleet against Communist guerilla forces. He is the director of the Denver radio program "News Behind the News." Dr. Crofts is a much sought after lecturer on world affairs and a veteran of numerous panel discussions on subjects of world politics.

The Denver professor will speak to the student body in a brief chapel talk on Tuesday morning. The council is fortunate in having Dr. Crofts stay over for an evening lecture which permits him to speak at greater length and makes him available for a question period following the lecture. Dr. Crofts enjoys the reputation of being a forceful and provocative speaker. Judging from his past performances, the council predicts that after the short talk in the morning the students will want to hear more from him.

AN OPEN LETTER

Helsinki, Finland
October 10, 1951

Hi Everybody,

Believe it or not but right now I'm listening to the broadcast from N. Y. over the American Army Station in Munich. It's one of the games in the World Series between the Yankees and the Giants. Can't see how the Giants got that far because when I left the States I thought the Dodgers would win the pennant for sure. Anyway isn't it funny that we here in Helsinki, so far away from the States, can follow those games over the radio?

Well, I've been at home now for over a month, and I'm slowly getting used to things. To start with, I had a very nice trip on the SS Stockholm from N. Y. to Gottenburg. We formed a small gang on the boat—two brothers, Swanson from Seattle, a Swedish chemist from Stockholm, two Danish and two American girls and me. I was almost broke when I got to Sweden but it didn't really matter. The main thing was that we had a good time. I didn't stay long in Sweden but met my sister and a few of my friends before taking the boat home.

Things here have not changed too much, but I'm still having a hard time trying to get used to them. The first thing I did when I got here was to change schools. I changed from the University of Helsinki to a small college here in town. The name of my new school translated into English would be something like, "The Swedish Commercial College in Helsinki." I like my new school very much, even if the schedule is very hard.

I'm taking business, economics, business law, business organization, economical geography, English, German, Finnish, Swedish, Spanish and chemistry. That gives me 8 hours a day six days a week. All these courses belong to the first year program. That means that everybody who's a freshman in this college has to take these courses (except Spanish and chemistry which are voluntary courses).

This is a tough schedule but as I said, I like the school better than the University because it's a small school like Colorado College. You get to know the gang better, and the whole system is somewhat like the system in an American college. I'm supposed to graduate within three years, and after that we'll see. Maybe I'll come back to U.S.A. some day.

By the way, it's funny but I'm having trouble with my English course because the teacher is a mean son-of-a-gun. He's British and he doesn't like my American pronunciation. I told him the other day that I think the British are stupid so-and-so's (especially if they don't have sense enough to elect Churchill this time.) Boy! It's all tied up now, 1-1, time 9:45 P.M. in Finland, 12:45 in the Springs.

I'll bet that all of you are in the living room now listening to the radio since it's half an hour to go yet before the afternoon classes start. Gee, I wish I could visit for week-ends but I'm afraid the distance is a little too long. Here in Finland everybody is getting ready for the Olympics. The picture of the town has changed a lot; new big houses coming up awfully fast; and traffic lights on the busy corners, a thing we didn't have before, and so on.

Prices are awfully high now but not higher than during the war. A pack of good Finnish cigarettes,—we have a good brand, called "North State" which isn't bad at all—costs about 32 cents. Sugar, coffee, and butter are on ration cards. Butter was not when I got here but two weeks ago they put it back on ration cards. I don't know why.

I would be very glad to hear from you all, so anybody who's got a minute to spare please drop me a line. And don't forget to tell who won the series because these relay broadcasts from N. Y. are few and the disturbance makes them hard to understand. Well, so long for this time.

Campus CLOSE-UPS

By Helena Spear

Another new face this year on campus is Mrs. Dorothy P. Wing, head resident of Montgomery Hall. You might say Mrs. Wing is a native of Colorado Springs since she has lived here for 30 years. Her plans were to remain here only a year while she worked on her Ph.D. in the classic department, but she met Professor Hulbert, who was head of the history department, and they were soon married. It's amazing what love can do.

Mrs. Wing can tell many interesting tales about her many travels around the world. In 1930, she and her husband took a cruise on the Mediterranean and went to North Africa and Istanbul. This trip was to enable them to do research work for Professor Hulbert's book, "The Forty-Niners", which won the Atlantic Monthly non-fiction prize in 1931. Professor Hulbert began writing a series of books called "Overland to the Pacific". These books were to contain the documentary history of the West. Professor Hulbert has only completed three books when he died in 1933. Mrs. Wing felt that the whole series should be completed, so she finished the last five.

Not only did they travel around the world, but also around the United States. As a professor of history, Dr. Hulbert was interested in mapping old trails. Some of the trails they traveled over and mapped were the Oregon, the Santa Fe, the California, and the Mormon trails. Mrs. Wing considers this a very wonderful and interesting experience.

In 1950, Mrs. Wing flew to London, France, and Germany where she visited her stepson, Colonel Wing Jr. She knew several people there who showed her many interesting places, and she got a bird's eye picture of all the exclusive sections of Europe. A stay at the Riviera was also included on this trip.

Mrs. Wing has two daughters, Jo Anne and Naney Hulbert. Jo Anne graduated from Oberlin College two years ago and is now in Cleveland working for the American Airlines. Naney is attending Carleton College, where she is a sophomore.

All the girls in Montgomery like Mrs. Wing very much, and I know the feeling is mutual. Two of her hobbies are knitting and playing bridge, so if you girls in Montgomery ever need a fourth for bridge, Mrs. Wing will be glad to oblige.

Colorado College gave the first instruction on the college level in 1874. At that time there were no other colleges or universities within 500 miles of Colorado Springs.

BROAD BENT VIEWS

A new group—The Man Hater's Club—has recently been organized on the second floor of Bemis. Anyone interested in belonging may get the details from Eddie Upson.

Anyone walking past Bemis about midnight last Friday would have been quite alarmed at the sereams coming from one of the rooms. It seems that Lewise Austin, Nancy Shryock, and Jane Fleming were in quite an uproar —the exact cause for this outburst is unknown!

The CC Tigers have some very enthusiastic fans backing them. The sundeck was filled with girls who were listening to the game last Saturday afternoon. A few of the more intent listeners included Barbara Cannon, Dottie Burger, Diane Ashe, and Jackie Hanon. These gals were as exieted about every play as if they had been right on the fifty-yard line!

DeDe Staskal, Bemis Hall president, announced at hall meeting this week that there will be a eoke machine installed on second floor. Let's all remember to return those empty bottles, so we ean take advantage of this maehine all year!

Traffic in Bemis proved to be quite a problem after the pledge danees last Saturday night. Why must everyone wait until 1:29 a. m. to hurry home?

Speaking of Saturday night, Patsy Carter and Judy Clave were really having quite a laughing session about sometbing. They didn't seem to want to go up to their rooms!

Who am I going to ask? This is the big question around Bemis this week. With three sorority pledge dances coming up this weekend, the gals are having quite a time deeiding who to ask. Maybe you fellows, who go through this every weekend, could give them a few pointers!

Congratulations are in order to Grace Jaek, the newly-elected freshman representative to the Quadrangle Assoeiation Board.

WELCOME!

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

By Liz Hugins

One of the big discussions in Student Council this week was the school budget. The Budget Committee, composed of Student Counoil members, attended a meeting of every organization on eampus to determine the amount of money necessary for each one. Some budgets were cut, but only after careful consideration. The Council approved $350 for the Kinnikinnik. The budget will run close, but the Budget Committee will eontinue to keep a watchful eye on the costs and necessities of each organization.

There will be a meeting of the Social Committee on October 23 in the ASCC room at Lennox. Anyone who wants to put an item on the calendar should be there in case any dates confliet. If you cannot be there, see Naney Wolfer or Mrs. Wing.

It was recommended to the Committee on Undergraduate Life that the Faeulty Soeial Committee and Student Social Committee be combined. It is thought that this would prevent any accidental cross purposes between the two groups.

Lennox Book Store will not buy second-hand books, but will resell your books for 60 per eent of their original price payable to you when received. This method is standard in most college bookstores throughout the eountry.

Any organization wanting to give a danee with tieket admission must see Mr. Simcock about ticket selling.

The Variety Show is progressing nieely with first auditions ending this week. Second auditions and rehearsals will begin next week.

LOST: An ID bracelet was lost on eampus. The owner, John Siekle has his name engraved on it. If found please eontact him at Beta house.

Sororities Plan Pledge Dances This Weekend

The members of Delta Gamma sorority will honor their new pledges with an informal dance to be held at the DG lodge Saturday evening from 9 to 12. The record dance is under the direction of Nancy Jones, sorority social chairman.

A dance planned by the active sorority members will fete Kappa Kappa Gamma's pledge class on Friday night. Nancy Sbryock, social chairman of the organization, is in charge of the dance. Ann Haakinson and Jerry Ratliff are planning to decorate the Kappa lodge in the wood-sprite motif with autumn leaves and pixies.

Theta pledges honor the actives on Saturday night with a record dance from 9 to 12 at the KAT lodge. Surprise decorations for the "Match-Me Hop" are planned by Peggy Gould and Alex Fatio.

Circus tents and Gypsy fortune tellers will be in order at the Gamma Phi pledge dance Friday night. The dance will be given at the lodge from 8:30 until 12:00. Booths and concessions will carry out the carnival theme; and popcorn balls, taffy apples and other circus goodies will be served. The dance is being arranged by the social chairman, Barbie Bletsch and her assistant, Claire Chamberlain.

THETA PLEDGES SELECT SEMESTER OFFICERS

Kappa Alpha Theta's new pledge class recently elected its officers. Leading the pledges are: Mary Ann Harman, president; Jan Keefer, vice-president; Alex Fatio, secretary; Marcia Manning, treasurer; Peggy Gould, Junior Panhellenic representative, and Joyce Enright, social chairman. The pledges are planning a dance for the active chapter this Saturday.

Kappa Pledges Elect Sally Condon Prexy

Sally Ann Condon has been chosen as president of the Kappa pledge class. Other new officers elected were: Lewise Austin, vice-president; Doris Corley, secretary; Jan Held, treasurer; Cyndie Mitchell, house chairman; Eleanor Tutt, social chairman and Judy Dibble, junior panhellenic delegate. As pledge projects the KKG pledges will make a scholarship chart for the chapter and help in planning and cooking Sunday night suppers once a month.

CLUBLICITY

K-Sig Pledges Elect

Kappa Sigma pledges elected officers for the new pledge class. Bob Deyo will head the group as president, assisted by Bob Rompre, vice president; LeRoy Pezoldt, secretary and Bob Caputo, treasurer.

Betas Entertain Kappas

This Friday night the Betas will hold their third sorority dinner party at Bruin Inn. The guests of honor will be the members of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Sig Record Dance

Last Saturday night the Sigma Chis held a record dance honoring their pledges. Sandwiches, cokes and cocoa were served as refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Woodson Tyree and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mertz were chaperones.

Jonathan Edwards

Jonathan Edwards club will have Dr. Paul E. Boucher, CC physics and photography professor, as its speaker next Sunday night. He will show his pictures of Mexico which he took while touring that country during this past summer. The group meets each Sunday evening at 7:15 in Gregg library at the Congregational church.

Fiji Housemother

Phi Gamma Delta is proud to announce the acceptance of Mrs. Helen Y. Hill as their new housemother. "Mom" Hill will be introduced to the students, faculty, and alumni at an open house immediately following the CC-Western State football game. Mrs. Hill is originally from Chicago, Ill. She has for the past six years been in charge of "Halfway House" from which she has just retired.

Phi Gam Pledge Officers

The Phi Gam pledges lead by President Harry Halsted, vice president, Bob Blaik; secretary-treasurer, Ron Zier, and song chairman, Harry Eberling have challenged the actives to a touch football game. It will take place on the same day as their pledge dance, Saturday, Oct. 27.

Women's Educational Society Plans Future CC Improvement

By AMANDA M. ELLIS

At a meeting of The Women's Educational Society held at Bemis, Saturday, Miss Margaret Cook, president, announced that gifts totaling $2100 made it possible now to undertake the next step in remodeling the auditorium in Perkins Hall. Last year the Association completed its first undertaking in modernizing the auditorium, when, at a cost of a little over $24,000, it redecorated the room, added up-to-date lighting, both on the stage and in the auditorium, installed broadcasting facilities, a new ventilating system, and new velvet curtains for the stage. Gifts totaling $2100 now make it possible to undertake the project of having good visibility of the stage from all the 400 seats by raising the floor at the back of the auditorium.

The structural work on the auditorium is assured with the help of the El Pomar Foundation. In remodeling the building, the society is continuing a tradition in building for Colorado College. First, WES gave Montgomery Hall, then the infirmary, and now an auditorium renovated except for seats. The society is currently engaged in raising funds for a chair of social science in the memory of Dr. Lewis Abbott.

A scholarship fund, from which over $60,000 has been given to students since the founding of the society in 1899, has helped students this year but there was not enough to bring a foreign student this year.

Miss Sally Payne Morgan, Dean of Women, made a progress report for the scholarship committee. She spoke of the excellent students that have received scholarship aid and loans from the Women's Educational Society and of the two foreign students, Gerda Ungar, Freddie Wensmuller and other American students, who have continued to reflect credit on the organization which paid a large part of their expenses to Colorado College. Miss Morgan spoke too of the vocational testing service, to which the WES last year gave $500. This money has been used for the testing materials, occupational monographs and clerical help. The counseling center has back of it 32 tests which cover a wide range of services ranging from helping a stu-

Kappa Dinner Honors Scholarship, Initiation

At a combined Foundor's Day and scholarship dinner held Monday night at the Swiss Chalet, Nancy Ferguson was awarded the Kappa Kappa Gamma travelling scholarship cup for having a 1.0 average, the highest average last semester. Honored for having the greatest improvement in grades was Hank Harris.

Special recognition at the dinner went to the four new initiates: Pat Freeland, Ann Graham, Ellen Hunt, and Nancy Nichols. The new wearers of the key were initiated at ceremonies last Friday and Saturday.

Miss Lillian Bateman, a member of the Kappa alumnae chapter, spoke to the chapter about Founder's Day; and Sally Condon, pledge president, added a speech representing the ideals of the pledge class.

THREE CONFERENCE WINS AND DAME FORTUNE NEEDED FOR TITLE NOW

By RAY SCHERER

It's going to be an even tougher battle with a little luck thrown in now for Colorado College's eleven to come up with another Conference title. But win, lose or draw you can bet that the Tiger footballers will be in there pitching right down and through the final minutes of play. At Pocatello last Saturday the Tigers took it on the chin from I.S.C. in a contest that in my opinion could have gone either way. It was the breaks that made the difference as they do in every close contest, and a long trip such as the one to Pocatello never has been known to strengthen a team. We are batting five hundred right now in two Conference contests with three more coming up, and two of those are at home. Let's keep our fingers crossed and back our Tigers all the way starting now with Western State and continuing through the Mines game November 17.

In last Saturday's game at Pocatello, the Tigers fumbled away a scoring chance in the first period which might have spelled victory. That's one of the breaks that I was referring to in the preceding paragraph. A couple of more were the blocking of both CC extra point attempts following our two touchdowns. At one time Idaho State only led us by one point, 13-12, in the fourth period. Keep in mind that it is often easier to protect a slim lead than to overcome one. The spirit of a club, even though they're winning by a slim point, is something different from that of a trailing ball club especially when it's the winning team's homecoming.

Now, for the first time in three seasons our Tigers have their backs up against the wall, and we the students can help by showing our loyalty in creating confidence and enthusiasm in the remaining games this year. Who knows, if we show enough drive, and produce three more victories, we may find Colorado College in the driver's seat once again.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

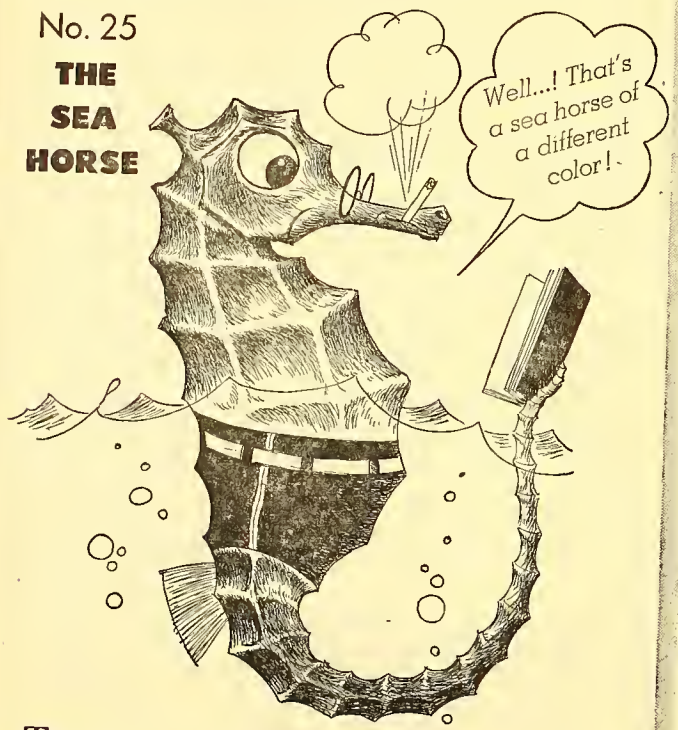
THE SEA HORSE



This little gee-gee was all at sea. It was enough to upset his equine-imity. He'd been reading about those rush-rush cigarette tests—the quick sniff, the fast puff. "Hardly the scientific approach," he said in his confusion. But then he realized that one test is an equine of a different pigmentation—a thorough, conclusive test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

Speaking of Sports

By DALE ARIE

As you all know, the end of the line for the Colorado College victory string in Conference play came in the game at Idaho State Saturday. We all know that it had to happen sometime, but it is too bad that it came in Saturday's game. From what can be gleaned in conversations with some of the players who made the trip, Idaho State is not the best team, at least mechanically. The Pocatello crew was "up" and CC was "down". It can be understood why the Staters were up it was their homecoming, but why was CC down? Could it have been over-confidence? It was a long trip to Pocatello, but it was taken in easy stages and should not have been an overtiring influence on a bunch of young athletes such as the Tiger football team. That leaves us right back where we started. We must assume that it WAS over-confidence. Now that we have arrived at the diagnosis, it poses a problem in trying to figure out the basis of any such attitude being present on this year's Tiger aggregation. True, they did trounce a highly over-rated Montana State crew which had been on the road for three straight weekends. From here, that doesn't appear to be sufficient grounds to bring on the shortage of foresight which had the Tigers feeling that the game was won merely by donning the proper equipment. The road will be a long one to the Conference championship from here on in and will take a lot of luck as well as hard work after last Saturday's mistake, so think about it Tigers and act accordingly

It's really too bad to see a bunch of guys let down a nice guy like Coach Bill Heiss, who really deserves a better fate. It wasn't too long ago that Heiss told this reporter that he "wanted his football teams to be able to say they had fun while playing football and that it was worth the effort." You can't really be having fun if you aren't giving it all you've got, so get in there and pitch Tigers and show Coach Heiss that his way of doing things is your way.

GAMES THIS WEEK: CC over Western State if they work at it; Colorado State over Idaho State, Montana over Montana State and Colorado Mines resting with an open date.

TIGERS FACE GUNNISON SATURDAY 2 P. M.

CC Must Down Western State To Remain In RMC Title Race

Colorado College is hoping to work back to the winning side of the ledger Saturday afternoon in a do-or-die conference go with Western State College of Gunnison.

Saturday's game is a must for CC if it expects to remain in Rocky Mountain Conference title consideration. Thus far in the season the Tigers have defeated Montana State and lost to Idaho State. Idaho State, which has lost to Colorado Mines, trails undefeated Colorado State and Mines, both being unbeaten in two starts.

This Western State team is the same club which recently forced the Miners to go all out for a lucky 27-26 victory. And this is the school which alwaya seems to play its best football against Colorado College. Two years a high-riding CC team was forced to come from behind for a last-half 12-7 victory over the Mountaineers, who were supposed to have been easy work for the conference champs. Again last season, in winning the league title, the Tigers had to go all out for a one touchdown victory over a fired-up Western State club.

CC will be meeting a team which it has dumped 18 times in the 22 meetings between the two clubs. In a series dating back to 1922, the Mountaineers have won only three and tied one.

Saturday's game will match the two teams in the RMC which lost the most material from 1950 elevens. Western State boasts only 11 lettermen, while CC can show only 14.

Under a new coach, Don Cumley, the Mountaineers have lost to Brigham Young, Colorado State and Colorado Mines in their three outings this season. Pointing for their first win of the season, they will start Dale Tate and Jack Turner, two sophomores, at ends; senior veteran Jim Wuske, 205-pounder, and 190-pound Bob Foster at tackles; Rogers Jacobson and Dick Lindsay, weighing 195 and 190, at guards, and lettermen Ray Haley, 185, at center.

In the backfield WSC will have Virg Stan, one of the conference's best, at quarterback; newcomer

Soccer Team To Play At Half Time Saturday

Air force men of the region and all Young America football players will be honored by Colorado College at this Saturday afternoon's gridiron tilt between the CC Tigers and the Western State College Mountaineers.

Juan Reid, director of athletics, revealed Tuesday that all air force men in uniform will be admitted to Saturday's 2 p. m. game free, upon payment of federal tax. CC similarly honored all other army men of the region at the opening home game of the season.

The more than 100 Young America football players are also invited as guests of the college. Dressed in their gridiron attire and accompanied by their coach they are to be admitted free at the players gate and will be seated in special sections.

An event relatively new to Colorado Springs will feature the halftime ceremonies at the game. CC's soccer team, just two years old, will play host to the University of Colorado soccer club in an exhibition halftime match. CC's team attracted much attention last year as it went to the finals of the state soccer tournament in the college's first year of play.

Soccer has been recognized this year by the CC Athletic Board as a varsity sport and has already played Colorado University and Colorado Mines of the state soccer conference.

Just as nearly everyone expected, it looks as though the Phi Gam-Kappa Sig battle on Nov. 1 will decide the intramural football championship for 1951. In last week's games the Kappa Sigs coasted to a win over the Independents 25-13, while the Phi Cams took advantage of the defensively inept Phi Delts, 36-15, and the Betas galloped to a 31-6 victory over the Sigs.

The Kappa Sigs fought to an early lead on Jack Orsborne's passing and then held off the Independent attack which netted two touchdowns on passes from Thompson to Kinnefic.

The Phi Gams used the sloppy play of the Phi Delts to good advantage as they scored on three sleeper plays and a long kickoff return. Arie passed to Wendnagle and Able for the Phi Delt's scores.

Dave Hender passed for four touchdowns to lead the Beta attack. The Sigs collected their only score when Brown raced ten yards with an intercepted lateral.

Les Wall Widens Scoring Lead in RMC

If Les Wall, the Greeley Speedster, keeps up his present pace on the gridiron, he will have no challengers for the RMC scoring championship. In last Saturday's game with Montana State, Wall scored two more touchdowns to bring his total to 54 points for the season. His nearest rival is Jack Jones of Idaho State, who scored one touchdown in his team's conquest of Colorado College to make his total 30 points for the season. The Tiger's only member of the elite scoring group is Wes Boucher with 18 points.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

DON'T let those stripes fool you. J. Paul was no prisoner of love! His hair looked like a tiger rag, and he was feline mighty low. But did Sheedy buy a wig? No! He's not a cheetah! "I hate to be catty," his roommate said, "but even an ugly puss looks better with Wildroot Cream-Oil! Non-alcoholic! Contains soothing Lanolin! Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the fingernail test!" Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil, and now he has every girl on campus waiting in line for a date! So, be cagey . . . get a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil Hair Tonic at any drug or toilet goods counter today. And ask your barber for professional applications. Then you'll be the cat's pajamas. But don't delay. Meow is the time!

President Gill, in greeting the members of the Society, expressed his appreciation of both the work they have done for Colorado College and thanked Miss Cook for the large part she had played in making the organization a vital one.

Gerald Ketchum, a student active in radio and drama at CC, surprised Miss Cook by presenting her a gift "as token of our appreciation and gratitude." He concluded by telling Miss Cook that the Colorado College Players and the Colorado College Radio Guild wished to thank her publicly both for the aid she has given as president of the WES and as an individual. "In guiding the remodeling of Perkins Hall Auditorium, which makes an excellent broadcasting studio as well as a perfect little theatre, and in assisting in the establishment of KRCC-FM, our own radio station, you have offered new educational opportunities not only to the present student body but to all future students of Colorado College."

Homecoming Committee Sets Up Tentative Program For Event

By BARB GODAR

Friday, Nov. 16 is the official beginning of Homecoming this year. In former years the entire Homecoming program has been handled by the alums, but this year the fine student leadership at CC has warranted a change. The activities are being arranged by the student body with Al Schoenfeld as chairman. Homecoming '51 promises to be the biggest and best in the history of CC. Among the highlights will be the Golden Anniversary of the class of '01, the 30th anniversary of the class of '21, and the silver anniversary of the class of '26.

Following is a tentative list of main events:

FRI., NOV. 16—

7:00 p. m.—First judgings, fraternity house decorations.

7:30 p. m.—Pep rally, Cossitt Bowl.

8:45 p. m.—"Ladies in Retirement," comedy-mystery, Broadway hit given by CC Players as their gift to Homecoming in Perkins Hall.

SAT., NOV. 17—

10:00 a. m.—Homecoming parade.

2:00 p. m.—Football game—Colorado Mines vs. CC, Washburn Field; crowning of Homecoming Queen; parade of winning floats; cross-country race; announcement of prizes. Reserved seats in Sec. 17 for alumni and undergraduates, only $1.83, including tax.

5:00 p. m.—Open house—fraternities, sororities, independent groups.

9:30 p. m.—All-College Homecoming dance (semi-formal) alumni, undergraduates, faculty. Broadmoor hotel ballroom.

Students are urged to invite their parents to attend Homecoming as it will afford them good opportunity to see the campus, meet the faculty and participate in the Homecoming activities.

Europe Welcomes Colo. College Alums In Studies and Jobs

By Barbara Godar

Old CC alums never die, they just turn up in Vienna, or so it seems.

From across the continent, news has come of many CC alums who are now studying at the University of Vienna, while others are teaching or holding other positions. The arrival of recent alums to Austria has warranted many reunions with former students already established there.

Miss Berger, secretary of Colorado College, and Professor T. O. Brandt of the German Department have received the following information about some of these alumni.

Jack Daly, '49, went to Europe in 1949 to study for his doctorate in political science. He is now Administrator to the American Consul in Salzburg, Austria.

Jim Erb, '50, has been touring

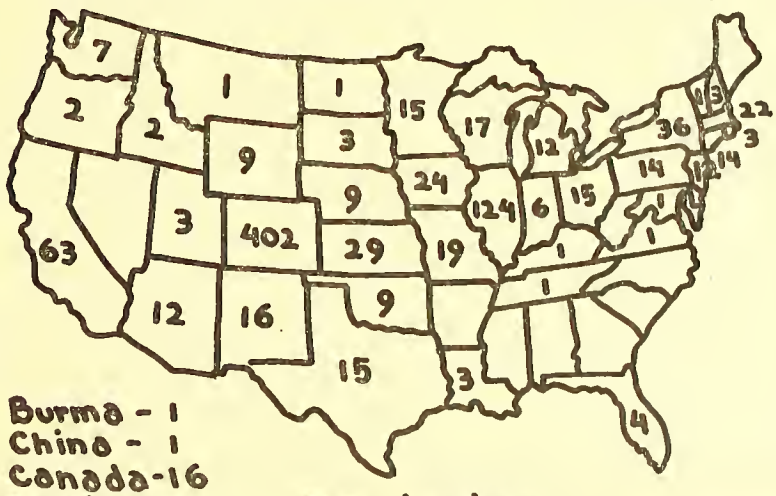
STUDENTS HAIL FROM 39 STATES



Map by Herb Klewer

NINE UNEDUCATED STATES—Maine, Delaware, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Nevada are the only states not represented by students at Colorado College. Of the remaining 39 states, Colorado dominates the campus enrollment with Illinois second. Not shown on the map are the number of students from Hawaii. Although there are 24 students here from other countries, only two students from Germany are attending the college under the Foreign Student Program.

Variety Show to Hold Tryouts in Perkins Next Week

This year's big production, the Colorado College Campus Chest Drive Variety Show, will be as stupendous, if not more so, than ever before. The capable directors are Jerry Bayless, Al Mathias, Jeanne Roberts, Jerry Dummer, and Nancy Wolfer.

The dates of the big show are scheduled for November 7, 8, and 9, with the dress rehearsals for the 4, 5, and 6. The time that the curtain will rise is slated for 8:15 in Perkins Hall. The tickets will be sold at the inside booth of Perkins under the management of Hiram Liggett, who will have Don Johnson for his assistant. There will be two ushers, Sally Powell and Jane Addenbrooke, to give you your programs and let you sit any place in the auditorium that you so desire. The money collected from the sale of these tickets is given to the Campus Chest, and no profit is made by individuals.

The windows, lights, and general comfort of the audience are watched by Corty Bymaster, who will have John Cecil for his assistant. Publicity is taken care of Individual portraits for the 1952 Nugget will be taken between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock on the afternoons of October 30, 31 and Nov. 1, Tues., Wed., and Thurs of next week, on the second floor of Lennox. Members of all four classes who wish to have their pictures in the Nugget must have their portraits taken at this time. All male students are urged to wear coats and ties, and all students who have not previously paid for the portraits must bring $1.75 with them. Those who paid at rgeistration should bring their receipts.

NUGGET PHOTOS

NATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION NO LONGER AFFILIATED WITH CC

By JIM HILL

The National Student Association is no longer a part of the CC campus. During the past week you were asked in your different organizations to vote on the worth of the NSA only after hearing discussions for and against it. As the vote turned out, it was in favor of dropping the NSA and continuing on a local level.

It was the feeling of CC's three representatives at the National Convention this year that the N.S.A. was of little value to our school. We spent money for National and Regional dues and also to send people to these conventions—in all, only $20 of the $350 stayed on our campus.

Financial necessity wasn't the entire reason for voting NSA out. There were incidents occuring at this year's national convention that were not pleasing to our representatives. The national cannot answer for the loss of thousands of dollars. They just don't know where it went. There were also incidents such as Brooklyn College in which the NSA voted to stand behind the Labor Youth League and get it put back on their campus. These are the things that NSA does on the national level, and we feel that we derive no benefit from them.

What we hope to do is establish a committee under Student Council to handle odd jobs such as the Campus Chest, Mountain Day, CC Calendars, and Student Discount Cards, all of which can be done without belonging to the National NSA.

CC Students Accepted By Medical Schools

Information has recently been received by the Committee of Premedical Advisors regarding the acceptance of four CC students as medical and dental students.

Wesley J. Hale ('52), Carl T. Rinker, Jr. ('52), and William C. Black ('53), will enter the University of Colorado Medical School in September 1952, while Cameron E. Berry ('52) will enter the University of Pennsylvania School of Dentistry at the same time.

The Committee of Premedical Advisors, appointed by President Gill to supervise the undergraduate training of pre-med, pre-dent, and pre-veterinary students, has placed nine students in the University of Colorado Medical school. In addition students supported by the Committee are now enrolled at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, the University of Iowa, and Johns Hopkins University.

Campus Chest Drive Explained For New Students

By TOM FREUND

Another year has rolled around, and it's again Campus Chest time. For the benefit of the new students on campus, we'd like to tell you just what the Campus Chest is.

As you have probably experienced in both your home and other schools you have attended, there is a tendency to have some kind of a fund raising campaign every few months. The same thing was happening here at CC until a few years ago. The students feelings were about at end when they were hit for money every time they turned around. A committee was formed, and it was agreed to hold ONE big drive each year, run entirely by the students, in order to give money to needy organizations of the students choosing. A poll is taken every two years to determine what percentage of the total amount taken in should go to what organizations. There was a poll taken last year.

How will you be solicited? We have a card made out for each student enrolled here at CC. A captain will check your card, and turn it over to one of his solicitors, who will in turn contact you.

1. Girls will be contacted in their dorms Monday night Nov. 5.

2. Men will be contacted in their fraternities or dorms.

Patricia Mendius in Concert at Perkins Hall This Sunday

The next Sunday concert in Perkins Hall, October 2, at 4:30 p. m. will feature Patricia Mendius, mezzo-soprano, one of the outstanding singers of our community who has delighted many audiences in the past years. With Frances Pond at the piano, she will perform the famous song cycle, "Woman's Love and Life," by Robert Schumann. Dr. Thomas Brandt will give a short explanatory introduction which should add greatly to the enjoyment of the listeners.

The second half of the program will be devoted to the performance of a Quintet by Johann Christian Bach, for flute, oboe, violin, cello and piano. Mr. Kraehenbuehl will be heard for the first time as an expert flutist. Mr. Stannard will play the oboe part, Henry Meyer, violin, and Paul Anderson, cello, both members of the La Salle String Quartet, and Max Lanner at the piano will complete the ensemble. It will be of special interest to hear a work of one of the famous sons of Johann Sebastian Bach. Johann Christian Bach is known as the "London Bach" and it is interesting to observe in this charming Quintet the influence of this master on Mozart.

Students and faculty, as well as music lovers in Colorado Springs, are again cordially invited to attend this concert free of charge.

VETERANS' FILES

Veterans files will be closed at the Colorado College Book Store on Thursday, Nov. 1. Any authorized books and supplies must be picked up by that date.

OPEN LETTER TO THE FACULTY, ADMINISTRATION, AND STUDENT BODY

Dear Sirs:

It would seem to be an unfortunate situation for a society to reach a level at which common courtesy and politeness must receive special commendation; but apparently such is the present case at Colorado College.

Last Tuesday during chapel service, Dr. Alfred Crofts, Associate Professor of History at Denver University, was presented to the student body and a few members of the faculty and administration as guest speaker. Dr. Crofts gave a direct, informative, and thoroughly interesting talk on the United Nations, as those students who remained throughout the service can affirm. Unfortunately, Dr. Crofts began his speech in such a low tone of voice, that it was impossible for many of the students to hear him. However, within five minutes Dr. Crofts had raised his voice enough that ever the choir, sitting a substantial distance behind the speaker, could hear him with little effort.

Nevertheless, when the audience stood to sing the final hymn, following Dr. Crofts' talk, only SIX students out of fifty-four assigned seats in the West Balcony of the chapel—ONLY SIX STUDENTS HAD REMAINED THERE!

May I take this opportunity to commend those six students for showing our GUEST speaker common courtesy. In the face of the blatent rudeness exhibited by the rest of the students who were in the West Balcony at the beginning of the chapel service, but who got up and left the chapel singly and in small groups throughout the service, the courtesy shown by the remaining six must indeed have been heart warming to Dr. Crofts.

From the first day we are born, our education is concerned with a comprehension of certain facts and traditions which are considered essential to our society. It is upon the mastery of more and more of these facts and traditions that we are said to advance through different stages of life: from infancy to childhood, from adolescence to manhood, and so on. One of the traditions of which I speak is known as common courtesy, a tradition which our society deems essential to the peaceful and understanding relations of mankind (the subject of Dr. Crofts' talk). Presumably, any individual who is allowed to live away from his parents (who formerly have been responsible for their child's understanding of the common traditions of our society) and attend a college or university—an institution of higher learning—has mastered this tradition of common courtesy.

May I suggest then, that those students who apparently have no understanding of politeness and common courtesy are not yet old enough to attend a college and that they be sent back to their families until they have mastered this most essential of all traditions. They surely do not belong at Colorado College.

Sincerely, MARK ORTON.

KINNIKINNIK

By BOB HUMPHREYS

At a liberal arts college such as ours, purposed to assure each student a broad acquaintance "with the several fields of human knowledge fundamental to a liberal education," and stressing extra-curricular activities, the literary publication should hold a prominent position among the campus activities. During the past year, the administration and Student Council have aided greatly by raising the level of the KINNIKINNIK to a position on the Publications Board and by subsidizing it.

This aid alone, however, cannot place the literary magazine on a sure footing. Without the help of students who recognize, as all of us should, the importance of the book, there can be no KINNIKINNIK. At present, the staff of our literary publication lacks an Editor, a Business Manager and material for the book. Without any of the three, the efforts of those few who have expressed a belief in its possibilities will be of no avail.

It is now time for those of us who realize the great importance of the KINNIKINNIK on this campus to give freely of our time and talents. But, of even greater importance, all of those who have expressed a belief in the type of education which provides the student with a broad view of life by enrolling in this institution, must realize the importance of such a publication in this College and look to its support.

NATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP SERVICE AND AND FUND FOR NEGRO STUDENTS

Among the organizations which have been stricken from the list of groups to benefit from the Campus Chest drive, is one which I consider of upmost value in this country's student life. Although approved by the students in a poll taken last year, the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students will not, as the program now stands, benefit from this year's contributions.

The services of the NSSFNS have, in the past, helped students on this campus; and, during the past year alone, 160 colleges and universities admitted students with the aid of this organization. Scholarship aid to these students amounted to $68,000. Last year, a total of 887 students were served in some way by NSSFNS, an increase of 45% over the preceding year.

Campus Chest contributions provide over 40% of the annual cost of this organization's counseling service. The work of this service is almost unique among financial appeals to students in that it is directly concerned with our own fellow students, as well as our campus life.

The Service's Executive Vice-Chairman stated in his 1951 report as follows: "We are ready to tackle the job that lies ahead for the coming year, fully aware that it is a tougher one; and hopeful that our 'community of interest' the college campus chests . . . will give us the needed help to carry it out. With this help we cannot fail."

It is not yet too late to include this valuable organization among the list to benefit from our contributions.

—BOB HUMPHREYS.

SENIOR COMMISSIONERS

The tie between Lynn Jones and Pat Gormley for senior commissioner will be solved by allowing both to take office instead of voting again.

MONEY NEEDED

Student Council reports that money for the Foreign Student Fund is badly needed. Organizations, please get your donations in.

DON'T CRY WOLF!

Dean Reid requests that students of Colorado do not turn in false alarms to the fire department.

CAMERA CLUB PROVES POINT

It seems that the Camera Club is running into difficulties. They need $250 for darkroom supplies. There was much discussion over the necessity of this donation, but they presented their case well. The Council voted to donate $250 from the reserve fund and also to count last year's $350 loan as a gift. In case this seems unnecessary to you, consider the advantages of an up-and-coming Camera Club on campus. Bob Humphreys pointed out that the Tiger and Nugget Staffs can get prompter and more precise service for their publications with less expense involved and that an investment in such a project is a direct benefit to the students of Colorado College.

Iron Curtain Exiles Resume Studies at Free Europe Univ.

Under the auspices of the National Committee for a Free Europe, a University has been founded to provide a study center for young Eastern Europeans who have found themselves exiles from their native countries.

The Free Europe University in Exile will begin its first aeademie year November 1, 1951, with a student body eomposed of more than 100 undergraduates from the Eastern European countries now behind the Iron Curtain.

A more vital purpose of the institution is to equip the students for futura leadership in their native lands by providing them with the same type of instruction that they would have received at home had not their national life been interrupted.

In order to operate in France the University has incorporated the College de L'Europe Libre, near the University of Strasbourg. The school offers scholarships, fellowships, and other grants-in-aid to those whom it selects because the majority of exiles do not have adequate means to attend the University without financial assistance.

At the present time students ara being eonsidered without regard to race, creed, or sex, and come from such countries as Albania, Bulgaria, Estonia, Latvia, Poland, Roumania, and Yugoslavia. They are between the ages of 18 and 32 and have passed baccalaureate as understood in Europe.

A. A. Berle, Jr. of New York City is the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of this newly organized corporation. Other officers are: DeWitt C. Poole, President; Spencer Phenix, Treasurer; and Levering Tyson, Seeretary. The Dean of Free Europe University in Exile is Malcolm W. Davis of Strasbourg.

Men and women of Colorado College interested in debating will have an opportunity to compete in intercollegiate competitions. Members of the speech elasses who debate this year will receive credit in their course. There will be several meets throughout the year in which Colorado College will participate.

The first meet is the Colorado University Speaker's Congress on November 16 and 17 at Boulder, Colo. This year the National Collegiate Debate Topie is, Resolved: "That the federal government should adopt a permanene progarm of wage and priee control."

Mr. Werner, advisor for the team, stresses that those interested should contact him as soon as possible because of the limited time left before the first meet. He would also like enough women students to show interest in debating to make an all-women team possible.

Two CC Grads Receive Advancement in Fields

Two Colorado College graduates have recently received advancements in their respective fields, one in business, the other in education.

Arval A. Morris, who graduated in June, 1950, has received an assistantship in economies at the University of Colorado, where he is doing graduate work, according to word received by Ray O. Werner, one of Morris' economics instructors at CC.

A graduate of Pueblo Central High school before entering the armed services, Morris attended the University of Utah before transferring to CC in September 1948. He was an outstanding lineman on CC's Rocky Mountain Conference football championship team in the 1950 season.

Morris' address at the University of Colorado is Box 36, Bracket Hall.

Miehael Joseph Slattery, who graduated from CC in 1949 with an A.B. in geological engineering, has been advanced to the position of branch manager for the Universal C.I.T. Credit corporation office in Cheyenne, Wyo. His appointment was announced by C. C. Cowan, assistant viee president in charge of the eompany's Denver division.

Slattery joined the company as an adjuster at the Pueblo branch and was later promoted to eredit and collection man in Denver. He was replaced in Pueblo by Robert Thompson, a Colorado Springs man who graduated from CC in 1950.

A member of the All-American hockey team during his hockey days at CC, Slattery served during World War II with the Royal Canadian Navy for over two years. Slattery is making his new home in Cheyenne, with an office address of 410½ E. 16th St.

The land designated for Colorado College, about a mile north of the business district, was in the middle seventies, wide open prairie and a camp ground for Indians from the mountains.

under the firm hand of Bob Humphreys, who has Joan Sheppard and Jane Addenbrooke working for him.

This week is taken over by auditions for the show. Next week there will be group rehearsals with "Chief" Tyree there to help all the struggling young showmen overcome multitudes of handicaps. Rehearsal times will be posted on the bulletin board in Palmer. Each group or individual will be responsible for being at rehearsal at the time scheduled. Failure to assume this responsibility will result in the ousting of the group from the show. If there is a valid reason for absence, notify Nancy Wolfer or Jerry Bayless to be excused.

Let's all work to make this the biggest and "bestest" show yet!

JOBS FOR GRADS

Possible job candidates was the subject of a search by a recent campus visitor, Mr. Wesley E. Swenson, class of '38, who is now district manager of the construction materials dept. of General Electric Co., Philadelphia, Penn., is interested in young men having a good liberal arts education on campus. The candidates must have a college degree.

Dean H. E. Mathias of the college is the liason officer between such job possibilities and the company in question.

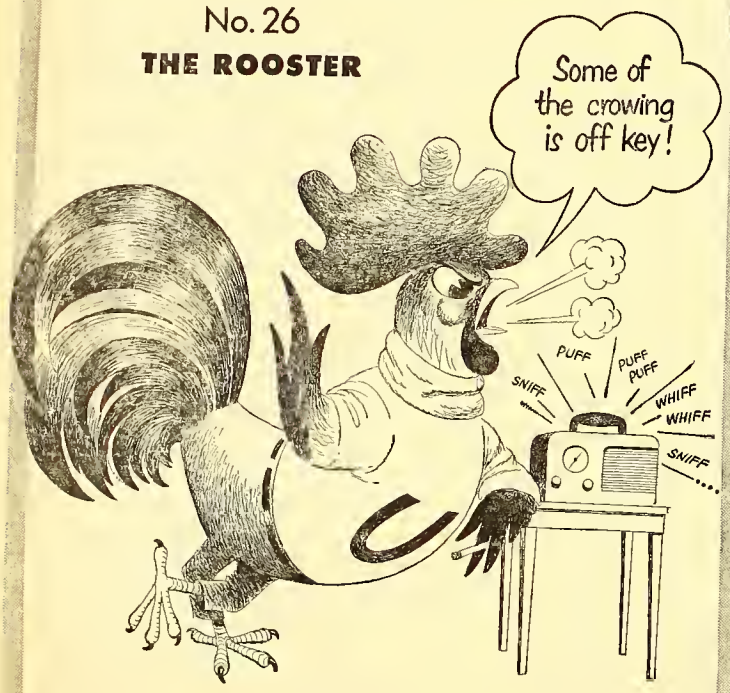
THE ROOSTER



You have to get up early in the morning to put one over on this cock-of-the-walk! When it came to making "quick-trick" experiments of cigarette mildness, he stated flatly, "That's strictly for clucks"! How 'ya going to keep 'em down on the farm—when they know there's one convincing way to prove cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke—on a day after day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

Sig Kids Smear Dads In Muddy Grid Meet

The Sigma Chi "Kids" thumped the Sig "Grandads" 12-7 last Sunday on the intramural football field in an Alumni-Undergraduate contest which was held in spite of a muddy playing field and cold weather. Hank Royer snared two of John Koopsen's passes for the Kid's scores. Rolly Rogers pulled in Ed Scott's pass for the only Grandad tally. Following the contest, coffee and cake was served at the Sig house.

IWA HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Getting into the swing of the Hallowe'en spirit, the Independent Women invite the Crown and Lance to a Hallowe'en party Monday at 7:15 p. m. in the observatory. Entertainment, music, games and eats will be the featured events.

KAPPA SUPPER

This Sunday night it's the Kappa actives' turn to treat the pledges to an informal supper for the whole chapter. Cooking will be Sue McMillin, Toni Gadd, Cynnie Haymes and Hank Harris.

GAMMA PHI INITIATION

Eight pledges were initiated into Gamma Phi Beta sorority Sunday. The ceremony was held at Shove Chapel. Gamma Phi is proud to announce the initiation of the following girls: Marilou Diemer, Montrose, Colo.; Cynthia Golitzen, Sherman Oak, Calif.; Gay Gould, Casper, Wyoming; Margot Hagaman, Colorado Springs; Joan McDonald, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Carolyn Slack, Denver, Colo.; Mary Todd, Colorado Springs, and Gloria Townsend, Hugo, Colo.

LODGE OPEN

The Gamma Phi Lodge will be open to all members and guests Friday night from 9 to 12. An informal record dance and bridge will provide the evening's entertainment.

CANTERBURY CLUB will meet at 6:15 this Sunday for a chapel service, supper, play nite with a magician and songs and ping pong afterward.

MUSIC MEMOS

The Colorado College Music Workshop will hold its second meeting of the school year on Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, at 7:30, in Lennox House. All students and faculty are invited. This will be open to the entire student body. The Workshop will present a musical debate entitled, "Dixieland vs. Be-bop", with Don Ingle representing Dixieland and Will Berg representing bop. The debate will concern itself primarily with musical examples. Remembering the popularity of last year's Workshop program, on which Will Berg gave a History of Jazz, we advise you to come early to get a good seat.

Regional Independent Students Conclave at CC This Weekend

Crown and Lance and IWA will be hosts to 85 delegates from 19 schools for the regional Independent Students Association convention at CC tomorrow and Saturday, it was announced by Bob Starks, C&L president, and Joan Todd, of IWA, who have been preparing for this convention since late last spring and have planned a full weekend of activities for the delegates.

Wolf Gals, it's time to start prowling for that Li'l Abner.

Representatives will register in Lennox tomorrow morning. At 1:15 in the afternoon there will be a general assembly in Perkins with welcoming speeches by President Gill and Dean Morgan, followed by discussion groups from 2 until 5 o'clock. Included in the list of panel discussions are: school service, student government, student life, leadership and foreign student programs.

Jean Lawrence is preparing the food for a picnic supper to be held tomorrow night at the chuck wagon site in the Garden of the Gods at 6 o'clock. Immediately following the picnic there will be a small record dance in Lennox House.

On Saturday morning there will be panel discussions, then lunch in Cossitt and a general assembly in Perkins at which time the new regional officers will be elected.

Present officers are: Bob Blmbelman, Colorado Aggies, president; Tom Gray, also of Aggies, vice president; Dick Winchell, University of Omaha, publicity and Dottie White and Jean Davis, CC, corresponding secretaries.

A banquet at Bruin Inn on Saturday night will climax the conclave. Guest speaker at the dinner will be Frank Krutzke, professor of English at CC, and Tom Freund will be master of ceremonies.

The colleges and universities which will be represented are: Kansas State College, Kansas State Teachers College, University of Nebraska, University of Colorado, Colorado A&M, DU, University of Wyoming, Colorado Teachers College, University of Omaha, University of South Dakota, University of North Dakota and North Dakota Aggies.

Soccer Team Ties C.U.; Play Turners Sunday at Stewart

Last Saturday afternoon an underdog CC soccer team tied a highly touted Colorado University Silver team. After a very unsuccessful exhibition during the halves of the football game, when CU scored a decisive 2-0 victory, the Tiger soccer team came back strong and showed a scoring punch that it has lacked all season. The first goal of the year for the Tigers was scored by Horst Hergel after ten minutes of the first half had elapsed. CU bounced right back with two quick goals for a 2-1 lead at intermission. The first goal seemed to act as an incentive for the booters, and during the second half CC showed some of the scoring power that enabled them to reach the state finals last year. With only two minutes of the second half elapsed George Rushitsky, a transplanted fullback, playing center forward, came in on the goal alone, and scored to knot the count at 2-2. CC continued to dominate the play for the remainder of the half, but could not score until CU had gone out in front for the second time in the afternoon. The final CC goal was scored by Mel Smith, his first in two seasons play, with a strong assist from Jack Hattstat.

This Sunday the Denver Turners travel to Colorado Springs for a 2 o'clock match on Stewart field.

Speaking of Sports By DALE ARIE

Last week in this column a few unkind remarks were directed toward the football team and we believe, justly so. On the Saturday past, the Tigers played the Mountaineers from Western State and we think we detected a change in the attitude of the team in general although, to coin a phrase, "there is still room for improvement." This does not leave us entirely without praise for some individual members of the squad. There is Glenn Scarcia for instance who we believe has shown outstanding spirit all year. Saturday was no exception. "Socko", as he called by the boys who know him, was very much in evidence Saturday. He made many more than his share of the tackles and showed the Mountaineers some real fine, hard running in spite of his meagre 150 pounds. Also among the boys who went all the way Saturday were: Gene Swank, Wes Boucher, Ned Mann and Craig Richardson.

This Saturday the Tigers take on the soldiers from Camp Carson. This game though not on the schedule, could turn out to be one of the games of the year. This Carson crew is not to be taken too lightly as the people who watched them scrimmage the Tigers early this year can tell you. They have a large squad which is well coached and is full of spirit. They run from the single wing and have some fast boys who can make it work. Turn out for this game. You won't be disappointed. It's free!

PRACTICE STARTS MONDAY AT B'MOOR OFFICIAL SEASON OPENER WITH D.U.

The long awaited hockey season of 1951-52 is just around the corner. Starting Monday, October 29 the first practice session for this year's aggregation will commence with last year's Jayvee members and all new men vieing for the 16 man squad. On Thursday, November 1 the returning lettermen from last year's team will put their old positions on the line when the new and the old boys get together for the first official practice of the year. Equipment has been issued for quite some time now, with all indications pointing for a successful year.

Besides issuing equipment to the regulars from last year, trainer Rosy Collins handed out pads to these new men and returning Jayvees from last year: Don Crouse, Tom Kelly, Steve Leolich, Bob Rompre, and Ed Robson all from last year's Jayvees; Doug Bates, Dick Kennefic, Murray Kouch, Norman Diviney, and Jack Wilbur all freshmen here at CC; Ken Kinsley, Fred Eastwood, Bob Carruthers, Pete Cosick, Jim Weir and Bill Clark who are sophomores. These 16 men will display their wares next Monday so that Coach Cheddy Thompson can get a sneak preview of them before practice starts November 1.

Last year's Captain Chris Ray and All-American Jim Starrack are the only two missing from last year's lineup but you can bet that they will be hard to replace. Returning to the squad will be this year's Captain Bud Eastwood, Tony Frasca, Lenny Maccini, Bill Thompson, Leo Soligo, Bill Dewire, Andy Gambucci, Omar Brandt, Carl Lawrence, and Ron Hartwell. Cam Barry will not be out this year.

With this star-studded roster we will all be hoping for another successful season.

Here are the first four games of the season:

Nov. 24 — Alumni Game at the Broadmoor.

Dec. 1—Community Chest Benefit Game with Denver at Denver.

Dec. 7 and 8 — Official season opens with Denver at the Broadmoor.

W.A.A. News

By JAN COOK

Big news in the Women's Athletic Association this week is the coming of the annual W.A.A. volleyball tournament which starts this Saturday, October 27. A practice session will be held Friday afternoon from 2-5 with a final practice from 1-2 on Saturday afternoon. To be eligible each member of a team must have three hours of practice. Games set for this weekend are:

Saturday, October 27:
2:00 p. m.
Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Independent Women
Delta Gamma vs. Gamma Phi Beta 4:00 p. m.
Delta Gamma vs. Kappa Kappa Gamma Delta Gamma vs. Gamma Phi Beta Independent Women vs. Gamma Phi Beta
Sunday, October 28:
2:00 p. m.
Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Kappa Alpha Theta
Delta Gamma vs. Independent Women

Other games will be played next weekend, and the Sally Pains' volleyball team, composed of women faculty members and head residents, have challenged the winner of the tournament to a game.

Another event set for Saturday is the hockey play-day to be held this year at the University of Colorado at Boulder. CC will have a team at the tourney.

Toni Gadd, of Kappa Kappa Gamma, is the winner of the W.A.A. tennis tournament completed last week, with Alex Fatio, of Kappa Alpha Theta, as the runnerup.

The synchronized swimming group has urged all girls who have attended on Sunday mornings to please continue to do so. Unless more interest is shown by more girls, the project may have to be abandoned. If you like to swim, this is a wonderful opportunity, so please get behind this and help to make it a success.

Three slightly deaf Englishmen were driving in a noisy old car.

"Is this Wembly?, asked the first one.

"No this is Thursday," replied the second.

"So am I," put in the third. "Let's stop and have one."

TIGERS MEET CAMP CARSON HERE SATURDAY

Soldiers Out to Take Tigers In First Meeting of Teams

Colorado College has filled its open football date with a game against the Camp Carson Mountaineers, and take it from Coach Bill Heiss of CC—"The game will be no breather for the Tigers." The local Bengals and the soldiers located nearby butted heads for nearly two hours in an early-season scrimmage session and after the Carson team began to develop the game loomed as a natural for this Saturday afternoon.

Camp Carson officials are staging the game for the benefit of the Community Chest and have moved the tilt from their own camp field to the more pleasant and softer locale of Washburn Field. Admission at the gate will be free, with all spectators requested to drop something in the Red Feather's growing till.

Colorado College students who wish to attend the game Saturday at Washburn Field between CC and Camp Carson are urged to make their donation at the gate to the CC Campus Chest fund.

All CC students must enter by the Bemis Hall gate, located at the top of the northeast corner of Washbura Field, just between Bemis Hall and McGregor Hall. Admission is free, but opportunity will be provided for students to make their donation to the Campus Cheet there.

Coach Bill Heiss' grid aggregagation fought hard to stay on even grounds with Carson during the early-season scrimmage, with each club netting a pair of touchdowns. Heiss has seen the Mountaineers this season and warns his collegians not to take the game lightly. He will start a regular first-team aggregation in an effort to keep his club "up" for the important encounter the following weekend at Colorado State's Homecoming in Greeley.

A look at the Western State movies Monday and Tuesday showed two particularly bright new stars in the Tiger heavens—both of whom had previously gone unheralded. Cene Swank, offensive center and defensive linebacker, who played each of the 60 minutes in the hot sun Saturday, came in for a lion's share of the plaudits from CC coaches, as did tackle Harvey Carter, who was moved in a starting offensive role Saturday and then stayed in to also play most of the game on defense.

Swank has moved into the starting lineup for the Idaho Stata game after big Ben Snyder received a cracked sternum in practice. The senior centar from St. Louis, who weighs only 167, lost nine pounds in Saturday's game as the sun melted him down to a mere 158.

Carter, a Colorado Springs product and ace of the CC baseball pitching staff, was moved into John Yaklich's offensive tackle spot and stayed in tbe game after he demonstrated a vicious desire to play defensive ball. Heiss credited the charging Carter, end Brig Young, guard Ned Mann and tackles George Demos and Dick Meyer with the Tiger's first half success.

All Skiers, Attention!

Hang up the tennis rackets and the golf clubs, brothers, the skiing season isn't far away.

The first important meeting of all students interested in ANY form of skiing will be held in Perkins Hall auditorium on Wednesday, October 31, at 7:30 p. m.

It is very important that the following attend:

1. All members of the Ptarmigan Club.
2. All others interested in skiing who have not yet joined the Ptarmigan Club.
3. All men who expect to come out for the varsity ski team.
4. All women who expect to come out for the women's team.

Miss Dorothy Dickie, who coaches the women's ski team, and K. C. Freyschlag, CC ski coach, are particularly hopeful that all interested racers attend the meeting for a discussion of the season's racing schedule.

Number one on the evening's agenda will be the possibility of a Thanksgiving ski trip, in view of the fact that the college has scheduled a four-day holiday.

"Ski Colorado", the breath-taking and fabulous color sound movies of the entire Aspen 1950 FIS championships and the Steamboat Springs jumping championships will be shown by the Ptarmigan Club.

The intramural football season swings into its final phase next week, with the Thursday game between the Fijis and Kappa Sigs expected to decide the winner of the championship trophy. Both teams had to fight hard last week, however, to remain undefeated. The Phi Cams came from behind to down the powerful Betas 13-12, while the Kappa Sigs also overcame a deficit to defeat the upset minded Phi Delts, 12-6, and the Sigs defeated the Independents 22-18.

The Betas scored early on passes from Hender to Kroehuke, but the Fijis, sparked by Crouse, Dunton, and Maccini came back strong to take the decision.

The Kappa Sigs also put on a hair-raising finish to edge out the scrappy Phi Delt seven who led throughout most contest.

The surprising Sig team, led by the passing of Koopson, downed the Independent Men in one of the most eventful games of the season. The Sigs collected their winning margin on two safties.

Next Week's Schedule

TUESDAY—
Kappa Sigs vs. Sigs.
WEDNESDAY—

THURSDAY—

Tigers Take Big Step Toward Crown With Help From I. S. C.

By RAY SCHERER

I mentioned in my article last week that Colorado College would have to win the remaining three conference games and have "dame fortune" on our side also. Last week was a step in the right direction. The Tigers knocked off a weak Western State eleven, and Idaho State upset the highly touted Colorado State aggregation, 13-6. At this time our chances of winning the conference title are as good as any other team in the league. Here's the way it stands. Mines right now is leading the conference with wins over Idaho State and Western State. It's a three way tie for second place, between Idaho State, Colorado State and CC. Each team has lost one game; Idaho State lost to Mines, Colorado State to Idaho State and Colorado College to Idaho State. For CC to win the title, this is what would have to happen. We will have to beat Colorado State at Greeley in their Homecoming game a week from Saturday, and pull a win from Mines in our Homecoming contest November 17. That would assure us of a tie. For solo ownership for the third straight year, these two things would have to come about: Colorado State will have to beat Mines next Saturday, and Western State will have to bump Idaho State in what certainly would be an upset. Well, that's the way it stacks up. Let's keep our fingers crossed and get out and back our Tigers, I've shown here how we can at least get in on a tie for the Rocky Mountain Conference title; let's do all we can as backers to help the men on the field accomplish this feat.

Committee on Undergraduate Life Discusses Problems of CC Campus

By LIZ PARKER

With Dean George W. Adams as chairman, the Committee on Undergraduate Life meets every Wednesday in the office of President William H. Gill to discuss problems of joint interest to faculty, students, and administration. At the present most of the time is spent talking about campus matters such as finances, the band, and chapel. The committee must also act as a court of justice to view the results of some Student Council trials.

At various times during the school year smaller committees are set up, upon the recommendation and requests of the Committee on Undergraduate Life or other campus organizations, to review special problems and offer suggestions.

Minutes of the previous Student Council meeting are read at each meeting in order to discuss questions that arise in that organization and to clarify statements which are made in council. Likewise the minutes of the Committee on Undergraduate Life are read during the Student Council meeting.

Members of the Committee on Undergraduate Life in addition to President Gill and Dean Adams are: Dean H. E. Mathias, Dean Sallie Payne Morgan, Dean Juan Reid, Dean Howard R. Burkle, Miss Evaline McNary and Dr. Thomas H. Rawles, all of the administration.

Faculty personel of the committee are selected by the faculty Committee on Committees and include Dr. Lloyd E. Worner, Dr. Lester A. Michel, Dr. Glenn Gray, and Mr. J. Mertz who is secretary of the committee.

The president of ASCC, Jack Fitzgerald, and AWS president, Barbara Prechtel, are the student representatives who bring student opinions to the meetings.

Dean Adams feels that the committee achieves its purpose of reducing differences and in speaking of student representation said: "While the student presidents have been gentlemanly and cooperative they have always stood up for their constituents and make better understood the actions of the student body.

Robert Mitchum To Appear on KRCC Tonight

The Abe Daba Hour with D'arey Martin will be heard as usual this evening from 6:15-7:00 over KRCC. The program will continue at 7:00 from Perkins featuring the band from Hagerman Hall under the direction of Dingle MacDougal.

With the master of ceremonies and musical director will be Robert Mitchum who is here in Colorado Springs for the filming of "The Korean Story." A studio audience at Perkins is invited at 7 p. m.

If you can't be there for the good music and fun, be sure to tune in over your Colorado College station, KRCC FM.

What's in the Variety Show? Here Is Just a Small Sample

Hi, everybody! I just got home from the Variety Show rehearsal. Boy, it's really terrific this year. The show opened with the Thetas singing a brand new song written just for this show. The promising composer is Jerry Bayless. Then Don Ingle, Paul Treisch, and Pat Murtagh performed for us. Honestly, you all should see them! I laughed until I thought I'd die.

The Kappas and the Phi Delts did a song and dance routine. Their melody was the "Syncopated Clock"—and such dancers they have—Wow! Four freshman girls did "Ladies of the Mop"—they were Penny Demmin, Jan Held, Jenny Singleton, and Sally Condon. It sure was a cute dance!

From dancing, we turned to the beautiful music of Marcia Manning's harp. I always thought that harps were just for angels, and the way Marcia plays that harp—she sure is an angel. Jerry Ratliff did an exciting gypsy routine for us. That little gal can really dance!

On with the prancing—only this time the Modern Dance group put on a little spectacle for us. Such rhythm!

The local chapter of Beta Theta Pi did a little parody of life in the hospital. Those Betas are really fun! I want you all to see their skit.

Claire Chamberlin and Jerry Bayless do a song and dance act. They dance while singing, "Oh By Jingo," "Those Old Phonograph Records," and "Carolina in the Morning." Those two have talent they haven't even used yet.

"Chief" Tyree and Pete Roberts played a duet on their saws. It was priceless!

The Independent Men, John Munger and his partner, did an operatic satire. It really was good.

The Sigma Chi Quartet did their own inimitable versions of many of our old favorites. They're a must on everyone's list.

Bunny Hart does her version of pantomine to records. If I hadn't known beforehand that she had a record in the background, I would

'WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES' NAMES FIFTEEN OUTSTANDING SENIORS

Fifteen outstanding seniors at Colorado College have been named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," it was announced today by the CC publicity office. Nomination to the official publication is on the basis of outstanding participation in one or more prominent campus organizations. Student council and the office of the dean make the initial compilation, while the final choice, based on the school's enrollment and the individual records of the students, is that of the "Who's Who" publication.

Named for their citizenship, service to the college and academic averages are: Misses Mary Beckley, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; president of the Tiger Club; Martha Henley, Dallas, Tex., active member of student council and the Honor Council; Ruth Hunt, Carrollton, Ill., president of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority; Barbara Prechtel, Denver, Colo., president of the Associated Women Students; Helen Root, Glencoe, Ill., president of the Quadrangle Association; Sue Schlessman, Denver, president of Gamma Phi Beta and Nancy Wolfer, Ft. Collins, Colo., social chairman of ASCC.

CARE Director to Lecture at CC on Tuesday, November 6

Roy McCorkel, who has just returned from two years as Southern European Director of C. A. R. E. will speak in the Shove Chapel Lecture Room at Colorado College on Tuesday, November 6, at 8:00 p.m., on the subject "Hope for Europe."

McCorkel's headquarters for the past two years has been in Geneva, Switzerland, and he has traveled extensively throughout Southern Europe, including Germany, visiting Student Work Camps, Spain, France, Italy and Palestine. He also spent a summer in Finland and attended the World Christian Youth Conference in Amsterdam in 1939 and the World Council of Churches in Oxford in 1937. In 1936 he visited England and spent some time in Russia and also spent a year in India as a teacher.

Roy McCorkel will deal with the struggles of the "little people" of Europe as they are caught between the two great powers of the East and West. He is an interesting and dynamic speaker and will bring a fresh interpretation of the condition of Europe. He is coming to Colorado Springs as a presentation of the Council on World Affairs of Colorado College. McCorkel is associated with the American Friends Service Committee.

Pres. and Mrs. Gill To Honor Freshmen With Class Tea

On November first, President and Mrs. Gill will honor the Freshman class with a tea in Bemis Hall from 4:30 to 6:30. The event will be the first in the series of annual class teas.

Pouring for the tea will be Mrs. Barnes, Miss Van Diest, Mrs. Fischer, Mrs. Curran, Mrs. Worner, Mrs. Sampson, Mrs.

Receiving with President and Mrs. Gill will be the new freshman officers and the ministers of local churches with which the freshmen are affiliated. Also among the guests will be the social chairmen of all the sororities and fraternities and Independent groups, pledge trainers and junior class commissioners.

Letters to the Editor

ED NOTE—Here are two letters we received this week. We are very proud and happy to print both because we hope it will stir a number of people around this college to do something about it. These letters are from both sides of the fence and if neither of them does not make any sense to you it's tough. We feel that both are very sensible and should be taken into consideration. If nothing else, we hope they at least make you stop and think.

FROM A SPECTATOR

When I go to a football game I am ashamed. I'm not ashamed of the team because they do their best whether they win or lose. What I'm ashamed of is the poor response we have to one of the finest institutions here at CC. We have over four hundred girls here at school, and if you don't believe me just look up in the windows of Bemis and McCregor during a football game and count them. If a poll were to be taken as to why they weren't at the game some of the reasons would be very interesting. "I had to study"; "It was too cold"; "I didn't have a date," would probably be the foremost excuses. The reasons are so silly that I won't take time to mention them all. Let's face facts girls! Studying can be done during the week, most of the men students are at the games, and blankets were invented to provide heat. You selected your own cheerleaders and then you let them down as you did the men on the field by failing to attend the games. You let the team down more than the cheerleaders. Ask any one of the player how he feels when the only thing he hears after a CC touchdown is a skyrocket.

I don't mean to offend all the girls but I do wish to embarrass the ones who don't have enough spirit to back their college and to cheer on some of the hardest working and finest men on campus.

—Just a Student.

FROM A FOOTBALL PLAYER

Two weeks ago there appeared an editorial in the TIGER denouncing the intentions and in general, the guts of our football team. I would like to answer these accusations as a representative of the squad.

First, the sport requires a lot of hard work and time (approximately 16 hours per week) and if we are not playing to win—may I ask you, Mr. Arie, why are we playing at all? Certainly not for one meal a day because board jobs are not that elusive.

As for letting the coach down, I must say your accusation is one of an idiotic nature. You have no basis for your statement, much less, the authority to condemn. You infer that we have not been giving it all we've got. My friendly reporter, just don a uniform some weekday afternoon and judge for yourself—not before.

Let us now put the whip in the other hand and ask the student body a question or two. If there is such a deep concern (which I doubt) on the exploits of our team, then where is all this wonderful school spirit that you seem to think you have? Have you ever stopped to realize why there is no school spirit? I think not, but if you did you would probably find that that the student body, as individuals or as a whole (to coin a phrase) isn't giving it all they've got. In fact, it is practically nothing.

The Camp Carson-CC game on Saturday, Oct. 27, 1951, 2:00 p. m. (or did you really know about it?) was positively the most pitiful example of student participation I have ever seen.

The game was played as an opportunity and incentive for contributions to the Community Chest, but it seems we catered to the wrong cliental. It wasn't necessary that you come and contribute, but one or the other, preferably both, would have been nice.

In order to have a good college with all the trimmings we must stick together and thus far we have nothing.

You take it from there dear students!

—Gene Swank.

PHOTO SNATCHERS

Homecoming festivities are just around the corner and with this gala occasion comes the job of selecting a campus queen to reign over the activities. Considerable publicity will be used by the organizations at CC to acquaint the student body with their candidates. This publicity should be respected by the men and women on campus but in recent weeks a decided disrespect for posters has been demonstrated.

Especially noteworthy is the disappearance of photographs from campaign posters of the women students who ran for Miss CC and class commissioners. Student's pictures are an expense to either the candidate or the organiaztion sponsoring the candidate. The photographs are used as a means of acquainting the student public with the individual in question and the loss of a picture from a poster destroys the object of the publicity.

Students should realize that pictures on campaign posters are not their property and that by taking them they are defacing the property of others and are showing their disrespect for both the candidate and the organization who posted the publicity.

As the time for another contest nears, let's try to show our respect by keeping posters in tack until after the election. This will encourage the organizations to enlarge their publicity and it will result in a more effective campaign.

OUR FOSTER CHILD

By Bob Humphreys

Each year CC students donate $180 to the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children. This money, an average of 20 cents from each of us, has been applied, for the past two years, to the purchase of monthly packages for a 10 year old Belgian boy. Jean Pierre Portzenheim is his name. His father, a Belgian soldier, was killed during the last war and he now lives with his mother and older brother.

Jean Pierre is blond, slim—a handsome kid with hollows under his eyes—and he has trouble with his nerves but is improving. He is a Cub Scout and loves the hikes and camping trips. He looks forward to vacations which he spends at the shore, but he is always happy to get back to school and his friends. He worries about exams. He might well have been one of our little brothers—but he hasn't had the chance.

Since June of 1950, Jean Pierre has been sending letters to "My dear friends at Colorado College," hoping for replies never received, thanking us for our gifts which help keep him warm during the Winters, and sharing with us his joys and experiences. Until now, however, he has received no real friendship from us: His letters have been filed away with other A. S. C. C. papers. He is our foster child, and we haven't even noticed him.

The other day, his letters were dug up and were translated from the French by Joan Shepperd. Jean Pierre's latest letter will be published in next week's issue of the TIGER.

Campus CLOSE-UPS

By Helena Spear

The only Phi Beta Kappa in the history of CC to play varsity hockey is Dr. Thomas W. Ross of the English Department. Dr. Ross played during the 1942-43 season in the position of right-wing. He claims to be one of the slowest and most scared on the team; however, we all know he is just being modest. After attending C.C. from 1940 to 1943, Dr. Ross went into the army and served as interpreter for the Italian prisoners until he was discharged in 1946. He returned to CC for his A.B. degree, and then received his A.M. degree in the summer of 1947.

Dr. Ross taught at the University of Michigan from 1947 to 1951, while he was working on his PhD degree which he received last June. One of Dr. Ross' major interests in the field of literature is the literature of the Middle Ages. This is a very interesting field in which few people bother to read or will even try to read.

As a side line to all this serious business of English and Literature, Dr. Ross plays in a dance band. He plays the sax, and from what I hear, a really hot clarinet. If you are wondering who played that dreamy version of "Stardust" at the Tiger-Nugget Dance, it was Dr. Ross in person. He has been interested in music for some time and also plays with the symphony.

ORGANIZATIONS THAT BENEFIT FROM YOUR CAMPUS CHEST CONTRIBUTIONS

As a student of Colorado College, you have been asked to contribute to the Campus Chest drive. The purpose of the drive is to solicit funds for needy organizations selected by the student body. This drive eliminates the necessity of sponsoring separate campaigns for each worthwhile cause. Last year a poll was taken of organizations which you, the student body, wished to support. A certain percentage of the total funds collected will be donated to each organiaztion selected. In order that you may know how your money is being utilized, the following is a list of the newly selected organizations and their functions.

1. American Cancer Society 16.68%

The purpose of this society is to serve in control of cancer by a program of service, education, and research. The society is now sponsoring a drive for funds for a program of cancer research on a national scale.

2. Foundation for Infantile Paralysis 11.23%

To aid polio patients who cannot meet the full cost of care; to aid in preparation for outbreaks in polio; to furnish emergency aid in epidemics; research on polio; and information for public and private use.

3. American Heart Association 9.52%

To gather facts and distribute information about the prevention and care of heart disease; to develop preventive measures; to coordinate the work of cardiac centers and develop new centers; and to arouse the public to its responsibility in combating heart disease—our number one "killer" today.

4. El Paso County Tuberculosis Association 8.74%

To provide health education, case finding, clinical treatment and rehabilitation. The main objective is the prevention and control of tuberculosis. This organization provides X-rays for CC students.

5. American Association on Indian Affairs 7.51%

To promote the welfare of American Indians in the United States by enlightening the people, protecting the Indians' constitutional rights, and aiding in the improvement of health and educational conditions. This organization also preserves the arts and crafts of the American Indian.

6. Colorado Springs Community Chest 7.3%

The roster of the Colorado Springs Community Chest is composed of 16 agencies. These include Boy Scouts, YWCA, YMCA, Boy's Club and others. Our donation of 7.3% of the total must be divided among these 16 agencies.

7. National Probation and Parole Association 2:97%

To improve standards and services in probation and parole; juvenile courts and detention homes; to study prevention of delinquency; to conduct surveys and conferences.

8. National Foundation for Cerebral Palsey 4.99%

To promote and advance the knowledge of cerebral palsey and its treatment thru research and training grants and consultation service.

9. CARE 6.26%

(Cooperation for American Remittances to Europe) purchases and distributes up to date books to the students of war ravished lands.

10. American Friends Service Committee 1.7%

The "Quakers" relief and social service program; non-sectarian and without discrimination as to race or nationality. World wide relief and rehabilitation, youth project (work camps); work with race relations, labor relations and international relations.

11. Salvation Army 0.23%

A religious and social service agency, administering to spiritual and physical need on humanity; low price stores, emergency relief, youth clubs, girls dorms, employment services.

12. Committee on Scholarships for Negro Students

To increase opportunities for Negroes to have higher education. It helps the Negro to choose and gain admission to the college of his choice and helps him to stay in school.

13. Foster Care Plan

The sponsorship of a European war orphan, $180. There is more about this on page 2 of this issue of the TIGER.

14. World Student Service Fund

Cooperative aid to students in need in war torn countries—educational, health and other special services.

DON'T FORGET

Today is the last day for Nugget portraits! 1 to 5 p.m. Lennox second floor. $1.75—coats and ties for men.

70 People Attend German Club Meeting

It was highly fitting that last Thursday, October 25th, during United Nations Week, the German Club held its first meeting at which seventy people from many European countries were present.

The Club presented a well organized program as usual; this time the speakers were Horst Hergel and Eric Drexler, the two students from Germany, as well as Larry Wells who spent last year in Europe. The three students made no speeches but simply related the funny incidents which happen to a foreigner arriving in the United States and—in the case of Larry Wells—what happens to an American in Paris, Naples, Bern or Vienna, especially if he doesn't know a word of Italian or French.

Five Compete For Homecoming Queen Honor

Five CC beauties are vying for the coveted title of Homecoming Queen for the 1951 celebration. The girls have been nominated by the Independent Women's Association and the college's four national sororities.

Candidates are as follows:

Pat Gray, Chicago, Illinois, Delta Gamma; Clare Chamberlain, San Antonio, Texas, Gamma Phi; Bunny Hart, Chicago, Illinois, Independent; Peggy Gould, Birmingham, Michigan, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Louise Bohanon, Minneapolis, Minnesota, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The entire student body will vote on these candidates following the chapel services on November 13. All candidates will participate in the parade, and pep-rally, and the Queen will be announced and crowned by the captain of the football team just before game time Saturday. At half-time the Queen will announce and present the trophies for the winning floats and house decorations.

Daisy Mae After Li'l Abner For Sadie Hawkins Dance

By JANE ADDENBROOKE

Come on, all yo' gals! It's time to start chasin' yo Li'l Abner so yo' can hogtie him for the Sadie Hawkins dance this comin' Saturday night. There will be music, supplied by Sam Hamson and his Merry Musicmakers. There will be cider and donuts at the dance. And best of all, there will be Marryin' Sam, or as we all know him, Don Ingle. Don't forget, gals, find a featherweight cuz you pay a penny a pound for admission to the dance.

The time will be from 9 'til 12, and the place is in Cossitt Gym. The decorations, taken care of by Gay Gould, will be nothing short of fabulous. The financial box will be carefully guarded by Marion Johnson. In general charge of the whole shindig is Gloria Townsend.

So get with it, Daisy Maes. Put a rope around that handsome man you've been eyen' for weeks and drag him to the Dogpatch social.

Junior Panhellenic Picnic For Sorority Pledge Classes

A picnic for all the sorority pledge classes has been planned by junior Panhellenic for this Sunday in the Garden of the Gods. The day will begin with a baseball game at 3:30 followed by a picnic supper which will end at 6 o'cock. The party for all pledges, usually given by the college Panhellenic, has been planned this year by junior Panhellenic, a new organization designed for the purpose of correlating all the pledge classes as Panhellenic does the active chapters.

Members of junior Panhellenic are: Judy Dibble, Kappa president; Carolyn Pfeil, Gamma Phi Beta vice-president; Peggy Gould, Theta secretary and Marjory Else, Delta Gamma, treasurer. Other representatives are: Kappa, Sally Ann Condon; Gamma Phi, Joan Shepperd; Theta, Mary Ann Harman and DG, Joan Martin. Lynn Jones, vice-president of Panhellenic, is advisor to junior Panhel.

Other duties of the association besides planning the party for all pledges include drafting its own constitution, discussing rushing and meeting occasionally with senior Panhel.

Girls Hockey Team Breaks Even at Boulder Play Day

By Jan Cook

Play Day at CU last Saturday saw the defeat of Wyoming girls' hockey team by our own CC gals, with a final score of 2 to 0 after a fast and furious game. Although beaten that morning by a smooth-working C. U. "Silver" team, CC came back with a bang in the afternoon, showing plenty of that "get up and after 'em spirit." In the morning game, left-back Grace Jack proved to be the outstanding player for the Tigers, when time after time she broke up a dangerous move towards the Tiger's goal. It was only in the second half that the more practiced C. U. team was able to put two past goalie Joan McDonald.

The forward line was suffled for the afternoon game against Wyoming. 'Hank' Harris led the attack from left-in, and the CC team managed to send up left-winger Judy Seitz for the first score. Ten minutes later, Ann Warner at center put another past the Wyoming goalie.

Later two all-star teams were selected from the participating teams, and CC's 'Hank' Harris and Grace Jack placed on the 2nd team, which tied the 1st team 1 to 1 in an exciting exhibition game.

The hard-playing CC team was well rewarded with mighty cheers led by Miss Dickie and Frank Kin-Maung from the sidelines. A swell time was had by all, including a wonderful lunch served the players by CU's W. A. A. at Memorial Hall.

Line UP:

Goalie: Joan McDonald; L. B., Grace Jack; R. B., Pat Freeland; L. H. B., Betsy Coxe and Marcia Manning; C. H. B., Sandy Shephard; R. H. B., Judy Baker; R. W., Carol Rivenes and Sheila Hall; R. I., Diane Ashforth; C. F., Ann Warner; L. I., 'Hank' Harris and L. W., Judy Seitz.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 23
THE AARDVARK

This classy campus caper-cutter got his snootful of cute cigarette tests. It didn't take him long to dig out the fact that cigarette mildness can't be determined by a mere single puff or quick-sniff experiment! Millions of smokers, on and off the campus, have discovered there's only one true test of cigarette mildness.

CRUCIAL CONFERENCE GAME WITH GREELEY

Soccer Team Trounces Denver Turners 3-0

The Tiger soccer team bared their claws and soundly trounced the Denver Turners 3-0 last Sunday on Stewart Field. It was the first game for the new coach, Dr. Fox, and his influence was very evident, as the forward line showed a fine passing attack, and real coordination, and the defense was almost impregnable, as the Turners were only able to take three shots at the CC goal during the hour and ten minute game.

The real heroes of the game were Frank Kin Maung and Mel Smith, who worked together with fine precision to set up the three CC goals. The first goal came midway during the first half, as Mel Smith centered the ball directly in front of the goal, and Saad Sahawneh had the simple task of beating the Turner goalie. Nursing a 1-0 margin at intermission, the Tigers appeared determined to score more, and after a few moments of second half had elapsed Horst Hergel headed the ball through the goal on a fine pass from Kin Maung. The final score was made by Sahawneh by another fine pass from Smith.

The halfbacks; Frank Daly, Eric Drexler, Mid Gammell and Mike Burk did a fine job of aiding the offense by keeping the ball in Turner territory throughout much of the game.

This Sunday the Tigers travel to Denver to play the Macabi Soccer Club at 31st and Curtis. If the Tigers come through with another victory they have a fine chance to move into 3rd place in the league, behind Mines and Colorado University.

"C" CLUB

The "C-Club" is sponsoring an all-school ping-pong tournament. All entries should be in Cheddy Thompson's office by November 15. An entry fee of ten cents will be charged for each entry, and this is to help pay for the trophy to be presented to the winner. The finals will be played during the intermission of the intramural boxing and wrestling finals. Games may be played anyplace the participating contestants may wish to play them.

VARSITY SWIM TEAM MEETS MON. AT COSSITT

There will be a very important meeting of all prospective swimmers and divers, who are interested in forming a Colorado College swimming team, November 4th at 4:30 p.m. in the "C-Club" room in Cossitt Hall. The Camp Carson pool will be available for swimming practice from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. and tenative meets have been scheduled with Mines, Colorado State, Denver University, Colorado University and Camp Carson, with a Rocky Mountain Conference meet at the end of the season. Freshmen are urged to attend, since the Rocky Mountain conference has ruled that Freshmen are eligible for all major and minor sports. The Colorado College Athletic Board will be willing to support the swimming program if enough interest is shown.

COLORADO STATE WILL BE TOUGH TO BEAT SAYS COACH BILL HEISS

"Colorado State will be a much tougher team for us to face than Colorado Mines." Those were the words of Coach Bill Heiss to his Colorado College gridders at Tuesday afternoon's practice after he had scanned his scouts' report of the two teams. According to Heiss' analysis the Greeley game looks like the toughest of the three left on the schedule for several reasons. Not only will the game be State's Homecoming, but John Hancock's crew is rated to have a faster offense than that displayed by Mines. CC's defense is comparatively weaker than the Minea defense which allowed Greeley to score two touchdowns. CG will have the advantage of catching Mines in the last game of the season at the Colorado Springs Homecoming. So far at home the Tigers have won three games and lost only one—that to Colorado Aggies.

CC's club will be approaching full strength for the first time in the past three weeks this Saturday at Greeley. Slated to go full tilt for the Bengals will be end Bill Perkins, all conference in 1950, but out this year since October 13, when he was carried from the Idaho State game.

Colorado College students will be admitted at the north gate of the Greeley stadium upon presentation of their activity book.

Wes Boucher, probably the greatest all-around back in the conference, because of his tremendous ability, is expected to go after recovering from attack of the flu. Ben Snyder, GC's injured center, is tentatively out for the season with a cracked sternum, but may be ready for some action in the Homecoming tilt here November 17.

Heiss ran his charges through a rugged scrimmage session on Tuesday and planned more of the same for Wednesday and Thursday nights. "The thought that we could win the rest of our ball games and tie for the title is encouraging," Heiss said Tuesday, "but we're not building false hopes. After all we've been playing with only three men who were regulars on last year's title team—Boucher, end Brig Young and tackle Chubby Gill. We certainly see no room for much disappointment the way things have gone."

When Colorado College first started, most of the students were from Goolrado Springs; but six other cities were represented, along with four states other than Colorado, and one foreign country. The four states were Illinois, Kanaas, Kentucky, and Iowa; and the foreign country was Canada.

By ED BAKER

Egad, how time flies! It seems only yesterday that the intramural football season got underway. Tonight, at 4:05, however, the Kappa Sigs and Phi Gams will not only ring down the curtain, but will also provide the grand climax for an exciting season. The Phi Gams defeated the Sigs in their Tuesday game. Tonight's contest will be the winner-take-all championship game.

In last week's duels, the Kappa Sig team fought its way into the championship game by whipping the Sigs 26-15, and the Betas casually wolloped the winless Independents 52-0. The Independents also forfeited a game to the Phi Delts.

Jack Osborne passed to Timroth and Long for a brace of Kappa Sig tallies, and Long scored again on a throw from Bildstein. Koopson and Voshal teamed up to get the Sigs two T. D.'s on pass plays.

The Betas ran wild at their picnic with the Independents as Howell tallied three times on runs. Simon hit Hender with one touchdown pass and threw to Skilling who raced 40 yards to add another six points to the rout. Kroehuke also participated in the scoring on two passes from Hender.

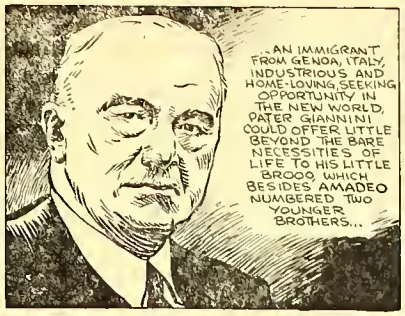
OF THE VAST ARMY OF AMERICANS WHO STARTED FROM SCRATCH TO GAIN FAME AND FORTUNE THROUGH THEIR OWN EFFORTS NONE STANDS FORTH MORE BOLDLY THAN AMADEO PETER GIANNINI... BORN IN A HUMBLE ROOM IN THE OLD SWISS HOTEL IN SAN JOSE, MAY 6, 1870, HE LIVED TO BECOME THE HEAD OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST PRIVATE ENTERPRISE BANKING CHAIN...



...AN IMMIGRANT FROM GENOA, ITALY, INDUSTRIOUS AND HOME-LOVING, SEEKING OPPORTUNITY IN THE NEW WORLD, PATER GIANNINI COULD OFFER LITTLE BEYOND THE BARE NECESSITIES OF LIFE TO HIS LITTLE BROOD, WHICH BESIDES AMADEO NUMBERED TWO YOUNGER BROTHERS...

...THE FAMILY MOVED TO A SMALL TRUCK FARM NEAR SAN JOSE, CALIF., AND THINGS BEGAN TO BRIGHTEN. THEN TRAGEDY STRUCK... THE FATHER DIED SUDDENLY... AMADEO, HUSKY AND ALERT FOR HIS SEVEN YEARS, PITCHED IN TO HELP HIS MOTHER WITH THE WORK ON THE FARM...

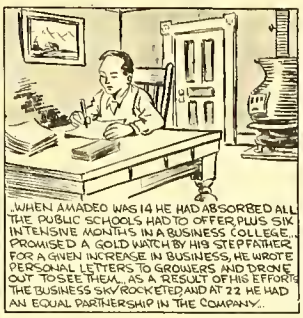
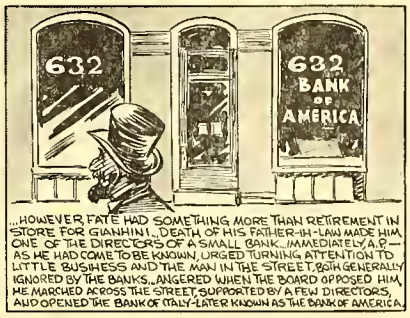
...THE BUSTLE AND EXCITEMENT OF THE MARKET DISTRICT FASCINATED YOUNG GIANNINI... HE WOULD SLIP OUT OF THE HOUSE BEFORE DAYLIGHT TO HELP HIS STEPFATHER AT THE MARKET... THEN HE WAS OFF TO SCHOOL, PUTTING IN A FULL DAY AT HIS STUDIES IN ALL OF WHICH HE EXCELLED. EARLY TO BED WAS THE RULE, SO HE COULD GET BACK NEXT DAY TO THE COMMERCE HE LIKED MORE THAN SCHOOLBOY GAMES...



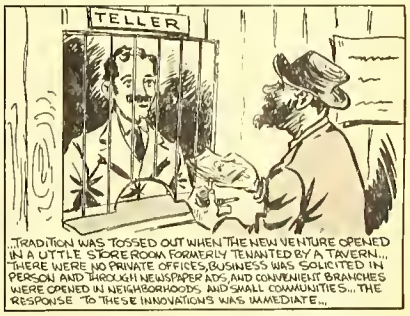
...WHEN AMADEO WAS 14 HE HAD ABSORBED ALL THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS HAD TO OFFER, PLUS SIX INTENSIVE MONTHS IN A BUSINESS COLLEGE. PROMISED A GOLD WATCH BY HIS STEPFATHER FOR A GIVEN INCREASE IN BUSINESS, HE WROTE PERSONAL LETTERS TO GROWERS AND DROVE OUT TO SEE THEM... AS A RESULT OF HIS EFFORTS THE BUSINESS SKYROCKETED AND AT 22 HE HAD AN EQUAL PARTNERSHIP IN THE COMPANY...

IN 1901 AT THE AGE OF 31, GIANNINI STARTLED HIS FAMILY AND FRIENDS BY ANNOUNCING HIS INTENDED RETIREMENT. HIS COMPANY WAS THE LARGEST OF ITS KIND IN THE WEST. HIS SAVINGS AND WISE INVESTMENTS ASSURED HIM AN INCOME OF $250 A MONTH... WHAT MORE COULD ONE DESIRE?...

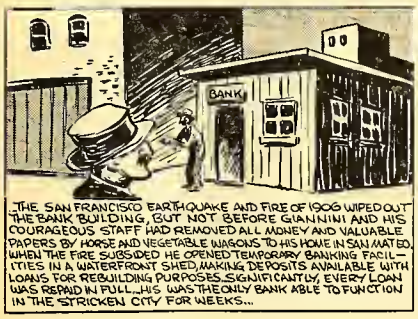
...IN THE MEANTIME GIANNINI HAD MARRIED CLORINDA AGNES CUNEO, SAN FRANCISCO BELLE, AND DAUGHTER OF A PROMINENT FAMILY. THEIRS WAS ONE OF THE HAPPIEST MARRIAGES ON RECORD AMONG NOTABLES, AND CONTINUED UNTIL MRS. GIANNINI'S DEATH IN 1941...



...HOWEVER, FATE HAD SOMETHING MORE THAN RETIREMENT IN STORE FOR GIANNINI... DEATH OF HIS FATHER-IN-LAW MADE HIM ONE OF THE DIRECTORS OF A SMALL BANK... IMMEDIATELY, A.P.— AS HE HAD COME TO BE KNOWN, URGED TURNING ATTENTION TO LITTLE BUSINESS AND THE MAN IN THE STREET, BOTH GENERALLY IGNORED BY THE BANKS... ANGERED WHEN THE BOARD OPPOSED HIM, HE MARCHED ACROSS THE STREET, SUPPORTED BY A FEW DIRECTORS, AND OPENED THE BANK OF ITALY—LATER KNOWN AS THE BANK OF AMERICA.

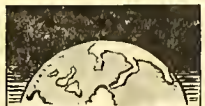


TRADITION WAS TOSSED OUT WHEN THE NEW VENTURE OPENED IN A UTTLE STORE ROOM FORMERLY TENANTED BY A TAVERN... THERE WERE NO PRIVATE OFFICES, BUSINESS WAS SOLICITED IN PERSON AND THROUGH NEWSPAPER ADS, AND CONVENIENT BRANCHES WERE OPENED IN NEIGHBORHOODS AND SMALL COMMUNITIES... THE RESPONSE TO THESE INNOVATIONS WAS IMMEDIATE...



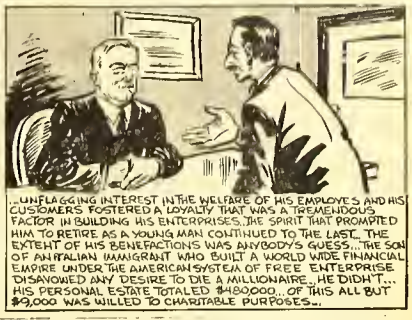
...THE SAN FRANCISCO EARTHQUAKE AND FIRE OF 1906 WIPED OUT THE BANK BUILDING, BUT NOT BEFORE GIANNINI AND HIS COURAGEOUS STAFF HAD REMOVED ALL MONEY AND VALUABLE PAPERS BY HORSE AND VEGETABLE WAGONS TO HIS HOME IN SAN MATEO. WHEN THE FIRE SUBSIDED HE OPENED TEMPORARY BANKING FACILITIES IN A WATERFRONT SHED, MAKING DEPOSITS AVAILABLE WITH LOANS FOR REBUILDING PURPOSES. SIGNIFICANTLY, EVERY LOAN WAS REPAID IN FULL... HIS WAS THE ONLY BANK ABLE TO FUNCTION IN THE STRICKEN CITY FOR WEEKS...

THE FOLLOWING YEAR, SENSING AN APPROACHING PANIC, GIANNINI ACQUIRED ALL THE GOLD ON WHICH HE COULD LAY HIS HANDS. WHEN THE CRASH CAME ALL HIS BANKS WERE LIQUID, AND THERE WAS NO NECESSITY TO RESORT TO THE CLEARING-HOUSE CERTIFICATES WHICH MANY OTHERS WERE FORCED TO USE. BEFORE HE ADVANCED GOLD TO OTHER BANKS TO HASTEN THE FINANCIAL RECOVERY OF SAN FRANCISCO...



...THUS, FROM A BEGINNING IN A SAN FRANCISCO STORE ROOM, THE BANK OF AMERICA HAS GROWN TO SIX BILLION DOLLARS IN RESOURCES WITH 15,000 EMPLOYES, OVER 500 BRANCHES IN CALIFORNIA, AND OFFICES IN LONDON, MANILA, TOKYO, SHANGHAI, AND BANGKOK. THE WORLD'S LARGEST PRIVATE ENTERPRISE BANK... "IF OUR INSTITUTIONS HAVE BECOME GREAT," GIANNINI ONCE OBSERVED, "IT IS BY THE CONSENT OF THE PEOPLE WE SERVE— THIS WE ALWAYS INTEND TO DO..."

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY R.J. BELLER



...UNFLAGGING INTEREST IN THE WELFARE OF HIS EMPLOYES AND HIS CUSTOMERS FOSTERED A LOYALTY THAT WAS A TREMENDOUS FACTOR IN BUILDING HIS ENTERPRISES. THE SPIRIT THAT PROMPTED HIM TO RETIRE AS A YOUNG MAN CONTINUED TO THE LAST. THE EXTENT OF HIS BENEFACTIONS WAS ANYBODY'S GUESS... THE SON OF AN ITALIAN IMMIGRANT WHO BUILT A WORLD WIDE FINANCIAL EMPIRE UNDER THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF FREE ENTERPRISE DISAVOWED ANY DESIRE TO DIE A MILLIONAIRE... HE DIDN'T... HIS PERSONAL ESTATE TOTALED $180,000. OF THIS ALL BUT $3,000 WAS WILLED TO CHARITABLE PURPOSES...

The stories of the "three" Europeans was often augmented by comments from the audience, as for example from Warner Schade of Germany who arrived as a resident of Colorado Springs about two months ago, or from Klaus Krumme of the U. S. Army stationed at Camp Carson who arrived from Berlin two years ago, or from two German young ladies now living in Colorado Springs who came to the U. S. half a year ago. Helga Espe and Hilke Hilberg, German exchange students at C. S. High School, also attended the meeting and came back on Friday morning to visit some of CC's classes.

Other guests at the meeting were Mr. Edward Groth, former American consul-general in Hamburg; prominent social figures of the city like Mrs. Leavens, Mrs. Mills, Miss Kennedy, Mrs. Murphy and her children, Mrs. Uhrich and many others. There were also about ten New Americans from Latvia and many students from the other CC language departments. Many of them, as for example Vija Spalvins and Monica Morris, joined the German club as full-fledged members although they are not enrolled in German classes.

The very warm atmospbere of the meeting was further rewarded by professionally-looking and tasting cookies prepared by Mrs. Brandt and by the wife of one of the German students, Mrs. Sluss.

The next event of the German club will be sometime in November (before or after midterms)-a picnic in tbe mountains wbere the special feature will not only be the food but singing, accompanied by recorders, accordion and mandolin, around the campfire.

Johnny Desmond to be Featured At Homecoming Dance Nov. 17

By BARBARA GODAR

Winding up the Homecoming program for next weekend is of course the annual Homecoming dance. As part of it's biggest and best Homecoming, Colorado College is fortunate to have Johnny Desmond (now with radio's "Breakfast Club" and "Songs for Sale") as the featured vocalist for the dance. The main ballroom of the Broadmoor hotel is the place and 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. the time. Dress will be semi-formal and no corsages. Tickets are now on sale in the secretary's office in Cutler at $3.60 per couple or $2.40 per person. Alumni, faculty and all undergraduates are invited to the dance, so avoid the rush and get your tickets early.

As well as vocalist, Johnny Desmond will also be one of the judges for floats. This year the judging system has been revised. It is now based on a ten point system, which holds for both house decorations and floats. Each judge rates a float of decoration on ten possible points. The full list of judges will be given next week. Winners will be announced during the halftime of the CC-Mines game.

KRCC Presents Programs in Good Literature

The Colorado College radio station, KRCC, announces that beginning tonight, it will offer each Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 p. m. a series of radio programs featuring discussions of modern English and American plays. Professor Amanda M. Ellis and Dr. Thomas Ross are in charge of these programs in which they and their students will participate.

These programs are an outgrowth of the course in Twentieth Century Literature which Professor Ellis planned and introduced sixteen years ago. Beginning with eighteen students it soon proved to be a popular course. In recent years its enrollment has averaged between 110 and 150 students. The last four years, Howard Errieson has aided Miss Ellis in teaching one section of the course. This year, Dr. Thomas Ross replaces Mr. Errieson.

Local residents will remember Dr. Ross when he attended Colorado College. He later entered the University of Michigan where he obtained his PhD degree and taught English courses t

Amanda M. Ellis is well known locally and nationally for her work in the field of English, and more recently for her novel, "Elizabeth the Woman."

Tonight, Professor Ellis and her students will discuss Maxwell Anderson's "Anne of the Thousand Days." On Tuesday, Dr. Ross will discuss Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion."

This contest is not merely a publicity stunt to rid out campus representatives of the Chesterfield company in selling more cigarettes, but will also provide the Tiger with more pictures of interest to its readers. "LADIES IN RETIREMENT" TO SPEND FOUR DAYS NEXT WEEK IN PERKINS HALL

You lucky people . . . Do you realize that in less than one week you have a date with three of the most fascinating ladies on campus! These ladies left their Broadway residence some 11 years ago and have been touring the country ever since. Now, like so many other successful people, they have retired to Colorado Springs—bringing with them their treasured souvenirs: English driftwood and seashells, nautical telescopes and other theatrical flotsom and jetsom. Now they are unpacking it all again, this time—of all places — the theatre in Perkins Hall, right in the middle of Homecoming Week!

You think Hallowe'en was suspenceful? Just wait, you haven't been entertained by 'The Ladies' yet. And they won't mind when you howl at their little domestic twists and quirks . . . they're used to being laughed at from New York to California. That may be why they are still "Ladies in Retirement."

Any resemblance between these three characters (and their assorted friends and acquaintances) and Nancy Jones, Rosie Musgrave, Ruth Mitchell, Carol Fisher, Judy Clave and Paul Hartman, is (of course) a purely coincidental con-

Sunday Concert Features Soprano, La Salle Quartet

The next regular Sunday afternoon concert in the Perkins Hall series, on November 11, at 4:30 p.m., will feature the LaSalle Quartet and Josephine Vadala, well known soprano of Colorado Springs.

The La Salle Quartet will present Hindemith's Third String Quartet, Opus 22, an almost romantic work that has always won audiences completely. Miss Vadala, accompanied by David Kraehenbuehl, will sing five songs by Gustav Mahler, contained in his famous collection, "Des Knaben Wunderhorn" (The Boy's Wonder Horn).

Everybody is invited to attend free of charge.

Editor of 'Free Press' To Give Talk in Lennox

Edwin P. Hoyt, Jr., publisher of the Colorado Springs Free Press, will make an informal talk at Lennox House, 7:30 on the evening of Wednesday, November 14th, on the subject, "Journalism as a Career."

Mr. Hoyt has had a diverse career in journalism. During his student days at the University of Oregon he worked for the Portland Oregonian of which his father was publisher. After a period in the Army in China, he stayed on in that country as an employee of the Office of War Information. Upon his return he acquired newspaper experience as a reporter on the San Francisco Chronicle. This was followed by a period of several years as a foreign correspondent in Europe, and this in turn by a year and a half as chief of the editorial page of the Denver Post. Mr. Hoyt became the publisher of the Free Press in August, 1951.

A question and answer period will follow the informal talk. The Lecture Committee urges all interested students to attend, irrespective of their own career intentions.

This will be the first of a series of talks on careers which have been arranged by the College Lecture Committee and which will be held once each month for five months.

Lockhart, Ferguson, Liggett Head "Kinnikinnik" Staff

Editors have been appointed for the Kinnikinnik, campus literary publication for the 1952 issue. Leslie Lockhart and Nancy Ferguson will edit the magazine and Hiram Liggett will handle the business management. Articles are being accepted now and creative writing is needed. Essays, orginal poetry, short stories, articles about drama, music, art or radio may be submitted to the editors or left in the Kinnikinnik box in Cutler. Anyone interested in being on the magazine staff contact Leslie or Nancy for information on staff meetings which will be held twice a week. Everyone who indicated interest in joining the staff thru AWS will be contacted next week as their cooperation is needed for a successful issue.

The Kinnikinnik, like all other campus publications is going to be just as good as you make it so give the editors the chance to honor you by printing your creative writing in the campus literary magainze.

Bristol 8, England
October 15th

"At last I seem to be settled here in Bristol and so I believe it is about time that I give you a report of my adventures up to date as I promised I would.

"The summer was grand. Everything was completely new to me after leaving Chicago on my way East since I had never been east of there before. I had a week in New York City before boarding the Queen Mary for Southampton. After landing on July 20th I went to London where I joined forces with two friends, Bruce Carson (CC) and Frank Traylor (Princeton). After a week of sightseeing in London we went to Fokestone on our newly purchased motor bikes, crossed over to Calais, and we were on our way. The first leg of our journey took us through Dunkirk, Ostend, Brussels, Aachen and into Cologne. Throughout this area and on up the Rhine valley, as well as while in London, we realized just how lucky the U. S. was to escape bombing during the war. From Cologne we followed the Rhine south through Bonn, Coblenz, Mainz, Mannheim and into Heidelberg. I'm mentioning only the larger cities to give you an idea of the itinerary, but we certainly didn't concentrate entirely on the bigger places—we tried to get an idea of things in both the country and the cities. We carried our own sleeping bags along with us and slept outdoors about two out of every three nights. It was customary to have rain every night we stayed outside, while almost every night we spent in a hotel would bring clear weather. After Heidelberg we turned to the southeast, going through Stuttgart and Augsburg on our way to Innsbruck. From there we went into Switzerland, Lucerne and Interlaken, and then into Northern Itsly as far soutb as Milan, coming back through Switzerland by way of Zermatt and Laysanne on the way to Paris. The scenery in the Rhine valley and in the Alps of Austria, Switzerland and Italy is beautiful beyond description. It equals the Rockies, and in some places surpasses anything I bave ever seen in Colorado, as much as it hurts me to say it. Paris was everything that it is said to be, and after a week there we once again came to London. Frank left us there since he had to get back to Wasbington University in St. Louis where he is starting his medical training. Bruce and I went from London to Edinburgh, across to Liverpool and from there to Belfast, stopping at each place for awhile along the way. We parted in Belfast since he had only a few days to visit relatives in Northern Ireland before catching his ship for home and Dartmouth. I travelled south through Ireland to Dublin and Cork, crossed the Irish Channel once again and went back to London once again to be on hand when the rest of the Fulbrighters arrived. But by this time I was ready to stop for awhile and catch my breath.

"The United States Educational Commission in the U. K. wbich is in charge of making all arrangements for us have been very efficient. They arranged several days of festivities for us in London, including a reception at the bome of the American Ambassador, and then followed this with a special four day program in Yorkshire designed for those of us going to universities outside of the London area. Talks were given by people from a good many fields of English life ranging from Parliament members and newspaper editors to city clerks. Sightseeing trips were arranged, receptions by the lord mayors of several cities were held in our bonor, and we were shown through several woolen and textile factories in the area. Everyone was very kind to us and truly made us feel welcome.

"I am living in a place called "Burwalls" which is a residence hall housing forty men students. It has been converted to a dormitory from a private residence, has a large stone wall around it, and beautiful grounds. Tha fellows here have done everything to make me feel at ease and already I feel like one of their gang. They are exactly like the fellows at Colorado College except that they do not know how to speak clearly.

"Lectures are conducted on a somewbat more formal level than I'm accustomed to. The lecturers wear their robes and most students do so as well. All of my courses are in one way or another connected with the subject of economics, but most of it so far has been in the nature of a review. It is very difficult to fit into the curriculum since many of the courses are given over a two year period and I find myself taking both the first and second year of some courses as well as starting with the second year in others, but it will work out all right I believe. Since I will be ineligible to take a degree in the one year here mucb of the pressure of examinations is removed and I am more or less free to do as I like.

"Another opportunity to make myself feel at home and to meet people has been open to me by playing rugby. I managed to make the university "rugger" team, something tbat I wanted very much to do. Our football was good preparation for their game, but I have a lot yet to learn about the rules of their game. We have played two games so far and won them both. There is no coach for the team, and all direction and selection is done by the team captain and an elected committee. Also, there are no practices, only games. All very nice arrangements.

"It must be obvious to you that I have a whole new world of friends and experiences open to me, something for which I am certainly thankful. I know that I owe my gratitude to you and others at Colorado College for this opportunity. For all that you did, my sincere thanks.

"Please give my regards to President Gill and the members of the Committee of Undergraduate Life.

Sincerely,
DWIGHT S. BROTHERS"

OUR FOSTER CHILD

ED NOTE—Last week on this page we printed a short article on our newly found foster child. This will be the first in a series of letters to the students of CC from him. The letter is translated from French by Joan Sheppard.

Belgium

Dear Foster Parents,

I have just come back from my vacation, and I've hurried to write you and thank you for the package that you were kind enough to send me.

I had a very good time, and I hope to go back to school soon, if the doctor will let me.

The weather has not been very good or very warm, but the sea air was very good for my nerves. I am much calmer, and the doctor says my general condition is much better.

I hope, dear friends, that you enjoyed your vacations.

My big brother went to the seashore as an instructor for two months; he has just come back. The house was very quiet, and Mama was very happy to see us again, for she was very sad to be alone so much.

I shall leave you now, dear friends, and I wish you a happy return to your studies. I hope I can have the same thing.

I send you affectionate greetings.

Jean Pierre

Little Man On Campus by Bibler

"We did pretty well on this cuff with the "Physics" courst but I'm afraid yer stuck with the "American Revolution" on the other."

ONE OPINION

By Dan James

A fortnight ago the State of Colorado, upon the sanction of its governor, saw fit to murder one of its citizens. The word "murder" is not too strong: that is exactly what the State committed.

A second man, scheduled to die last Friday, was granted a temporary reprieve until the first week in December.

John T. Berger entered the lethal gas chamber at Canon City on October 26th. Otoniel Martinez now faces the prospect of death in those same hydro-cyanic clouds. Both men had been adjudged guilty of crimes of passion.

Berger, whose sanity had been seriously questioned, was slain in accord with a Stone Age law which provides for society's retribution in capital cases. The law, but a man-made mechanism for social control, borrowed from primitive tribe, which, unenlightened and afraid, knew of no other method for the removal of the deviant from its midst, and executed by limited and fallible human beings, was obeyed to its letter. And a sick Justice had its day.

On January 26th, 1948 Berger who'd done time for arson, was released from the prison's insane ward. That night he killed his wife. Rev. Justin McKernam, the Catholic chaplin at Canon City, wrote the Governor on October 20th that he'd always found Berger "in a certain state of insanity." Thornton received the letter on the 22nd. Tbe following day he denied Berger's lawyer's petition for a judicial investigation into the condemned man's sanity. Three days later Berger was killed.

Students Around Campus Give Opinions of Chapel Services

By LIZ HUGINS

Around campus are floating many opinions about chapel services. Everyone asked was happy to express his or her opinions and offer suggestions of all kinds. Here are some of them: Bud Eastwood and Bob Glassman objected to having compulsory chapel on the basis that it violates freedom of worship. The obvious solution to this, some students said, is to make chapel voluntary. How would this work? I talked to Dean Hershey, who knows many details in CC's history. It seems about twenty years ago that chapel was voluntary. Out of a student body of six hundred, only about twenty-five or, at the most, forty attended—less than ten per cent.

Perhaps Helena Spear has a solution to this. She thinks we should have voluntary chapel at church time on Sunday similiar to Stanford services, which are well-attended.

However, as John Yaklich pointed out, chapel furnishes our only all-school get-together. He is in favor of chapel but believes our services should feature outside speakers rather than being primarily religious.

Many other people objected to religious services also.

Pat Maresca believes that religious services are antagonistic to those who are strong in some particular religion or even to those who are lukewarm. DeDe Staskal and Gloria Shabough brought out the fact that Catholics are not allowed to take part in religious services. They would like more outside speakers.

Chuck Williams favored student participation. Dave Hender would like to bear short interesting talks. He thinks church is for Sunday only.

John Kirkpatric thinks chapel is dull and not at all valuable because speeches are above college level. Bob Gannon's opinion is that services are too religious and technical; he would like to hear something concerning the school or student body.

On the other side of the fence we have Ellen Hunt, who likes the services the way they are—religious and including some talks. Michael Strayer likes the chapel services but would like to see them a little less formal. Chuck O'Conner believes speakers are out of place and favors short religious talks.

The students as a whole seem to want shorter services. It seems attention usually wanders after the first twenty minutes.

Before the present system was introduced there was much discussion over the time for and the type of chapel service CC should have. So far, this system has seemed the best, but someone may come up with a better one through thought and discussion.

Competition Opens For Root-Tilden Law Scholarships

Colorado College seniors interested in law, will again have the opportunity to compete for the Root-Tilden scholarships that have been hailed as the American equivalents of the Rhodes scholarships.

Last year, for the first time, twenty seniors from all over the United States became recipients of the three-year, all expenses paid, awards to the New York University Law Center.

John S. Pfeiffer of Colorado College was one of the men chosen last year to receive the Root-Tilden scholarship aid.

Those who have keen intelligence, integrity, and a zest for public service can apply for the $2,100 a year scholarships which include $1,500 living expenses and $600 tuition.

The scholars are given personal contacts with outstanding leaders in the fields of finance, law, and public service as a reminder that they are being prepared for unselfish public leadership in the area of the country from which they come.

Top-ranking senior men between the ages of 20 and 28, who are citizens, are eligible to apply for the Root-Tilden scholarships. Applications must be made to: Dean of the Law School, New York University Law Center, Washington Square, New York, New York.

Two students are selected from each of the ten Federal Judicial Circuits and their selection is based on three standards: grades, the candidate's extra-curricular activities, and his potential for "unselfish public leadership."

After the acceptance of his application, a student appears before a state committee composed of the Chief Justice of the State's highest court, the president of the state bar association and the editor or publisher of a leading state newspaper.

If the applicant passes this committee, he appears with candidates from the same Federal Judicial Circuit. This is the final test before selection of the winners.

Police Department Sets Us Straight on Drinking Code

By TOM GROOM

In a very pleasant interview with Capt. Boatright of the Colorado Springs Police Department, I obtained the following information with regard to drinking. It is my purpose to present this information that it might serve as enlightenment on the subject. Captain Boatright was extremely congenial and answered all of my questions to the best of his ability, and even suggested a few other points that I might mention.

This article is not intended as a condemnation of student drinking, or a reprimand for the same, because the situation is far from being pressing.

The following practices, with respect to drinking, are violations of either city or state law:

1. Presentation of a false ID card is punishable in police court by fine or jail sentence.
2. Driving under the influence of alcohol is a violation of either city or state law according to the jurisdiction within which the violation takes place.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 27...THE LYNX

This sporty student really teed off on a long tirade when he found himself stymied on the "single puff" and "one sniff" cigarette tests. "They're strictly for the birdies!" said he. He realized that cigarette mildness requires more deliberation than a cursory inhale or exhale. Millions of smokers concur — there's only one true test of mildness and flavor in a cigarette.

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests . . .

DANCE CLUB

The newly organized dance club will give the first example of its art in the Variety Show this week to the accompaniment of "Walkin' and Whistlin' Blues." Club meetings are being held every Friday afternoon at 4:30 in Cossitt and new members are welcome. Last week the club selected the following officers: Gay Gould, president; Jean Roberts, secretary; Bunny Hart, treasurer and Elizabeth Burton, publicity.

Club Plans Overnight Ride This Weekend

Members of the riding club were wondering if they hadn't joined the mountain climbing group by mistake after last Sunday's ride in which Doc Stabler, as ride director, displayed the sure-footedness of horses on the limestone cliffs north of the Springs. The three hour marathon was devised to condition the club for this Saturday's overnight ride. The club will ride to Dern's ranch, spend the night out in the open, and return Sunday noon.

New officers of the riding club, recently elected, are: Allan Mathias, president; Judy Ludlum, vice president; Muriel Baldwin, secretary and Elizabeth Burton, publicity manager.

Vote For 1951 Homecoming Queen Tuesday After Chapel

By SHEILA HALL

Five gorgeous gals representing the four sororities and the IWA of CC are in the limelight these last weeks before Homecoming, awaiting the results of the poll to be taken next Tuesday morning, deciding which girl will be elected Homecoming Queen. Claire Chamberlain, a member of Gamma Phi Beta, comes from San Antonio, Tex., and is a sophomore this year. In her freshman year, she was a freshman class commissioner, and took part in the Variety Show. This year, Claire is a member of the "Tiger" Club, has recently served as co-chairman of the Gamma Phi's Circus Party, and is again taking part in the Variety Show.

Peggy Gould, a native of Birmingham, Michigan, is a new face at CC this year, since she has just transferred here from Monticello,, Illinois. Peg is a sophomore, a secretary of her pledge class in Kappa Alpha Theta, and a member of junior Panhellenic.

Bunny Hart, a native Chicagoan, is the IWA representative, and a junior this year. Her activities include: vice-president of the Newman Club, treasurer of the Dance Club, and a member of Pick and Pan. Bunny was a cheerleader last year, a feature-writer on the TIGER, and is to participate in three acts of the Variety Show.

Pat Gray, also from Chicago, is

DUTCH CLARK, ALL-TIME CC GREAT NAMED TO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Earl "Dutch" Clark, class of 1930, was among the first football players to be selected to the National Football Hall of Fame, it was announced last Saturday. Clark, who was the mainstay of Tiger teams in 1927-28-29 and without a doubt the greatest athlete ever developed in the Rocky Mountain area, was the only player from this region to be selected.

Clark was a member of the All-Rocky Mountain Conference football team in 1927-28-29 and was selected as first team Associated Press All-American quarterback in 1928.

After graduation, Clark remained at Colorado College as head basketball and baseball coach and assistant football coach. However, the lure of football called again and he signed a professional contract with Portsmouth in the National Professional League in 1931 and played for five of the next six years with Portsmouth and the Detroit Lions. He stood the Professional League on their collective heads with his amazing running, passing and kicking and was selected All-American professional quarterback five straight years. During the time he played professional football, he served as head basketball and baseball coach at Colorado College and later at Colorado School of Mines and Colorado University. At the present time, Clark is head football coach at the University of Detroit.

In addition to being an outstanding football player, Clark was a great all-around athlete. He was selected All-American high school basketball center in 1926; he was all-Rocky Mountain Conference basketball guard for four straight years, a holder of the Rocky Mountain Conference hammer throw record in track and was selected on the All-Rocky Mountain Conference baseball team in 1930, the only year he competed in that sport.

Macabi Trounced By Tiger Booters 4-1 Play Here Sunday

Last Sunday the Tiger booters set a new team record as they piled up an unprecedented four goals, for a 4-1 win over Macabi soccer club of Denver. Macabi, known as the best first half team in the league, managed to hold the rejuvinated Tigers to a 1-0 lead at half, but they completely folded and CC racked up three more goals for a 4-0 lead before Macabi could dent the CC nets for their lone goal. Four goals is the highest total the Tigers have been able to score since the sport was started at CC just one year ago.

The final outcome of the game was apparent after only twenty-minutes of the first half had been played, when CC scored its first goal. Macabi had missed several fine scoring opportunities up to that point, including a penalty shot from twelve yards away from the goal, but the first Tiger goal seemed too smash Macabi's dream for an upset, and the team seemed to disintegrate. The entire forward line was responsible for the goals, as precision passing and good team play were very evident. Horst Hergel scored twice for CC, with Mel Smith and Saad Sahawneh rounding out the scoring. Fine assists must also be credited to Frank Kin Maung and Jack Hattstadt. The defense was not too busy during the afternoon, and the fullbacks, George Rushitsky and Jim Hill managed to keep the ball away from the goal most of the afternoon.

This Sunday the Tigers close their home season with a 2:00 game with the Britisher's soccer club of Denver.

Boucher Among National Leaders In Ground Gaining Department

With the announcement of "Dutch" Clark's election to the Football Hall of Fame, many people have probably been reminiscing and saying, "There will never be another 'Dutch'!" Those people have not been watching this year's edition of Tigers. For the first time since Clark cavorted as quarterback of the 1927-28-29 Tigers, Colorado College has not had a runner to approach his stature. This year is another story. Wes Boucher, this year's fullback, has run up the enviable record of 614 yards gained in 59 carries for an astounding 10.5 yard per carry average! Figures are not yet available, but this average probably is either the best in the nation or the next thing to it. To make this year's aggregation more potent, two of the remaining trio of the first team backfield are carrying over a 5 yard per carry average. Andy Cambucci is steaming along at a 7.5 clip and little Clenn Scarcia has racked up a 5.1 average. Scarcia also owns the distinction of having intercepted the most passes for the season with six thefts.

John Sarlo has passed for 308 yards and six touchdowns and Bob Carruthers, has punted 42 times for a respectable 34.3 average. As a team, the Tigers have rolled up a total of 2,550 yards in 464 plays for an average 5.5 yards per play as compared to their opponents 2,-106 yards in 474 plays and a 4.4 average. The Tigers offense has rolled for an average of 64 yards more per game than their opponents with a 364 per game to their opponents 300.

BOB: It's wonderful to be here, Bing. This is your first program of the season, I presume?
BING: No, Bob. This is my third.
BOB: And you've just called me in?
BING: Well, you wouldn't expect a coach to start the season off with the scrub team, would you?

BING: Say, Bob, I'm coming out with a new group of items called "Bing's Things," and I'm looking for a line of children's toys. What did you play with when you were a little boy?

BING: I wish you could have been with me when I caught that swordfish.
BOB: Why so, Bing?
BING: I wouldn't have had to harpoon him. He could have looked at you and jealous'd himself to death.

BOB: I want to thank you for that big smoked salmon you sent me from Canada.
BING: Oh, you got the salmon all right, huh?
BOB: Yes, and when I first opened the box I thought it was you. But really, it was wonderful. What did you smoke it with, Bing?
BING: Chesterfields! What else!

BING: Ah, yes, the end of an almost perfect summer. The vacation interlude was not without its mishaps though. Remember, Bob, you almost fell into the Gunnison River.
BOB: I did fall into the river, and I came very close to drowning.
BING: Yes, it was almost a perfect summer.

BOB: Jane Wyman, there's a real glamor gal. Gosh, she's done love scenes with all the handsome leading men.
BING: Yes, and now I'm her leading man.
BOB: Well, the kid can't stay on top forever.

Speaking of Sports

By DALE ARIE

In view of what happened at Greeley Saturday to the Teachers eod the outstanding brand of football displayed by the Tigers, it looks like I might have spoken too soon regarding the football team. However, at the time of writing, the article was pertinent and received in most instances as being true. There seemed to be one exception as most of you know; that exception coming in the form of a letter to the editor of the TIGER which appeared in last week's edition. I would now like to take a few exceptions myself.

In the first place, the writer stated that the letter was written as representing the team. If that is true, there are a number of football players who reversed themselves in mid-stream. After my article appeared, I made a point of talking to a number of players and asking their opinion of statements made by myself. In all cases, they agreed and said that there was nothing untrue in the article and felt that they had it coming. I prefer to believe that last week's letter was written on an individual basis and not as representative of the team.

Secondly, the letter intimates that football players at Colorado College receive nothing for their efforts except one meal a day. How about the numerous members of the squad who are here on a tuition and books basis or receive at least partial aid along these lines? If we are going to do the washing, let's do it all.

Regarding "letting the coach down" let's do a little deeper thinking. On the whole, the football team might have thought they were giving their all in the game at Idaho State; but, were they really? Too many members of the team have told me that there was something lacking in that engagement. Primarily it seemed to be spirit and the "let's go get 'em" attitude. Maybe the blame doesn't all rest on the players shoulders for thet lack of spirit, but the fact remains, it was not there. These are not my assumptions, but admittances made by the players themselves, and who knows better?

Last week's letter goes on to challenge my authority to condem. In that respect, I do not profess to be an expert on the game of football; however, as was pointed out earlier, my assumptions were not my own, but in the main came directly from the players themselves. Also, I might ask, "Where does Tom McLaughlin or Bob Beier get the authority to write their opinions?" The answer is obvious. Their job is sports reporting and writing and the position itself lends some credence to their writings. The authority is implied and goes with the job. Likewise here.

In the past, the sports page of the Tiger hes been merely a bulletin of sports happenings and future events. This year an attempt is being made to make it more than it has been by giving not only scores and results, but personal slants on the events as they happen. To judge the success of this venture is hard. The only way to know how it is being received is to hear from you the readers. We are glad to get comment, even such as received last week. If their is e defense of our action, we will give it. If not, we will try to correct our mistakes. See you!

Intra-Mural BILLBOARD

By ED BAKER

The Phi Gams defeated the Kappa Sigs 22-0 for the Intramural football championship Wednesday afternoon at Perkins Field. The Fijis led 15-0 at the half on strength of a touchdown by Bill Hansen, the extra point by Warren Arter and a safety by Ron Hartwell. Carky Rubens got the last six points of the first half on a pass. Tom Dunton did all the Phi Gam scoring in the second half by virtue of a touchdown and an extra point.

All the Fiji scoring with the exception of the extra points came on passes from Len Maccini.

The Phi Gams, armed with their terrifying press clippings but little else, sputtered into their place in the championship game by downing the Sigs 12-7. The Phi Gam aerial attack, generated by Maccini, Crouse, and Dunton, figured in all the Fiji scoring. The Sigs countered with their own passing barrage with Koopson throwing to Royer and Voshal.

In the only other game played last week, the Betas skated thru the Perkins field slush for an 11-7 victory over the frozen Phi Delts, who spent most of the contest sliding around in their own end zone.

Heiss Named "Coach of the Week" by the Denver Post

By TOM LAWRIE.
Denver Post Sports Writer.

New school, green talent new formation—all three tough hurdles for a new coach—have been conquered one by one this season by Bill Heiss, head man at Colorado College.

He knew when he took the coaching post nt Colorado Springs the picture was not rosy, but he resigned from n similar position at St. Cloud (Minn.) State Teachers to pick up where Allison Binns left off. No one expected him to retain the Rocky Mountain conference title the 1950 squad won, but right now the Tigers are in u choice spot to do just that—thanks, in part, to n schednle change that hurts Colorado Mines' chances.

Heiss is The Denver Post "Coach of the Week" as picked by sports writers and correspondents who cover the games each week. In his first year he has brought the Bengals to a 3-1 mark in R. M. C. play. Last Saturday his charges went out on the field at Greeley as underdogs, but with Wes Boucher leading the way, C. C. won 26-0. This, with a line regarded as paper thin.

When he assumed the head coaching job, Heiss knew that seventeen lettermen from the 1950 squad would be gone. That didn't stop him. He immediately went to work, putting the split-T formation into use and soon the Tigers were rolling.

TITLE GAME NOV. 17.

The championship of the league will be determined Nov. 17 when Colorado Mines (3-0) plays Colorado College at Colorado Springs. A win for C. C. will give the Tigers a 4-1 record, and Mines will have a 3-1 mark. The Miners, due to the fnct thut Montana State canceled a game, would not be able to get a tie for the crown.

Win or lose, however, the 28-yenr-old Heiss is to be congratulated for the fine job he has done this year.

Tiger Attack Hits New High In Win Over Greeley Teachers

By RAY SCHERER

We can do it now, yes sir, sole possession by percentage points of the Rocky Mountain Conference title. What we need now is a win over Colorado Mines in our Homecoming encounter Nov. 17. Here's how it has come about. Last Saturday, as we all know CC took Colorado State to the cleaners in their Homecoming game 26-0, after being rated a six point underdog at game time. It came as a very, very pleasent surprise to all of those connected with CC. The other geme, one which came as even more of a surprise, found Western State upsetting Idaho State. When I was looking ahead a few weeks ago to the rest of the schedule for the conference, I mentioned that Western State hed to beat Idaho State for CC to take sole possession of the title, end if they did, it would certainly be welcome, but not very probable. "Lady Luck" has certainly helped us when we could not do much, end I'll point to the above game as en example.

But, back to last week's ball game. The Tigers were really impressive in their victory last Saturday, and, in my opinion, it was the best played game that I have seen in the three seasons that I have been here. Wes Boucher stood out and was magnificent in the ground gaining department but, the whole backfield worked exceptionally well together to fool the opposing defense time after time. Even Carl Casella got into Delahanty, Jr., the two psychiatrists appointed to examine Berger and Martinez, telephoned their reports to the Governor. Of the latter Ebaugh said, "Martinez is a border-line intelligence case. He had an I. Q. of 70. We felt definitely that he had the criteria to recognize right and wrong and had definite ethical feelings." This last is a human evaluaton, and is subject to question. More pertinent would be a consideration of Martinez's state of mind on the night of March 22, 1949 when he shot Regina Ramirez in a Denver tavern brawl.

And far more pertinent still would be this:

There are three types of murderers: the sick psychopath; the normal individual who is subject to extreme excitability under certain circumstances; and the professional gunman. To all three the death penalty is no deterrent.

All three are variously ill, deseased, or defective in personality. Has puninshment ever cured a patient? And has it ever prevented the suscept from becoming ill?

Lastly this: does murdering a Berger or a Martinez—both of whom would have behaved otherwise had an ethical and moral choice been within their powers at the moment of their deviantcies—does killing them either protect society or ennoble us who both condone and demand their deaths?

The pictures which will have the best chance of winning will be those with campus interest or shots taken on ski or field trips. Any glossy, well contrasted photo will do, so dust off that old camera you brought to college to use and never did and start taking those winning pictures.

Take your film to one of the photograph shops advertised in the Tiger for developing and printing. If you think your picture has a good chance to win, have a 4x5 glossy print made. the offensive act when he intercepted a pass late in the game. I heard Carl himself say that every member of the team would have had to throw two good blocks to have enabled him to go all the way. It was a nice return nevertheless Carl. Again defensively the entire unit performed like clockwork even though Colorado State gained through the air on occasion. The game was really something to see, as those who saw it will verify.

This Saturday the Tigers travel to Ft. Hays State College in Hays, Kans. It's a non-conference game, but should prove to be a close contest. CC should make the best of it and come home well prepared for the game with Mines, the most important one of the season. There has been a lot of talk or discussion about the attendance at home games this year, and I'll add my two cents worth about it here and now as I do almost every week. Here's all I have to say: If you enjoy watching a close and meaningful contest, then by all means don't miss that Homecoming game.

Selective Service Exams Defer Large Percentage of Students

Sixty-three per cent of the 339,000 students who took the Selective Service College Qualification Tests last spring and summer made a score of 70 or better, Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, reported. The Major said a further breakdown of the results of the former tests would be available within a short time.

The new series of tests will be given Thursday, December 13, 1951, and Thursday, April 24, 1952, by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey, at more than 1,000 different centers throughout the United States and its territories. The blanks may be obtained by the registrant at any local board office. The exams will be taken in Cossitt gym.

General Hershey stressed the importance of all eligible students taking the test, and indicated that those who do not bava test score results in their cover sheets may have a "very difficult time indeed" in convincing their local boards that they should be deferred as students.

Applications for the April 24, 1952 test must be postmarked not later than midnight, March 10, 1952.

To be eligible to apply for tha test, General Hershey pointed ont, a student must:

(1) Intend to request a deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a fulltima college course; (3) must not previonsly have taken a Selective Service College Qualification Test.

Tbe criteria for defermant as a student is either a satisfactory score (70) on tbe Selective Service College Qualification Test or satisfactory rank in class (nppar half of the freshman class, upper two thirds of the sophomore class, npper three fourths of the junior class). Seniors accepted for admission to a graduate school satisfy the criteria if they stand in the upper half of their classes, or make a score of 75 or better on the test. Students already enrolled in graduate schools may be deferred so long as they remain in good standing. These criteria are guides and the local boards are not bound to follow them.

General Hershey remorked that when the Selective Service college deferment plan was first announced last spring objection was heard that the plan gave preferred treatment to the comparatively small number of "bright boys" who could afford to go to college. He said he believed tbat virtnally all of the opposition on this ground has been dissipated, since there is now a general understanding of the fact that the purpose of the plan is to select thosa most fitted to pursue college educations and that a large proportion of tbe college students are "working their way through college," either partly or wholly. He cited a recent survey made by the United States Office of Education which showed that fewer than 25 per cent of college students are solely dependant upon their parents.

"We are faced with an emergency that many experts predict will last perhaps 10 to 20 years," General Hershey said. "We must, therefore, think in long-range terms, in developing plans to provide an adequate supply of highly skilled manpower. I believe the country is aware that it is logical in deferring students in the national interest, to defer those with demonstrated ability, instead of gambling on those with lower capacity."

General Hershey explained that the intent of Congress was that these students should be deferred only until they have completed their college training. "Deferment means that a registrant shall have his service delayed or postponed until he completes his education. It is by no means an outright exemption.

The 1951 Amendments to the Universal Military Training and Service Act provide that any registrant who was in a deferred classification on June 9, 1951, or who was thereafter placed in a deferred classification shall remain liable for training and service until he reaches the age of 35. Therefore, any registrant deferred now as a student will be required, if physically fit, to serve two years in the armed forces sometime before he becomes 35.

ONE OPINION

By Dan James

The 1951 Crusade for Freedom Drive is now over, but when it is considered that for 11½ hours a day, seven days a week, Radio Free Europe is lobbing ideas and facts into Eastern Europe, and is shortly to start firing away at areas in Asia, some thoughts on the Crusade seem timely.

Begun last fall under the direction of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, 1½ million dollars were contributed American citizens toward the erection of the Freedom Bell in Berlin and the construction of the world's most powerful transmitter at Munich. The goal of 3½ million dollars for 1951 has been met.

Compared to the price of a battle ship, that isn't much money—though it isn't hay either when it's remembered that it came from the voluntary contributions of the man and the kid on the street. However, as far as contributions to the security and well being of the Czech or the Chinese, one wonders firstly, if either the ship or the Crusade can do the job, and secondly, if like all instruments of war, hot or cold, they both may not be negative approaches to world peace, motivated more out of our own fear than out of a humanitarian compulsion to "liberate" the politically oppressed. In other words, is the Crusade essentially propaganda—an attempt to effect political change behind the Curtain in the interest of our own national security—or, is it a positive program designed to give sustenance to the spiritual and intellectual hopes of those people?

The Crusade may have both purposes. The circular put out by the National Headquarters this year doesn't tell. Going upon the generous assumption, however, that the Crusade is basically non-political in its objectives, several thoughts, nevertheless, still come to mind:

Is the Crusade a practical program or mostly an emotional one?

Has a single Free Radio broadcast text ever been published and circulated for the interest or criticism of the millions who've paid the bill?

Is our own democratic linen clean enough that we are in position to tell others now to wash theirs?

Do the peoples behind the Curtain, who have known but brief moments of peace for hundreds of years, have to be told who and what to fear, or are they realists?

Are we really offering hope? And if such is our intention, (and irrespective of our motives), are we doing it in the best possible way,

More questiona might be aaked, but the point still comes to something like this: Despite the imperfections in both our thinking and in the ways that we politically and socially manage ourselves, we as a people still can offer much. China, where 2½ billion dollars worth of arms contributed significantly to the conversion of 400 million persons to Communism, can be our lesson. There, the real, tangible products of American democracy such as tools, fertilizers, medical equipment for civilians, grains, raw materials, power plants and so forth—those positive contributions which become reflected in production, health, and in general social welfare and easiness of mind—were left to the Russian government to supply. But they, too, failed in their opportunity, as they are failing now in Eastern Europe. Words are not enough whether they originate in English or in Russian.

My hope would be this: That we who are called upon to support this crusade insist that the radio's words be backed with more than watts; that a large part of tha appropriations for the Voice of America (which is, indeed, the public's money) be given to tha Crusade in the form of those tangible necessities of living—from ukeleles to tractors—which make

Greetings to All Homecoming Alumni

Homecoming is always a great event on the Colorado College campus. This year especially we are looking forward with keen anticipation because of the larger number of class reunions this Homecoming. The Class of 1901 is celebrating its 50th (golden) anniversary, the Class of 1911 its 40th anniversary, the Class of 1921 its 30th anniversary, and the Class of 1926 its 25th (silver) anniversary.

It is a great pleasure to welcome our alumni back to the campus and we hope that the events for this year's Homecoming will afford you an opportunity to see and enjoy old friends.

The trustees, administration, faculty, and student body join me in the hope that this visit to your Alma Mater will be a most happy one. Hail Colorado College—and all who belong!

William H. Gill,
President.

Popular Singer Johnny Desmond Featured At Gala Homecoming Dance To Be Held Saturday Nite at Broadmoor Hotel Ballroom

By DOYNE BARROWS

Handsome baritone Johnny Desmond, whose crooning has rocketed him to vocal stardom on stage, screen, radio and television, will appear at the Broadmoor ballroom on Saturday, Nov. 17. Today Johnny is one of the most popular lads in music circles along Tin Pan Alley, and certainly emerged from the war as the outstanding GI contribution to serve the entertainment pleasures of his buddies and European supper-clubbers alike.

A leading MGM recording artist, the ex-Glenn Miller Air Force vocalist has microphoned his way into the upper strata of juke box favorites and into the hearts of bobby-soxers and fan clubs everywhere.

Classified as a drummer with the Air Corps, Johnny was singing and playing the cymbals in the marching band when the late Glenn Miller discovered him. Glenn Miller, who possessed a remarkable ability for recognizing and building new talent, took Desmond on for the Official AAF Orchestra. With the Miller outfit Johnny was heard all over the major networks in the United States and became the vocal sensation throughout Europe. For two years his crooning sent lassies of England, Belgium and France into shrieks and swoons. As a matter of fact Paris Opera House audiences drubbed him "Le Cremair," the Creamer.

HERE'S GOOD NEWS

Tickets for the Homecoming dance have been lowered in price to $3.00 for couples and $2.00 for singles.

In addition to radio work, personal appearanees took Johnny into the nation's top supper clubs and theatres . . . Ciro's in Hollywood, the Strand Theatre in New York, the Town Casino in Buffalo . . . to mention but a few. Music-wise centers such as Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, and Washington put out the welcome mat and record audiences for Desmond.

After touring music-land Mutual Broadcasting brought Johnny back to New York inking him for his own show "Judy, Jill and Johnny." Already a leading recording artist with RCA Victor, disk jockeys were barraged with requests for renderings by "The Creamer." His RCA waxing of "Guilty" headed record sales for several months, topping the half-a-million mark. Some of his other outstanding discs include "Four Winds and Seven Seas," "While the Angelus Was Ringing," "You Broke Your Promise," "Careless Hands" and "Come Ci Comma Ca."

Still a comparative newcomer in singing circles, and certainly a

JOHNNY DESMOND, star of radio and television shows will be the feature attraction at the Homecoming Dance Saturday night at the Broadmoor hotel. Along with Desmond will be the music of Glenn Henry and his orchestra who is famed for his "Impressions in Rhythm."

ID cards may be picked up at the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women's offices this week.

DEADLINE

Because of the holidays next week, the TIGER will be published on Wednesday. All news will have to be turned into the Tiger office no later than MONDAY AFTERNOON.

FOUR CLASS REUNIONS TO MEET DURING HOMECOMING WEEKEND

Four special class reunions, including a golden anniversary and a silver anniversary, will highlight the return of hundreds of graduates to the Colorado College campus tomorrow and Saturday at the college's annual Homecoming celebration. Members of the class of 1901, celebrating the golden anniversary of their graduation, will return to the campus to be made members of CC's Emeritus Alumni club, open to those who return for the 50th anniversary reunion. In addition to the class reunion dinner Nov. 16 at the El Paso Club, members of the Class of 1902 will be honored at a luncheon Friday in Bemis Hall given by President and Mrs. William H. Gill.

Holding their silver anniversary reunion will be members of the Class of 1926, who will gather Friday evening at the Garden of the Gods Club. Al Hill, owner of the club, is a member of the class and in charge of the entertainment program for the reunion. Graduates of the Class of 1921 will celebrate their 30th anniversary, and will hold their key meeting at a dinner Friday evening. Also celebrating their 40th anniversary will be the Class of 1911 who will hold their meeting at 6:30 Saturday evening.

Homecoming headquarters open at the college in Cossitt Hall at 9 o'clock Friday morning, with students excused from classes both Friday and Saturday.

First item on the students' lavish program will be Friday evening when the first judging of fraternity house decorations takes place. Judging will be followed by the annual pep rally, to be held this year beside a giant bonfire on Stewart Field.

Friday night at 9:45 o'clock in Perkins Hall auditorium the CC Players will make their annual dramatic gift to Homecoming with the presentation of "Ladies in Retirement," a comedy-mystery Broadway hit.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock college students will present their annual Homecoming to the community. The CC parade the past two years has been adjudged one of the most lavish and complete parades in the state and this year promises to surpass the 1950 procession.

Following the Homecoming luncheon in Cossitt Hall for alumni the CC Tigers and Colorado Mines will clash in the Rocky Mountain Conference championship game at 2 p. m. on Washburn Field.

After the annual open houses by campus organizations immediately following the game the returning "C" men will gather at the El Paso Club at 6:30 o'clock for the yearly stag lettermen's dinner.

CC's Homecoming dance will again be held at the Broadmoor hotel Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock.

Glenn Henry and His Orchestra To Play for Homecoming Crowd At Broadmoor Saturday Night

By LIZ HUGINS

One of America's top musical attractions, Glenn Henry, is not only skilled on clarinet and saxophone, but his singing has been rated among the finest of the modern vocalists, and his unusal song writing achievements have become immortalized with best-selling Miltone recordings of his own compositions. Glenn Henry's orchestra features sweet, danceable, commercial stylings; and the fifteen people comprising the organization play straight for the hotel, ballroom and theater trade. Glenn Henry leads the band, performing some of the vocalizing and doing take-offs on his clarinet and alto sax. Also with the band is beautiful song starlet, Cherie Lynn.

Arranger Bill Dixon has worked up clever, recognizable versions of the "hummable" works of men like Tschaikovsky, Rubenstein, Rachmanioff, and Massenet and has them to pleasant dance tempo. Dixon's inimitable stylings are contagious. The finished product is exciting and melodic but, above all, it's something extremely danceable.

Eight members of the band, including their charming vocalist, attended three Long Beach high schools at the same time and played together at all the proms and balls. The first commercial engagement for this orchestra was at the Old Faithful Lodge in Yellowstone National Park, and the boys made such a hit that the Henry aggregation was brought back by popular demand for five consecutive seasons. When word reached Los Angeles of the boys who were making pretty music up there in the mountains, they were asked to appear in person for an audition in the City of Angels. There is no Cinderella story behind the Impressions in Rhythm men. The orchestra has come up the hard way and is continuing to ascend to the musical zenith.

The Northwest virtually went wild over Henry's dance creations. The band was held over for 14 weeks after originally being contracted for two weeks at the Trianon Ballroom in Seattle.

Colorado College is truly lucky to have Glenn Henry and his "Impressions in Rhythm!"

Peggy Merle-Smith To Audition for Am. Theater Wing

"Ladies in Retirement" is an experimental production for the CC Players. It will be the first time a Players production has ever been completely student produced. Directing the play is Peggy Merle-Smith '51 who is well known on campus for her characterizations in many Players presentations. Miss Merle-Smith has proven herself an able director as well as an accomplished student actress with her work on "Ladies in Retirement." Her talents have won for her an opportunity seldom achieved by transpirants to the stage. She leaves next week for an audition by the American Theater Wing in New York, which if successful, may win for her a part in a New York production.

Max Lanner Featured In Sunday Concert

Next Sunday's concert in Perkins Hall at 4:30 p. m. will feature Max Lanner, Head of the Music Department at CC and well known concert pianist, in a piano recital. Mr. Lanner will play works of Mozart, Schumann and Ravel. The concert is free and everyone is invited.

Frosh Face Sophs Friday at Stewart

Friday morning at 11:00 will be the fateful hour for the Frosh! That's the time when they will match strategy and strength with the Sophomores in the struggle to discard their grimy cords, dinks, bows and paddles. If the fates are against the Frosh, they will be forced to wear their hated "uniforms" till Christmas vacation. But if fortune should smile upon their eager venture up the greased pole, they will have won their freedom from slavery.

The annual freshmen-sophomore fight is sponsored by the Red Lantern and will be held on Stewart Field. The Sophomores are wearing very determined smirks these days in anticipation of the event. So Freshmen beware, and be there in force—a word to the wise is sufficient!

Magazine Tells of Painless Way to Break Engagement

Do girls suffer more than men from broken engagements? How long does it take to recover from a broken engagement? Is there a painless way to end an engagement?

There is no painless way to end an engagement, but the majority of individuals recover in less than six months, Clifford R. Adams reports in the November Ladies' Home Journal. The girl, more often than the man, he says, is too immature to accept the situation.

To help speed recovery, Dr. Adams, a psychologist at Pennsylvania State College, gives seven suggestions offered by people who know best—those who have suffered from a broken engagement themselves:

1. Don't feel sorry for yourself. Statistics prove that you can love many people—there is no one and only. Next time you may be able too choose more wisely.

2. Objectively review the past courtship. When you analyze misunderstandings, disagreements and incompatible traits, you will realize that the present course of action is wisest.

3. Cut all ties with your exfiancee—return letters, gifts and pictures.

4. Consider similar experiences of friends, those now happily married or engrossed in a career. Your problem is not uncommon. A recent study of a thousand engagements shows that more than four in ten failed to result in marriage.

5. Resume former social activities. Accept invitations, look up old friends. Get some new clothes, put on a smile and start stepping out.

6. Don't be bitter about your broken engagement. Keep any explanations to your friends simple, dignified and fair.

7. Fill your days with constructive things to do. A job, volunteer social work, study or hobby will help give you a bright outlook.

And remember: a broken engagement is preferable to a broken marriage. Best of all, Dr. Adams says: "Out of your experience may emerge a deeper sympathy for others, a greater insight into yourself, a richer challenge in the months ahead."

TWO CHARMING OLD ECCENTRICS are Rosie Musgrave as Emily and Nancy Jones as Louisa in "Ladies in Retirement."

"LADIES IN RETIREMENT" ROCKS PERKINS WITH SUSPENSE-COMEDY

By JERRY KETCHUM

Last night I had a date with three of the most unusual ladies I've ever met. They call themselves "Ladies in Retirement," but believe me, there's nothing very retiring about the performance they're giving in Perkins Hall Theatre this week. I first met Ellen, the rather sinister lady about whom the plot revolves. Remember Ruth Mitchell, the girl who sang so nicely in the Vod-Vil Show last week? Well, here she is playing the role of Ellen to the hilt.

Ellen introduced me to her two sisters, Emily and Louisa. What a pair! Rosie Musgrave plays the drab Emily, who delights in collecting such things as driftwood and dead birds, to perfection; and Nancy Jones has a field day as Louisa, the rather, shall we say, "gay" sister who is every bit as eccentric as Emily. You'll agree that these are the strangest, most charming ladies to appear on any stage.

I also had the privilege of meeting some acquaintances of these three ladies; Carol Fisher as the retired musical-comedy queen; Paul Hartman as Albert, rascally nephew of the three sisters; Doris von Holst as the sister Theresa, and Judy Clave, who plays the maid in this very strange household.

They're all crazy about me here said the insane asylum keeper in his first report.

Peg Merle-Smith has staged "Ladies in Retirement" with an eye for comedy as well as for terrifying suspense. It's an excellent contribution to CC's 1951 Homecoming program, so remember, you too have a date with the ladies tonight and tomorrow night at Per-

ONE MORE WEEK

The Campus Chest Drive has been extended for another week as it has fallen short of the expected goal. Remember, give now, and you won't be asked again this year.

SATURDAY CLASSES

The possibility of discontinuing Saturday classes was discussed. It seems that Saturday classes are very poorly attended after Friday night functions. If these classes are done away with, classes on the other two days will last for an hour and a half. If they are not discontinued, there will have to be a sharp decrease in Friday night activities or Saturday cuts.

NEW COURSES

A First Aid Course and a Home Nursing Course are being offered starting December 5. The First Aid course will be 22 hours and probably be on Wednesday and Thursday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 in Palmer 201. The Home Nursing course will be twelve hours and will meet in the Infirmary. The hours will be arranged.

TOURNAMENTS

Remember the all-school ping-pong tournament sponsored by the "C" club. Tell Cheddy Thompson today if you are interested. Entry fee 10 cents.

Like to play bridge? Why not enter the national bridge tournament? The hands will be sent out to each school. Finals, the 25th and 26th of April, will include the sixteen highest in the tournament who will go to Chicago, expenses paid, for playoffs.

Gala Homecoming Parade Features Floats and Bands

Promising to be the biggest and best yet, the 1951 Homecoming parade will get underway at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The parade will feature floats from the various organization, several bands and participation by campus clubs. All floats should be in their places by 8:30 and the bands should be assembled by 9:30. The floats will proceed down Tejon street to Cucharras east to Nevada, north to Boulder street, west to Tejon, and north on Tejon to the Grace Episcopal church to wait for instruction to disband.

The order of the parade will be as follows: Camp Carson, Homecoming banner, carriage, Tiger Club, First Division Banner, Phi Delta Theta, Independent Men, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, Beta Theta Pi, Fountain Band. Second Division: Varsity Villagers, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Independent Women, Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Cheyenne High School Band, and Class of 1901 cars.

As originally announced each Homecoming queen candidate will ride in front of her organization's float.

Judging the floats will be Edwin Hoyt, publisher of the Free Press; Johnny Desmond and Al Hill, owner of the Garden of the Gods Club. First and second place floats and those receiving honorable mention will parade at Washburn Field at halftime at the football game, when the queen will award the prizes to the winning floats and house decorations.

The fraternity house decorations will be judged on Friday by Harry Blunt, mayor of Colorado Springs; Harry Hoth, KRDO and Fred Lausch, fire chief of this city. On Saturday they will be judged by Samuel Sabean and Emerson Woelffer of the Fine Arts Center and Mrs. J. Hartley Murray, president of the Women's Educational Society.

German Club Holds Picnic at Bluffs

Last Saturday afternoon's weather turned out perfect for the German Club's first picnic of the year. About 35 members and friends of the club enjoyed an afternoon of fun at Austin Bluffs. The entire group participated in playing a well known German ball game after which the group divided into two sections, one playing baseball and the other soccer. Later the appetites of the group were satisfied with weiners roasted over an open fire, salad prepared by Mrs. Thomas O. Brandt, and cake made by Evie Levine. The afternoon's program concluded with the singing of some German Volkslieder. The club has tentatively set the date of its next meeting at December 18th at which time a Christmas program will be prepared.

Officers of the German Club elected at its first meeting are: Larry Wells, president; Evie Levine, vice-president; and Gretel Muenzinger, treasurer.

Harvest Moon Dance And Scavenger Hunt Held Last Saturday

The annual Harvest Moon dance and scavenger hunt was held by the Sigma Chis last Saturday. After scavenging for shocks of corn, wagon wheels and scarecrows to decorate the house, clues were given to the whereabouts of the treasure. One of the highlights of the evening was a buffet supper at the house featuring a main course of smoked venison prepared by Chief Tyree. The pledges presented a skit and dancing followed until 1. Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Fox and Dr. and Mrs. Ross. Dave Becker, social chairman, was the main cog in making the party such a success.

She Delt Dance Highlighted by Fun and Dancing

Last Saturday night, the Phi Delt house was the scene of diabolically planned chaos—the annual She Delt Dance. It is the tradition, and not just a local one, that the girls shall go through a somewhat undignified form of indoctrination into the mystic order of She Delta Theta. Last Saturday, the indoctrination process started in the basement where the girls were required to take off their shoes and socks. Then they traveled through the house from one testing room to another. They were tested for electrical shock reaction, their ability to play "moose," and their sense of balance while standing blindfolded on a second story window ledge. After going through this condensed "hell week," they were initiated by receiving a certificate of membership, the She Delt badge, and "the grip." A dance to music served on platters followed in the basement where there was an unlimited supply of cider and cookies. Everyone enjoyed the passing of another favorite Phi Delt tradition.

GRAND FINALE of a grand Vod-Vil Review. The Theta western chorus line and Gloria Townsend and Al Mathies climax the 1951 review held in Perkins Hall auditorium last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Graduale Fellowships For Teaching Careers Recently Awarded

The Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri, has announced the inauguration of a series of Graduate Fellowships for college seniors and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of teaching, either at the college or the high school level, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1952, for their first year of graduate study.

President William H. Gill has named Dr. George W. Adams as the laison officer to work with the Danforth Foundation on the selection of candidates.

These fellowships will be granted on the basis of need with the amounts varying from $500.00 to $2,400.00 Students without financial need are also invited to apply, and if accepted will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation conference on teaching and other activities of the program.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are: Evidence of superior intellectual ability in his college record, good record of health and emotional stability, outgoing personality and concern for people that is essential for successful teaching, choice of vocation of teaching as a form of Christian Service, and deep religious convictions and growing religious perspectives.

The Foundation is looking for candidates who are seriously examining their own religious life, and are seeking a maturing faith and a social outreach.

Any student wishing further information about the fellowships should contact Dean Adams.

Lehman "Old Masters" Show Opens at Art Center Today

A red letter day in outstanding exhibitions of the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center is marked by the official public opening of the Robert Lehman collection of "Old Masters" today. Included in the presentation are 38 pictures and five bronzes, dating from the 13th to 17th centuries. Mitchell Wilder, director of the Arts Center, stated at an advance press and radio preview on Monday night that this is the finest collection of Old Masters to be displayed in Colorado Springs. He added that this is the first public appearance of the Lehman treasures, which have previously hung in the collector's home in New York. Brought to Colorado Springs last summer, the exhibit will be seen at the Art Center for about six months.

Interesting features of the collection are a Botticelli, which is the first painting of that master ever to be displayed in Colorado; two Duccios which are the oldest pictures in the exhibition and an El Greco, which is the most modern.

Friday afternoons and mornings by appointment. Call Ex. 59.

AWS ACTIVITIES

By PAM ADAMS

TIGER CLUB

The Tiger Club will be selling mums before the Homecoming game at Cossitt from 11 'til 1 on Saturday, and at both gates at Washburn field from 1 'til 2, for one dollar apiece. Black and gold shakers will be sold by club members in the dorms and at the game for 25 cents.

There will be no Tiger club meeting this week, but members are reminded to leave their shakers in the AWS room by tomorrow and that they are to be at the pep rally in uniform and at Pearl Laundry at 9:30 Saturday morning to march in the parade.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

Did your mid-term grades show that your study habits need improving? Do you know what your major will be? What are your plans after college? Come to the Vocational Guidance center in the AWS room in Ticknor. The hours are 1:30 to 4:30, Monday through Friday afternoons and mornings by appointment. Call Ex. 59.

VARSITY VILLAGERS

The next meeting of the newly organized Varsity Villagers will be Wednesday, Nov. 21, at 12 noon, in Cossitt hall. A business meeting will follow at 12:30 in the AWS room.

CC Begins Civil Defense Program

Colorado College is now getting its own Civil Defense organization as part of the Civil Defense Corps of El Paso county. Dr. Thomas H. Rawles, College treasurer, will be the campus director with five deputy faculty directors and three student staff members.

The deputy directors are Miss Evaline McNary, in charge of welfare; Mr. Harry M. Stewart deputy director in charge of transportation; communications will be headed by Howard Olson; Mr. Edward Simpson, public works, and Dr. Roger S. Whitney as health administrator. The student staff members, elected by the ASCC, are George B. Abbott, Barbara Prechtel, and Helen Mihelich.

The first specific steps will be the establishment of two classes, one in first aid and the other in home nursing. The first meeting of the first aid class under the direction of Barbara Prechtel will be December 5 in room 201, Palmer, at 7:30 p. m.

The first home nursing class will be held at the same time in the infirmary under Helen Mihelich.

In addition Dean George W. Adams is formulating plans for the safety of students, faculty and employees of the college.

TIGERS-MINERS CLASH FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Hardwood Team Works Hard for Season Opener Against Adams State

The 1951-52 edition of the Colorado College basketball team is rapidly taking shape as fifteen men have been working out nightly for the last two weeks under the able eye of Coach Bill Heiss.

The new Tiger mentor greeted only three letter winners from last year's squad, Jim Bergstrom, Mel Kensinger and Jack Osborne. Up from the freshmen team are Don Stone, Tom Dunton, Mose Harrison, Stu Klein and Bill Hogan. Coach Heiss is also looking for great things from some of the newcomers; Ben Snyder, a transfer from Illinois Wesleyn who was here last year but did not play ball because of the eligibility rule, Jack Stiegelmeier, here last year from Illinois Wesleyn also, Bob Geary, a freshman from Wayne, Pa., Ed Lodmill, a freshman from Rapid City, S. D., Sammy Maynes, a freshman from Durango, Colo., and Bob Voshall another boy who was here last year but who did not compete.

The team is slowly rounding into shape as Coach Heiss is preparing them for the season opener, a two game series with Adams State in Alamosa the 30th of this month and the 1st of December.

RON BETHURUM, 160 pound offensive tailback, passer, and runner for Mines.

TIGERS LAY CONFERENCE TITLE ON LINE AT WASHBURN SATURDAY

This is it! The die is cast and there can be no changes. The game this Saturday is the culmination of all the efforts put out for the whole season and if Colorado College is going to retain their Rocky Mountain Conference football title, which they have held the past two years, we must win Saturday. If we lose, it will mean a tie for second place with Idaho State, but, we're not going to lose! From all indications, past performance, comparative scores (which is always dangerous) and the Homecoming factor all point to a Tiger victory. The Orediggers will be down here with mayhem in their hearts and a student body to back them up, if need be, in an attempt to take the conference diadem back to Golden. It shapes up as one of the top games of the season and certainly the most dramatic. We need look back only two years to the Homecoming battle at Washburn Field with these same Orediggers to see what can happen in a game such as this.

ANDY GAMBUCCI, senior halfback playing his last game for CC Saturday.

If past performance this year can be used as a criteria, the Miners' chief offensive weapon will be the pitching are of tailback Ron Bethurum. Bethurum missed last week's game with Adams State because of an injured ankle, but is expected to be in top shape for the game Saturday. Mines comes into the game with a record that is not spectacular. They have a season record of six wins and two defeats, yet have been out-scored in the overall picture by their opponents, 113 to 109. The record also shows them with three conference wins and no losses, yet having only a four point spread over their opponents. Mines has scored 55 points as compared with their opponents 51 in conference battles. These figures show the Miners' ability to win the close ones.

On the other hand, the Tigers have out-scored their conference opponents 118 to 52, in winning three and losing one in conference play. The Miners have nobody to compare with the Tigers' Wes Boucher in the ground-gaining department or the whole Tiger running attack for that matter. It shapes up as a battle of ground attack against the air in this Saturday's tussle. It should be a good win for the Tigers and a well earned third conference title in a row.

Tigers Lose to Britishers 3-2; Travel to Denver

Last Sunday the CC soccer team ran up against an inspired Britisher's Club of Denver and went down to a 3-2 loss. The loss ruined CC's chances for a tie with Colorado University Silver for 3rd place in the league, but prospects are still very bright for maintaining the fourth place position.

In the first half the Tigers rolled to a 2-0 lead on goals by Horst Hergel. Just a few minutes later the Britishers were awarded a penalty shot for rough play in the penalty area. After being extremely lucky on the first three penalty shots taken this year, Walt Stone was faked out of position, for an easy goal. The Tigers managed to hold their slim 2-1 margin until half time.

With the change of sides the Britishers took advantage of the wind at their backs, and managed to keep the ball in CC territory for most of the second half. The tieing goal for the Britishers came after 10 minutes of the second half had elapsed, and they followed this in five minutes with what proved to be the winning goal. CC scored once during the second half on a fine head shot by Saad Sahawneh, but the goal was called back because of an offside penalty.

This Sunday CC completes the first half of the league schedule by traveling to Denver for a match with CU Gold at 1:00 at East High Field.

BOB POZZO, e converted tailbeck, will use his speed from the wingback position this Saturday against the Tigers.

Ptarmigans Plan First Big Ski Trip Over Thanksgiving

The Ptarmigan Ski Club announces the first of many great ski trips will be taken next weekend, over the Thanksgiving holiday, to Arapahoe Basin. According to the latest reports, there is over two feet of new snow in the Basin as of this writing and there will probably be more by next week.

The Club plans to leave Wednesday evening and return Sunday night. There will be four grand days of skiing for those who last that long! A school bus will be taken if enough people sign up who do not have transportation. Those who want to make the trip and do not have a way up should sign up at the Treasurer's office. There will be reduced tow rates for members of the club as well as lessons for non-members at a very low cost. Accomodations have been acquired so that on arrival Wednesday night everything will be taken care of and skiers can get right down to the business of getting ready for the next day and a full round of skiing.

This is the first really big ski trip of the season and should provide lots of good fun for all who make the trip. Don't forget to sign up for transportation at the Treasurer's office.

Boucher Continues Amazing Yards Per Carry Average

The Colorado College Tigers might have lost the ball game to Ft. Hays Saturday, but Wes Boucher maintained his great average per carry. Against Ft. Hays, he picked up 10.8 yards every time he was given the ball. This average tops even the 9.8 attributed to Buck McPhail of the Oklahoma Sooners and recognized as the top per carry average up to last week, for major colleges.

On the field he is rated the toughest man per pound in the region, playing 60 minutes of all but one of Colorado College's games this season. At 160 pounds, this 5-8, 20 year old junior is currently boasting a running average which is believed to be tops in the nation. Not once this year has he failed to gain yardage for the Tigers.

A zoology major and a son of Dr. Paul Boucher, head of the CC physics department, this Colorado Springs lad has lugged the pigskin 59 times for a total of 614 net yards rushing, giving him an average of 10.4 yards per try. This record is even more startling when Coach Bill Heiss of CC refers to Boucher as the finest tackler in the conference. It is indeed a sight to see this very quiet, even bashful lad hit the line with his burst of speed and cut with gay abandon through the secondary. But it is even more satisfying to view his precision-like blocking and shoestring tackling.

Playing on a club which has lost two games to Denver University and Colorado Aggies of the Skyline Eight conference, lost one more to Idaho State of the Rocky Mountain conference and won only four this season, Boucher has scored six touchdowns to lead 12 men who have participated in CC's 152 points this season.

In the Colorado State game, which CC won 26-0, Boucher was at his best, scoring twice and gaining 204 yards in 18 tries for an 11.4 average. Against Colorado Aggies, while his mates were getting drubbed, 54-13, Boucher was the leading back on the field, gaining 109 yards in eight tries for a 13.6 average. He missed one of CC's seven games this season because of a flu attack.

As a sophomore during the 1950 season, he was CC's leading ground gainer, netting 642 yards in 90 tries and losing only seven yards in 10 games. One of the most amazing facts in his bright record is that he has not lost a single yard from scrimmage this season.

I-M Cross-Country To Be Run Saturday

The annual traditional Colorado College Intramural Cross-Country Race will be held between halves of the Homecoming football game on Saturday, November 17, 1951 weather permitting. The five fraternities and the Independent organization will compete as units but individuals may enter. The same eligibility regulations will govern the race as in the past.

The team will consist of a maximum of six runners. Only the first 4 runners to finish on each team will constitute that team's score. However, the fifth and sixth runner of each team to finish will be counted in the place in which he finishes.

The team score will be computed on a basis of 1 point for the first runner to finish the race, 2 points for second, 3 points for third and so on. The team with the lowest score will be the winner; second lowest score is second, and so on. Four must finish to count in a team's score.

The race will be run over a two-mile course in the vicinity of the stadium and starting on the track around Washburn Field. The race will start at approximately 2:50 p. m. Runners will assemble outside Equipment Room at 2:40 p. m. to receive instructions and have numbers pinned on.

Entries must be in the Athletic Office not later than noon Wednesday, November 14th. Each organization is urged to equip it's team with a shirt of the same color.

Wall Holds Scoring Lead with Virg Stan Second, Boucher Fourth

Western State's Virgil Stan has pulled into second place in the Rocky Mountain conference football scoring race with 49 points.

Stan scored three touchdowns and four conversions against Highlands University last Friday to overtake Idaho State's Bus Conner who failed to score against Lewis and Clark College. Conner has 48 points

Inspired Ft. Hays Club Eases Past C. C. In 14-13 Thriller

By RAY SCHERER

Playing their best game of the season an inspired bunch of ball players at Ft. Hays State College came from behind to win a close contest from the Tigers 14-13 last Saturday night. It was the first win for the Kansas team in six games against CC. Marion Schmidt scored the two touchdowns while Don Campbell split the uprights twice for the victory. Campbell's first boot put the Kansas team out in front after they were trailing 6-0 when Spike Sarlo pitched to Bill Perkins and a 32-yard touchdown play in the first quarter. Ned Mann's first extra point attempt was wide and was the deciding factor in the final outcome. CC led 6-0 at halftime.

With eight minutes remaining in the third quarter a Tiger fumble set up the first Ft. Hays score. Sarlo was back to pass when he was hit on his own 31 yard line and fumbled the ball. Starting a drive from the 25 the Hays club drove to the end zone. Campbell's boot was good and Ft. Hays led 7-6. This advantage did not last long as CC drove 79 yards in eleven plays to go into the lead again, following Ned's perfect placement, 13-7. A pass from Sarlo to Perkins covered 30 yards and helped the cause. Boucher went into the end zone for the second CC score.

The Hays club came right back with a 45 yard pass play from Hess to Feist, and several sets of running plays led by Hess, Schmidt and Matal. On fourth down and two yards to go Schmidt cracked over with the tieing six points. Campbell came in to do the booting. He was cool and calm as he stepped into the ball and swept it as straight as an arrow over the crossbar. That one point loomed larger and larger as the ball game drew to a close and was the margin as the game ended.

Scoring by quarters:

	1	2	3	4	F
CC	6	0	0	7	13
Ft. Hays	0	0	7	7	14

Scoring for CC—Touchdowns: Perkins, Boucher. Conversions: Mann.

Scoring for Ft. Hays — Touchdowns: Schmidt (2). Conversions: Campbell (2).

Richard C. Bell Receives Air Force Advancement

The 2nd Sboran Beacon Unit has a new Stnff Sergeant. Richard C. Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Bell of Seneca Caverns, Bellevue, Ohio, has recently been promoted to this grade by headquarters of the 47th Bombardment Group, Light, the only four-engine jet bomber group in the Tactical Air Command of the United States Air Force, and of which the 2nd Sboran Beacon Unit is a part.

Sergeant Bell is presently assigned as a Senior Surveyor. Previous to entering the Air Force he attended Bowling Green State University and Colorado College and while there became a member of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. He was recalled to duty with the Air Force in March 1951, from the Air Force Reserve and then was assigned to Langly Air Force Base, Virginia, with duty as a Surveyor. He has spent a total of 10 months overseas in Greenland with the Aviation Engineers.

Swim Team Starts Practice Monday at Camp Carson Pool

The Colorado College swim team will hold its first practice Monday at the Camp Carson pool. With several returning lettermen and many new prospects expected to turn out, the school is looking forward to a successful season.

The team will meet in front of Cossitt Gym at 4:00 p. m. on Monday, November 19. Transportation to Camp Carson will be provided. Because of an apparent increase in interest, the Athletic Board has scheduled meets with all major schools in the region, including Colorado University, Denver University, Colorado State, Colorado Mines and Wyoming University.

Thetas, Phi Delts And K-Sigs Take Honors For Homecoming

By SHEILA HALL

CC's Homecoming celebrations came to a grand finale on Saturday night, Nov. 17, at the packed Homecoming dance held in the ballroom of the Broadmoor hotel, where Johnny Desmond's vibrant tones and Glenn Henry's sweet-soundin' band brought the 1951 festivities to a close. The Thetas received double honors this year, winning the cup for first place on their "Little Train That Could" float, and having their pledge, Peggy Gould, named Homecoming Queen at the game on Saturday, where she received her crown and an orchid.

Homecoming activities started off on Friday morning with—not a bang, but a whistle—as the determined freshman rushed in to seize the flag from the failing sophomores, in the middle of paint, axle grease and flying vegetables that were past their prime. No more paddles and bows, cords and black sweaters for the CC freshies!

Friday night, a pep rally, held out on Stewart Field in the chilling breezes, was comparatively well attended, with frozen students cheering on the team around a blazing bonfire.

Colorado College's Homecoming parade, starting at 10 on Saturday morning, and wound down through town then back to the campus with cheers from the many onlookers. In the fraternity float division, the Phi Delts with their big black boots took first; the Kappa Sigs chugging along in their tugboat and pulling a barge of beaten-up Miners, placed second; and the Sigs received honorable mention for their barbershop complete with quartet. The sorority division first was won by the Thetas and their train; Gamma Phis were awarded second for their realistic-looking lawnmower; and the Kappas and DG's tied for honorable mention: the Kappas floated down Tejon in a shiphoat, and the DG's demanded "No Monkey Business" with their over-sized banana-eater.

The Kappa Sigs captured first place in house decorations with their busy mountain miners and CC-ite takin' it easy in his room. The fortune-telling television set in front of the Phi Delt castle brought them a second place cup; while the Sigs won honorable mention for their TNT-blasting Tiger.

All in all, everyone agrees that the 1951 Homecoming has been a time to remember, thanks to the combined efforts of Colorado College, its friends, Johnny Desmond and Glenn Henry's hand.

—Cuts Courtesy of Gazette-Telegraph.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA and their "Little Train That Could" took first prize in the woman's division during the Homecoming parade last Saturday. The Phi Delts with their "Walking Boots" took the honors in the men's division. Runners up in the sororities were Gamma Phi Beta, and honorable mention to Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Gamma. The Kappa Sigs were second in the fraternities and honrable mention went to the Sigma Chis.

Leslie Lockhart To Be On Mademoiselle's Nat'l College Board

New York, N. Y.—Miss Leslie Lockhart of Colorado Springs, Colorado, a senior at Colorado College, has been chosen to be a member of "Mademoiselle's" national College Board. She is one of 700 students who competed with applicants from colleges all over the country to win a place on the Board, according to "Madamoiselle."

As a College Board member, she will represent her campus and report to "Madamoiselle" on college life and the college scene. She will complete three assignments that will help her explore her interests and abilities in writing, editing, fashion or art, in competition for one of twenty Guest Editorships to be awarded by the magazine, next June.

The Guest Editors will be brought to New York for four weeks next June to help write, edit or illustrate "Mademoiselle's" 1952 August College Issue. Their transportation will be paid to and from New York and they will receive a regular salary for their work.

In addition to their work on the magazine, Guest Editors will interview outstanding men and women in their chosen fields to help clarify their career aims, will visit fashion showrooms, publishing houses and advertising agencies and will be "Madamoiselle's" guests in a round of party and theatre going.

Hockey Season Gets Underway Saturday Night at Ice Palace

The 1951-52 hockey season gets off to a fast start this Saturday night with the Tiger varsity meeting the Colorado College Alumni in the traditional lid-lifter for the puck chasers. From the looks of the alumni squad which is being salted with a number of fast skating Jayvees, this contest could turn out to be one of the best of the series. Coach K. Freyschlag has lined up an alumni aggregation which boasts some of the greatest names in Tiger hockey history. The alumni will have Harry Whitworth, Chris Ray and Joe Slattery, all past greats, skating on one line; Bob Blaik, George Ewonus, from the 1940-41 and 45-46 squads, and Gordon Atkinson on a second line and Don Krouse, Tom Kelly, and Ed Robeson all up from the Jayvee squad, as a third line. The defense will line up with the great Mike Yalich, Ron Newson and Bruce Stewart behind the blue nets for the alums and will be mighty tough.

Coach Cheddy Thompson has his hands full in choosing among his fine, large squad, but has come up with some tentative assignments for the fray. Omer Brandt will lead one line at center with Dick Kennefic, Carl Lawrence and Andy Gambucci fighting it out for the wing slots. All-America Tony Frasca will center another

Won't You Join Skiers Over Thanksgiving?

CC's Ptarmigan Club has scheduled a skiing trip to Arapahoe Basin over the holidays. For those without automobile transportation a college bus will be provided, round trip transportation ticket only $1.50, the most reasonable price for a Ptarmigan trip in years. Hotel reservations have been made.

Sign up now in the treasurer's office and pick up your bus ticket. Join the CC crowd.

Free instruction will be provided Friday and Saturday to Ptarmigan Club members by Olivier Chesaux, former director and coach of the Lake Geneva Ski School, Switzerland.

The bus will leave Cutler at 6 a. m. Thursday morning, with skiing all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Arapahoe. The bus will leave Arapahoe Saturday, because of the extreme and lengthening crowds in attendance on Sunday.

Membership in the Ptarmigan, which will entitle you to free instruction, may be obtained from the treasurer's offic also. Dues two dollars.

Lead Nickels Won't Work in Juke Boxes

Recently both Lennox House and Cossitt have been plagued by a series of iron nickels. These slugs reposing in the ejector of the juke boxes have caused a number of service calls to E & M Music Company.

Bud Edmonds, (Class of '51) the technican for the juke box company is a little perturbed. He has a personal interest in these two machines as they make a major monetary contribution to his college tuition. Aside from this, half of the money accured from each machine is added to the general fund of Cossitt and Lennox. The slugs merely cut down the amount of free pleasure that this money buys for you and when the machine will not operate it will not make money.

Edmonds explains that the slug ejectors are most efficient. First they check the coin for size, then weigh the coin, and finally the coin drops past an intense magnetic field. The coin is deflected from a straight fall by this field. If the coin is not of the right metallic composition it falls out of the coin return. These magnets are so powerful that the coin return lever will not return the slugs. When this happens the ma-

APPRECIATION EXPRESSED

TO the Members of the Student Body of Colorado College:

With the excitement and rush of Homecoming all but a memory now, I would like to extend my congratulations and thanks to the many organizations that took such an active part in the festivities. It has been an honor and a pleasure to serve the student body as chairman of Homecoming. I know I speak for my entire committee when I say that we have tried to the best of our ability to give you a most enjoyable weekend. I especially want to thank the Assistant Enthusiasm Chairman Ron Timroth for his help in planning the activities as well as in handling the judging. Another vote of thanks should go to Mel Smith for a job well done in handling such a wonderful parade. Because of such fine cooperation with Miss Berger, secretary of the college, and my entire committee, I hope that every student, returning alumnus, and faculty member enjoyed the 1951 Colorado College Homecoming.

Sincerely,
Al Schoenfeld,
Enthusiasm Chairman.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Korea,

Colorado College
Colorado Springs, Colorado
Sirs:

We are seven in number. We are sailors. Due to uncontrollable circumstances we are serving as dental technicians with the First Marine Division in Korea. Besides that, we have other troubles.

It seems that we know hundreds of people when we left home, but they apparently do not remember the acquaintance. Mail call after mail call goes by and we find ourselves left standing with no letters.

We feel that you could remedy our plight by publishing a call for us in one of your college publications. Korea is a lonely place when we have no mail. We would greatly appreciate any letters that the young ladies of Colorado College will see fit to write to us.

Every member of our group wishes it to be known that we are very faithful in answering letters and that we will be very thankful for every letter we receive.

Our address is:

AROUND CAMPUS

By BETTY BROADBENT

Well, its all over but the smell! At last the freshmen can discard their dispised uniforms. The Freshman-Sophomore Fight has left many memories in the minds of all who were involved.

The Class of '55 is very proud of its accomplishment. Under the leadership of Harry Shearer, Ellie Tutt, and Sammy Maynes, it took about six minutes to get the flag from the top of the greased telephone pole. Ed Mathias was our hero for the day, using lineman's climbers to get to the flag. Hats off to you Ed!

The girls were having a field day, throwing anything and everything at the sophomores. Judy Clave and Grace Jack received the same treatment, however, as they advanced on the enemy, and they are still bearing their battle scars.

The Richardson twins and Tom Dunton proved to be quite a match for any girls who tried to hold them back. They must have eaten their Wheaties Friday morning.

Ron Pierce made a gallant attempt to capture the flag, but finally had to submit to the sophomores who pulled him back down the pole. They also showered Ron with a great variety of things, including a rotten egg, which went in his mouth, resulting in a rather upset stomach for Ron.

What happened to the sophomore gals Friday morning? There were only four girls backing up their fellows—let's not let that happen next year, Freshmen!

From all reports Ben Snyder was still recuperating from the fight Saturday afternoon. Were we too hard on you, Ben?

Probably the fondest memory of the fight will be the nice, sweet (?) odor that hung around Stewart Field. There are still piles of clothes in the halls of the dorms, and there are any number of shoes lined up along the fire escapes!

The excitement of the fight seemed to spread to the spectators. How about that, Andy?

Yes, it's over now, but this fight will long be remembered. As Ned Pfeiffer said after it was all over, "I'd rather play football any day!"

• STUDENT COUNCIL • HIGHLIGHTS

By LIZ HUGINS

All meetings and classes to meet in Lennox must be scheduled with Miss Fowler.

The photography staff of the TIGER and NUGGET thanks the Student Council for its aid. Everyone is welcome to see the dark room in Hagerman Hall.

$315.00 was made on the Variety Show and $70.00 was taken in from the Sadie Hawkins dance, making a total of $385.00 given towards the Campus Chest Drive. Totals from the individual solicitations are not yet available.

There is a committee on campus to take care of the Chest Drive, college calendars, etc. It is a remnant of the NSA but not connected with it. The council voted to retain the committee but will decide more about its formation. It was suggested that class commissioners be a part of this committee.

The Homecoming dance did not put us in the hole, in fact we should break even. More about this later on.

Because of the cold weather and the lateness of the season, Homecoming next year is scheduled for Oct. 25. The council also discussed the possibility of the CC section sitting on the east side of the football field.

CLUBLICITY

CC WIVES

The CC Wives will meet next Wednesday, November 28, at 8 p. m., at the home of Norma Watson, 16 E. Vermijo. All wives of students are welcome for a social get-together.

AWS

The AWS board meeting will be held on Thursday, November 28, instead of this week as originally scheduled.

La Comedie Francaise Venait a Colo. College

Last week the Comedie Francaise came to Colorado College. The French Club presented a film of the classic one act play of Alfred de Musset, "Il faut qu'une porte soit ouverte ou fermee," played by two members of the Comedie Francaise. About 45 students and townspeople veiwed the film in its two showings.

The French Club will meet again on Tuesday, November 27 at 7:15 in South Hall to see a movie on France and sing a number of French Christmas Carols. Jauuary 8th there will be two films: "All Roads Lead to Paris" and "The Ballet of the French Opera."

Of interest, not only to French students, but to lovers of comedy and especially French wit and humor, will be a Fine Arts Center showing on Tuesday, December 4 of Fernandel, "The Frenchman," in a picture entitled "Ignace."

Delta Gammas Have Scholarship Dinner

The Delta Cammas had a scholarship dinner at the lodge last Monday night to honor the girls who had made their grades at midterms. Added interest was given to the dinner by the presentation of big red apples and special food to the girls who made their grades, while those who did not had to wear dunce caps. After dinner Prof. Amanda Ellis of the CC English department, spoke on scholarship.

Try This for Size and Shape

How good are you at judging a woman's leg? Try your skill in Murray's Drug Store next week. Your campus Chesterfield representative, Byrd Parmelee, has filled one with Chesterfield cigarettes). The person guessing the nearest to the correct number of cigarettes will receive a carton of Chesterfields FREE and enjoy 200 smokes of that wonderful tobacco which leaves no unpleasant aftertaste.

Tigers Drop Homecoming Tilt And Lose RMC Title to Mines

By RAY SCHERER

I would not have believed we had lost that homecoming contest to Mines last Saturday if all I had seen was the statistics. Not one bit. I would have thought on the other hand that Colorado College should have scored twice as many touchdowns as their opponents. Let's look at some of those figures and see if maybe you might have thought so too. In the first down department the Tigers amassed a total of 19 while the Miners netted 11. It was 11 to 3 at the end of the first half. Total yards gained from scrimmage for CC amounted to 336, for Mines 160. The inferior passing attack of Colorado College garnered 154 of those yards while Mines could only assemble 41 yards through the air. The Miners lost 14 yards in eleven pass attempts in the first half.

Where then did the boys from Mines pick up fourteen points, seven more than was actually needed to beat CC? Let's look into the fumble division. Our Tigers fumbled the ball five times and lost the ball on all five occasions. I think the difference probably lay here or at least stemmed from this fact. Here's why: shortly after the second half got underway, Mines was forced to punt. Two plays later CC fumbled and lost the ball on their own forty-five yard line. It was only the second time in the game that the Miners had possession of the ball in Tiger territory, and apparently that was all it took, for the remainder of that period, as well as most of the fourth, was played in CC territory. Following that third period recovery the Miners were forced to punt, but their steller defense held the Tigers to four downs and Berthurum took the ensuing punt and returned it to the Tiger's 41. He was then good to the CC 26 and a first down, from which Wyman caught one of Lee's passes on the two. From there Zolkowski found his way into the Bengal end zone and Automatic Turner put the Miners out in front to stay 7-6, nullifying Perkins' catch of a Sarlo pass and a 14 yard touchdown play in the first period.

The Miners went fifty yards for their second score in the fourth quarter with Zolkowski scoring again; the TD that really put the clamps on CC despite the hard running of Andy Gambucci.

So, that was it. Mines played a tight defensive game especially inside their 30 yard line. We played inspired ball in the first half and didn't necessarily let down in the second.

The Tigers were in scoring position at least three times in the first half but could only punch it over on one occasion. The Miners on the other hand capitalized on two of their three opportunities and that was the difference. The final score once again, and we will probably not forget it for a long time, Mines 14 and CC 6.

Saad Sets Record As Tigers Maul CU 6-1 to Take Fourth

Led by an unexpected scoring spree by Captain Saad Sahawneh, the Tiger booters mauled an outclassed CU Gold Team 6-1 in Denver last Sunday. Sahawneh counted five of the six CC goals, which not only helped break the team scoring record of four goals set only two weeks ago, but was by far the outstanding individual scoring record accumulated since CC started playing soccer.

With a starting lineup featuring most of the men who had not played this season, CC was forced to an early disadvantage by a CU score; but then Sahawneh, Kin Maung and Eric Drexler were sent into the game, and from that point on there was no doubt about the outcome. The tieing goal was scored by Frank Kin Maung on a pass from Jack Hattstaedt. The tiebreaker, and what proved to be the winning goal was scored by Sahawneh after he received a fine pass from Mel Smith. The third goal came on the first penalty shot awarded to the Tigers this year, and Sahawneh easily beat the CU goalie Dave Evans. Sahawneh scored twice more before intermission for a 5-1 CC lead. In the second half the Tigers took it easy and did not display too much of their wares for the CU Silver team was scouting the game. The final score came off a corner kick by Kin Maung which Sahawneh easily headed into the nets.

The win enabled the Tigers to clinch a fourth place spot in the eight team Colorado Soccer Association. The first match in the John H. Love Memorial Trophy Cup playoffs will be against the CU Silver team in Denver on December 8th. It was in this tourney that last year CC upset two favored teams and entered the state finals only to lose out to Mines.

The Phi Gams walked off with first place in the annual cross-country race held at half-time of the homecoming game with Colorado Mines. Courty Bymaster, as usual, won the race with little trouble, but the Phi Gams placed enough men ahead of the Betas to win the cup.

The results of the intramural tennis are also in and the Phi Gams also captured a tie for first in this event. The Independent men, Del Hitch in particular, also garnered four points in the tennis. Sigma Chi took third in tennis.

Braving a 19 degree temperature, Sally Powell, Shirley Gregory, Lorna Langer, Marion Johnston, Gay Gould, and Thora Hodge gave an exhibition of synchronized swimming at the Garden of the Gods Club Friday night. Saturday, the same group took first place in a ballet event at Denver University. Four other girls also swam for CC Saturday and captured a fourth place in a swim meet at Denver University. Participating in the meet were M. A. Hodge, Sue Beer, Mary Stevens, and Ann Clark. All these girls deserve much credit as they have been practicing since the latter part of September.

The intramural swim meet will be held December 14, and all girls are welcome to participate for their sororities or independent groups. There will be a three hour requirement for practice. The CC Swim Club will give an exhibition swim during the swimming meet and everyone is urged to come along and see some real swimming!

The defense seems well stocked with power in the persons of Bill Thompson, Capt. Bud Eastwood, Len Maccini, Steve Leolich, up from the Jayvees, and newcomer Jim Wier.

There will be a Young America hockey contest preceding the Tiger-Alumni game. The "little ones" will play at 7:00 p. m. with the feature attraction coming off at about 8:15. You had better come early, however because seats at Colorado College hockey games are at a premium and it's first come, first served.

Tickets are only $1.00 and the proceeds go to the hockey and basketball training tables and therefore it is a very worthy cause. Don't forget, Saturday night at the Broadmoor Ice Palace for the Colorado College Varsity versus the Colorado College Alumni.

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

La Salle Quartet Gives Benefit Concert Tonight At Art Center

By LIZ PARKER

Tonight at 8 p. m. the members of the La Salle String Quartet of Colorado College will give a benefit concert sponsored by the Junior League with the entire proceeds going to the Cerebral Palsy Clinic and the Day Care Center. This is the group's first regular concert of the season and the performance will be given at the Fine Arts Center. The personnel of the Quartet have varied musical backgrounds and years of experience. Walter Levin, violinist, began his musical training in Berlin and later studied in Tel Aviv under Rudolf Bergman. He has a degree from the University of London and later studied with Ivan Galamian at the Juilliard School of Music where he received his post graduate diploma.

At the age of ten, Henry Meyer, violinist in the group, made his musical debut as soloist with the Dresden Philharmonic. After graduating from the Academy of Music in Prague he became a member of the Prague String Quartet. Mr. Meyer studied in Paris where he won the Milstein presentation violin and later did graduate work on a scholarship at the Juilliard School of Music.

Violist of the La Salle Quartet, Peter Kamnitzer graduated from the Manhatten School of Music in New York and studied under Milton Katnis at the Juilliard School. He has played with the string quartet of San Antonio Symphony and the Metropolitan Opera orchestra, and has toured the United States as first violist with the Robert Shaw Chorale.

Paul Anderson, cellist, attended North Texas State College where he received his B. M. degree and the University of Wisconsin where he received his MM degree while studying on a graduate fellowship. He has toured with the Parkman Symphonetta, and has been a member of the St. Louis Symphony and the Grant Park Symphony of Chicago.

Tickets for this benefit concert may be obtained at the College Music Department, Perkins Hall, or immediately before the concert at the Fine Arts Center box office. A special student rate of $1.00 has been established while general admission tickets are $2.00.

Following the performance there will be an informal reception in the Music Room of the Fine Arts Center for the Quartet and all those attending the concert.

Featured on tonight's program will be Beethoven's String Quartet, Opus 18, No. 3, Hindemuth's Third Quartet; and Brahm's Quartet in B-Flat Major.

Trained Specialists in International Activities Are Vitally Needed

There is a vital need for trained specialists to plan and administer the expanding international activities of the United States. This point was stressed by Kenneth Holland, president, of the Institute of International Education at a recent conference of educational, industrial, labor and civic leaders convened by the Institute in New York City.

Mr. Holland, a recognized authority in the field of international education, urged, that more students prepare themselves for foreign study under student exchange programs and by availing themselves of the specialized training in area studies offered in this country.

Mr. Holland pointed out the many new programs which are today being instituted by the United State government that requires the services of Americans to administer them. Examples are; the Department of State, ECA and the UN. In addition governmental agencies, American business corporations, and private agencies employ additional thousands of Americans.

Emphasizing the need for special training for such employment, Mr. Holland continued: "All of these persons would do a better job if they had some foreign experience through exchange programs before undertaking this work —or at least some special preparation through area studies or other courses which would have given them a better understanding of the ways and methods of the people with whom they are dealing. The fact is, we have greater economic and military resources than we have trained leaders to carry out such programs."

Mr. Holland called for the expansion of all facilities in the field of international education. "We need thousands of trained men and women to carry on the operations of the Department of State and other government and international agencies and we need many others in American communities as teachers, journalists, editors, writers, clergymen, commentatora or just enlightened citizens who will be active in clubs, civic organizations or study groups or fill the myriad other places in the American community where an informed individual can exercise a constructive influence on public opinion."

Admission to the Harvard school —which has been offering graduate training for business administration for more than 40 years— is open to any man who shows promise of developing business leadership, Dean David said. A large percentage of successful graduates of the school have come from general liberal arts courses in college. Others have come from the more specialized preparation of undergraduate study of business and economics or engineering. No specific course of college studies is required.

Thus, neither financial nor academic restrictions are permitted to deny to men of promise.

Trail Blazes For Soft Seats In Perkins Hall

There's good news tonight! Especially for all who have been complaining for years about the "solid rock" seats in Perkins Hall. Now you can relax in blissful comfort during both exams and performances because someone has taken compassion on the unfortunate fellows "blessed" with long legs which just don't seem to fit between the rows in Perkins. The management of the Trail Theater has actually donated 450 upholstered seats to the college.

Work on the floor of Perkins which will be raised two feet allowing those in the back to see the stage (this project is sponsored by the Women's Educational Society) and installation of the new seats will be carried on during Christmas vacation.

Let's show our appreciation by patronizing the Trail Theater. Latest attraction at the Trail is "Cement Mixer," starring an illustrious cast including the Painters All-Star Review—this week only. And next week you will get an opportunity to see the smash hit, "Carpenter Capers" — don't miss it!

YOUR HONOR COUNCIL MEETS

By AL STRAND

The following list of colleges and universities are all under the honor system. Colorado College is one school in thirty-eight throughout the country with the honor system. Frequently, the college receives requests from other schools asking what the procedure is to start an honor system. This is an indication that the honor system is a working method and the schools without it are hoping to start an honor code on the various campuses. The more a student applies himself to the honor system, the more beneficial it will be to help him in his future. Our honor system has a number of defects in it because it is still comparatively young, yet we are striving to perfect its structure. If we as students sincerely believe in the honor system we can make it work and it will be a major influence in our lives and in the lives of people we are associated with.

CHAPEL BEHAVIOR

For awhile everything seems to run smoothly in this school, but then the administration always comes up with some new adolescent edict, that serves to point out once more its lack of understanding as far as student problems are concerned.

The latest order from "GHQ" concerns "something new", ah yes, chapel behavior. The Red Lantern, whose job it is to take attendance in chapel has received instructions to turn in the names of those people reading newspapers during the service, but they have also been told not to disturb those reading books. It is perfectly acceptable to read "God's Little Acre" or one of Mickey Spillane's lurid accounts of sex in the big city. But to read the "New York Times," no, that is forbidden!

The chapel problem is one of the greatest troubles existing on this campus today. The Chapel Board has been trying to make progress, but has had little success with certain members of the administration.

Is it not yet apparent that a compulsory chapel service is not wanted by the students, and the present disrespect shown by them during the hour is but one way of expressing their disapproval of the present system.

OUR FOSTER CHILD

EDITOR'S NOTE—This letter from CC's foster child, Jean Pierre Portzenheim, is the second to be published in the TIGER. Anyone wishing to write him should contact Joan Sheppard or Bob Humphreys.

Dear friends of Colorado College,

I am very happy today to be able to thank you again for your package, and for the clothes I received. What made me happiest was the beautiful sport shirt of very warm wool which will keep me warm. I have already worn it, and it seems to me that it will be very practical in the cold windy weather. Also, thank you for my beautiful socks, and underwear — these will be of great use to me, and I shall wear them with more pleasure, thinking that it is thanks to my little friends that I shall be warm this winter.

Our Foster Child
Jean Pierre Portzenheim

The first of November for All Saints' Day I went with Mama and my brother, Andre to the grave of my dear Papa. All the soldier's tombs were very pretty and covered with flowers. The sun was beautiful. We had two days of vacation, and on Friday we went back to school.

I am doing my very best at school and soon we will be having examinations for the end of the tri-mester.

Once again, my dear friends, I thank you very much with all my heart.

Your friend,
Jean Pierre

ONE OPINION

By Dan James

Robert Cassinetti's lifeless body had been discovered a short while before while in his solitary cell at the El Paso county jail. During the night he had brought to an end his physical life.

"Good riddance. It'll save the taxpayers a lot of money." That was the real estate man waiting for his haircut.

"And the state loses a taxpayer." That was the barber.

"It's too bad. I wanted to see him fry. They ought to pass a law or do sumpin' about this. I been cheated." That's a neighbor.

"I'm glad they didn't have to kill him." That's an eight-year-old boy.

"But they did." That was his mother.

Who "they" are, no one really knows. His parents, his teachers, his neighborhood, the reformatory which only punished, the penitentiary, society which was to repeatedly and forever brand and rebrand him as an ex-con long after his debt has been paid, a sick mind? All of them? And "they" probably number many more.

Robert Cassinetti is now buried. He doesn't have to fight any more. He might have been a doctor. He took a three-year pre-med course by correspondence in prison at one time. But what medical board would have ever licensed him? He was buried by the county. Those who loved him couldn't be found or they didn't have the money.

He is dead. And society was cheated out of its revenge. But human institutions, limited and ignorant, had begun to kill the growing kid long before he'd begun to live.

Selfishness, self-interest, a social system promising prestige, status, and reward to the cunning and the slick, a batch of values giving glorification to the great "I" in its thirsty search for survival and power, a philosophy of living at once both preaching brotherhood and repudiating love —all of it beat its suffocating tune on Robert Cassinetti. He was a part of it. His own survival depended upon playing the game. In the manifold contradictions of human life he was caught, as so many of the rest of us are. But for him there was no kind of escape. His whole training had precluded any.

We were to kill him to protect society. He beat us to it— to protect himself. We showed him the futility of living; he went along with us.

"Every man is a variation of yourself. No man's guilt is not yours, nor is any man's innocence a thing apart." That's Saroyan.

"I feel lousy." That was the barber again.

Vandalism in Lennox House A Disgrace to Student Body

By NANCY WOLFER

That structure at the corner of Nevada and Yampa, commonly known as Lennox House is our student union. The problem is that at the moment it hasn't been treated as such. Some resourceful soul hacked out a portion of the rubber floor mat which had been recently purchased for the floor around the pool table. Perhaps he had a new floor in mind for the jalope. This is but one example of the latest seige of destruction. Stones were removed from the front porch at the cost of a great deal more effort than they were worth. All magazines of a fairly recent date have a way of disappearing. It's certainly far from refreshing to find yourself confronted with some ancient publication when you hoped for some current events between classes.

It doesn't make sense—it's our cash that supports Lennox and it's run strictly for our benefit. It should naturally follow that the atudent body at large would show a little more respect for their property.

The Lennox House Board would like any meetings to be held in Lennox to be scheduled with Mrs. Fowler. Also—air your complaints about the union to Kay Kohler, Sally Rambeau, or Nan Wolfer. They'll do their best to see to necessary improvements—but let's make it a fair exchange.

Vandalism Policy

The following is taken from the "Tigress Tips" handbook;

1. "The Drinking Code and Vandalism Policy has been set up by the Student Council and Committee an Undergraduate Life: Legislatian applied ta both is contained in the ASCC Constitutian.

(a) Each and every student is responsible for knowing the Drinking Code which states that, 'Liquor in any farm is not allawed on campus and aff-campus drinking is not approved of by the college.'

(b) The established policy regarding vandalism determines that vandalism, or impraper canduct, whether fram drinking or ather actions, may result in dismissal fram college.

2. "Vandalism as Disturbances around Women's Residence Halls: 'Any unauthorized persan caught in the women's residence halls after hours, or in any part of the dorm outside of the parlor at any other time, after trial by the Student Council and Committee on Undergraduate Life, and found guilty, shall be snbject to dismissal from schaol. Disturbances around the women's residence halls shall be construed as acts of vandalism and ba dealt with under the Drinking and Vandalism legislations of the ASCC Constitutian, which may provide for dismissal.'

"The Board of the Quadrangle Association is responsible to the ASCC Student Council for upholding these policies in the residence halls."

Uhlmann Awards Contest Announced

Although the deadline for submittal of manuscripts is still months away, growing interest on tha part of botb graduates and undergraduate students at accredited schools and colleges all over the United States and Canada is being shown in tha Third Annual Uhlmann Awards Student Contest for 1952.

Three years ago, Mr. Richard Uhlmann, then president of the Chicago Board of Trade, initiated this contest to develop and stimulate among college students a broader interest in the marketing problems of the grain business. Incidentally the trade offers many openings to qualified studcnts graduating from college.

Participation in the contest is open to any student, graduata or undergraduate, of any and all educational institutions in this country and Canada. It is also open to lecturers and instructors who are working for advanced degrees.

Such participation consists of the preparation of original manuscripts which deal with an analysis of some germane aspect of the grain business with particular respect to its marketing pbases. These papers must be in the office of tha Public Relations Department, Chicago Board of Trade, Room 666, not later than noon on May 1, 1952. Outstanding leaders in the grain and allied businesses will judge and mark the entries. Substantial awards are being offered to the winning contestants with 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes and four honorable mentions in addition, in eacb of the two participating classes—graduate and undergraduate.

Eligible students and instructors who wish to learn more about the contest are urged to contact the departments of economics, marketing or agronomy, at their own schools, or the Public Relations Department of the Chicago Board of Trade.

College Represented At Meeting of Leaders In Parasitology Field

Dr. Robert M. Stabler, professor of Zoology at Colorado College, and three of his major students, Herbert Klewer, Allen Mathies, and Andrew Spielman, have just returned from the meetings on Tropical Medicine and Parasitology, held in Chicago. The meetings, which were held Nov. 15, 16 and 17, involved sessions of the American Academy of Tropical Medicine, the National Malaria Society, the American Society of Tropical Medicine, and the American Society of Parasitologists. An active member of the last three named societies, Dr. Stabler, is also beginning his eighth year as Treasurer of the Parasitologists.

At the meetings, such topics as the recent methods of treatment for malaria, results of this disease upon returning Korean veterans and biological studies of the worm which causes elephantiasis among other problems in the field of parasitology were discussed.

Stanford U. Offers Graduate Scholarship In Journalism Field

Tha Institute for Journalistic Studies is now receiving applications for graduate scholarships in journalism for the 1952-53 academic year. Two fellowships and a scholarship to be awarded carry stipends of $1,200, $1,400, and $1,400-$1,800.

Requests for additional information should be addressed to the Director, Institute for Journalistic Studios, Stanford University, Stanford, Calif. Feb. 15, 1952, is the deadline for formal applications.

Tho awards, in memory of former students at Stanford, are the Charles Samuel Jackson, Jr. Fellowship, the Melville Jacoby Fellowship (awarded to a student preparing to work in the Orient), and the Stanley Stemmer Beaubaire Scholarship.

OCCUPATIONAL OUTLOOK HANDBOOK GIVES EMPLOYMENT INFORMATION

Secretary of Labor, Maurice J. Tobin, has announced that a booklet entitled. "Occupational Outlook Handbook," which is prepared by the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics in cooperation with the Veterans Administration, contains up-to-date information about career planning for more than 400 occupations. Of special interest to college students is the data on immediato and long-range employment outlook. Also the book contains information on training requirements to help the student make a wiser selection of his major and courses.

The Handbook covers the major industries and occupations through-out the country. As well as long-run employment trends, the book gives the latest available data on earnings, training and qualifications.

Personal copies of this 575 page, illustrated Handbook may be purchased from tho Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. for $3.00 per copy. The Handbook (BLS Bulletin 998) is availnble at the nearest public employment service office.

KINNIKINNIK MEETINGS TWICE WEEKLY IN LENNOX; NUMEROUS POSITIONS OPEN

Staff meetings for those interested in working on the KINNIKINNIK, CC's literary magazine, will be held twice a week in Lennox house. The meetings will be conducted on Tuesday and Friday afternoons at 3:30 with both meetings being identical so that those who cannot attend at one time will have a chance to be present at the other. The twice-weekly meetings were begun this week. Anyone who did not know about the Tuesday meeting is urged to attend the one this Friday afternoon at 3:30.

KINNIKINNIK will be moved into a new office on third floor Lennox, along with the TIGER and NUGGETT offices, sometime next week. Tuesday meetings will be conducted by Nancy Ferguson and the one on Friday by Leslie Lockhart, coeditors of the magazine. Hiram Liggett will be present to handle the business management.

Positions are open on the KINNIKINNIK staff for editors in the following departments: art, radio and drama, music and creative writing. Students are needed to work in these departments and with the business manager. There are also openings for general work in typing and layout.

KINNIKINNIK is a student magazine and needs student work to make it a success. The magazine is composed of student contributions in short stories, poetry, essays and articles on music, drama, radio and art. Anyone who is interested in working on KINNIKINNIK is urged to attend the staff meetings either Tuesday or Friday at 3:30 in Lennox.

Catholic Students in Day of Recollection

The Colorado College Newman Club will hold its annual Day of Recollection next Sunday, Dec. 2, at El Pomar. Cars will leave from Lennox at 9:30 in the morning.

The day will begin with 10 o'clock mass, followed by brunch, and will close with dinner at 5:30. Father McShean, S. J., an outstanding retreat master, will conduct the discussions and the question box.

All students wishing to attend should call Father Freudenstein, Main 1238.

AROUND CAMPUS

By BETTY BROADBENT

Schoolbooks disappeared, suitcases were packed, last-minute reservations were made, and most of Colorado College was off to a Thanksgiving weekend of fun. The percentage of students took the first train home—for a taste of turkey the way Mother fixes it. The mountains claimed another large group—the ski enthusiasts. And then there were those who stayed here and kept the lights burning on the campus. It is hard to say which group had the best time.

Needless to say, there were several casualities on the ski trips. Joan Martin has her arm in a sling——the result of a bad cut received when she fell on the edge of her ski. Carole Berry is hobbling around on one foot—she sprained the other ankle. Paul Trietsch finds it rather painful to sit down, after being hit by a chair lift at Arapahoe. Margaret Gore is also recovering from a very spirited weekend.

Parties at the resorts seemed to be the main evening entertainment. Among the more enthusiastic party-goers were Chuck Mollin, Clark Kimball, Hank Hofmann and Johnny Wolf. After such good times, who would want to come back to studies?

On the home front all seemed quiet, but was it really? It's true that the dorms were quite deserted, but that's where the girls who stayed had the advantage over those who went home. By the end of the week, Bemis began to take on the effects of a date bureau—the situation was that serious for the men!

Sue Pfeiffer, Lewise Austin and Judy Baker spent a most enjoy-

Fijis Furnish Fun With Barn Dance

It's time to scare up those old blue jeans and the swankiest western shirts because the Phi Gam barn dance has rolled around again. The dance will be at the fraternity house this Saturday night from 9 to 12. Enterance to the Fiji hayloft will be via a slide from the side window. Inside the Cascade Castle dancing is to be to record music. Chaperoning the fun are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taitt and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stabler and Mother Hill.

Fireside Gotherings Continued by Koppos

Actives and pledges of Kappa Kappa Gamma will entertain friends from the other sororities and the Independent Women next Tuesday night at the Kappa lodge when the sorority continues its fireside gatherings. Held successfully in the past few years, the firesides are informal social get-togethers for dessert, bridge and talk. An added attraction of this year's initial fireside will be a special speaker.

DG DOINGS

Miss Nina Schafer, secretary of province X, is visiting the local chapter of Delta Gamma this week. Following a dinner given in her honor last Monday night, Miss Schafer spoke to the chapter.

Libby Sheldon and Marian Vandemoer have recently been elected to the jobs of pledge trainer and vice president respectively.

DANCE CLUB

The dance club will meet at 4:30 on Friday afternoon to make plans for the demonstration at Cheyenne High school.

G-PHI PLEDGES GIVE DINNER

The actives of Gamma Phi Beta were honored by their pledge class with a dinner given Wednesday night at the lodge. An Italian motif was carried out in table decorations, menu and program. Louise Warren was in charge of the dinner.

K-SIG CLIPPINGS

Kappa Sigma's pledges will hold open house for the pledges of Kappa Alpha Theta this Sunday evening at 7:30. Mother Haugh will chaperone.

Bill Schact has been elected the new president of the Kappa Sig pledge class to replace Bob Rompre who was called into the service Nov. 16. Bob is now in San Diego with the Marines.

THETA NEWS

Next Monday night the Thetas will have an informal dinner at the Theta lodge. These dinners will be held every other Monday night.

This Thursday from 2:00 till 4:00, the Thetas will have an informal get-together at the Thta lodge. Cokes and cookies will be served.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Canterbury Club will meet at Grace church this Sunday at 6:15 p. m.

VESPER SERVICES

Advent Season Vesper services will be held in Shove Chapel, Sunday, Dec. 2 at 4:30 p. m. The organist for these Sunday afternoon vesper services is Miss Jessie Newgeon Hawkes. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

PTARMIGAN CLUB REORGANIZES; FIRST SKI TRIP GREAT SUCCESS

By LIZ BURTON

Making use of a four-day Thanksgiving vacation, the CC ski club took its first trip of the season to Arapahoe Basin where the skiers found both ample snow and excellent instruction. Beginning, intermediate and advanced lessons were given by Ollie Cheseaux, Sun Valley instructor and former racer from the Swiss Alps, who will work with the CC skiers this year.

The weekend was a successful experiment to drum up enthusiasm in reorganizing the Ptarmigan club. The new club will be a more closely knit organization with trips by bus being planned for every weekend, reservations made at the same lodge for everyone and reduced rates for meals, cabins and tow.

Later in the season men and women's ski teams will be organized under the direction of Ollie to compete with outher schools in relays, racing and slalom.

For the benefit of those who wish to keep in condition or to build up their strength, a calisthenics class will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evening at Cossitt gym. Those who wish to sign up for weekend trips may do so on the preceding Thursday.

These improvements in club organization have been made to encourage more students to become active skiers, not just snow bunnies, and to instigate skiing as the principal sport at Colorado College.

French Club Meets For Xmas Program

The French Club met last Tuesday in Hayes House to see a film on France and to sing French Christmas carols. "Un flambeau, Jeannette, Isabelle" and "Pata-pata-pan" were the most popular.

Next Tuesday, December 4, the Fine Arts Center will show a movie of Fernandel, "Ignace." Ignace is a buck private assigned as a colonel's orderly in his villa. He becomes confused at the behavior of the colonel, a dancer (his "niece"), the colonel's wife, a baron, the colonel's real niece and a dance master. When an inspecting general comes to call and the colonel is not on hand, Ignace saves the day in a clever and (to the spectator) hilarious manner.

Students of French, of the theater, of military strategy, of geometry and of general studies will find this picture extremely entertaining.

Gamma Phi Betas Colorado Chapters Fete Founders Day

The three Colorado chapters of Gamma Phi Beta met at the Denver University lodge last Saturday to commemorate the founding of the sorority.

A fashion show luncheon was followed by talks from each of the chapter presidents. Mrs. Lucy Lennox of Colorado Springs was guest speaker.

Those members representing the Colorado College chapter were: Susan Schlessman, president of chapter, and DeDe Staskal, Cynthia Golitzen, Thora Hodge, Sandy Shepherd, Dianne Lanning, Carolyn Slack and Barbara Ramsey.

The Alpha Phi chapter of Gamma Phi Beta was visited this week by the province secretary, Mrs. Gladys Collier. A dessert in her honor was given at the lodge on Monday night.

HONOR SYSTEM ADVOCATED BY A&M GROUP

A meeting of about ninety students approved overwhelmingly the establishment of an honor system on the campus. Students in attendance concluded that an honor system would be the most effective means to attain the end of preventing cheating. If the plan is approved by the student council, it will go to the student body to be voted upon

TIGERS PLACE SIX MEN ON ALL-RMC TEAM

Nat'l Teachers Exams To Be Given in Feb.

The National Teacher Examinations, prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, will be given at 200 testing centers throughout the United States on Saturday, Feb. 16, 1952.

At the one-day testing session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Non-verbal Reasoning; and two of nine Optional Examinations, designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught. The college which a candidate is attending, or the school system in which he is seeking employment, will advise him whether he should take the National Teacher Examinations, and which of the Optional Examinations to select.

Application forms, and a bulletin of information describing registration procedure and containing sample test questions, may be obtained from college officials, school superintendents, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Completed applications, accompanied by proper examination fees, will be accepted by the ETS office during, November, December, and in January so long as they are received before Jan. 18, 1952.

BASKETBALL TEAM TRAVELS FRIDAY TO ADAMS STATE FOR SEASON OPENER

The 1951 basketball season gets underway this Friday and Saturday with the 1951 edition of Tigers traveling to Alamosa to meet Adams State quintet in a double header over the weekend. With only three returning lettermen from the squad which copped second in the RMC last year, this year's squad is an unknown quanity. Returning from last years squad are Jack Orsborn, Mel Kensinger and Jim Bergstrom.

The tentative starting line-up for the games with Adams State finds Jack Orsborn and Jim Bergstrom, both lettermen, at the guards, Don Stone 6-1 Sophomore from Durango, Colorado, at center, Tom Dunton 6-4 sophomore from Minneapolis, and Ben Snyder 6-2 Sophomore from Bloomington, Illinois at the forward slots. Letterman Mel Kensinger is running a close sixth man and will see plenty of action in the series at Alamosa. The rest of the squad also shows a lack of varsity experience. Included are three freshmen, two sophomores and one junior. Bob Voshall is the lone junior; Mose Harrison from Collinsville, Illinois and Jack Stiegelmeier from Bloomington, Illinois are the sophomores; and Sam Maynes from Durango, Bob Geary a Wayne, Penn. product and Ed Lodmell standing 6-5 and hailing from Rapid City, S. D. are the freshmen rounding out the squad of twelve.

Boucher, Mann, Swank, Young, Scarcia, Perkins, Are Honored

Denver—Colorado College's fighting Tigers placed four men on the Associated Press all Rocky Mountain conference football first team, more than any other squad in the conference. Driving Fullback Wes Boucher, Little All-America candidate, was an almost unanimous choice at his post, and End Bill Perkins, Center Gene Swank and Guard Ned Mann all placed high in the voting.

Coaches and sports writers voted top honors to three players —Quarterback Virg Stan of Western State; the choice of all but one expert; and Guard Eddie Samera of Idaho State and Boucher, who were the only two named on both the offensive and defensiva squads.

Champion Colorado Mines landed three players on the offensive platoon—End Tom Wyman, Tackle Darrell Beckley and Halfback Ron Bethurum.

Colorado State and Colorado College led with three players each on the defensive platoon. Guard Les Prothe of Colorado State was an almost unanimous choice. Center Don Lewis and Halfback Larry Keck were other defensive selections from C-State. Tackle Marion (Brig) Young, Halfback Glenn Scarcia and Boucher are the CC defensive choices.

Others who received first team votes: Ends Martin Schmidt, Colorado State and John Volosin, Colorado Mines; Tackles R. Anderson, Idaho State, John Yaklich, Colorado College, and Norman Bertoia, Colorado State; Guards Wally Arnold, Colorado Mines, Rogers Jacobson, Western State, Bob Foster, Western Stata, and Wilson Little, Colorado Mines; Center Bill Roney, Montana State and Adam Thomas, Colorado Mines; Backs Bus Connor, Idaho State; Chet Lee, Idaho State; Bud Felton, Idaho State; Ed Ziolkowski, Colorado Mines; Bob Tasma, Western State; John Sarlo, Colorado College, Duane Garnett, Colorado State.

TIGERS TRAVEL TO D. U. SATURDAY FOR BENEFIT GAME WITH PIONEERS

Changes and more changes were the order of the week for the Colorado College Tigers as they made hasty preparations to face a new, vastly-improved Denver University hockey sextet Saturday night in DU's Arena before a sell-out Community Chest crowd. Packing what looks to be the majority of the scoring punch into two lines instead of three, Coach Cheddy Thompson was forced to make this decision as a result of a broken leg suffered by newcomer Bob Carruthers, nifty offensive right wing, in the opening exhibition match with the CC Alumni.

Omer "The Bull" Brandt continues to center a potent line of Andy Gambucci at left wing and Dick Kennefic at right wing. This leaves last year's center of the "pony line," Leo Soligo, back at his old pivot position. Soligo's line, which last season was the top defensive line on the CC roster, will be flanked by two men just pushed up from the Jayvee team, left wing Ed Robson and right wing Bill Clark.

Injuries, which are just beginning to leave defenseman Len Maccini and which despairingly crept into the hockey career of Carruthers, dealt Thompson's forces another blow Tuesday when it was learned that Jim Weir, new defenseman, would be slowed down for a spell. He has a pair of badly bruised ribs, accompanied by torn cartilages, which may or may not keep him out of the DU game.

In preparing to face the speedy team reported to take the ice for Neil Celly, new DU coach, Thompson will still be waiting until tha last minute to name his starting goalie. Ken Kinsley, newcomer handed the advantage of working against his week-long teammates in the Alumni game, appeared to have all the finesse needed to man the CC nets this season. However, he still must nudge out veteran Bill Dewire, who performed so consistantly for the Tigers last season in their march to the NCAA championships.

VARSITY-ALUMNI PLAY TO 5-5 STALEMATE

Alumni Stars Give CC Varsity Pre-Season Scare in 5-5 Tie

By RAY SCHERER

A highly spirited Alumni outfit, bolstered by several standout CC Jayvees forced the highly touted Colorado College varsity hockey team to squirm, wiggle, and worm their way to a 5-5 tie last Saturday night before 2,200 fans at the Broadmoor Ice Palace in a stirring season opener. After the first twenty minutes the majority of the crowd, for one reason or another, was pulling for the alumni with somewhat the enthusiasm of a crowd rooting their team home to victory in a national contest. The hustle and crowd sympathy both went together Saturday night as the alumni and their JV line came from behind three times, then barged into the lead with but five minutes remaining in the game.

JAYVEES STANDOUT

In the first period with the varsity leading 2-0 on goals by carruthers and Brandt the Jayvee line of Crouse, Robson and Kelly skated onto the ice to knot the count at 2-2 before getting a rest. The first alumni goal came when Robson gave Crouse a beautiful pass in front of the cage and Don drove it home. Robson got the tieing goal himself when he took a pass from Crouse and Kelly and dented the twines. The varsity managed a third goal a few seconds later when Carruthers, scoring his second, skated in and slipped one by Ken Kinsley only to have Big Mike Yalich come up with another equalizer before the period was over.

From this time on the crowd was surprised as they expected the better conditioned youngsters to skate away with the contest. If condition was on the side of the varsity, the alumni made up for it in brain work, for the game was played on equal terms in the second and third stanzas. In that second period Ron Hartwell took a neat pass from Bob Carruthers and sent the puck into the net for the fourth marker. The alumni's mighty third line which accounted for three of their five goals, got their third of the evening at 18:39 of that period when Tom Kelly smashed the lose puck between Bill Dewire's legs to knot the count for the third time.

KINSLEY IMPRESSIVE

The third period found the alumni still going strong as they took charge for the first time in the scoring on a goal by Bill Clark set up by Howie Hushion and Bob Blaik at 13:03. Then with the heat on them getting hotter the varsity tied it all up once again as Tony Frasca two minutes later scored unassisted from about thirty-five feet out.

Sophmore goalie for the alumni, Ken Kinsley, received some of the loudset cheers as he successfully turned back several scoring threats that could have brought victory to the varsity. He got my vote for the most outstanding player on the ice that night.

The game will produce a shake-up of the varsity before the DU game Saturday, Dec. 1 in Denver. Ed Robson and Bill Clark have been recalled from the Jayvee squad after their performances last Saturday.

CARRUTHERS INJURED

One of the biggest blows to a successful season came when doctors announced that Bob Carruther's ankle was broken when he hit the boards in an attmept to nail the alumni's Bob Blaik in the first period, even though he continued to play in the remaining two periods. What Coach Thompson will do now that Bob is out, and may be out for the rest of the season, I don't know. But I think that in not using Crouse he is making a mistake. Only time will tell.

OVERCONFIDENCE

In my opinion one of the big problems that the team has to face is one of overconfidence. It has certainly been evident to me from talking and listening to some of the newcomers on the team. I have gathered that they believe that CC is in that tournament almost by

Twenty-Eight Awarded Football Letters for '51

The College Athletic Department announced this week that 28 football players and one manager received their varsity "C" for the 1951 season. In Coach Bill Heiss' first season as head mentor, the Tigers won four and lost five and took a second in the Rocky Mountain conference.

Among those receiving letters were: 13 seniors, 10 juniors, 3 sophomores, 2 freshmen and one manager.

Those receiving letters were (seniors) Bob Malowney, Bill Perkins, Ned Mann, Chuck Williams, John Sarlo, Glenn Scarcia, Gene Swank, Robert Peterson, Willlam Gill, Carl Casella, Tony Genova, John Yaklich and Andy Gambucci.

(Juniors) Craig Richardson, Wesley Boucher, Mel Kensinger, Harvey Carter, George Demos, Marion Young, Dick Meyer, Charles Mollin and Don Linger.

tradition. I would like to say right here that just because Colorado College has been in the playoffs since they were started does not mean we will be perennial favorites of the organization that does the choosing. This year's tourney should bring to the Broadmoor some of the finest hockey teams ever and if Colorado College wants to be in on it, the time to start working for it is now. It's a break to be able to have two games under our belts before we go into competition for a berth.

Achievement has always stood for hard work and plenty of cooperation, so if the school gets behind the team, and I'm sure they will, and if the boys work hard we can be a members of the festivities in March. Now is the hour —let's hit it right from the beginning. It's easier that way.

nancial Aid Program for 1952-53 provide a maximum of $2,600 for a married student and $2,000 for a single student, the amount being adjusted to individual need. Similar aid will be available for the second year of study to those whose work has been satisfactory.

This assistance is given to students who meet the usual requirements for admission to the School and who demonstrate financial need and ability to profit from the two-year business program. Applicants are judged on their intellectual capacity, character, maturity, and ability to work with other people. Undergraduate study in business or economics is not considered important.

The Regional Financial Aid System was set up in 1949 to further the Business School's policy of "keeping its doors open to men from all economic levels and from all parts of the country."

In accordance with the School's belief that every student receiving aid should accept also a financial responsibility, $1,500 of the total two-year award will be borrowed from the Student Loan Fund. The remainder will be in the form of an advance-in-aid, which the student has no legal obligation to repay but he would assume a moral commitment to return the assistance when he is financially able to do so.

A candidate may apply either from the region in which he is attending college or where he resides.

The deadline for applications to the Committee on Student Financial Aid at the Harvard Business School is May 1, 1952.

Requests for further information and for application blanks should be addressed to the Director of Student Financial Aid, Harvard Business School, Boston 63, Mass.

Hockey Season Is Here

the Tiger

Vol. LV. No. 12 | Colo. Springs, Colo., Thurs., Dec. 6, 1951 | Colorado College

Tigers Begin Quest of NCAA Berth at Broadmoor Saturday

Colorado College will open defense of its western berth in the National Hockey tournament Friday night at the Broadmoor Ice Palace in the first of a two-game series with vastly-improved Denver University, a team which threw more than a scare into the Tigers last Saturday at Denver before a sell-out Community Chest crowd.

In the tenth meeting between these two rival regional schools, CC must go all out to continue its perfect 9-0 record with the Pioneers. This Friday night encounter will be the game of the series to count in the Mid-West conference standings, which determine the Mid-West's two entries in the March 13-15 NCAA Tourney at the Broadmoor Ice Palace. The next conference game 'twixt the Pioneers and the Tigers will be the Jan. 11 game at Denver.

Coach Cheddy Thompson's Tigers opened the season last Saturday in typical fashion, coming up off the floor after trailing, 3-0, in the opening minutes, to go ahead only once, 7-6, at the end of the game and hold onto the lead to leave the packed house stunned and thrilled.

Thompson's charges unintentionally played the same type of games early last season, tying Brandon and beating Toronto and Denver in the waning minutes.

But Denver's hustling team, banked in several key spots with newcomers, appears much too potent this year to allow the Tigers to keep the unbeaten record against them. After vonag Ken Kinsley got over his stage-fright in the early minutes, the Tigers were able to tie the score, but in the second period it was only his stellar goal-tending which allowed the Tigers to stay within striking distance.

CC's coach appears set for this weekend with Kinsley and veteran Bill Dewire still fighting each week for the starting net-guarding spot, and with Capt. Bud Eastwood, Steve Leolich, Len Macemi, Bill Thompson and Carl Lawrence at defense.

In the three well-balanced forward lines, CC will go with Leo Soligo, most improved of all CC players, at center, flanked by surprising Ed Robson and powerful Dick Kennefic at the wings.

Omer "The Bull' Brandt will center Andy Gumbucci and Norm Divincy, while Tony "The Cat" Frasca centers Murray Couch and Ron Hartwell, undoubtedly one of CC's all-time great wings and certainly one of the best wings in college hockey this year.

THE LINE OF KENNEFIC, SOLIGO AND ROBSON will be much in evidence at the Ice Palace this weekend as the Colorado College Tigers take on the Pioneers from Denver University. The games this week are league games and will be the 10th and 11th meetings between Tiger and Pioneer hockey teams. So far the record shows CC with 9 won and no losses.

National Bridge Tournament Open To All Students

Colorado College is one of the more than 300 invited to compete in the 1952 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament. Invitations and entry blanks have been received by college officials from Louis D. Day, Jr. of the University of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee.

Only undergraduates are eligible to play in the duplicate Contract Bridge event for the title and trophy. A preliminary round will be played by mail in February, and the sixteen highest ranking pairs will meet for the face-to-face finals at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago on April 18 and 19, with their expenses paid by the Tournament Committee.

In last year's Intercollegiate tournament, which was won by the team from Washburn University, 1264 students representing 158 colleges in 42 states played in the round-by-mail. To insure representation of all parts of the country in the finals, the country is divided into eight zones, with two pairs from each zone qualifying for the finals.

The National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee which supports the event so that there is no cost to the competing colleges or the players, is a group of college alumni and officials interested in developing Contract Bridge as an intercollegiate sport in which men and women can compete on an equal basis.

The Committee requires that the approval of the dean or a corresponding authority be granted before a college can be regarded as officially entered in the tournament.

Last Chance for Nugget Pictures Today and Friday

Your last chance to get your portrait taken for the 1952 NUGGET will be between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock this afternoon and Friday. Students from all classes, freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior, must have their portraits taken on the second floor of Lennox House at this time.

ALL portraits to be used in the NUGGET must be taken by the contracted photographer — there will be no exceptions to this ruling—in order to assure a uniformity of background and quality.

Students who paid for their portraits at registration are urged to bring their receipts with them. All those who have not paid must bring $1.75.

Public Relations Office Meets With Student Body Wednesday

By JIM HILL

Last spring the Student Council and the Committee on Undergraduate Life got together to discuss the problem of Public Relations on our college campus. Out of this meeting came new ideas and also it gave the students a clearer picture of how the department works. This conference was such a success that is was decided to have another meeting this fall and include the student body along with the Student Council and the Committee on Undergraduate Life. This meeting will be held Wednesday, December 12, in Lennox House at 4:00 p. m.

Part of the discussion to be of interest to the student will be how the individual's publicity is handled in hometown newspapers. Kay Freyscblag will explain how the public relations office of the college covers the different school activities and presents them to the national public.

Another thing that is high in the minds of many students is how alumni activities affect our campus at the present time. Miss Lorena Berger, Secretary of the College and Secretary of the National Alumni Association will explain this side of public relations.

As everyone knows, the enrollment at Colorado College is down this year due to the circumstances of the present world situation and the administration will express their views on how they plan to

This is one for the record!

When one writes for the record there is no attempt to please, to curry favor or to win plaudits. The purpose is to publicly establish a point of view.

You say, "State the point." "What's the gripe," or "Get along with the story."

The point, the gripe, the story!

Well, put it this way. There as such things as perfection of execution, expression of beauty, intricate and delicate creation and some folks suffer intellectually and emotionally when any one thing having such qualities is bruised, soiled, or distorted. For example, they feel hurt when they observe a brutal driver injure a wonderful car, a carefully kept lawn or garden damaged, a child's innocent fantasy smashed by an adult guffaw, an excellent social project destroyed by selfish politicians, or a sincere gesture of good will laughed off by half-witted onlookers.

So it is that they have emotional upsurges of resentment, disappointment and even anger when, with high expectations they open new books and have to slam them shut and toss them into waste baskets when they find the authors spoiling skillfully written stories by injecting foul language or offensive suggestions. So it is that they feel let-down when a genius in artistic expression uses his brush to present something sordid or stupid. So it is that they feel embarrassed, ashamed and terribly heartsick when they have an inspirational uplift completely smashed because performers destroy the effect of superb skill, marvelous preparation, intriguing technique and fascinating finesse by expression that strikes sensitive receptibility with a devastating and destructive impact.

Our greatest gifts from centuries of human endeavor are our appreciation of the finest and best in achievement. The precious things in life are those won by endless efforts to create.

Some people resent the practice of those who seem to think it smart practice to besmirch our novels, our social programs, our elections, our humanitarian projects, our plays, our movies and (as far as performers dare) our radio and television productions.

For the record, let us demand the best.

This is the point, the gripe and the story.

HUNGRY?

Girls—

Ever get hungry between nine and eleven at night when you are studying or playing cards? Maybe a sandwich and a glass of milk would go well to stop that knawing hunger pain. Rumor has it that Baker the Merry Maker and Lorish and Lush are putting on the sandwich rally.

Fruits, milk and sandwiches are being served Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at your dorm. Also the Monster Sandwich is being let out of it's cage for those with a strong stomach and thirty cents.

Look for the gruesome twosome coming out of the woodwork from 9 to 11 on the above three nights. If your are not satisfied, double your ulcers back.

629 Students And Faculty Had Free Chest X-rays In October

Remember when we had chest X-rays in October? Do you recall how simple it was just to stand in front of the X-ray machine for less than sixty seconds while the attendant pushed the buzzer behind you? The results of these X-rays were recently sent to Dr. Roger Whitney, the college physician, and they proved to be very satisfactory.

A total of 629 X-rays were taken during the three day period when the State Health Department's mobile unit stopped at the college, and from this number, only three suspicious cases were detected and they are all receiving treatment.

Only one actual case of tuberculosis was detected and the individual is now under treatment and is doing very well. Another case of apparently inactive tuberculosis was found where the individual was not aware of it and it will now be followed by check-ups. The third is an arrested case and is already being re-checked periodically.

The majority of the cards kept by the X-ray unit have never been returned and anyone who had an X-ray taken and did not receive a report may rest assured that he was normal.

It can readily be seen the importance of these checks the State Health Department X-ray Unit makes, because by detecting the dreaded tuberculosis disease in its early stages it can be stopped.

Remember too, that it is through the purchase of Christmas Seals that this work of finding early and curable cases of tuberculosis is made possible. Have you bought your Christmas Seals this year?

Chesterfield Camera Contest Ends This Week with "Suicide"

The Chesterfield Camera Contest closes with the photograph on this page. It was taken by Bill Mackey out in the Garden of the Gods. It wasn't explained fully, but the general gist of the conversation was that this photograph was an experiment that turned out with success. The figure floating through the air is a dummy that was thrown from the crest of the rocks by the two figures on top. The photographer was near Hidden Inn when he snapped the picture.

This is the final picture for the Chesterfield Carmera Contest. Pictures were submitted for the past three weeks to the TIGER and the selection of the most informative and most revealing photograph brougbt a reward of a carton of Chesterfields to the shutter-bug.

In the two preceding weeks, the winners of the contest were Larry Levy and Pat Harkins.

Byrd Parmelee, the campus Chesterfield representativo will announce at a future dato the next contest for pictures. Look for it and try to win a carton of Chesterfields.

Whatever it is that's falling, we know it is from the "Kissing Cames" rock. Probably an explanation is needed, so look over the page to read what actually happened.

Santa Claus to Be at Q. A. Yuletide Party for Underprivileged Children

Santa Claus is coming to Bemis! The jolly old gent and his CC helpers (generally known as the Quadrangle Association board) will be on hand to spread Christmas cheer this Saturday afternoon at the QA party for underprivileged children of Colorado Springs.

Thirty invitations have been extended to the children and a Colorado College bus will pick them up at 2:30 on Saturday afternoon and transport them to a winter wonderland at Bemis hall. Features of the party include a story by Rosie Musgrave, games and refreshments. And best of all, jolly old St. Nicholas will be there with presents for the guests.

Kris Sinding is in charge of the party, assisted by members of the QA board and other interested students.

Kappa Sig Denver Meet Honors Founder's Day

Honoring the founders of the fraternity was a regional conclave of Kappa Sigma fraternity held in Denver today. Meeting at the Albany hotel, in addition to the local Beta Omega chapter, were representatives from the chapters at Denver University, Colorado University, Colorado Mines, Wyoming University and New Mexico University. A gathering of 500 was expected for dinner, with a stage show and speakers following.

Independents Hold Ice Skating Party

An ice skating party was held at the Broadmoor Ice Palace by the Independent Women's Association and Crown and Lance on Friday evening, November 30, from 8:30 until 10:30.

Members of IWA met at the observatory Sunday afternoon for a house cleaning shindig. Under the direction of Helen Heaney the observatory underwent a general scrubbing and waxing. The cleaning spree ended with a picnic supper prepared by Sue Griffin.

Next Monday night IWA will meet at the observatory to finish their clean-up job, so members are reminded to dress for work.

Sorority Winter Formals Celebrate Christmas Early

"'Twas many nights before Christmas but all through the town,
Many a CC lassie was donning her gown.
Corsages were pinned on their shoulders with care.
In hopes that a handsome date soon would be there."

Santa Claus time is coming 'round again and with it a Christmas dream comes true early when CC's four sororities celebrate the advent of the gay holiday with a series of bright Christmas formals to be held this Saturday night. Delta Gamma and Kappa Kappa Gamma will entertain at their lodges and Kappa Alpha Theta and Gamma Phi Beta have joined forces for a combined dance at the Broadmoor hotel.

KAPPA SIGS' XMAS DINNER DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

First in the series of events to welcome in a gala holiday season will be the Kappa Sig Christmas formal to be held tomorrow night in the form of a dinner dance. Scene of the festivities is the Garden of the Gods Club where dinner will be served at 8 o'clock and dancing will follow from 9 until 12. Musical offerings from Bob McGrew's band will highlight the evening.

NUGGET PICTURES today and tomorrow — 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.—Lennox House.

DELTA GAMMAS CELEBRATE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

The theme of the DG's winter dance will be "The Night Before Christmas" and the decorations will follow through with "Stockings hung by the chimney with care." Following the CC-DU Hockey game the dance will be held at the Delta Gamma house from 10 until 1, with a big surprise for the guys at midnight. Bill Sereff's band will be playing for the evening, and the chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. George E. Rice, Jr., and Dean and Mrs. Howard R. Burkle. Nancy Jones, DG social chairman, is planning the event.

KAPPAS ENTERTAIN WITH OLD FASHIONED YULETIDE

With preparations and decorations carried out by the pledge class, the Kappa formal will also be held at the lodge. Tangy pine boughs will add to the Christmas cheer, and an air of days gone by will prevail. Another section of Bill Sereff's band will furnish music for the dancing. In charge is Eleanor Tutt, social chairman of the pledge class. Dr. and Mrs. Richard M. Fox and Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Boucher are to be the chaperones.

GAMMA PHI-THETA DANCE AT BROADMOOR BALLROOM

Members of Gamma Phi Beta and Kappa Alpha Theta have planned a joint dance to be held at the Broadmoor hotel ballroom. Preceding the dance Thetas and their dates will be entertained at an egg nog party at the home of Martha Dern. Dancing will be from 9 until midnight to the music of Bob McGrew's orchestra. Preparations for the dance are being made for the Gamma Phis by Barbie Bletsch and by Theta's Sally Genoways, social chairmen of their organizations. Chaperoning will be Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taitt and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stabler.

G-Phi Pledge Class Of '48 Has Party

The six remaining Gamma Phis of the 1948 pledge class held a party last Tuesday afternoon in Slocum hall. Given by Sue Schlessman and DeDe Beekley, the party featured a mock meeting and a good time for Thora and M. A. Hodge, Barbie Bletsch and Nan Wolfer. Parties will be held periodically throughout the year.

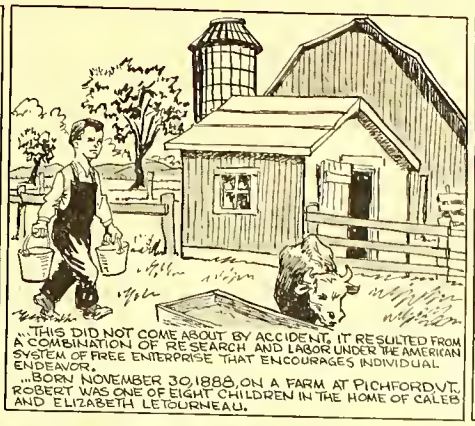
MAKING THINGS FLY ON EARTH AND IN THE SKIES NECESSITATES COVERING A LOT OF TERRITORY IN WIDELY SEPARATED FIELDS.

ROBERT GILMOUR LETOURNEAU, OF PEORIA, ILL., AND ELSEWHERE, HAS SUCCEEDED IN BOTH REALMS TO A POINT WHERE HE RATES AS AN OUTSTANDING AMERICAN INDUSTRIALIST AND A CHRISTIAN LAYMAN WITH THE AFFECTIONATE AND WELL-EARNED TITLE OF "FLYING PREACHER."

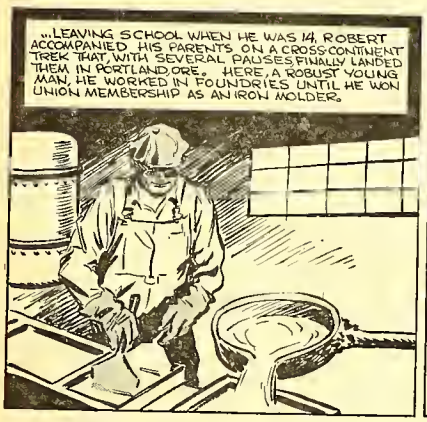


...THIS DID NOT COME ABOUT BY ACCIDENT. IT RESULTED FROM A COMBINATION OF RESEARCH AND LABOR UNDER THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF FREE ENTERPRISE THAT ENCOURAGES INDIVIDUAL ENDEAVOR.

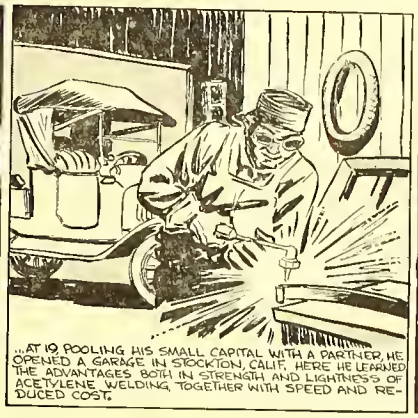
...BORN NOVEMBER 30, 1888, ON A FARM AT PICHFORD, VT., ROBERT WAS ONE OF EIGHT CHILDREN IN THE HOME OF CALEB AND ELIZABETH LETOURNEAU.

...HIS EARLY YEARS WERE MARKED WITH VARIED ACTIVITIES, ALWAYS WITH A THIRST FOR KNOWLEDGE.

...A CORRESPONDENCE COURSE IN MATHEMATICS AND ENGINEERING ACQUAINTED HIM WITH THE WELDING PROCESS THAT WAS TO PLAY SUCH AN IMPORTANT ROLE IN HIS LATER LIFE.



...LEAVING SCHOOL WHEN HE WAS 14, ROBERT ACCOMPANIED HIS PARENTS ON A CROSS-CONTINENT TREK THAT, WITH SEVERAL PAUSES, FINALLY LANDED THEM IN PORTLAND, ORE. HERE, A ROBUST YOUNG MAN, HE WORKED IN FOUNDRIES UNTIL HE WON UNION MEMBERSHIP AS AN IRON MOLDER.



...AT 19, POOLING HIS SMALL CAPITAL WITH A PARTNER, HE OPENED A GARAGE IN STOCKTON, CALIF. HERE HE LEARNED THE ADVANTAGES BOTH IN STRENGTH AND LIGHTNESS OF ACETYLENE WELDING, TOGETHER WITH SPEED AND REDUCED COST.

...AT THE OUTBREAK OF WORLD WAR I LETOURNEAU LEFT HIS GARAGE AND DID HIS BIT FOR UNCLE SAM AS A MACHINIST IN THE NAVY YARD AT MARE ISLAND, CALIF.

...WITH THE WAR ENDED, HE FOUND HIS GARAGE $5,000 IN DEBT. TO REIMBURSE HIS CREDITORS, HE OPERATED A FARM LEVELLER AROUND STOCKTON. THE MACHINE WAS UNSATISFACTORY, SO HE BUILT AN ALL-WELDED ONE OF REVOLUTIONARY DESIGN.

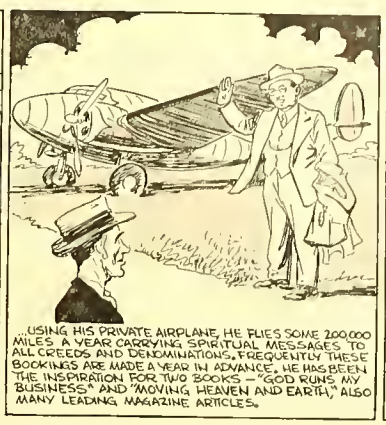
...THESE DIRT-HANDLING MACHINES SOLD AS FAST AS THEY COULD BE COMPLETED.

...TEN YEARS LATER A STEEL FRAME PLANT WAS ERECTED IN STOCKTON AND THE FIRM OF R.G. LETOURNEAU, CAPITALIZED AT $100,000, WAS ON ITS WAY.

...WITH PLANTS IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE COUNTRY, MR. LETOURNEAU HAS BEEN GRANTED SOME 150 PATENTS, MANY HIGHLY INGENIOUS, FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN EARTH MOVING MACHINES.

...JOINING THE CHURCH AS A BOY, WITH ALL HIS INDUSTRIAL AND OTHER RESPONSIBILITIES, MR. LETOURNEAU DEVOTES MUCH TIME AND MONEY TO RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES. IN 1935 HE CREATED THE LETOURNEAU FOUNDATION.

...TODAY THE LARGEST RELIGIOUS FOUNDATION IN THE WORLD, DIRECTLY AND THROUGH OTHER ORGANIZATIONS IT HAS CONTRIBUTED MILLIONS FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF CHRISTIANITY.



...USING HIS PRIVATE AIRPLANE, HE FLIES SOME 200,000 MILES A YEAR CARRYING SPIRITUAL MESSAGES TO ALL CREEDS AND DENOMINATIONS. FREQUENTLY THESE BOOKINGS ARE MADE A YEAR IN ADVANCE. HE HAS BEEN THE INSPIRATION FOR TWO BOOKS – "GOD RUNS MY BUSINESS" AND "MOVING HEAVEN AND EARTH," ALSO MANY LEADING MAGAZINE ARTICLES.

IT WAS NOT ALWAYS SMOOTH SAILING FOR THE VERMONT FARM BOY ON HIS WAY UP, BUT HE NEVER LOST FAITH.

"TWO THINGS I LIKE MOST TO DO," HE CONFESSES, MODESTLY.

"ONE IS TO DESIGN MACHINES, TURN ON THE POWER, AND SEE THEM WORK. THE OTHER IS TO HELP TURN ON THE POWER OF THE GOSPEL AND SEE IT WORK IN PEOPLE'S LIVES."

TIGERS SLIP BY PIONEERS IN BENEFIT GAME

KENNEFIC'S GOAL AT 12:20 OF THE THIRD PERIOD BRINGS WIN FOR CC

By DAVE WATSON

The Colorado College Tigers came from behind in the final stanza last Saturday night at the DU arena to edge out the Denver University Pioneers 7-6. A near capacity crowd of 4,722 hockey fans boosted the Communnity Chest sponsored program. With less than five minutes in the first period, Denver held a 3-0 edge. However, by the end of the period CC had settled down with each of the three lines contributing a tally. Two of these three goals were scored while CC was shorthanded. In the second period Denver tallied twice while only Omer Brandt could score for the Tigers. In the hectic final period, Murray Couch lit the light for CC to tie the score, but Donofrio came right back for Denver, just 30 seconds later, to again push the Pioneers into the lead. From there on however, it was all CC as Ronnie Hartwell tied the score on a pass from Tony Frasca and a rebound of his own shot. Two and one-half minutes later Dick Kennific ended the evening's scoring and provided the winning margin by beating Goalie Begg on a pass from Leo Soligo.

ICE SHAVINGS:

Ronnie Hartwell and Tony Frasca were high men for the Tigers. Hartwell had two goals and two assists, while Frasca came up with four assists . . . Cocky Willis O'Leary was high man for Denver with one goal and three assists as DU applied their four man breaks into the Tiger defense . . . Mike Yalich, former CC defenseman contributed his time and effort to co-officiating the game and this boosted the Community Chest drive by $25.00 . . . Early in the third period, Ed Robson up from the JV's was tripped while skating in on the DU net. He went backwards into the iron post and suffered a bruised hip and ankle. However, he returned to play later in the period . . . Len Maccini was also hurt when he stopped the puck with the back side of his knee . . . The Community Chest attraction made it nine victories for the Tigers who are yet to be beaten by the Hilltoppers . . . Pioneer Coach Neil Celley dressed in an unfamiliar outfit of hat and coat started his coaching career off on the wrong foot, but his pupils are not to be under-rated.

Soccer Team Opens Tournament Play at Boulder Saturday

This Saturday the CC soccer team travels to Boulder for a first round match with CU silver. The game will mark the opening round of the John H. Love memorial trophy tournament, in which one loss eliminates a team from play.

In the Tigers' previous meeting with the Silver, the teams played to a 3-3 tie. This game looks like another scoring duel between the forward lines. The Tiger line has improved a great deal since the last meeting and should be able to score at least a couple of goals. The most marked improvement is the play of right wing, Mel Smith, who now ranks with the outstanding wings in the league. Despite this improvement CU is still slightly favored because of the home field advantage.

Other games: Mines vs. CU Gold, Macabi vs. Heinsohn, Britishers Club vs. Turners.

CC Lineup:

Left Wing	Horst Hergel
Center Forward	Saad Sahawneh

TIGERS LACK SCORING PUNCH IN DROPPING TWO AT ADAMS STATE

Not against one of the toughest teams that Colorado College will face this year, the Tigers dropped two basketball games to Adams State last Friday and Saturday nights by the scores of 62-52 and 61-45 respectively. Lacking the talent possessed last year, which was lost by graduation, CC was able to capitalize on but sixteen percent of their shots from the floor, while Adams State, not doing a great deal better, was able to put twenty-five percent of their shots through the hoop.

Coach Bill Heiss worked as many combinations as possible, but was unable to come up with a scoring quintet. However, his boys did come up with more than their share of fouls, showing early season raggedness. They picked up 31 penalties in Saturday's contest after netting 25 on Friday.

High man for the Tigers encounter was Ben Snyder with eleven points on five field goals and one free throw, while Don Stone was good for eleven in Saturday's. He got his four buckets and three gift shots.

This Friday and Saturday nights the Tigers face Camp Carson in two games, one at the base, Friday, and the second game at the City Auditorium, Saturday.

By ED BAKER

A meeting of all intramural managers and intramural director Thompson was held last night concerning the annual boxing and wrestling meet. Results were not available at this writing; however, in all probability it will be run off much the same as it has been in the past. The meet will most likely be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of the next two weeks.

The Phi Gams will be defending champions again this year and must be counted upon to give another outstanding show of power. The Kappa Sigs will no doubt be strong contenders for the titles along with the Sigma Chis and the Betas. The Phi Delts will again be slated for the bottom rung.

Basketball is getting into the act also as the gym has been quite crowded with most fraternities starting to get in shape for the race. The playoffs will start soon after Christmas vacation, with the Sigs out to retain the title they won so handily last year.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 29...THE HYENA

Hysteria reigned from the moment he heard the details of those quick-trick cigarette mildness tests. First he giggled . . . then he guffawed . . . wound-up rolling in the aisle! He knew that the "single sniff" test or the "one puff" test didn't prove anything! Millions of smokers have reached the same conclusion — there's just one test that really proves cigarette flavor and mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

SHEEDY looked bird-seedy with his ruffled hair. He didn't know feather to bury his head, or go on a wing-ding! "Owl I ever get a date for the prom?" he asked his tree roommates. "You're robin yourself of popularity, birdbrain," they chirped. "Better be cagey and get Wildroot Cream-Oil! It's non-alcoholic! Containe soothing Lanolin! Groome your hair neatly and naturally. Relieves dryness . . . removes loose, ugly dandruff!" Now Paul's flying high! The tweetest little chickadee on campus has him out on a limb. So get a bottle or tuba of Wildroot Cream-Oil at any drug or toilet goods counter tomorrow. And nest time you see your barber, ask him for a professional application. WANTED: A New Editor

the Tiger

Vol. LV, No. 12 Colo. Spgs., Colo., Thurs., Dec. 13, 1951 Colorado College

Positions for Tiger Editor And Business Mgr. Open

The Student Publications Board in a meeting last Friday decided to accept applications for the positions of editor and business manager of the TIGER for the coming two semesters. Al Strand, the present editor and Byrd Parmelee, business manager, will complete their elective positions with the January 17 issue of the TIGER. Persons interested in applying for the position of editor and business manager must submit letters of application to the Student Publications Board before Friday, January 11, 1952. Applicants may be members of the student body in the sophomore or junior classes. No specific qualifications are necessary for these positions on the TIGER, although persons with experience in the journalistic field who are maintaining a passable grade average, and are willing and capable of performing a time-consuming job should apply.

A salary of $500 a year is paid to both the editor and business manager. They will be responsible to see that a newspaper is issued each week during the academic school year.

The editor will see that he has proper coverage of all school events, activities, and any news pertinent to the students, faculty and administration. He will be responsible to see that he has an office staff who will be competent writers and to see that the news stories will be written up properly and presented to the college in newsworthy form.

The business manager is responsible to see that local and national advertisers will be solicited weekly and arrange their ads throughout the paper. He will be responsible for the collection of payments of all bills; he will see that the paper is distributed weekly throughout the campus and that it is circulated through the mails to all local and national subscribers.

If you feel that you can fill either the position of editor or business manager apply now. Address all applications to the Student Publications Board in Cutler Hall. The new directors of the TIGER will be announced in the January 17 issue of the paper.

'Time' Tells How Ohio Industries Aid Private Colleges

By Liz Parker

An article in the December third issue of "Time" magazine contained the report of an appeal by the small privately endowed colleges of the state of Ohio to Ohio industries. It was pointed out that financial aid from businessmen and industrialists must be forthcoming if the small college is to survive.

The appeal begun in Cleveland, Ohio, a few weeks ago was merely the start of a statewide fund-raising campaign to meet the expected $1,000,000 deficit of the colleges this year. Most important was the principle which the presidents and trustees of the schools were defending—that of "seeking help from the last great reservoir of wealth outside the Federal Government—the private corporations."

Not only was a campaign being conducted in Ohio, but as close to us as the University of Denver. Former president Albert N. Williams of Western Unnion was installed as a special non-salaried advisor on obtaining and using business gifts. In addition colleges in Michigan, Indiana, and Washington have embarked on similiar projects.

Efforts of this type have brought encouraging results in the past few years. As examples, Johns Hopkins University was able to raise $650,000 from Baltimore businessmen, and Northwestern University received $761,000 in 1950. Small campuses are also beginning to seek corporate money. Mills college in California received $150,000 from corporations and its president, Lynn White, Jr., said, "that would have been impossible five years ago."

In spite of the rising trend in corporate giving U. S. educators are still far from rejoicing as they note that business has only just begun to give and it is nowhere near giving its 5% tax deduction for charitable contributions.

Often the money which colleges do get fails to help them directly. Such scholarship programs as Westinghouse Electric's fund for intelligent and promising young scientists helps individuals but doesn't benefit the treasury of the small schools or universities. A few corporations, of which the Ford Motor Co., is one, award scholarships to students and also give money to the private college which the student selects.

Students Present Original Scripts

As part of a program of practical training in radio, Professor Tyree's introductory course in radio will present original fifteen minute scripts on the Christmas theme over KRCC during the next two weeks. Scripts to be presented on the programs will either be original stories or adaptations of stories made by the students.

One half hour show, an adaptation of Dicken's immortal "Christmas Carol" by Rosemary Musgrave, will be presented tomorrow night at 7:00 p. m. Don Cooper will be heard as Scrooge with Jack Hattstaedt as Bob Cratchett. The supporting cast will include, Jerald Ketchum, Paul Hartman, Jean Nedemeyer, Kris Sinding, Jimmy Jones. Judy Clave and Lynn Jones will narrate and Ray Scherer will produce the sound effects.

Radio station KRCC is located at 91.3 megs on your FM dial.

This is the final issue of the TIGER for the year 1951. The next edition of the paper will be January 10, 1952.

All of the members of the TIGER staff extend their warmest greetings to all of you, and wish everyone A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

$287,077 Subscribed in Drive for New Dorms

The Colorado College drive for a new men's and a new women's dormitory is progressing nicely according to a statement made today by President William H. Gill. We are very happy with the way the drive is going, and believe that within the next few months we will begin construction of the men's dormitory. It will be located at the corner of Cache la Poudre and Nevada and will add a lot to the beauty of the campus.

The plans for the men's dormitory are being drawn by Edward L. Bunts, architect of Colorado Springs.

Luther Sharpe, assistant to the president, and who has charge of the fund raising said, the following amounts have been subscribed:

517 alumni have given	$ 31,528.00
208 business firms and friends	131,020.00
88 parents of students	26,599.46
15 trustees of the college	97,930.00
Total subscribed to date	$287,077.46

Mr. Sharpe further said, that this week he was in receipt of another gift of $50,000.00 from a distinguished alumnus which is conditioned that he raise within 90 days $50,000.00 to match it. "I am sure," he said, "that im-

CC History Prof To Speak Tonight On Jap Treaty

Dr. Carroll B. Malone, Colorado College history professor, will speak on the Japanese peace treaty at the December meeting of the Council on World Affairs tonight at 8:00 in the lecture room of Shove Chapel.

Dr. Malone, who attended the signing of the treaty in San Francisco in early September of this year, has spent a number of years in the far East and is an authority on Oriental affairs. He will discuss the treaty and its effect on the failure of American relations in the critical East Asiatice region.

The meeting of the Council is open to all students and faculty members and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Amanda Ellis to Appear On New York TV Show

On Dec. 31, Professor Amanda M. Ellis will be presented by the American Broadcasting Company in New York City in a half hour television program centering about her novel "Elizabeth the Woman." She will appear on the Nancy Craig program.

Miss Ellis will discuss her book and will show some Elizahethan costumes, silver, portraits, and a fourteenth century "Book of Hours," like one read by Queen Elizabeth.

Last Sunday, E. P. Dutton and Company, publishers, featured Miss Ellis' book, along with six others, in newspapers in ten major American cities. In Colorado Springs, since its publication, Aug. 27, about 1,200 copies of the book

STUDENT APATHY

By BOB HUMPHREYS

EDITOR'S NOTE—This will be the first in a series of articles to be printed in the TIGER on student apathy. We are not trying to condone any individual, nor are we trying to stir up any fighting arguments. However we are trying to find out if students are indifferent or are avoiding responsibilities in their personal lives and their life around campus.

A favorite phrase, often directed by this columnist and others toward Cutler Hall policies, is "adolescent edits." This spectator, for one, is beginning to wonder if, perhaps, such administrative orders are not for the well-being of an adolescent student body. We would even speculate, in terror, that the vagaries and corruption of some future national administration might well result from the apathy and adolescence which was embodied in certain "leaders of tomorrow" who were seated in Shove Chapel, for instance, last Tuesday morning.

In lieu of an adequate fable or analogous situation, let us look at a mythical state, which we shall call Cacoethesia, and its corresponding university, Cacoethesia College. Now, it seems that there is a great resmblance between this nation and its institution of higher learning: they both appear to contain the potentialities for doing great good—but their propensities are towards evil. Cacoethesia suffers from an acute disease, the symptoms of which are public irresponsibility and official corruption; and its citizens cry to the courts for correction of the national morality. The Federal taxes are oppressive, to the point of infringement upon the rights of property.

Cacoethesia College is also reft, so its students shout, by an incompetent administration. This body restricts the freedom of religion by requiring attendance at Chapel; and the students accuse the speakers of everything from boredom to long-windedness, just as the citizens of Cacoethesia accuse their tax collectors of gross misdeeds. At this point, a strang phenomenen should be noted. Neither the citizens nor the students express more than a vocal interest in the correction of these oppressive institutions. It might even be reasoned that a lack of interest, on one hand, in government expenditures and, on the other, in the purpose of Chapel and value of religion results in the faults of the respective systems— or is that going too far?

Boredom is a mass affliction of both the citizens of Cacoethesia and the students of Cacoethesia College. A momentary alleviation of this ailment has been found in both cases, however. The nation finds relief from boredom in the exploitation of its youth in war, and the College finds relief in exploiting its athletes in semi-professional sports.

A very ingenious device has been discovered by the above-named students and citizens for solving their problems and avoiding self-blame. It is called the "Easy-way-out." For instance, the "Easy-way-out" on the national level is to blame the Russians for war and the administration for taxes. On the campus, the most commonly used "Easy-way-out" is to blame the speaker, the Dean of the Chapel or the administration for the Chapel program. These "Easy-ways out" may be bought for very little effort at any center of apathy. They come in a myriad of varieties: there's the "Easy-way-out" for the public when a murderer commits suicide; when the TIGER isn't worth reading, one can always use the "blame the editor or the staff" flavor of "Easy-way-out." Most types, however, are of the same species, "Give-that-job-to-the-other-fellow-I-haven't-time," better known as the apathetic "Easy-way-out."

Some have said that the above solution is wrong, that it leads to more corrupt government, the loss of more freedoms, the defeat of democracy, etc. If this theory is true, what could have caused this malignant philosophy on the part of the students and citizens? Tuesday's Chapel speaker said that such things sprung from psycopathy (soul-sickness, if you wish). Could it be that apathy springs from mass sickness of the soul and that apathy results in wars, bad newspapers, corruption, compulsory Chapel systems and the like? Look to yourself for the answer!

Who daily conquers them anew."

ONE OPINION

By Dan James

The institution of compulsory Chapel attendance at the College has probably sired more argument, controversy, and polemic expressions of opinion than has any othe school practice or regulation.

This, of course should surprise no one. Compulsion, regardless of the purposes for its use, invariably incite some hostility. And an issue touched in any way by religion inevitably degenerates to the point where objectivity and perspective give way to passion and sentiment.

This is unfortunate because there is a good deal more than either a right or a wrong to this whole question of required attendance. The students, the contributing alumni, Dean Burkle and the Administration may each look at it from a different angle. The majority of any student body will always rebel against any restricting regulation. Alumni, on the other hand, and especially as the yeara go by, are inclined to take the attitude that "it wasn't so bad after all." Dean Burkle naturally wants the services and activities conducted in the Chapel to be as meaningful as it is possible to make them for the students, faculty, and for any others who might attend. And the Administration, simply from the view of mechanics alone, can see the Tuesday morning meeting as a practical device for getting everyone together at one time.

Each argument deserves some respect. It appears to me, however, that many of the antogonistic attitudes which prevail at the moment over the Chapel issue can be reconciled. Indeed, I think, they must be reconciled in some measure if the original spirit behind the institution of Chapel services is to be preserved. For once that is destroyed, the Chapel will become more than a convient stone pile.

Since the choice of alternative plans is decidedly limited, I propose only this: that a weekly chapel service be conducted at which attendance will be voluntary and that a second period be set aside, possibly on Thursday morning, for the purpose of a general school assembly at which the role will be taken.

Though this latter may be made interesting and even provocative through good planning, there undoubtedly would be considerable hostility towards it. This would be inevitable. One takes a load of rebellion into many a class, but whether one likes it or not, those classes are prescribed. The administration in any school requiring general attendance at an assembly has got to expect that resentment.

But this resentment which now slaps at the heart of the school's religious efforts will be then missing from the Chapel services. they can truly become what they were originally intended to be—a place where a person can go to sit, to think, to listen to music, to sing, to pray. The Chapel may then become the means through which sincere and honest religious thought and feeling may be meaningfully expressed. And the whole issue, moreover, of compulsory participation in religious activity, an issue which inevitably trends to balloon so out of proportion that all the honest efforts on the part of the Dean and of the Administration are negated, will be resolved.

This is all primarily a matter of scheduling. It can be done, however. Of the twenty non-religious colleges comparable to Colorado College in size on which I could get information, 70% reconciled the problem which we now face in virtually this way. And all of these schools (schools such as Oberlin and Swarthmore) have full and well intergrated religious programs in which both the faculty and students take an active part.

Since no one here will admit that the situation as it presently exists is the only answer, it seems, therefore, that it would be well worth the effort to try a new approach.

NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCE OFFERS FELLOWSHIP AWARDS FOR YEAR 1952-53

The National Academy of Sciences—National Research council has announced several large national fellowships for the academic year 1952-53. The Academy, organized at the request of Abraham Lincoln to advise the government on matters scientific, with the council its operating agency, initiated the first national program of fellowships over 30 years ago. Since then many other nation wide programs have been added. Fellowship programs now offered are sponsored by the National Science Foundation, Merck and Company, Inc., the Lilly Research Laboratories, the Radio Corporation of America, Rockefeller Foundation, the National Tuberculosis Association, and the American Cancer Society.

Applications for fellowships are evaluated by boards appointed by the National Research Council. There are fellowships in the agricultural, biological, engineering mathematical, medical, and physical sciences at both the predoctoral and postdoctoral level.

A large national program of predoctoral fellowships sponsored by the National Science Foundation is offered for the first time. These fellowships are open to anyone eligible to begin or continue study during the 1952-53 academic year. The aim of these awards is to promote the progress of science by offering opportunities for further study to large numbers of students of outstanding ability in the sciences who might not otherwise be able to fulfill their desires for advanced training. The tenure of a fellowship is for one year and can be arranged to begin at any time after July 1, 1952, but must not be later than the beginning of the academic year of the institution of the Fellow's choice. Senior science majors are specially urged to apply. Applicants for these fellowships will be required to take a Fellowship Record Examination which will be administered at approximately 175 selected centers throughout the United States on Jan. 18, 1952. Stipends will range from $1,400 to $1,600 plus tuition and laboratory fees. In certain cases grants will be made dependents. Applications for fellowships for the academic year 1952-53 must be received in the Fellowship Office of the National Research Council by Jan. 7, 1952.

Predoctoral fellowships in electronics are also administered by the National Research Council and are available to students who have completed one year of graduate training.

Postdoctoral fellowships were initiated by the National Research Council in 1919 to give selected scientists who had demonstrated a high order of ability in research an opportunity for further education, training and development. These fellowships are open to citizens of the United States who have

Twenty-seven Sigs Donate Blood to Carson Center

Last Thursday, twenty-seven members of the Sigma Chi fraternity donated blood to the Camp Carson Blood Donor Center. Jay Stone, president, was the promoter of the Sig project. The donation was arranged through the chief surgeon at Camp Carson. In order to donate blood as a group, 10 or more prospective donors are required. Persons desiring to donate blood should not eat for four hours preceding the donation, because eating affects the blood in a way making it impossible to process for shipping. The value of blood donations is in the protoplasm which is dehydrated and stored. It is then shipped with the required amount of distilled water to make it ready for use.

Sigs donating a pint of blood included: Jay Stone, Rolly Rogers, Wayne Roper, Jerry Craham, Scotty McDavid, Bob Wilkins, Pat Cormley, Peter Parrish, Derry Kellogg, Howard Kellogg, B. Stuart, Bill Hooper, Chuck O'Conner, John Underwood, Paul Tinsley, Kay Kohler, Doug Best, Norman Brown, John Love, Ron Schoepflin, David Richardson, and Ed Lodmell.

The Sigs are contemplating a return visit next spring. Civilians are urged to make appointments to give blood by contacting First Lt. George J. Koleski, Camp Carson, phone Main 8000, extension 434.

Investment Lecturer Talks to Bus. Frat. In Candlelight Inn

Last night at the Candlelight Inn, Alpha Kappa Psi, the national professional business fraternity, had Allan S. Richardson, a prominent lecturer of Denver University, give a talk on investments and business.

Mr. Richardson who is well known in the Denver business circles for his lectures in investment houses, is also a prominent person on a national scale in the business world. Prior to coming to Denver, he worked on the "Wall Street Journal" in New York. He also spent three years on the "Financial and Commercial Chronicle," as a financial writer.

For twenty-five years, Mr. Richardson has been in the security business in Denver. He was a member of the Colorado State Security Commission for three years before he started his lecture series at Denver University and also at Regis College in Denver.

In addition to talking to Alpha Kappa Psi, last night, Mr. Richardson also talked before the investment class this morning in Palmer Hall. He is the second speaker to appear on campus by the request of the national business fraternity and he will be followed by other prominent business men throughout the year.

Alpha Kappa Psis Initiate 26 Members In Well-Attended Ceremony at Acacia

By SHEILA HALL

Sigma Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, the national professional business fraternity at Colorado College, initiated 26 new members on December 9, at 4 p. m. in the Acacia hotel. Following the initiation ceremony there was a banquet attended not only by all undergraduate members of Sigma chapter, but also by a large delegation of undergraduates from Beta chapter at Denver University and by a considerable number of local alumni.

The initiates were composed of the following 23 undergraduates and these faculty members from Colorado College: Thomas Mack, Ted Gould, Karl Kehen, Robert Starks, Boyd Peterson, Tom Freund, Wilbur Deits, Charles O'Connor, Henry Royer, William Titus, Joe Barron, Dale Arie, Bob Voshall, Bill Kurth, Bill Donovan, Bob Smith, Mel Kensinger, John Hawthorne, Ted Lorish, Bill Mac Dougall, Kenneth Strickbine, Ed Cole, and Gabe Duque. The faculty members were Dr. Kenneth J. Curran, professor of economics, Paul M. Jones, associate professor of business administration, and Robert T. Mens Pep Organization Sporting New Jackets

The Crowlers, the mens' pep organization, received new jackets last Tuesday. These jackets are black wool with a Colorado College seal on the front and a miniature Tiger on the back. They will now be the standard jacket for the pep organization.

The jackets are a part of the enthusiasm program for this year which also includes new uniforms for cheerleaders. Members of the Crowlers Club can be recognized by the distinctive new jackets.

Support your Crowlers club, for it plays a vital part on the Colorado College campus.

Strings Attached

Most corporations give aid with strings attached. With the exception of the previously mentioned Ford scholarships, Detroit's auto industrialists give money only to research that will be beneficial to the industry. Scholarships of the Weyerhauser Timber Co., go for forestry and 90% of Northwestern's grants were designated for specialized research. Most companies appear to agree with the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation of Pittsburgh that believes, "No contributions are made to colleges as such, no matter how good they are, unless we can figure some direct return to us."

As the campaign was launched in Ohio, U. S. educators were beginning to get some powerful support from beyond the campus. Men such as Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., of General Motors and Standard Oil's, Frank W. Abrams have been trying to persuade their colleagues that "industry has a stake in higher education."

Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board of U. S. Steel while speaking for Yale's 250th anniversary said, "In my opinion, every American business has a direct obligation to support the free, independent, privately endowed colleges and universities . . . And unless it recognizes and meets this obligation, I do not believe it is properly protecting the long-range interests of its stockholders, its employees, and its customers. . . .If it is necessary for us to spend millions of dollars to beneficiate the ore which goes into our blast furnaces . . . then why is it not equally our business to develop and improve the quality of the greatest natural resource of all—the human mind?"

Selective Service Official Results Of Student Tests

The college has received the official report of the results of the Selective Service Qualification Tests. These tests were given at various centers throughout the country last spring and summer (on May 26, June 15 and 30.)

Today, throughout the country more tests are being given to students who did not take them last summer. The next date for student qualification tests will be April 24, 1952.

Results of all the tests given to date are as follows:

Class	Number taking Test	Failed to make Score of 70
Freshmen	98,000	47%
Sophomores	104,000	38%
Juniors	77,000	29%
Seniors	38,500	24%

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 30...THE SQUIRREL

This nimble-minded nutcracker almost tumbled for those tricky cigarette mildness tests. But he worked himself out of a tight spot when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness just can't be judged by a mere puff or one single sniff. Smokers everywhere have reached this conclusion—there's just one real way to prove the flavor and mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

AROUND CAMPUS

By BETTY BROADBENT

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly—'Tis the season to be jolly!" With the coming of Christmas, this carol seemed to ring through the minds of all the CC students last weekend.

The campus is now looking very bright indeed, with Christmas trees shining in the windows of the dorms, sorority lodges, and fraternity houses. With the help of about sixty girls, it was a matter of approximately 15 minutes before the tree was decorated in Bemis. When this was finished, the girls spent an hour singing their favorite Christmas carols. By bedtime the gals were anxiously looking forward to going home for the holidays.

The sororities were busy all week decorating for their Christmas formals, which were held last Saturday night. After these preparations had been made, the gals began their beauty rituals to prepare themselves for the big event. On Saturday evening the dorms, which are usually so quiet, turned into madhouses. Finally, from all this bedlam the girls emerged, looking their best.

The Kappas were quite proud of their foaming punch bowl. This effect was produced with the use of dry ice. The big talk at the Delta Gamma dance was their pink Christmas tree. It's quite a variation from the usual red and green trees!

Twelve o'clock brought the arrival of Santa Claus and two of his helpers to the Theta-Gamma Phi dance. He (or should we say she?) handed out presents to each of the men. Anyone walking into the ballroom fifteen minutes later might have thought it was a nursery. Toy dogs, alligators, seals, and dolls were all parading around the dance floor, and the fellows were having as much fun as a group of three-year-olds with their new toys.

Plans are now in progress for the fraternity formals to be held this weekend. The dances promise to provide many cherished memories for everyone, and will be the final activities before we finally are on our way home for those long-awaited Christmas holidays.

GAMMA PHIS COP HONORS IN WAA SWIM MEET AT B'MOOR LAST WEEK

By JAN COOK

The shouts of encouragement issuing forth from the Broadmoor pool, Wednesday, Dec. 5, were encouragement being given swimmers in the WAA Swimming Meet. After an exciting evening Gamma Phi Beta walked off with first place with Kappa Kappa Gamma coming in second and Delta Gamma third. Besides the swimming events, for an added attraction, the synchronized swimming group, showed how they won the first place in water ballet at the DU meet with their lovely interpretations. To the tune of "I'll Never Walk Alone," Shirley Gregory and Lorna Langer gave an exhibition of grace and perfect timing. A group of six girls, Sally Powell, Shirley Gregory, Thora Hodge, Gay Gould, Marion Johnston, and Lorna Langer, did a ballet to "Jet" and M. A. and Thora Hodge swam to "Sunrise Sere-

BILLBOARD

By ED BAKER

The intramural boxing and wrestling show got underway last night in Cossitt gym. Eliminations will continue tonight at 7:30, with the finals scheduled to be held Tuesday, December 18th at 7:30 p. m. in Cossitt.

Scoring is on the basis of 1 point for each match won (no points for byes), 3 points for runnerup in each weight and 5 points for winning a weight class. A runnerup must fight or wrestle in the final bout to be eligible for 3 points. In case of a tie in wrestling, the winner will be determined by the best riding time.

The wrestling room will be available every afternoon for workouts. Speed bag and punching gloves must be checked out through Mrs. Werner in the Athletic Office. The usual admission charge of 10 cents each night for everyone except participants is in effect.

Blaik to Play in North-South Game Christmas Night

Bob Blaik former Army great now enrolled at Colorado College has been invited to play in the North-South game at Miami, Fla. on Christmas night. The invite to play with the North team was tendered by large Herman Hickman, head coach of the North team who is also head coach at Yale Unniversity.

Since coming to the Colorado College campus, Blaik has proven himself to be a quiet, unassuming and thoroughly likable guy. During the past season, Blaik served as advisory backfield coach for the Tiger football team here at Colorado College and proved himself to be an astute student of the game. This chance to play at least one more game against collegiate competion is one which Blaik has wanted since the unfortunate incident at West Point. He also has kept himself in top-notch condition and so goes into the North-South game well able to keep his ranking as one of the best backs in the college game today.

LA CONGA—High point man for Carson, Ken Simpson (44) goes high in the air for a rebound in the game between Camp Carson and Colorado College Saturday night which which the soldiers won 57-50. CC's Ed Lodmell (41) is sandwiched between Simpson and Leon Dillon (55) Camp Carson.

Tiger Five Splits Two with Carson Over Week-end

After winning a 54-53 thriller Friday night from the 3904th Air Wing at Camp Carson, the Tigers were bumped by the Camp Carson base team Saturday night by the score of 57-50. The Friday night game was nip and tuck all the way with the College five finally nipping the Service team on a two pointer by big Ben Snyder in the last seconds of the game.

In the Saturday night fray played at the City Aud, the Tigers played on even terms with the Carson five for three quarters with the score at that point reading 37-36 with Carson in the lead. At that point, "Spider" Kensinger fouled out. With Kensinger out of the game the Mountaineers broke the game wide open with a 20 point splurge while the Tigers could garner only 14. The loss brought the Tigers their third loss of the season against one win.

The Camp Carson team is a good outfit and is bolstered by a number of former collegians who show a slick and fighting brand of basketball. The high scorer for the Saturday night contest was Carson's Simpson with 16 points while the Tigers were paced by Ben Snyder and Don Stone with 14 and 11 points respectively.

The same two teams will meet again this Saturday night with the site of the game undetermined at this writing.

TIGERS SPLIT TWO WITH DENVER PIONEERS

WIN EASILY 7-3 SATURDAY NITE AFTER DROPPING FRIDAY OPENER 4-3

By Ray Scherer

A vicious, hard charging, goal hungry DU sextet invaded the Broadmoor Ice Palace last Friday night and walked off with the spoils in the important game of the two played over the weekend 4 to 3. The Tigers came back Saturday night and, looking much improved, romped to a 7 to 3 win. Friday night the Tigers lacked aggressiveness and smooth playmaking and were no match for the Pioneers who had both of these traits plus the ability to put the puck in the net. It was their first victory in nine attempts over a period of three years. CC, including Saturday's win have now beaten the Pioneers ten times. Denver is now tied with Michigan for the top spot in the newly formed Midwest Hockey Conference with one win apiece.

First Game

Dave Wylie, one of the heroes of the first encounter last weekend scored the first goal for Denver at 15:37 of the initial period and that was it, for the Pioneers were never headed from that time on. Newcomer, Dick Kennefic, who possesses one of the hardest shots on the CC squad, evened it up in the second period on nice passes from Leo Soligo and Ed Robson. Less than two minutes later Tony Pocrnich put the Denver boys out in front once again with the help of Craig Robertson. Then Robertson with an assist going to Padgett opened the third period with a goal to give the Pioneers a 3 to 1 advantage. CC in an attempt to get back in the game set up a play, Leolich to Frasca to Brandt, and Omer was good to raise the Tiger's hopes of victory and a 3 to 2 count.

As the game went to the final minutes that goal getting line of Soligo, Kennefic, and Robson picked up their second goal of the evening to tie the count for the second time before 2300 fans. As Tiger rooters began to sense an overtime period and possible victory, Dave Wylie put a stop to it all with his second goal of the night at 15:44, and that was it. The Tigers, pressing desperately, were unable to come up with anything, and the important win went to the Pioneers.

Second Game

Saturday night the two teams looked as though they had switched jerseys for that night after a shaky start, the Tigers turned in a pretty respectable performance. Omer Brandt got his share of goals as he pulled the hat trick in the third period. DU picked up the first goal of the evening as they did Friday and it looked as though the same pattern was being set. However, CC came back to lead 2-1 on goals by Brandt and Frasca. The Tigers picked up two more in the second period to hold a four to one edge as Brandt got his second of the night while Ronnie Hartwell scored his first.

Denver ran up the blood pressure of Colorado College fans as they cut the Tigers lead to 4 and 3 on scores by O'Leary and Robertson, but their steam was exhausted and the Tigers coasted in with three more before the final buzzer.

Kinsley, Dewire Heroes

Along with Wylie, Ken Kinsley, CC's new and bright looking goalie prospect, was another hero of Friday night's game as he turned back 46 shots on goal. Bill Dewire was not far behind this Saturday with 44, which goes to show that our defense can use plenty of extra workouts before many more nights go by. Tony Frasca may not see action for a few days as he received an injury in Saturday night's encounter with the Pioneers.

This is the last issue this year, so at this time I'd like to wish all of CC's athletic teams good luck over the holidays and everyone a MERRY CHRISTMAS.

KRCC Airs Hockey Games from Ice Palace Each Monday-Thursday

Your College station KRCC has inaugurated its winter sports program with the broadcast of high school hockey games direct from the Broadmoor Ice Palace. Ray Scherer brings you exciting accounts of these games between the future stars of tomorrow, some of whom will probably be playing for Tiger aggregations in the near future.

The broadcast of the College games is impossible because of lack of space in the broadcasting booth at the Ice Palace and prior commercial contracts for the space.

Members of the Tiger varsity and Jayvees also help with these broadcasts along with Scherer who also has considerable experience as a player.

This gives you a realistic account from men who know the game; so listen to your College station on Monday and Thursday nights at 8:10 p. m. for the broadcast of the Young America and High School hockey contests.

Hockey Tickets

Students desiring tickets for the Yale-CC hockey games must pick up their tickets at the athletic office in Cossitt no later than 5 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 20.

Those who will not be here for the series are requested not to pick up any tickets at all so that there will be plenty of tickets to go around.

Dates for picking up tickets for the games during the "hockey holidays" will be announced later.

Study in all the natural sciences and inter-allied fields is open to these Fellows and may be pursued in any institution of advanced training in the United States or abroad approved by the Fellowship Boards. Appointments are for one year with stipends from $3,900 to $5,000 and additional funds are available for travel.

Applications for the postdoctoral awards must be in the Fellowship Office by the date specified by the individual Fellowship Board. All these dates fall within Jan. 1 and Jan. 15, 1952.

Because the postdoctoral fellowships are available in a large range of subjects and programs, potential applicants are encouraged to write the National Research Council stating their field of specialization, age, and study plans so that appropriate information may be sent.

Information and application blanks may be secured for any of the programs by writing the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. C.

C. C. Named Testing Center For Law School Admission Test

Colorado College has been designated as a testing center for the nationwide administrations of the Law School Admission Test on Feb. 23, John S. Jordan, supervisor of testing, announced today. If there is a demand the test will also be given on April 26 and Aug. 9, 1952. Depending upon the law schools to which they wish to make application, college seniors, juniors, and in some instances sophomores are eligible to take the tests. Each applicant should find out from the law schools in which he is interested whether he should take the test and on what date. The Law School Admission Test is prepared and administered four times a year, in November, February, April, and August by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey.

Application blanks and a bulletin of information describing registration procedures and containing sample test questions may be obtained from Professor J. Douglas Mertz, head of the deartment of political science, or directly from the Law School Admission Test, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Applications must be mailed so as to be received at the Princeton office not later than ten days prior to the testing date chosen, Professor Jordan advised.

Scores on the Law School Admission Test are used by many law schools thruout the United States along with previous scholastic record and other evidences of suitable personal characteristics, as a basis for admission of applicants.

Roades and Bayless Present Fine Music Every Fri. on KRCC

Radio station KRCC is featuring a 45 minute program each Friday night, called "Reminiscing."

Bob Roades opens the show at 6:15 with extremely well chosen records from the past years. For one half hour he plays records and tells of events that happened during the years the particular songs were published. From digging into old phonograph albums, Bob has brought to the listeners of KRCC some of the finest records and popular tunes of all times. Often he devotes his entire half hour to the music of one composer or to a particular band and its leader.

At 6:45 the program turns from records to the piano and for the last 15 minutes, Jerry Bayless plays songs from past years in a "reminiscing mood." Between numbers, Bob and Jerry casually exchange bits of information concerning the songs or their composers.

This 45 minutes is well wortb your attention. Listen to KRCC at 6:15 every Friday night to hear "Reminiscing."

Contract Bridge Tournament Offers Title and Trophy

Again the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament is heading this way. In this tournament of contract bridge both men and women undergraduates compete for the championship title and trophy awarded by the tournament committee.

All competing colleges play (on campus) a set of eighteen prepared hands sent and returned by mail to the committee. These are scored by a recognized authority. The sixteen highest ranking pairs (two from each of the eight zones) are invited to a face-to-face final round to be played at the Blackstone hotel in Chicago on April 18 and 19. The expense of finalists en route to and from and during the finals is paid by the National Tournament committee.

All those wishing to take part in the tournament, or interested in knowing more about it please contact Sue Schlessman in Slocum hall.

Navy Announces New Navcad Program For College Men

College men can "have their cake and eat it too" is the gist of a recent regulation released by the Navy department.

The procurement office at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Denver, Colo., announced that it has just received a new regulation which provides that college men may now apply for Naval Aviation Cadet training up to four months prior to the time they actually wish to begin their training at Pensacola, Fla.

That means, young college men may now join the Naval Aviation Cadets AND continue going to school until they finish their present semester.

The Naval Aviation Cadet program is open to unmarried young men between the ages of 18 and

SHORTHAND COURSE AVAILABLE TO COLLEGE STUDENTS IN FEBRUARY

Next semester Colorado College will offer a shorthand course to interested students. The course will be given in the evening and the first class will start during the week of February 4, 1952. This course will not be given for credit but is being offered to students for their convenience who have asked for instruction in shorthand. Anyone interested in taking this shorthand course will receive instruction for four months at a cost of $10.00

The shorthand system to be taught will be the Gregg Simplified Method which is a new method. The course will be taught by Mrs. Dorothy Rundell who is an experienced teacher in shorthand and is considered one of the best in the community.

The first class meeting will be announced shortly. At the first meeting students will discuss the arrangement of classes. It will be a two hour course and class may meet one night a week for two hours, or two nights a week with one hour for each meeting.

Any student who might be interested in taking this "extra" course of instruction in shorthand should fill in the blank at the bottom of the page and deposit it in the ballot box in Palmer. Women students may leave these slips with the head Resident in their respective dorms.

Shorthand is in great demand in many fields. It is beneficial not only to women students but also the men. Many men in high positions in business and the government are exponents of the shorthand system. Knowing shorthand will also be helpful in taking lecture notes in other classes. If you arrange your next semester schedule in such a way that you will be able to take this shorthand course you will find it one of the most useful subjects you have ever acquired.

SHORTHAND COURSE

I will be interested in taking the shorthand course to be offered to the students next semester.

Signature.

Deposit this in the ballot box in Palmer, or give it to the head resident in your dormitory.

Sunday Concerts Start January 20 In Perkins Hall

Due to the renovation of Perkins hall, the Sunday afternoon concert originally announced to be performed on Jan. 13, will be presented on Jan. 20. The program will include a Bach secular cantata performed by Josephine Vadalla, soprano, Warren Stannard, oboe, and the La Salle String Quartet, and also a Mozart Sonata for Violin will be performed by Henry Meyer and Max Lanner.

This concert will be the opening of the redecorated Perkins hall, for which the college is indebted to the Women's Educational Society who are providing the means to make the hall more comfortable for concerts. It is rumored that the seats will be upholstered.

Questions and Answers About Infantile Paralysis Problems

What causes polio?

Polio, short for poliomeylitis, is a disease of the central nervous system caused by a tiny virus.

How does polio virus enter the human body?

It probably enter the alimentary canal from the mouth and nose. How it travels to the motor nerve cells where it does its damage, is not yet fully established.

Does polio strike more children than adults?

Yes, only about 25 per cent of the reported cases in this country are over sixteen. The number of older patients is increasing, however, and older patients appear to be harder hit.

How many people recover completely from infantile paralysis?

About 50 per cent of all reported cases recover completely. Another 25 per cent recover with slight after-effects that do not interfere with normal living. Approximately 17 per cent are seriously and permanently crippled and about 8 per cent die.

Which get polio more often, boys or girls?

It varies with age groups. In one special study, more males under 19 years of age were reported, more females from 20 to 39 years of age.

Why are more adolescents and adults now having polio?

Partly because today's adolescents and young adults in this country have not acquired an immunity to polio virus by exposures in childhood. Also, young people are apt to play hard, get overtired and may not take good care of themselves when they are fatigued or chilled.

Why is over-fatigue bad?

Scientists believe that once a person is infected by the polio virus, delicate balance exists between the virus and the body's ability to fight it. The scales can be tipped in favor of the virus by over-exertion. A recent study revealed that heavy exertion in the early stages of the disease resulted in more severe and extensive paralysis.

Why shouldn't people have tonsilectomies, other throat operations or teeth extractions when polio is around?

Because it has been found that during polio epidemics the serious bulbar type of polio occurs more frequently in individuals who have

Last Chance to Apply For Editor & Bus. Mgr. Will Be Tomorrow Noon

Applications for the editor and business manager of the TIGER are due tomorrow noon. Applicants do not need any special qualifications except to be either a sophomore or junior in good standing. Experience in the journalistic field will be helpful. Either job will take a lot of time and work, and in view of this, a salary of $500.00 a year is paid to both the editor and business manager.

The editor's job includes being responsible of acquiring a staff; covering all student, school and administrative news and seeing that it is presented in readable form. The business manager is responsible to see the ads of the various advertisers are arranged in the paper and also sponsors the original soliciting. He is also responsible for bills and the distribution of the TIGER.

If you are interested in either position, apply to the Student Publications Board in Cutler Hall. The new editor and business manager will be announce in the January 17 issue of the TIGER.

The Need Of A Journolism Closs

By AL STRAND

Next week I will complete my year in office as editor of the TIGER. It may seem a little belated at this time to offer a suggestion to help improve this publication, but I feel that something must be said in regard to it.

I would like to see a class in journalism offered to the students here at Colorado College. If this college is to have a newspaper I feel that a class in journalism is necessary because it will assist in putting out a better college paper. It isn't heartening to know that occasionally the TIGER is referred to as a "distributed bulletin board." This is one of many reasons why I can see the necessity of a journalism class.

The TIGER is the only thing this school has that reaches the nation regularly during the school year. It gives a great many people information about our school and the activities that take place here on campus. Much of this is pretty important and if it is presented in a wrong vain in our newspaper, it can cause harm to the college. If a student has an opportunity to study the techniques of journalism in a small way and use this basic knowledge effectively, Colorado College would not only have a better newspaper but it would have a paper that would have coverage of every event and organization on campus. All the news would be presented properly to the public because one of the requirements for a student in this journalism class would be to work on the TIGER.

Of the eighteen active members on the TIGER staff, thirteen have never worked on a newspaper of any kind before coming to CC. The only knowledge I acquired of newspaper work is what I have learned since being on the staff.

If a course in journalism is given at CC, it would be provided by the college's English department. Such a course could train the student in adequate news reporting and interpretation; it could teach proper newspaper style, format and content; it could show the problems of copy publication and in general give a study of comparative journalism. These are just a few things such a course could offer.

In the past and up to the present the TIGER has been more or less, a tradition. It has been something that just appeared week after week with a lot of black print. It would be a more enjoyable paper and more informative if it was published for the purpose of offering to everyone who is concerned with Colorado College facts concerning the school and the individuals who are associated with the college.

It is my hope the day will come when the TIGER is not simply regarded as another item on the Student Council budget. It is also my hope that some day anyone wanting to work on the paper will not only have to be alert and reliable, but will have to qualify by performance in order to remain on the staff.

Applying The Honor System To Chapel

By TOM GROOM

A great deal of religious significance is lacking in connection with our chapel services each Tuesday. The matter is not a tangible one and I do not mean to imply that it lies within the presentation of the service itself. However, I believe there is one thing that could be done which might reduce the feeling of compulsion that goes along with our present system, and that is to do away with the use of monitors and place attendance under the honor system. I am certain that coercion is not right with respect to religious matters, but if it must exist, it should be made as inconspicuous as possible. I believe a system of this type could be worked out without changing the number of chapel cuts allowed to each person.

The honor system might be applied as follows: each time a person took an unexcused cut he or she would drop a slip of paper into a box at Cutler stating the fact. Failure to do so within a certain length of time would be considered a violation of the system. It would be the obligation of the students to report anyone whom they observed were over-cutting and the final decision as to the validity of the absence would rest with the Chapel Board.

There would I believe, be a certain alleviation of the feeling of compulsion within the minds of the students if the honor system were applied here.

Compus Chest Appreciotion

December 31, 1951

My Dear President Gill:

It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge the check for $84.07, which represents the contribution of the students of Colorado College to the American Heart Association. An official receipt is enclosed.

We deeply appreciate this continued interest in the work of the American Heart Association. You may rest assured that this gift so generously given will be used to the best of our ability in this organization's important program in the fields of research, public education and community service toward the control of diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

I hope that you may be able to find some means by which to extend to your entire student body our expression of appreciation and gratitude for their splendid generosity and support.

With all good wishes for the New Year,

Sincerely yours,
Rome A. Betts,
Executive Director,
American Heart Association

Robert Deyo in Marine Reserve

Robert Carroll Deyo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al C. Deyo of 723 N. Wahsatch Ave., Colorado Springs, was enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve in Denver recently. He has been assigned to the Platoon Leaders Class.

The Marine Corps Leaders Class is an officer candidate program designed to train high-calibre men who can assume responsibility as commissioned officers. Platoon leaders class training is limited to two summer periods of six weeks each. At the completion of that training, and upon graduation, the men are eligible for a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve. No training or other work is required during the academic year.

This program is open to all college freshmen, sophomores and juniors between the ages of 17 and 25.

Deyo is presently enrolled as a freshman at Colorado College, where he is majoring in physical education.

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

WATCH THAT CIGARETTE!

The Student Council wishes that all students will observe the NO SMOKING rules in Palmer. Also, our college is very liberal in allowing people to smoke in the dorms. This privilege if violated in the dorms and houses could have tragic results. And remember, if we have a fire on campus, board and room just might go up a little higher.

Panhellenic Assn. Sponsors First All-Sorority Dance

With high hopes of starting a brand new tradition on the CC campus, the Panhellenic Association of Colorado College will sponsor its first annual all-sorority dance on Saturday night, January 19, from 9 until 12, at the Acacia hotel to the music of Drex Broome's band. Panhellenic, which has heretofore correlated the activities of the sororities mainly in regard to the business of rush week, is now experimenting with a new social correlation among the women's Greek letter organizations. The dance can succeed as a yearly social function only with the backing of all four sororities. There are no conflicts with other social events on that night, and there will be no hockey games that weekend.

Since Panhellenic is sponsoring the dance it will be girls' choice. Tickets are $1.50 a couple and may be secured at the door or from Panhellenic members Sue Royce, Lynn Jones, Joyce Patterson, Leslie Lockhart, Karen McCorkle, Connie Cover, Betty Breland and Phyl Seymour. The order of dress for the evening will be dressy date dresses for the girls and suits for the men.

Two Sororities Give Blood to Red Cross

The first group of girls from CC to respond to the request of the Red Cross for blood donations were a group of Delta Gammas and Gamma Phis. The group was composed of: Barb Bletsch, Marrion Vandemoer, Pat Scott, Bea Wicks, Gay Gould, Libby Sheldon, Mark Marksheffel, Jody Pollock, Nancy Wolfer, Mary Todd, and Sue Schlessman. Of course there is still a great demand for more individuals to participate in the Red Cross drive for blood donors. It would be a good project for more college groups to go out for since the age limit is not 21 as previously thought, but 18 if given at Camp Carson.

HOOP SQUAD HAS ROUGH TRIP AS THEY LOSE FIVE GAMES ON ROAD

The Tiger hoop squad had little luck over the holidays as they played five games and lost as many. They were traveling in pretty fast company in most cases and just didn't have the experience or the shooters to come up with the winning combination. In two games played at Carlsbad, New Mexico. the Tigers met the REA Travellers of Artesia an industrial team. The Tigers took it on the chin 84-58 and 104-62. The Travellers are a squad of top-fligbt former collegians and gave the Tigers their two worst lickings of the season.

The Tigers then moved over to Portales, N. M., for the Sunshine Tournament. In the first game Coach Bill Heiss' crew ran into the host team, Eastern New Mexico University and hot-shooting Center Bill Griggs. The final score saw the Tigers on the short end 61-42. Griggs scored 20 points for ENMU while Don Stone netted 14 for the Bengals.

In the consolation bracket, the Tigers ran up against Howard Payne College of Brownwood, Tex., and after leading at halftime, 24-23, the Tigers folded in the second half and went down to their second tournament defeat 64-50. Ben Snyder bucketed 17 points for the Tigers and was closely followed by the teams leading scorer Don Stone who tallied 14.

The Tigers went down to their third defeat of the tournament, losing to Abilene Christian, 58-56 for a last place in the tournament in which they ended a respectable third last year. Lanky Bill Johnson, Christian's center was the villian as he poured 26 points thru the hoop to' lead all scorers. Altho not more than four points separated the two teams thruout the contest, CC was never able to gain the lead and another loss went into the record books. The Tigers now have a two won and eight lost record.

The squad leaves this week on an extended nine day trip up thru the hinterlands of Idaho and Montana to open their conference schedule.

The Montana State Bobcats will be making an attempt at their third conference championship and are favored to repeat. Their overall season's record to date shows 10 wins against 7 losses. They are led by one of last year's outstanding RMC scorers in Stan McKethen who boasts a near twenty point per game average.

TIGERS OUT TO EVEN SERIES WITH DENVER AND TO MOVE UP IN LOOP

By RAY SCHERER

The Colorado College Tigers go in quest of their third conference victory Friday in the DU arena when they meet the Denver Pioneers for the fourth time this year. In their previous meetings CC has gotten the nod in two out of three games played, but we have lost the one that counted in league play. On the first of December the Tigers beat DU up there in a benefit game 7 to 6, lost the the first game down here on Friday the seventh 4 to 3, then came back Saturday night to take the Pioneers 7 to 4.

Over the Christmas holidays the Tigers picked up two conference wins over the University of Minnesota on the fourth and fifth of January by scores of 5-3 and 6-4 respectively. Both of these games counted in the Midwest Standings, but only the first of the two to be played this weekend in Denver counts just as only the first game counted between the two schools on that December 7 weekend here.

Denver over the holidays took on the University of Michigan in addition to Minnesota and fared pretty well. They split with Michigan in two games, both of which counted. Against Minnesota the Pioneers also split, however, the first game, won by Denver, was the only one that counted. Monday night of this week the Pioneers defeated Michigan State 8-2 in the first of a two game series. The second game was played Tuesday night. Both of these games count in the standings. Other games to be played around the Midwestern Conference this weekend are: Friday, January 11—North Dakota at Michigan State; Minnesota at Michigan. Saturday, January 12—North Dakota at Michigan State.

The two games in Denver this weekend promise to be thrillers and important ones as far as the league standings go. A victory Friday night would certainly brighten CC's chances of a bid in the tournament in March, and a win Saturday night might be helpful also in securing a berth. Don't forget about the games that don't actually count in the standings. They may be mighty helpful in case of a tie somewhere when the schedules are completed. In case of a tie between two teams at the close of the season, the team with the best overall season's record would get the nod, so we must not neglect these other games.

Denver will be strengthened by the return of two injured players this week. They are Willis O'Leary and Doug McKinnon. O'Leary has been out of action since the beginning of the season and McKinnon has missed several of the games over the holidays. The Tigers are in good condition themselves, excluding a few black eyes and bruises, and everyone is expected to dress.

Our next home games are February first and second when we meet Michigan Tech.

COOPERATIVE PLAN
for
MASTER of SCIENCE DEGREES

PURPOSE
To assist outstanding BS graduates in obtaining their Master of Science Degrees while employed in industry and making a significant contribution to important military work.

ELIGIBILITY
June 1952 graduates receiving BS Degrees in the following fields:
Electrical Engineering
Electronic Engineering
Physics
Mechanical Engineering
Aeronautical Engineering
Those chosen to participate in this plan will be from the upper portion of their graduating classes or will have evidenced unusual technical ability. They must also have evidenced imaginative ability and possess personality traits enabling them to work well with others.

CITIZENSHIP
Applicants must be United States citizens who can be cleared for "Secret," due to their work at Hughes Research and Development Laboratories being of a classified nature.

PARTICIPATING UNIVERSITIES
The University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California will participate in this program, and candidates for Master of Science Degrees must meet entrance requirements for advanced study at these schools.

PROGRAM
Under this Cooperative Plan, starting June 1952, the following schedule of employment at Hughes is arranged:
Full time—from June 1952 to Sept. 1952
Half time—from Sept. 1952 to June 1953
Full time—from June 1953 to Sept. 1953
Half time—from Sept. 1953 to June 1954
Under this arrangement it is possible for a recipient to receive ⅝th of a normal year's salary each year and to attend a university half time during regular sessions working on his Master's Degree.

SALARIES
Salaries will be commensurate with the individual's ability and experience and reflect the average in the electronics industry. Salary growth will be on the same basis as full-time members of the engineering staff. In addition, the individuals will be eligible for health, accident, and life insurance benefits, as well as other benefits accruing to full-time members.

TRAVEL AND MOVING EXPENSES
For those residing outside of the Southern California area, actual travel and moving expenses will be allowed up to 10% of the full starting annual salary.

TUITION
Tuition at either UCLA or USC, covering the required number of units necessary to obtain a Master's Degree, will be paid by Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

NUMBER OF AWARDS
Approximately one hundred Cooperative Awards shall be made each year, if sufficient qualified candidates present themselves.

SELECTION OF CANDIDATES
Candidates will be selected by a committee of representation composed of two each from the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of Southern California, and the Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

DATES FOR APPLYING
Informal applications should be mailed prior to January 30, 1952. The Laboratories will then forward formal applications, which should be returned, accompanied by up-to-date grade transcripts, by February 15, 1952. Selections will be made during the month of March.

HOCKEY HOLIDAYS A SUCCESS--D. U. NEXT

Tigers Win Five, Lose One Over Holidays--Tony, Ron Star

Coach Cheddy Thompson's Tigers spent a very profitable two weeks over the holidays as they racked up five wins against a lone defeat. The defeat came at the hands of a hustling band of skaters from Yale University with All-Pentagonal league goalie Paul Cruikshank coming in for the lions share of the praise. In the six games played over the "Hockey Holidays" at the Broadmoor Ice Palace the Tigers split with Yale, dumped the University of Saskatchewan Huskies twice and won two hard-fought battles from the University of Minnesota Cophers. The Yale series did not count in the Midwest Hockey loop standings as Yale is in the eastern division. The Minnesota series, however, brought two very important league victories to the Tigers to put them well up in the standings. The Sackatchewan games were merely frosting on the cake.

In the first Yale game the Tigers came up with a well-earned victory by scoring three goals in the last period while whitewashing the Eli in that period to gain the nod 5-2. Tony Frasca led the scoring parade as he picked up two assists and one goal for three points, with Leo Soligo and Norm Diviney each chipping in two goals. Cruikshank was very good in the nets as he turned aside 42 attempts. Ken Kinsley was hard to beat for the Tigers as he stopped 31 out of 33 shots. The second night, Cruikshank was phenomenal as he turned back 49 Tiger shots, many of which were breakaway attempts. To give an indication of Cruikshank's ability he was chosen as All-Pentagonal goalie last year over the outstanding Don Whiston of Brown. The final score was 6-3.

The Saskatchewan series was all CC as the Tigers swept both games by scores of 10-5 and 7-2. The games with the Canucks saw the forming of the new "Terrific Trio" of Center Tony Frasca, and Wings Ron Hartwell and Omer "The Bull" Brandt. The threesome went wild against the Huskies the first game as Hartwell picked up five goals and two assists, Frasca a hat trick and three assists and Brandt two assists for a total of fifteen points between them. The second game was much rougher than the first, featuring numerous boardings and body checks which the referees seemed reluctant to call. Frasca and Hartwell again led the Tiger scoring parade as Hartwell again turned in a hat trick and Frasca chipping in with two goals and an assist. In the two nights Kinsley came up with 59 saves to lead the Tiger defensive corps.

The Minnesota series saw some of the best hockey of the year as the Bengals came up with two very important wins by scores of 5-3 and 6-4. The "Pony Line" led by hustling Leo Soligo at center and wings Ed Robson and Dick Kennefic came into their own against the Cophers as they showed an outstanding brand of hockey. Though Coalie Larry Ross an All-American himself last year incidentally, was mighty hard to beat, the young Tiger line gave him a bad night. Ross turned aside 40 pucks the second night but six got by him giving the Tigers the nod 6-4.

Ken Kinsley seems to have the Tiger net-tenders job sewed up after exhibiting his wares in five of the six games over the holidays all of which were winning efforts. His cool concentration and outstanding work has marked him as one of the best goalies in CC's history with a brilliant future ahead of him. Kinsley is only a sophomore and should dissolve any goalie troubles for the next few years.

Rompre, Gambucci On Olympic Hockey Team

Andy Gambucci and Bob Rompre, both Tiger puck chasers, have been selected to play on the U. S. Olympic hockey team which will play in the Winter Games to be held at Oslo, Norway in February.

Cambucci and Rompre first were selected to play on the west squad which played a picked group of amateur hockey players from the east in a game played at Boston. The game ended in a 2-2 tie with Gambucci scoring one goal for the West. The two men were then chosen for the Olympic team which was picked from members of both squads.

This ends inter-collegiate competition for Cambucci as he participated in some games for the Tigers this year before leaving for the try-outs in December, thereby using up the last of his hockey eligibility. He can play football next year, as he was out

No. 31...THE MOUNTAIN GOAT

He thought they were trying to make him the butt-end of a joke when he was asked to judge cigarette mildness with a mere puff of one brand and a quick sniff of another. The fancy foot-work didn't dazzle him! He knew that the pinnacle of pleasure comes from steady smoking . . . and that there is only one test that gives you enough time to permit conclusive proof. Smokers throughout America have made the same decision!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

recently had their tonsils removed. It is believed that after a throat operation the virus can more easily gain entrance into the brain through exposed nerves leading from the throat. This also applies to teeth extractions or other mouth surgery. Ordinary cleaning and filling of the teeth may be continued as usual, when needed.

Is there any group of people immune to polio?

It is estimated that 80 per cent of all adults are immune to at least one of the three known types of polio virus, as reflected in recent studies in Baltimore. They do not fall into racial, social or economic groups.

What is meant by "keeping clean"?

Principally by washing hands carefully before eating and always after using the toilet. Hands may carry polio infection into the body through the mouth. Avoid use of another person's towel, dishes and tableware.

How can I help the fight against infantile paralysis?

By getting to know your own local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and helping with educational work, by volunteer service in hospitals and homes of polio papients and by helping to raise necessary funds through the MARCH OF DIMES.

Skiing Hardships Told In Poem

I think that I shall never see
A poem as lousy as a ski.
A ski that has me often pressed
Against the earth's cold, snowy breast;
A ski that goes on its own sweet way
And teaches me to cuss and pray;
A ski that may in winter wear
My seat until beyond repair;
Upon whose hard ribs I have lain,
And intimately lived with pain.
Poems are ruined by fools like me,
But not as I've been by a ski.

A little chap was sitting on the curb with a cigarette in one hand and the neck of a flask protruding from his hip pocket.

An old lady came up to him and said, "Sonny, why aren't you in school?"

"Hell, lady, I'm only three."

Byrd Parmalee Elected To Fill Office of Business Manager

In its weekly meeting last Friday, the Student Publications Board unanimously nominated to the office of editor of the TIGER, Dale Arie, a junior from Ft. Madison, Ia. Byrd Parmalee was re-named to fill the position of business manager for a second year. Both these nominations were presented to the Student Council Monday where they were officially approved by all members of the Council.

Arie, who is a veteran, married and the father of a boy and a girl, will take over the job of editor with the next issue of the paper. For the past year, he has been sports editor of the Tiger. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity and was president of the fraternity for the past semester. Arie is a business major and has also appeared frequently on radio station KRCC announcing different sporting events.

Byrd Parmalee, a junior from Eden, N. Y., was renamed business manager of the TIGER. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity where he has held the office of Student Council representative. He is a chemistry major.

Debate Team Lose Top Honors at Meet in Denver

Last week-end the Colorado College debate team traveled to Loretta Heights College and narrowly missed placing for top honors.

The debate team under the supervision of Professor Ray O. Werner entered this first tournament of the year with other regional schools consisting of Denver University, Colorado University, Western State, Regis College, Pueblo Junior College, Colorado State College of Education and Loretta Heights.

Collectively the debate team won about one half of all debates. Don Johnson and Paul Evans went through the first tournament undefeated. This was the first time that either man ever entered a debating contest. Pat Gormely and Charles Hawley won two out of three contests while John Hawthorne and George Abbott received a rating of excellent in their speeches which was higher than either of the two teams who tied for third spot in the tournament.

The CC debate team defeated the Denver University team twice, and knocked Colorado University, and Western State once each.

Pueblo Junior College took first and second place while Regis College and Colorado State tied for third place.

The next meeting of the debate team will be a practice meet with Pueblo Junior College at a date to be announced. Any student who wishes to be on the debate team should contact Professor Werner in Palmer Hall.

Campus Skiers Off To Aspen Slopes Between Semesters

The annual mass exodus of Colorado College skiers from the campus to Aspen during the between-semesters period is already in the air. Over 100 CC Tigers have made their reservations and traveling plans to the most fabulous of all American ski centers, and indications point to a CC crowd of over 200.

Most Ptarmigan Ski Club members have already made their own plans. Those members who cannot possibly find transportation are asked to sign in the treasurer's office not later than Monday, January 21. Arrangements will be made for those signing.

With finals over on Monday, January 28, all skiers are urged to be in Aspen for at least Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the Aspen Winterskol, Ski Carnival Week. Three-day tow tickets sell for $10.90, with a discount

SELECTIVE SERVICE DIRECTOR EXPLAINS 1951 AMMENDMENTS TO DRAFT LAW

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, today announced that Selective Service will not make any special provisions to give students 30 days after the end of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice. General Hershey explained that such arrangements are not necessary this year as the 1951 amendments to the Selective Service law provide that students are henceforth to be deferred instead of having their induction postponed. They will, therefore, have ample opportunity after the completion of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

The 1951 amendments to the act, General Hershey pointed out, provide that any student pursuing a full-time courae who is ordered for induction, would if he had never before been deferred as a student, be deferred in Class I-S until the end of his academic year, but he could receive only one such deferment.

A student who is entitled to a statutory I-S deferment must be ordered for induction, General Hershey points out, before he can be deferred by his local board. The law says that he shall be deferred "upon presenting the facts" that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course at the time the order for induction is issued. A atudent who ia ordered for induction ahonld not be thrown into a panic, General Hershey explained, all that is necesaary ia for him to request the dean or regiatrar to immediately give his local board official notice that he is a full-time student doing satisfactory work and that such work actually commenced prior to the date the order for induction was mailed. Enrollment, acceptance and registration do not count, actual attendance at classes is the prerequisite.

The Selective Service law places upon each registrant the obligation of keeping the local board advised of his current status. It would therefore be a wise move, General Hershey suggested, for each student to have his school send official notice to the local board as soon as the student has been notified that he has passed his preinduction physical examination. If the local board has been put on notice that the student is pursuing a full-time course, General Hershey advised, there will be little danger of a last minute mix-np which might result in the induction of a student legally entitled to a statutory I-S deferment.

The new Selective Service law

Colorado's Champion Orator to Be Chosen In Heights Contest

The first annual Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest will be held at Loretta Heights College, Loretta, Colo., on March 2, 1952. All colleges in the state are invited to send a representative to the contest at which a distinctive award will be presented to the champion intercollegiate orator of Colorado for 1952.

Each oration will be the original composition of the representative and is not to exceed 12 minutes in length. The orations must be fully memorized as no notes will be permitted. Judging the contest will be college dignitaries, state and public officials and outstanding citizens of Colorado.

The purpose of the contest is to stimulate students to investigate, analyze and eloquently present current civil, national and international problems and to give them experience in the art of logical and lucid oral expression of ideas.

Any students interested in applying for entrance into this contest contact Professor Ray Werner and present their topics not later than Friday, Jan. 25. If enough students express interest in the contest, an elimination contest will be held to determine who will represent CC in the final contest.

GENERALIZATION VS. SPECIALIZATION

"Man is the sand in an hourglass—unable to see through the pinch 'til he has passed it."

It seems to this writer that it is high time for the students, faculty and administration of our institution to attempt an objective view of a common crises, a moment of increasing demand for decisive action. Two systems of this serious academic problem have come to the surface during the past few days, and a myriad of others threaten to appear at the close of the next term. In the first place, an uncommon number of students are rumored as planning to transfer at the semester's end—the general gripe being an insufficient curriculum. Secondly, the Fine Arts Center has just released two well-known men, both prominent in their fields and popular with the students—the reason being, it is said, "curriculum changes now and in the future."

The problem which revolves around C. C.'s curriculum, as evidenced in a momentary comparison of class schedules over the past two years, hinges on the suitably of our growing academic condensation. Its solution is a matter of compromise between two extremes: generalization to the point of collegiate extinction or specialization to the level of a state university. Perhaps it is unimportant that art majors will be denied efficient training in the graphic arts, that those interested in accounting may take only two courses, that no student can acquire enough hours for a major in philosophy or religion alone, that the publication board's urgent request for a basic journalism course is being wafted on the winds of controversy regarding the meaning of "liberal arts." On the other hand, these very facts may be responsible for the perilous lowering of enrollment or the government's rejection of our bid for an ROTC program.

These matters have, no doubt, been thoroughly considered in some administrative committee or other, though the students hear no reports from behind the iron curtains of such groups. Said committees might accomplish something constructive, if students were included among their members or allowed to have a say in their conclusions. The crisis may yet be safely bypassed by joint meetings of students, faculty and administration—or would such seminars be too specialized for our liberal arts institution?

—Bob Humphreys

BEMIS HALL RENOVATION

The College was the recipient recently of a substantial gift by an annoymous doner, to be used expressly for the purpose of completely renovating and modernizing Bemis Hall. The gift came at a most opportune time because it would have been impossible to finish the job at Bemis with funds taken from current operating expenses. I am taking this opportunity through the pages of the TIGER to tell this good news to the student body and to publicly express our gratitude to our anonymous doner.

Sincerely,
President William H. Gill

STUDENT DISCONTENT

Does everyone realize that there are around 50 girls thinking of leaving Colorado College at the end of this semester? If you do, I think you should consider the gravity of this situation. We say, "Oh, its the insecurity and malcontent that people have because of the present world situation which is making them restless." This is partially true. When a student enters college he wants to decide upon a vocational interest. The school must provide enough choice subjects and outside activities.

In the first place, the majority of desired subjects fall on the same day and often at the same time. Secondly, a great many subjects demand too many prerequisites in their fields. Thirdly, the need for an adequate social life must be satisfied. To obtain this, the ratio must be equalized between men and women. This can be achieved by presenting a more varied schedule. I think the administration should concentrate on more faculty members to provide more subjects for the students and stem the discontent that may spread throughout the campus of Colorado College and make it the happier place that it can be.

—Rosemary Musgrave.

Chapel Program

A new suggestion was brought up last Monday concerning the chapel program. It was suggested that there be an obligatory non-religious service on Tuesday and a voluntary religious service on Thursday mornings. It was voted on in Monday night's meeting and the results will be announced later.

Foreign Students

A vote also was taken in meetings regarding foreign students and whether the students of CC want to continue the present policy. It seems too, that men foreign students living in the fraternity houses do not get breakfast free of charge, so it was voted on whether or not to raise their fund.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT ENTRIES DUE JAN. 21

All those who wish to participate in the National Bridge Tournament contact Sue Schlessman, Slocum Hall by January 21, 1952. If there are more than four couples interested, a pre-tournament play-off will be necessary. The time set for the national tournament play-offs will be February 15. Be sure your name is in before the deadline.

This meeting is very important so be sure to attend.

German Club Draws Large Attendance At Swiss Movies

The German Club was host to 150 students and townspeople at a showing of a group of Swiss films on Tuesday, Jan. 8, in South Hall. The films, which were made available to the club through the Swiss National Tourist Office in San Francisco, were exceptionally good and include pictured of various Swiss towns and landscape, skating in Switzerland, and one film covering the 1948 Olympics in St. Moritz.

The next scheduled meeting of the German Club will be on Thursday evening, February 7, in Hayes House Library at 7:30 p. m. At this time the club will have as its guest speaker, Mr. Edward M. Groth, former Consul General, who has served for 30 years in India, Denmark and Germany. All members of the student body and faculty are cordially invited to attend.

Coeds to Elect New Officers Of AWS Executive Board

The Associated Women students of CC will go to the polls next month to elect a new AWS executive board. Nominations for the offices of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer will be made by petitions which must be signed by 25 women students. The primary election will be held on Feb. 11 and the final voting is to take place on Feb. 18. Nominations will be made through hall meetings and the town girls' club, and candidates will be responsible for circulating their own petitions. No person may sign more than one petition for each office.

Qualifications for the officers of the AWS board are as follows: the president shall be a senior during her term of office and shall have served one term previously on the AWS legislative board; the vice president shall be a junior during her term of office; the secretary shall be a sophomore, junior or senior during her term of office and the treasurer shall be a junior or senior during her term of office.

All women students are members of AWS and are urged to take an active part in the election of their officers by nominating qualified coeds and voting at both the primary and final elections.

This year's officers of AWS are: president, Barbie Prechtel; vice president, Emily Howe; secretary, B. J. Trotter and treasurer, Cynnie Haymes.

Tiger Swimmers Defeat Terrors at Carson Pool In Practice Swim Meet

Led by Norm Brown, who captured two firsts, the Colorado College swim team defeated a fighting Colorado Springs High School swim team 48 to 27 last Saturday afternoon at the Camp Carson pool. Freshman Norm Brown helped the Tigers win 7 firsts out of 9 events by copping the 100-yard breast stroke and 150-yard individual medley races. Other individual winners for the Tigers were Tom Abel in the 200-yard freestyle race, Wally Harmon in the 100-yard freestyle and Harry Ebeling in fancy diving. Other tankmen that helped add points to the Tiger total with second places were Capt. Squeeky Wilkins in the 100-yard back stroke, Ted Bilharz in the 50-yard freestyle, and Harry Ebeling in the 100-yard freestyle. Thirds were garnered by Bill Schacht and Bard Brown in the 50 and 200-yard freestyle races respectively. The medley team of Wilkins, N. Brown, and Harry Holtom and the freestyle relay team composed of Ted Bilharz, Bill Schacht, Art Paterson, and Wally Harmon were also victorious.

Coach Robert M. Stabler announces that next Saturday, January 19, the college swim team will get this year's first taste of Collegiate competition when they meet Colorado A&M at the Camp Carson pool at 2:30 p. m. Since Bright colors flashing down the slopes will be a familiar sight at the Wyoming Snowy Mountain Area, Feb. 7 and 8 when girls from CC and several other colleges gather for the Women's Intercollegiate Ski Meet. The University of Wyoming at Laramie will be hostess for the event. Girls going from CC to participate in the meet will be Barbara Eccles, Sally Moffit, Julia Fite, Marion Johnston, Sue Griffin, Carolyn Pfeil, Margaret Gore, Maizie Campbell, and Marsha Sehm. Good luck to these girls in all the events they enter!

Date for the WAA intramural bowling tournament has been set for Feb. 16 at the Sport Bowl Bowling Alley. Five girls from each sorority and the Independent Women will participate as a team. Although no definite practice is required, it's a good idea to practice some, especially if you haven't bowled in six months or a year.

Explode For 5-0 Win Friday At DU Arena For League Victory

Led by the sterling net-tending of Goalie Ken Kinsley, the Tiger puck squad took the important game of a two game series from the DU Pioneers at the Denver arena last weekend. After the smoke had cleared and the firing ceased, Kinsley had shut out the red-shirted Pioneers and the Tigers had banged five pucks past DU Goalie Mooney for a thrill-packed 5-0 win. The second night the Pioneers came right back to hand the Tigers a 5-4 loss which did not count in the Midwest Hockey league standings. With a little luck, the Bengals could have won this one too, but it wasn't in the cards. They won the important one though and therein lies the story.

The crowd hadn't had time to warm their seats before Ron Hartwell had dented the twines for the first Tiger score of the evening. It came at 27 seconds of the first period with Tony Frasca garnering an assist. Frasca came back at 7:18 to score unassisted to bring the count to 2-0. The first period ended that way with Kinsley picking up six saves in the twenty minutes, many of which were of the spectacular variety.

The only scoring the Tigers were able to muster in the second period came off the stick of Steve Leolich, the first of two for him for the evening. Dick Kennefic picked up an assist on the score, which came on a screen shot which Mooney didn't even see or know about until the red light went on and the crowd roared. Kinsley picked up seven more saves in the period, which was his easiest of the night.

The third period was fast and furious as the Pioneers pressed the attack throughout in an attempt to avert a shut-out, but Kinsley was equal to the occasion coming up with fourteen saves to thwart the home team. The Tigers picked up two more goals in the third period as the Pioneer defense lapsed in their effort to score. Leolich garnered his second goal of the night on a shot almost identical to his first goal. Eastwood and Robeson picked up assists on the play which came at 14:27 of the last period. Prior to Leolich's goal, Ed Robeson had picked up the Tigers fourth goal at 2:24 on a lift from Leo Soligo. The firing on Kinsley was hot and heavy throughout the last period with much of the action taking place in front of the Tiger net

JV Hockey Team Meets DU Here Friday Night

Tomorrow night the Colorado College junior varsity hockey team will take on the JV's from Denver. This will be the first of two games with Saturday night's game being played at Denver.

The rules governing the game will permit any hockey player from either school to play providing he did not play in the last varsity game. This is leaving a great deal of room for top talent from both schools.

CC coaches, Cam Berry and Gordy Atkinson will probably use Doug Bates in the nets Friday night and Don Ross Saturday night. On the defense line will be Jim Weir and Fred Eastwood with Wally Charm and "Pinky" Pearson as substitutes.

The front line will be sparked by Don Crouse, center and Murray Couch and Pete Kosick as wings. The other line will consist of Rocky Anderson at center and Ken Simons and Jack Wilbur at wing positions.

Game time will be 8:15, Friday night at the Ice Palace, and students may get into the game by just presenting the Number 15 stub in their activity books. As the varsity will not play again until they meet Michigan Tech here February 1 and 2 all students should make it a point to be out at the Broadmoor Friday night to support the second best hockey team in the west.

BASKETBALL TEAM CONTINUES INEPT; DROP TWO TO IDAHO STATE BENGALS

From the looks of things the Tiger basketball team is destined to play doormat for the rest of the Rocky Mountain conference if the games last weekend and previous performance is any indication. In two games played at Pocatello, Idaho, last week the Tigers dropped two more decisions, 45-39 and 66-38. In the first game the hoopsters made it a close game taking the loss by a mere 6 points. The second night the young, inexperienced Tigers were stone cold and lost in a rout by 28 points. Don Stone, the Tiger's leading scorer and the most consistent man on the squad tallied 9 and 13 points for 22 points for the two nights.

The Tigers traveled on up to Bozeman, Montana for a two game series with the Montana State Bobcats Monday and Tuesday nights and prospects for victory are even more dim in the far north as the Bobcats are working on their third straight conference championship and are led by the league's leading scorer, Joe McKethen.

Stone Moves Up in Conference Scoring Race; McKethen Tops

Don Stone, Colorado College's leading scorer, moved up in the conference scoring race from eighth to fifth. Mike Pappas of Colorado State gained ground last week in his effort to overcome Joe McKethen of Montana State. McKethen, idle last week, is leading with an average of 18.9 points. Pappas, who was shooting 15.5 a week ago, advanced to 16.3 in 10 games.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests
No. 32...THE YAK
"Some people will do anything for laughs!"

He's far too sophisticated to be amused by slap-stick comedy! From the minute the curtain went up, he knew that you just can't judge cigarette mildness by one fast puff or a single, swift aniff. It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

• Selective Service

provided for the Class I-S ststutory deferment and gave the President authority to prescribe regulations governing the deferment of students in such numbers as he deemed necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest. The President subsequently prescribed a Class II-S student deferment program. Students may be placed in this classification, Cenral Hershey explained, at the discretion of their local boards. To assist the boards in determining which students should be given II-S deferments, a method was set up whereby students who are in the prescribed upper portion of the male members of their class or who made a score of 70 or better on the Selective Service College Qualification Test may be considered by their local board for deferment. The law provides, however, that local boards are not required to defer men who meet one or both of the criteria. This is still discretionary on the part of the board. General policy is that students meeting either or both criteria will be deferred.

Many students have been confused, Cenral Hershey observed, in differentiating between the I-S and II-S deferments. The II-S deferment is considered on the basis of class standing or qualification test and is discretionary on the part of the local board, Cenral Hershey explained. It may be granted by the local board each successive year, thus enabling students who do not have eligibility for consideration for II-S deferments, and who have never before received a student deferment or postponement to complete their current academic year.

Local boards generally determine during the summer months to whom II-S deferments shall be granted for the next academic year. In making their determination, they consider the student's class standing for the previous academic year as furnished by the school on Selective Service form 109. For example, a freshman student with a I-S deferment may, Cenral Hershey pointed out, keep his class work to a point where he is in the prescribed upper portion of his class at the end of that academic year or during the year take the College Qualification Test so that he thereby becomes eligible for consideration for a II-S deferment for the next year.

this meet will be the first for the Aggies, not much is known of this year's team. Last year, A&M was the Skyline Eight Conference swimming champions, so all indications point to another strong team from Fort Collins.

The Tigers will be strengthened by the return of Chuck O'Connor, diver and breast stroker, and of Carky Rubens, last year's captain and freestyle sparkplug for next week's meet.

The results of last week's meet:

Results

50 yard free style—Taylor (CS), Bilharz (CC), Schacht (CC). T: 26.6.

100 yard breast—N. Brown (CC), Martchenke (CS), Mack (CS). T: 1:14.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

NONE of the girls were wild about this Wildcat. His hair looked like something the cat dragged in! "I'm feline mighty low," he told his Paw. "Every Tomcat, Dick and Harry on campuss has dates but me!" "Yes, Siam aware of that, son. You need Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. All the cats are using it because it's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Help you puss—I mean part the Finger-Nail Test." So Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil, and now he's the most popular Persian at school. Purr-haps it's what you need! Take some small change out of your kitty and pussy-foot it to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask fur professional applications at your favorite barber shop. Hurry—meow is the time!

HUGHES
for
MASTER of SCIENCE DEGREES

PURPOSE
To assist outstanding BS graduates in obtaining their Master of Science Degrees while employed in industry and making a significant contribution to important military work.

ELIGIBILITY
June 1952 graduates receiving BS Degrees in the following fields:
Electrical Engineering
Electronic Engineering
Physics
Mechanical Engineering
Aeronautical Engineering
Those chosen to participate in this plan will be from the upper portion of their graduating classes or will have evidenced unusual technical ability. They must also have evidenced imaginative ability and possess personality traits enabling them to work well with others.

CITIZENSHIP
Applicants must be United States citizens who can be cleared for "Secret," due to their work at Hughes Research and Development Laboratories being of a classified nature.

PARTICIPATING UNIVERSITIES
The University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California will participate in this program, and candidates for Master of Science Degrees must meet entrance requirements for advanced study at these schools.

PROGRAM
Under this Cooperative Plan, starting June 1952, the following schedule of employment at Hughes is arranged:
Full time—from June 1952 to Sept. 1952
Half time—from Sept. 1952 to June 1953
Full time—from June 1953 to Sept. 1953
Half time—from Sept. 1953 to June 1954
Under this arrangement it is possible for a recipient to receive ⅜th of a normal year's salary each year and to attend a university half time during regular sessions working on his Master's Degree.

SALARIES
Salaries will be commensurate with the individual's ability and experience and reflect the average in the electronics industry. Salary growth will be on the same basis as full-time members of the engineering staff. In addition, the individuals will be eligible for health, accident, and life insurance benefits, as well as other benefits accruing to full-time members.

TRAVEL AND MOVING EXPENSES
For those residing outside of the Southern California area, actual travel and moving expenses will be allowed up to 10% of the full starting annual salary.

TUITION
Tuition at either UCLA or USC, covering the required number of units necessary to obtain a Master's Degree, will be paid by Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

NUMBER OF AWARDS
Approximately one hundred Cooperative Awards shall be made each year, if sufficient qualified candidates present themselves.

SELECTION OF CANDIDATES
Candidates will be selected by a committee of representation composed of two each from the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of Southern California, and the Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

DATES FOR APPLYING
Informal applications should be mailed prior to January 30, 1952. The Laboratories will then forward formal applications, which should be returned, accompanied by up-to-date grade transcripts, by February 15, 1952. Selections will be made during the month of March.

Dean Burkle Announces a New Series of Chapel Programs

"In hopes of finding some arrangement more generally satisfactory than the present one," Chapel services will be conducted on an experimental basis during the Spring semester, Dean Howard R. Burkle has announced. The Chapel programs will alternate between religious and secular services. "The basis of the plan," Dean Burkle stated, is that "religious services and secular services will be differentiated. On some mornings there will be one type, on other mornings there will be the other type. This experiment is already in process." The religious services, such as those held in January, will be referred to as Chapel. Secular services will be called Convocation.

During February, the distribution will be in the proportion of three Convocations to one Chapel. In March and April there will be an equal distribution of the two types of programs, held on alternating Tuesdays. In May there will be three Chapels and one Convocation.

"If this experimentation is to be useful at all," the Dean of the Chapel asserted, "it will be necessary for the student body to express its reactions. An intelligent appraisal will be welcomed by the Chapel Board. It is hoped that the student body will participate with genuine awareness of its own important place in the total program. The program cannot succeed simply on the merits of what transpires on the dias. Being entertained has its values, but also its limitations. The most worthwhile group activities are those in which the audience ceases to be a passive reaction and becomes an active agent through sympathetic and intelligent participation."

Each week, the TIGER will carry an announcement of the type of service to be held on the succeeding Tuesday. Next week's program will be the first in a series of talks on vocations.

Diggers Get Dug; Males to Reign At Annual Ball

Get out your little black books, girls, the time is fast approaching for the big girl-ask-boy event of the year. The annual Golddiggers Ball sponsored by AWS, will be Friday, February 15, in the Broadmoor Ballroom.

Even though it's a whole week off, there are many preparations to be made. Unhappily, eligible bachelors don't grow on trees, so get your dates early before your dream-man is snatched away. For those who aren't acquainted with our strange CC customs—the girls make weird, outlandish, hysterical corsages for their dates out of materials ranging from vegetables to a monkey in a bird cage.

The dance is formal and lasts from 9:00-12:00 with tickets costing $1.75 per couple. The tickets will be sold in the dorms and also at the door of the dance. A ballot will be attached to each ticket, by which you vote for Golddigger's King. Both boys and girls can vote on the one ballot, and the ballot box will be placed at the door of the dance. Tickets will also be sold at Towngirl's Club and by Cynthia Haymes in the Publicity Office in Cutler.

Golddiggers Ball has traditionally been a howling success, especially the corsages, so get with it girls; grab yourselves a man and come to the Golddiggers Ball, Friday, Feb. 15.

Chorus Try-Outs This Week–New Credits Received

The Colorado College Chorus welcomes all who would like to aing to final try-outs this week. A few vacancies are still open to both men and women students. Those who have done previous singing are especially welcome.

Headed by student officers, the Chorus will, from now on, sing botb secular and sacred music. Performances at Tuesday Chapels will be supplemented by a trip to Denver in April, at least one radio broadcast here in town, and a major spring concert on the campus. Social as well as musical events are planned.

The Chorus may be taken for credit by those who register to do so. Two rebearsals are held weekly, and one credit per semester is given for the first year of sing-

'Phoenix too Frequent' To Be Presented Sunday in Perkins

Due to the temporary illness of one of the members of the La Salle Quartet, a change of program for the Sunday concert series is necessary. On Sunday Feb. 10 at 4:30 o'clock, in the newly remodeled auditorium of Perkins Hall, the Drama Dept. will present the one-act comedy, "A Phoenix Too Frequent." by Christopher Fry.

The play was presented last summer as a part of festival with the same cast and was very enthusiastically received by a large audience.

The cast is as follows:

Dynamene ..... Nancy Jones
Doto ..... Ruth Mitchell
Tegeus ..... Don Cooper

'The atory was got from Jeremy

There will be an important meeting this Monday afternoon in the TIGER office (3rd floor Lennox) at 4 p. m. All people interested in working on the school paper please be there. There are a number of positions open which do not require previous experience. If you are interested in making the TIGER a better publication and wish to get in extra-curricular activitiea, this a good place to atart.

Women's Educational Society Improves Seating in Perkins

By ARDETH KINNA

Through the generosity and hard work of the Women's Educational Society the renovation of Perkins Hall Auditorium is now almost completed. In the past two months new seats have been installed and the floor raised toward the back so that all who have seats can see. The Women's Educational Society is composed of town and college women who pay a membership fee of $2.00 a year and whose sole purpose is to help Colorado College. This purpose has been remarkably demonstrated for, in a period of two years the society under the leadership of Miss Margaret Cook, with Mrs. Dickson Leavens and Miss Amanda Ellis as committee heads, has raised and contributed $24,000 for the renovation and improvement of Perkins Hall Auditorium.

Projects which have been completed include new lighting equipment, second to none in Colorado Springs, and the only system that can achieve a complete blackout; a complete new paint job including sanding and staining all woodwork and paneling; remodeling of the air conditioning units; refinishing of the floor completely, and the addition of two beautiful Oriental tapestries to grace the walls.

Miss Amanda Ellis, publicity officer for the society says that $300.00 is still needed to have the seats refinished and that other improvements will be made in the auditorium as funds come in.

For those who know the Women's Educational Society, this recent accomplishment is not surprising since it was only two years after the society was organized (1889) that their gift to Colorado College was Montgomery Hall, completely furnished. They also gave the infirmary, completely furnished which includes expensive medical equipment. Some of the other activities of the society are:

Tickets to the annual Golddiggers' Ball, Feb. 15, may be obtained in the Dorma or from Cynthia Haymes in the Publicity Office every afternoon from 2:30 to 5:00. The price per couple is $1.75.

Nugget proofa may be picked up Friday at Lennox House (downstairs) between 1 and 5 p. m.

The Straight Scoop On Student Enrollment

Contrary to rumors which have been circulating about campus for some time, the number of students who left school at the end of the past semester was not at all alarming. According to the registrar and the dean of the college, theso are the accurate figures: Fourteen students transferred from CC at the end of the semester. This number does not include senior transfers. Twenty-seven students were dropped for academic failure, of this number, one was readmitted. Six students were dismissed for overcutting.

As compared with the extravagant figures quoted by people professing to be "in the know," this accurate report is most comforting. No one knows exactly how such rumors get started but this serves as a good object lesson not to pay too much attention to the "alarmists" who are continually passing on inaccurate information to everybody gullible enough to listen to it. If any similar stories are circulated, the best thing to do is to take the trouble to find out for yourself what the true story is. At any rate, there doesn't seem to be much indication that CC is going on the rocks in any respect.

Each time a new editor takes over the TICER he writes a letter to the students and gives them the old story, "This is your paper." I assume that you all know it already, but, DO YOU? You may believe that the TIGER is furnished free. If you do, take a look sometime at just where the $225 in tuition which you pay on registration day goes. There are many things included in the tuition fees which most of the time you don't even know you are paying for, one of which is your subscription to the TICER. You pay for your TIGER so why not get your money's worth? If you don't like what is appearing in the TICER, DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT! Don't just gripe to your buddy. Come up to the office in Lennox House and say just what you don't like, or better yet, come up and show some real interest by contributing what you think is something better. We are never so loaded down with material that we can't use something which is pertinent or constructive.

In my opinion, the TICER has with each succeeding editor been a little better paper. Since I have been here at Colorado College, I believe there has been progress made towards a good student publication. I also think there is plenty of room for improvement. Some of the material which has appeared in the TICER has definitely been put there just to fill space. Reader interest isn't what it should be for lack of good copy in many instances.

Student participation on the other hand is much worse. What can four or five people do who already have a full academic load to carry? Only what is physically possible. So, if there are gripes, gripe to the people who can make a change, or come up and offer to help make the TICER the better student newspaper we all want it to be.

CURRICULUM CLEARED

By BOB HUMPHREYS

In consideration of the gross charges, leveled by this student and many others, against CC's suffering curriculum, and by way of expansion of Dean Adams' informative talk at last Tuesday's convocation, this seems a good time to reveal some of the results of the dean's survey of 14 small, liberal arts colleges. The figures are particularly startling when viewed in the light of our relatively low endowment, tuition and number of instructors.

In zoology, botany, chemistry, mathematics, engineering, sociology and music theory, Colorado College offers more courses than any of the other colleges. In English it is second only to Colgate and offers an equivalent of 44 three-hour courses as against the average of only 29.5. CC offers 23 geology courses, topped only by Colgate's 29. In the number of business administration and economics courses offered it bows only to Washington and Lee. In psychology, it is equaled by Carleton and excelled by none. And only Knox leads us in the number of education courses offered.

Only in the number of courses offered in political science, education, drama, speech and foreign languages does CC fall below the average of comparable colleges. All in all, these are the comparisons between CC and the average number of courses offeredinthe other colleges: arts and letters, CC 179, others 138.9; natural sciences, CC 154, others 114.5; social sciences, CC 168, others 135.2. Not bad, eh?

R. I. P.

By AL STRAND

All good things eventually come to an end, and being editor of the TIGER is the end of a good thing. It is the end of a memorable experience through which I acquired many new friends and acquaintances. As editor I tried to help as many people as possible and I only hope I succeeded in a small way. The main thing however, is that so many people have helped me and here is where most of my gratitude lies.

Through the cooperation of many students I have been able to see that 32 issues of the TIGER were published during the past two semesters. Without all this help and assistance I doubt very much whether the paper would have been published at all. This help was for the most part voluntary, and a lot of free time was spent by students who could have been studying. However they must feel as I feel that an education is not always taken out of text books and classroom lectures. It is acquired through an accumulation of extra activities that is a part of college life. It is working on a student newspaper, or attending student council meetings, or offering to help others promote a project that will benefit everyone on the campus and in the community. These are the things that will be remembered most when we look back to our college days. Most of us are pretty proud and will not offer any service unless someone begs for it, and then we want to feel that our aid is vital. Whenever some organization or group needs help on the campus it is trying to make sure that everyone will benefit from it, and not just be beneficial to a few.

In addition to all the students who have helped me with the TICER, I would also like to thank the Student Publication Board for all of its valuable assistance in offering me advice and giving me a lot of helpful suggestions to improve the paper. I know that they will be very helpful to the new editor and will continue to offer their vital assistance needed for the other publications.

CHAPEL CUT POLICY

(Regardless of any previous pratices of the Chapel Board, all students should become familiar with and govern themselves by the following rules regarding Chapel policy:)

1. Any student having more than THREE unexcused absences from Chapel is called before the Chapel Board for an explanation of those absences. The Chapel Board is a committee composed of students for the express purpose of reviewing such cases. It is a further purpose of the Board to assist students in clearing up violations which are excusable or due to errors in recording or seating.

2. Students whose records are not cleared in this way must be referred to the Committee on Undergraduate Life. The Chapel Board is not empowered to judge or administer in such cases.

3. Any student summoned before the Board is urged to appear at the stated time or to obtain an excuse from Dean Burkle. Cases of non-compliance with Chapel Board summons will be referred to the Committee on Undergraduate life.

4. Those students who work or have classes during Chapel hours are eligible for excuse from Chapel upon submission of a letter or certification from their employer or instructor.

5. Absences due to illness are to be excused through the regular college channels for emergency absences.

6. The student is held responsible for keeping account of his own Chapel cuts. The Board is in no way responsible for warnings or letters regarding chapel cuts other than those signed by the president or secretary of the Board. (Any student who takes excessive cuts under the presumption that he will receive a warning when it's time for him to stop will be deemed guilty of negligence by the Board).

7. Any student who has a question regarding his or her absence record or concerning any of the Chapel regulations is urged to contact the Dean of the Chapel.

Try-Outs to Be Held This Week For Coming Plays

Professor Woodson Tyree, Director of Dramatics announces that tryouts will be held for all those interested in participating in either of the two productions to be given tbis semester. The first play which the drama group will tackle will be "The Queen's Husband" by Robert Sherwood and in May, Christopher Fry's prizewinning verse-comedy "The Lady is Not For Burning" will be given. Since neither play has been completely cast, there are some very good parts open for those who

CC Coed to be Featured In McCall's Magazine Series

De De Staskel Colorado College co-ed, has won recognition for her achievements in the culinary arts with the featured article on De De which will appear in a future issue of McCall's Magazine. De De was contacted by the foods editor of McCall's last year as a possible subject for McCall's series of articles called, "Born to Be a Best Cook." These articles are a monthly feature in the magazine and include pictures and a story on the cook of the month. De De was recognized on the basis of her 4H record book and by numerous articles written by local papers about the parties she has given at her home.

She became interested in cooking when her home in Mt. Vernon, Iowa became the center of teen-age entertaining. De De began a collection of favorite recipes, including some original ones, as well as ideas for table decorations and budget-planned entertainment. As with most good cooks, De De has always loved to cook and is an enthusiastic party-giver.

In reply to McCall's inquiry De De sent twelve of her favorite recipes which were tested in the magazine's kitchens. From those recipes McCalls' selected those which they considered the most successful to be featured in the article. Last month Eleanor Noderer, Associate Foods Editor, and Peter Martin, McCalls' photographer, came to the college to interview her. They spent a weekend here taking pictures of De De's college life and having informal chats with her.

The highlight of the visit was the dinner given by De De at the Gamma Phi Beta Lodge for the McCall's representatives and ten other guests from CC. The entire dinner was planned and prepared by De De, and pictures of the dinner were taken. She is the first college student to be featured in the "Born to be a Best Cook" series, so be sure to watch for the article soon to be published in McCalls.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

POOR PAUL was having a fowl time. Eveo his best gal didn't give a hoot for him. "Wise she hate me so?" he asked his roommate. "Simple, you stuffy old bird—because your hair's always ruffled up! Better try Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. It's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. And does tree things: Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ogly dandruff. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day loog. (Even limb-ers up your scalp. And helps you pass the Finger-Nail Nest-er, Test!)" Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and oow he's a 'owling success. So why don't you take a taxi-dermist to any drug or toilet goods counter to get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's your hair's best friend! And ask for it at your barber shop. Then there's oo taloo how the chicks'll go for you.

CC Icers Net Four More Points Down Tech Twice 14-7 & 12-2

By RAY SCHERER

The Colorado College hockey Tigers are now in a tie for third place in the Midwestern Hockey Conference as the result of a pair of wins over an aggressive Michigan Tech team at the Broadmoor Ice Palace last Friday and Saturday nights. Michigan Tech fell before the Tigers Friday night by the score of 14 to 7, and Saturday night 12 to 2.

In Friday night's game the Tony Frasca line, including Ron Hartwell and Omer Brandt, accounted for eleven of the fourteen goals scored with Frasca hitting for six of those and Hartwell netting four. Saturday night Brandt got the "hat trick" with three goals against the visitors.

Both games possessed all of the spirit necessary for a first rate tilt; however, the Technicians fell off the pace late in the second and third periods. At one time in Friday night's contest, the visitors were on the long end of a 3-2 count, but it was short lived. The Tigers worked well together and were able to capitalize on the multitude of penalties dished out to Michigan Tech by referees Mike Yalich and Harry Whitworth. Of the fifteen penalties awarded Michigan Tech drew thirteen. Several times the visitors were two men short, and they were naturally unable to keep up with the pace set by the Tigers. The heat of battle seemed to draw CC's Brandt and Michigan Tech's McGinn closer and closer together until they finally tangled in the third period at approximately the ten minute mark and were banished from the game. In addition to the banishment each team had to play with one man short for five minutes.

Denver moved into sole possession of first place Monday night after downing the Technicians 7-1. They have the opportunity to lead the league by four points if they win Tuesday.

The season's record to date:

CC—7	DU—6

Aggies, DU Tank Team Down Tigers

The Colorado College swimming team suffered two losses from strong Skyline Eight conference teams at the Camp Carson pool during the last two weeks of the first semester. On January 19, Colorado A&M defeated CC 59-34 and on January 26, Denver University walloped the Tigers and Camp Carson in a triangular meet 70-21 with the soldier team receiving 4 points. The Aggies and DU are the teams that are rated the ones to beat in the tough Skyline conference this year and gave every indication of living up to this role against CC.

Capturing firsts for Colorado College were Ted Bilharz in the 50 yard dash and Tom Abel in the gruelling 440 yard free style again DU. Seconds were taken by Norm Brown in both the individual medley and 200 yard breast stroke, Wally Harmon in the 100 yard free style, Carky Rubens in the 50 yard dash, and Tom Abel in the 200 yard free style against A&M. Against DU, Norm Brown in the 200 yard breast stroke and Tom Abel in the 220 yard free style were the only second places. Captain Squeeky Wilkins won third place in the fancy diving. Norm Brown took the final third for the Tigers against DU in the individual medley. The medley relay team of Wilkins, Brown, and Harmon placed second in both meets along with the free style relay team of Harmon, Rubens, Schacht, and Bilharz against A&M, with Wilkins taking Bilharz's place against DU.

Coach Robert M. Stabler's mermen next tangle with Camp Carson in a dual meet at the Camp Carson pool Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Aided by a week's vacation from swim meets, the improved Tiger tank squad should even their season record at two wins and two losses against the undermanned soldier aggregation.

Going to San Francisco Southern route and would like two riders, girls or couple. Will leave for San Francisco this week end or the first of next week. Call 8296-J after 5:30 p. m.

TIGERS HOST TO BRANDON TONITE; LEAVE SUNDAY FOR SERIES IN MICH.

Tonight and Saturday night Colorado College is host to Brandon College in what shapes up to be one of the hottest hockey series of the home schedule. In last years two games played in the Springs the Tigers had to come from behind in one game to tie the Canadians 7-7, while in the other CC walloped them 9-3. Next week the Tigers travel to Michigan to play four games within that week. They leave Sunday to meet Michigan State on Tuesday and Wednesday, and then travel on to Ann Arbor to meet the Wolverines on Friday and Saturday nights. An undefeated road trip, which is possible but not probable, would undoubtedly put Colorado College out in front in the point standings. At this time we sincerely wish the Tigers the best of luck in overcoming the obstacles placed before them this coming week.

The Midwest standings as of Feb. 2, 1952:

	W	L	T	Pts.	GF	GA
Michigan	6	2	0	12	47	24
Denver	6	2	0	12	44	32
North Dakota	5	2	0	10	40	19
Colo. College	5	1	0	10	33	18
Mich. State	2	5	0	4	33	47
Mich. Tech.	0	5	0	0	19	45

U. S. Hockey Team Wins Despite Hail Of Swiss Snowballs

ZURICH — The United States Olympic hockey team defeated the Swiss Olympic squad 6-4 Sunday in a game delayed by snow and marred by snowballs thrown at the Americans.

Today's victory, before 10,000 fans, gave the American Olympic squad a record of four victories and one tie in its tour of Switzerland.

Some spectators complained the Americans were playing too roughly and a few spectators threw snowballs at the Americans.

Switzerland scored first four minutes after the game started but Gerry Kilmartin of Providence tied the score three minutes later and the Americans were never in great danger thereafter. Jim Yackel of St. Paul, Minn., put America ahead, 2-1, after 17 minutes.

Andre Gambucci of Colorado College and Yackel scored in the second period and the game got rough in the final period after Ruben Bjorkman of Roseau, Minn., scored in the first minute of play.

Numerous penalties were called, and Arnie Oas of Minneapolis was removed from the game when he became involved in a diapute with a number of rabid Swiss fans. Gambucci made the final American goal.

Kilmartin pulled a tendon in his knee but it was not believed he would be out of the game long. The team is scheduled to fly to Germany today for three games and then will play two games in Belgium before going to Oslo.

CC Hoopsters Face Western State in Two Game Series Fri., Sat.

Following a rugged 16-game season which has seen only two games at home, and coming right on the heels of a 10-game consecutive road schedule, the Colorado College basketball team opens its home conference schedule this Friday and Saturday in the City Auditorium, meeting the Mountaineers of Western State.

Friday night's game at the local aud is a doubleheader affair with the Colorado Springs Terrors providing the South Central League competition in the opening game. Saturday night's Rocky Mountain Conference game will be a single tilt for the Tigers.

Coach Bill Heiss has seen his squad cut to nine men, with reserve forward Bob Geary dropped due to academic deficiences.

The young Tiger mentor, in his first year with a tough schedule and a green crew which he claims is vastly improved from the opening of the season, will start the same quintet which came so close to upsetting the Colorado State Bears 10 days ago.

His starting five will include Ed Lodmell, 6-5 freshman, at center, with Ben Snyder and Don Stone at forwards. Mel Kensinger and Jim Bergstrom, the only two lettermen on the squad, will be at guards.

A sophomore was reading about death statistics. Suddenly she turned to the senior next to her and said,

"Do you know that every time I breathe a man dies?"

"Very interesting," he replied. "Why don't you try cloves?"

Here's a reminder: Hockey tickets for this week'a games with Brandon can be obtained as usual from the athletic office. The latest date to get tickets for tonight's game is 5 o'clock this afternoon while tickets will still be available tomorrow for Saturday'a game. Best pick them both up now.

Mr. "X" and King to Reign

the Tiger

Vol. LV, No. 17 | Colo. Spgs., Colo., Thurs., Feb. 14, 1952 | Colorado College

VENGEFUL MALES WILL REIGN SUPREME AT ANNUAL TURNABOUT TOMORROW

By PAM ADAMS

The King of Golddiggers—the Sheik of the campus will be crowned tomorrow night to reign over the 1952 Golddiggers Ball. The dance is formal, the price is $1.75 per couple, and the Broadmoor Ballroom is the place from 9:00-12:00. Don't forget your man's funny corsage, girls, you don't want him to feel left out. A mysterious, unknown, Mr. "X", will appear at the dance. He will wow you, surprise you, amaze you—come to Golddiggers and discover for yourself the identity of this marvelous man.

Attention all faculty! You are cordially invited to attend Golddiggers Ball; please join us and you will have a wonderful evening.

Tickets for the dance are being sold in the dorms and at the door of the dance. Attached to the ticket is a ballot with which you can vote for the Golddiggers King. The ballot box will be at the door of the dance. By all means, don't forget to vote for the King of your choice.

The six illustrious young men running for King have been put up by each of the men's organizations, not for good looks alone, but also for their active participation in campus life. Here is a short outline of each one's particular assets and liabilities so that you will know who the best man is.

Tom Dunton

Phi Gamma Delta's members got their heads together not long ago and picked what they hope will be a winner at the annual Golddiggers ball tomorrow night, in sophomore Tom Dunton.

Tom is a native of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and speaks with only a slight accent, hardly noticeable these days unless you listen right close. The freshman men and women honored him last year when they elected him president of their class. (It was early in the fall and they didn't know much about him.) The presidency didn't seem to go to the youngster's head much though. Somebody nominated him to the honor council and he was voted in, but don't believe a word he says until you check on it.

Athletically, Tom moves his frame around the basketball floor for Coach Bill Heiss several days a week. Last year, "Grace" was elected captain of the freshman team. During those few nice days in the spring Tom wandered down among the baseball grounds to throw the ball a little. He pitched for the freshman team last year and casually won six and lost none for that club. Although he is no big stick man, "Honest Tom" will undoubtedly help this year's Tiger "nine."

RABBI PHILLIPSBORN TO SPEAK IN TUESDAY CHAPEL SERVICE

By ARDETH NINNA

It isn't every day that one meets a man who has lived in 14 countries and speaks 11 languages then tops it all by learning English well enough to write a newspaper column just three months after arriving in America. These are just a few of the very interesting facts about Rabbi Phillipsborn, Chapel speaker for February 19. German-born, Rabbi Phillipsborn has lived in France, Spain, Belgium, and the Netherlands to name a few of the 14 countries. He speaks with authority on the problems of Spain and France and knows what it is to 'run for your life." He fled from the Hitler regime, and came to America in April, 1933. Of all the countries Rabbi Phillipsborn has lived in, he says emphatically, America is the best. He believes that if it were financially possible, every American-born child when college age should spend one year in Europe so that he would really appreciate America, its freedom, and its opportunities. He believes that the Bible is the source-book of democracy.

However well Rabbi Philippsborn speaks about other things, his real interest is in his "interfaiths" work. Knowledge puts out the fire of hatred and "religious tolerance" becomes practice instead of mere words. An experience of his own proves this, for when he received his citizenship papers, it was a Catholic priest who drove him to the court house, sponsored him, and was the first to congratulate him.

Rabbi Phillipsborn's subject in Chapel will be: "Where Is God at This Trying Hour?" You can't afford to miss this speaker.

Evelyn May Bridges Poetry Competition Open to Students

A first prize of twenty dollars and a second prize of ten dollars are offered for the best poem submitted by undergraduates of Colorado College. There are no restrictions as to the length or the type or the number of poems entered by each contestant.

Manuscripts must be typed, with the contestant's nom de plume appearing on each poem, and on the outside of the sealed envelope containing his or her poems. Each contestant must also hand in a separate sealed envelope with his or her nom de plume on the outside and his or her identification on the inside.

The manuscripts must be given to any member of the English Department or to Mrs. Haskell not later than Saturday, March 1, 1952.

These prizes were endowed by the late Reverend Albert F. Bridges in memory of his wife.

File Applications for Selective Service Test To Be Given April 24

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1952 should file applications at once for the April 24 administration, Selective Service National Headquarters advised today.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at the Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 10, 1952. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

Ploy-Week or Work-Week

The fraternity system suffered a setback at Colorado College because of the action of one organization last week. For the lack of something better to do during "hell week" this fraternity sent its pledges on a scavenger hunt. In the process of obtaining silverware from a restaurant and articles from the men's room in the Rio Crande railroad station four pledges were caught and taken to the police station.

Enough bad reports have been circulated around the nation recently about the fraternity system, and actions of this sort only add fuel to the fire. Why can't the pledges be kept busy in accomplishing something of a constructive nature around their house or in the community? Certainly no single organization has its house in such good repair that nothing more need be done. It is true that pledges must have games to play during "hell week" in order to relieve the monotony, but they need not be games of a destructive nature. If games are to be played they should be confined to the house where no one can get hurt. The following was taken from the Colorado Springs Free Press and written by Edwin Hoyt, the editor:

"'Hell week' is an institution that should have perished a long time ago in our colleges and universities. It is a period in which the young men and women who are chosen for membership in various social and fraternal organizations are ridiculed and made uncomfortable.

"The original purpose of "hell week," apparently, was to convince neophytes of the beauties and glories of complete membership in the organization.

"The result was usually a little horrifying to the neophyte, but the pleasures and joys of complete membership seemed to compensate for the trouble.

"Kappa Sigma has eliminated the dangerous part of initiating the neophytes into brotherhood, but in turning the efforts of the youths to such productive activity as washing windows and sweeping sidewalks for downtown stores, has still made it possible for the pledges to feel relief and satisfaction in the end result"

I hope that more fraternities will direct their actions along this line and benefit the entire fraternity system.

—James Hill

Brotherhood Week, Feb. 17-23

ED NOTE—Nert week is Brotherhood Week but due to our late publishing date it was felt that the following editorial should be printed in this issue.

By GIDEON SEYMOUR
Vice- President, Minneapolis Star and Tribune

THIS IS BROTHERHOOD WEEK—dedicated, under the auspicies of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, to appraising our progress toward an ideal which, more than any other, motivates Americans in their dealing with each other and with all the world.

If we could embody in a word the sum of what we stand for and strive for as a people, that one word "brotherhood" would come closer than any other to defining our philosophy and our aspirations. If words or phrases like "democracy" and "free enterprise" fall short of conveying to our own people, and to others, the essence of the American ideal it is because they are political and economic words, therefore limited in scope. What they describe are only the best means to an end: the end itself is brotherhood.

We fail, of course, to achieve perfect brotherhood. Each of us fails, too often, individually; all of us fail, in too many areas of life. But slowly and stumblingly, as men always make progress toward a high goal, we inch toward brotherhood.

To that ideal are dedicated many a major and minor holiday—Independence day to the brotherhood of American citizenship; Community Chest week to the brotherly responsibility of each of us to the less fortunate; our highest religious holidays to the brotherhood of mankind.

But we do well to take a week each year to emphasize brotherhood for its own sake, and to examine our progress toward it, and to dedicate ourselves anew to the practice, and to resolve to go farther faster toward its attainment.

Letter from Greece

Christmas is coming a little late for Magdoline Kostanite of Solonikia Creece this year. Bemis Hall, inspired by the Christmas spirit of giving, has prepared four large boxes, complete with 93 garments to be sent overseas this week.

A few weeks before Christmas, De De Staskel received a letter from a 20-year-old girl in Creece, telling of her unhappy plight. At the next hall meeting De De presented this letter and Bemis was unanimous in their willingness to help. So the girls gave clothes and material and money was donated to a fund which covered the cost of the shipping.

The excitement of Christmas holidays and the necessity of final exams held up the shipping date. The boxes were packed and ready, but the post office could not accept them, because the contents were not listed. But, today, they are ready to go, each item packed and accounted for. Although late, they will surely be appreciated.

New Policy on Dangerous "Pranks"

In the field of pranks there are two categories—ordinary foolish pranks and criminal pranks. Any prank which may lead to the death or injury of a fellow student is criminal. Tampering with fire-prevention or fire-fighting equipment is a criminal prank. The sounding of a false fire alarm is equally dangerous.

"Pranks" of this variety have been a subject of concern recently. In an effort to bring the student body to a realization of the gravity of these offenses, the Committee on Undergraduate Life and the Student Council have jointly resolved that tampering with fire-fighting equipment or sounding of false alarms will subject the offender to trial by the Student Council and that the penalty will be a fine of not less than $25.00, to be collected by the treasurer of the college.

United Airlines Offers Students Job Opportunities

Expanded service on United Air-Lines' 13,250-mile system is creating hundreds of opportunities for collegians, according to personnel officials, who report that 1,600 vacancies will be filled this year.

Many of the openings require at least two years of college. Co-eds are eligible for stewardess service and can qualify as sales, station and passenger agents. The latter posts also are open to men, age 21 to 30.

Co-pilot training, with all expenses paid, is offered at United's flight training center in Denver. A valid commercial pilot license from the Civil Aeronautics Administration is prerequisite and all applicants must pass a thorough physical exam.

Complete details are available by letter or visit to United's personnel offices in New York, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle.

Brahms-Mozart to Be Presented at Perkins Concert Sunday P. M.

On Sunday, February 17, the Music Department will present a Bach, Brahms, Mozart concert. Peter Kamnitzer, violinist, member of the LaSalle Quartet, will play a viola da gamba Sonata by J. S. Bach, with Max Lanner at the piano. Edward Greene, director of the Colorado College Chorus and head of the voice department, will at this time show his artistry as a pianist, offering a group of Brahams solo pieces. The concert will close with the performance of Mozart's Second Piano Quartet in E-flat major, played by members of the La Salle Quartet and Max Lanner.

Like all other Perkins Hall Sunday concerts, this program will start at 4:30, and everybody is welcome free of charge.

CC Students Top National Average in Deferment Exam

Colorado Springs college students who took college qualification tests under the Selective Service Act bested the national average as 80 per cent of the students made passing scores. On the national scene, reported by the Selective Service system, only 61 per cent of some 20,000 college students who took the tests on December 13 made passing grades or better.

This latter figure compares with 63 per cent in similiar tests given the middle of last year to 339,000 college students.

Mrs. Mary Petty, secretary of the local board, reported that 15 local students had taken the last test with only three not getting passing grades. Tests are given to full time students in a degree granting institution. Only those who have not previously taken a test may take another examination to be given April 24. She said students must apply before March 10 at either the registrar's office at Colorado College or Selective Service headquarters, 127½ E. Bijou St., for instruction sheets and applications.

Students who failed to pass previous tests are not eligible to take the new test.

College students must make a passing score of 70 or more to pass the tests, tho seniors must pass a grade of 75. Grades made in the tests along with class standing of the student may determine whether or not the student is granted an educational deferment.

Deferments are usually granted until the end of the current school year, Mrs. Petty declared. She said that the percentages made by local students is usually higher than the national average, also.

University of Vienna Seeks U. S. Students

The University of Vienna will have an international summer session this year at Schloss Traunsee, in Salzkammergut, Austria.

The summer schoold, held in a 19th century castle, is in the Alpine lake region, near the festival town of Salzburg. The purpose of the school is to promote European-American cultural relations.

Courses, conducted in English, will be offered in law and political science, liberal arts, and German literature and language. Tours and excursions to the Salzburg Festivals, to Vienna, and to other places of interest are offered together with the program of study.

The inclusive cost for three weeks at Schloss Traunsee will be $100, and for six weeks $185. The school is on the list of European institutions approved by the Veterans Administration.

Interested students in the U. S should write for further information and application blanks to the Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th Street, New York 36, New York. (After March 1, write to 857 Fifth Avenue, New York 21, New York.)

'The Queen's Husband' Next Players Offering

On February 27, 28 and 29 in Perkins Hall, the CC Players will present Robert Sherwood's three-act comedy, "The Queen's Husband." The very amusing play centers about the trials and tribulations of an imaginary royal family. Directed by Professor Woodson Tyree, the play will be acted by a very able student cast. Starring as King Eric will be the very capable Players stand-by, Jerald Ketchum. His strongminded co-regent Queen Martha will be played by Kris Sinding. Providing the romantic interest will be Mary Jeanne Perenyi as Princess Anne and Jack Fitzgerald as Frederick Granton. Others in the cast are: Walker Wheeler, Andy Spiegel, Pat Gormely, Paul Evans, Gordon Spice and Jack Hattstaedt.

The play will be the first of two Players productions to be presented this semester. Later in the year the Players will present Christopher Fry's prize-winning comedy, "The Lady is Not For Burning." Student tickets will be honored at the box office before every performance.

Navy Announces New ROC Program

Applications are desired from physically-qualified freshmen sophomore and junior college students in good standing in accredited schools, both men and women, for the Navy's 1952 Reserve Officer Candidate program. Male applicants must have passed their 17th birthdays; women their 18th. All must be less than 27 years of age on graduation. Women with dependents under 18 are ineligible. All applicants must be members of, or enlisted in the Naval Reserve, and if otherwise qualified, may enlist in the Naval Reserve to become eligible.

Applications for enlistment and enrollment in the ROC (Reserve Officer Candidate) program should be made through the Inspector-Instructor of Naval Reserve, at the nearest Naval Reserve Training Center. Information may also be obtained from Naval Recruiting Stations, Offices of Naval Officer Procurement, Professors of Naval Science, or Dr. Fox or Mr. aTitt.

The Naval Reserve Officer Candidate program provides an opportunity whereby college men and women students may enlist in the Naval Reserve, attend a six week training period for two summers and, upon graduation, receive a commission in the Naval Reserve. No additional military studies or activities are required as part of their academic work. Those awarded commissions may be required to serve two years on active military duty.

Selection of applicants will be made by the Chief of Naval Personnel. Those selected are entitled to a 1-D classification by their local Selective Service Board. Each applicant will be individually informed of his or her selection for ROC training prior to July 1952.

Women applicants who enlist in the Naval Reserve for the purpose of entering the ROC program, and who are not selected for such enrollment may request dischargo from the Naval Reserve, fi requests are submitted prior to August 1, 1952.

Applications should be in the hands of the Commandant, Ninth Naval District by February 15, 1952.

Big Weekend Climaxes Phi Delt Work Week

By Jon Charleston

The climax of the Phi Delt Work Week came with initiation for eight weary pledges Saturday afternoon, February 9, followed by a dance in their honor that night and an open house on Sunday.

After the hockey game, Phi Delts and their dates went to Patty Jewett Golf Course for a dance in honor of the new actives, where Sam Harrison's band furnished music for dancing from 10 to 1 a. m. Dr. and Mrs. Fox and Mr. and Mrs. Taitt chaperoned the event, with House Mother, Mrs. Mary Brusse as guest of honor.

Sunday afternoon climaxed the week's activities with a well attended top-to-bottom open house which displayed the improvements made during the Work Week by the pledges and the past few weeks by the Phi Delt Mothers' Club and Alumni Club. Redecorations included extensive painting new draperies for the downstairs, and recovering and refinishing much of the furniture. Coffee and cake refreshments were served by the Mothers' Club.

Gamma Phis Plan Supper, Faculty Tea

A Sunday evening supper is being planned at the Gamma Phi lodge this Sunday at 6:00, for the actives and new pledges. Liz Huggins is in charge of the dinner.

The Gamma Phis will entertain the faculty members with a tea Wednesday from 4:00 until 6:00, at the Gamma Phi Lodge. Barbara Bletsch, social chairman, is in charge of the tea and will be assisted by the pledges.

Activities of the Kappa Alpha Theta were a bit upset Monday; in fact, they couldn't even hold their meeting. The lodge was locked and all the pledges were missing. After kidnapping two actives, the Theta pledges took their sneak to Woodland Park.

Delta Cammas spent Monday afternoon fixing and pressing white formals for the formal pledging of Lorna Langer, Lynn Pierce and Jo Hallor that night. After the ceremony a buffet supper was served.

"Kappa Sigma Dream-girl" was sung to Sue McMillin Monday night at the Kappa lodge. Refreshments rewarded the sweet serenade of the Kappa Sigs. The evening was complete with everyone joining in singing the old favorites.

Watch your socks, guys! The Gamma Phis are rounding them up. The pledges are making rag dolls out of them as a project. They will be sent to the National Gamma Phi Beta summer camp.

Mary Jeanne Perenyi at the controls of Radio Station KRCC.

Mary Jeanne Perenyi First Coed Radio Operator

There was much rejoicing at South Hall this month when Mary Jeanne Perenyi, CC Junior, received a slip of paper from the Federal Communications Commission informing her that she was to be awarded a third class radio operator's license. That announcement made Mary Jeanne the first woman student at CC to become a licensed radio operator.

After studying for a semester under Professor Woodson Tyree at CC's own radio station KRCC, Mary Jeanne threw caution to the winds and decided to take the FCC examinations in Denver, her home, during the Christmas vacation. Although she was the only woman taking the tests, and she had very little practical experience, she was able to pass with flying colors and is now a qualified third-class operator.

Professor Tyree and the staff of KRCC are justly proud of Mary Jeanne's accomplishment, and in the near future hope to have more coed radio operators since several more girls plan to make the trip to Denver for the tests before the end of the semester.

Mary Jeanne is only one of the group of enthusiastic student staff members who spend a great deal of time at South Hall gaining practical experience in radio management, writing and announcing. Like Mary Jeanne, these students hope to make radio their career and they will find their experience, gained at KRCC, of great benefit to them when applying for jobs in their chosen field after graduation.

Teaching-Study Opportunities in France Offered

Opportunities to spend a year in France open to American college students were announced today by the Institute of International Education. Approximately 80 grants in all are open for study or teaching in France next year.

Forty of the grants are for young Americans interested in teaching conversational English for one year in a French school. These "assistants d'anglais," in general, live at the lycees or ecoles normales d'instituers to which they are assigned, teaching about twelve hours a week. Since these schools are located in all parts of France, and some assistants will be the only American in the community, the grants offer an unusual opportunity to get a close-up view of French life today. Given by the French government, the grants provide from 22,000 to 27,000 francs a month during the academic year. To be eligible for an assistantship, American applicants must be unmarried, have a good knowledge of French, and by this summer have a bachelor's degree from an American college.

The French government also is offering approximately 35 fellowships to Americans for graduate study in France. The fellowships, open to students in all fields of study, provide tuition and 20,000 francs a month. Eligibility requirements are the same as for the assistantships.

Four special scholarships for the study of art and music in Paris are also offered through the Institute by the Woolley Foundation. Each scholarship provides a grant of $1,000, and carries the provision that the student will live at the Fondation des Stats-Unis of the Cite Universitaire. Eligibility requirements include graduation from an American college or professional school, good knowledge of French, and capacity for independent study in music or art.

Completed applications must be filed by Feb. 15, 1952. Inquiries should be made immediately to the U. S. Student Program, Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th Street, New York 19, New York.

A number of travel grants from the U. S. government, to cover transportation costs will be open under the Fulbright Act for recipients of these grants.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS
By Dale Arie

If the past performance is any indication, CC will not fare well on their present road trip. In the past CC has been a real toughie on the home ice and practically a pushover in foreign ranks. For example, CC has never defeated Michigan at Ann Arbor and in the past few years have won only 13 of 18 games on the road not including the games played at Denver. This makes the present series in Michigan seem like all up-hill skating to the present Tigers no doubt. It is a tremendous psychological factor to go into a series with the knowledge that a CC aggregation has never beaten the Wolverines in their own baliwick.

From reports and performance against mutual foes, it should be a whale of a series but Michigan must be given the edge because of the home-ice factor. If the Tigers can't break their road jinx, they might as well wrap it up as far as the Midwest Hockey standings are concerned along with any aspirations to an invitation to the NCAA playoffs at the Broadmoor in March. A split with Michigan is a must as well as a clean slate against Michigan State and Nortb Dakota to assure a berth in the playoffs.

The Tigers have another disadvantage to overcome. They have only two complete lines to depend on for a tough four game series to be played in five days. They meet Michigan on Friday night and Saturday afternoon and let's all hope that Coach Cheddy Thompson can get the boys to drink their milk and get to bed early for the next afternoon's action. The games will be broadcast over KVOR each night at 6:00 p. m. If we can't be there we can at least keep our ears glued to the radio for the outcome.

HOOPSTERS BREAK LOSS STRING; PLAY COLO. STATE HERE FRIDAY

CC's basketeers broke their 12 game losing streak with a well-earned victory over the Western State Mountaineers last Saturday night at the City Aud by the score of 50-47. Paced by big Ed Lodmell and consistant Don Stone, the Tigers finally broke into the winning column in the scoring race after dropping a tough game Friday night 60-57. In the second game the Tigers trailed most of the way not taking the lead until just seven minutes remained in the game. At that point, Tom Dunton shoved the Tigers out in front 44-43 with a long one-hander. After that, Lodmell garnered a free throw, Jim Bergstrom a gift shot and Snyder and Dunton picked up a field goal apiece to complete the Tiger scoring. Lodmell was top scorer for the Tigers with 14 points followed by Stone and Spider Kensinger with eight each.

In Friday night's encounter, the story was much the same as Saturday night except that the Tigers could never quite catch the Mountaineers and ended up on the short end of the score 60-57. Done Stone paced the scoring for the Bengals with fifteen points while Kensinger picked up 12 and Bergstrom 10.

This Friday night the Tigers take on the Colorado State Bears at the City Aud. In their last meeting the fast improving Tigers almost pulled an upset out of the hat before fading in the last quarter after four of their five starters had fouled out of the game. This promises to be a good contest and should make good pre-Colddiggers entertainment. Make an evening of it. Take in the basketball game first and give the basketball game some of the support which has been so sadly lacking.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 34...THE FERRET

Descended from a long line of distinguished researchers, this studious scholar has burned too many gallons of midnight oil to gloss over a subject lightly. Especially such an important item as cigarette mildness. He burrowed into the matter with his usual resolution and concluded that a "quick puff" or a "fast sniff" doesn't offer much evidence. Millions of smokers agree there's but one true test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

W.A.A. News

Seven schools participated in the Women's Ski Meet at Laramie, Wyoming over the weekend: Denver, Colorado University, Aggies, Wyoming, Creeley, Utah and Colorado College.

We had three skiers in the class C event: Sue Griffin, Marion Johnston, and Janet Adams. Sue Griffin gave CC a third place in that group by placing fifth. In class B Julia Fite copped second place to give CC a second in that event. Sally Moffitt and Carolyn Pheil also skied in class B. There were no participants in class A due to lack of qualifying in the finals.

The date for the CC Bowling Tournament has been set for February 23. The time is 3:30 in the afternoon at the Sports Bowl on Cascade Avenue. Five players from each organization will take part.

TIGERS ON IMPORTANT ROAD TRIP TO MICH.

FRASCA, HARTWELL, BRANDT TOP LINE IN TWO WINS OVER CAPS

By GABE DUQUE

Clicking with the precision of a well-trained machine gun, our Tiger hockey team beat Brandon at their own game, and then proceeded to mow down the Canadian visitors with deadly accuracy and a brute display of power. The game started off rather slow, with both teams displaying great defensive power. The score at the end of the first period found the teams tied by the score of 1-1. Our puck chasers allegedly weakened by the flu epidemic, outdid themselves by humiliating a good defensive, but very poor offensive Brandon team. Tony Frasca, Omer Brandt, and Ron Hartwell, playing on the highly touted, potent first line, led in the one-sided victory. The trio accounted for nine of the Tigers thirteen goals. Tom Kelly picked up two goals; Ed Robson and Norm Diviny each scored once in accounting for the Tiger victory. Our sensational goalie, Ken Kinsley, played his usual spectacular game in stopping 28 of the 31 shots attempted by Brandon.

TIGERS AGAIN CLIP BRANDON SAT. NITE, 8-2

With Brandon appearing content to play defensive hockey, the CC skaters, again displaying great power, obliterated their Canadian rival at the Broadmoor Ice Palace Saturday night.

CC jumped to an early lead, and at the end of the first period, led by a score of 3-0. This lead margin was never relinquished throughout the entire game. During the second period, Brandon played on even terms, making the the score 5-2 at the end of the period. Early in the third period, the Tigers scored three rapid goals, making the score 8-2, and from then on, no more scoring was seen.

Both of the first two lines got into the scoring column, with Soligo and Robson demonstrating their brilliance. Again the Tony Frasca line displayed its all around power and ability.

The Tiger defensive unit played an excellent game in allowing the Brandon skaters only 31 shots at the goal. Our terrific goalie, Ken Kinsley, saved 29 of these shots.

Swimmers Win Again; Triangle Meet This Weekend at Carson

The Colorado College swim team defeated an undermanned Camp Carson swim team last Saturday 46-27 in a practice meet held at the Camp Carson pool. Bill Mann captured the only firsts for the Carson team by winning the 100 yard and 220 yard freestyle races and swimming on their winning sprint relay team. Norm Brown won the individual medley and 100 yard breastroke and swam on the winning medley relay team of captain Squecky Wilkins, Carky Rubens, and Brown, for the Tigers. Other firsts for CC were Tom Abel in the 440 yard freestyle, Harry Ebeling in diving, Carky Rubens in the 50 yard sprint, and captain Squecky Wilkins in the 100 yard backstroke. "Doc" Stabler's mermen next tangle with Camp Carson and Colorado Springs High School on February 16 in a triangular meet, in what has been termed by Coach Stabler as a dress rehearsal for the Colorado State meet on February 23. Next Saturday's meet will be held at the Camp Carson pool at 2:30 p. m. in the afternoon.

Fifty years ago students by the hnndreds, with bands playing, went to the trains to speed CC orators and debaters to their contests.

IMPORTANT MEETING

Pre-season track meeting will be held at 4 p. m. Friday, Feb. 18, in the wrestling room at Cossitt.

All information for the season will be given out at this meeting. Active training will start the following day. It is extremely important for all candidates to attend the first meeting.

Freshmen are eligible for varsity competition.

Let's take the conference championship this year. YOU turn out and we will have a real team.

Coach Thompson.

FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASTS

There will be a seminar held Monday, February 18th at 4:30 p. m. in the class room at Cossitt Hall.

All who played last fall or all who might be interested in playing next fall please be present.

cil. Born in Honolulu, "Keoki," as he is called by his friends, participated in freshman football and basketball. He is the Crown and Lance representative for Golddiggers Ball.

Dave Hender

A senior, majoring in economics, Dave Hender is from Marion, Iowa. While at CC Dave has been active in skiing, singing and intramural sports.

He has held several fraternity offices, including rush chairman, intramural chairman, song director of the Beta acts in the last two Campus Chest talent shows and as a campus leader in serenades and song fests. He is on the sports staff of the 1952 NUGGET.

Dave has served on the Beta intramural teams in football, basketball, volleyball and tennis.

John "Spike" Sarlo

The Kappa Sigma's choice for Golddiggers King is Prexy John "Spike" Sarlo. "Spike," a Pueblo boy, played football at Loyola College in California before transferring to Colorado College. John, a senior majoring in Sociology, played first string quarterback for CC's grid team in 1951. He also is an active participant in the Growlers, "C" Club, is Historian of the Newman Club and is currently coaching St. Mary's High School in basketball. It was "Spike's" leadership that put the Kappa Sigs way ahead in the recent Heart Fund Drive. So, girls, get into the swing; we think "Spike" is tops for Golddiggers King.

Bill Shepard

Girls, can't you see yourself with a good book in your hands, a warm fire lending a ruddy glow to your surroundings, and relaxing by your side your ever faithful Shep. Over at the Phi Delt House he's top dog, and there's no bones about it. Bill Shepard has had such honors conferred upon him as being elected to the "Dog of the Month Club," being chosen for "Who's Who in the Kennels," and probably most important he possesses the unique distinction of "the skin fleas love to touch." (Frankly, as a Golddigger King, we think our candidate would make one of the all time Rin Tin Tins.) He's a senior canine from Connecticut and understands the needs of all you coeds. He is in favor of such reforms around the campus as three o'clocks for all girls (except on Saturday night when they may keep all hours.) So please take time out from pawing your date to put one on the square where Shep's name is.

Bob Voshall

"Social" Voshall is the Sigma Chi candidate for King of the Golddiggers Ball. The name "Social" is a carry-over from his University of Illinois days where he earned the title for some now unknown activities. "Sosh" transferred to CC (in a hurry) after one year at U. of I. and was initiated into Sigma Chi. He has been very active in fraternity affairs, holding several offices. At present he is Rush Chairman and Intramural Manager. When not busy with social affairs, Bob attends school. Now after 8 tries, he has finally been admitted to the division of Social Sciences—as a reasonable facsimile for a business major. He is tremendously overloaded with his eight hour schedule, but, Bob still has enough energy left at the end of a long day to give every pretty coed the famous "Social" smile.

College Magazine Sponsors Two Short Story Contests

The Kinnikinnik, Colorado College's magazine, is sponsoring two short story contests, one for men students and another for the coeds, with the contribution in each group to appear in the magazine, when it is published in the spring. Short stories may be treated in a humorous or serious vein. They may take the form of a satirical sketch, be concerned with dorm or fraternity life or be a personal or impersonal treatment of any subject. The deadline for the contest is March 15. Judges will be announced later.

Contributions for the Kinnikinnik have drawn a moderate response from the students, particularly in poetry and essays. However, more creative writing is needed in these departments as well as in short stories or dramatic sketches.

Staff appointments on the magazine have been made by the co-editors Nancy Ferguson and Leslie Lockhart. Jerald Ketchum will be in charge of collecting and editing creative writing. The drama and radio coverage will be handled by Nancy Jones, and Connie Cover is music editor. The art work on the Kinnikinnik is under the direction of Bob Haymes. Hiram Liggett is business manager. Anyone interested in working in these departments should contact the respective editors.

Important List of Job Opportunities for Graduating Seniors

Dean H. E. Mathias, in charge of placement for the college announces that all students, especially Seniors interested in interviewing personnel officers and representatives of industry or business who will visit the campus during the next few months should obtain a placement registration form at his office and file it at an early date. The Dean announces that notices regarding visits will be published in the TIGER and posted on the bulletin board in Palmer Hall. Students will be notified of all visits if their cards are on file in Dean Mathias office.

The following are job opportunities recorded to date:

1. Representatives of the Radio Corporation of America visited the campus Monday, February 10, and after interviewing five physics majors, offered jobs to four students at a starting salary of $75 per week.

2. On March 3, the campus will be visited by Don Renard, Supervisor Field Recruiting, Boeing Airplane Company. He is interester in engineers and physics majors.

3. The National City Bank of New York City is interested in juniors and seniors who may want to make banking a career. Better than average starting salary; opportunities for advancement very good. See Dean Mathias.

4. Standard Oil Company, Denver, Colorado, has positions open for men interested in marketing and sales. Training program lasts from thirty days to one year, average six to eight months. Salary during training period $240 per month; salary when assigned to a territory, $365 per month plus an automobile. Graduates preferred. Men with experience and only two years of college may be hired. See Dean Mathias.

6. Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Inc. wants men interested. See Dean Mathias.

7. TIME, Inc. offers career poaitions to women. Training program consists of actual work asaignments with Supervisory, Subscriber Correspondence, Training, Quality Control, and other fields as goals. Starting salary, $42 per week. Chances for advancement. See Dean Mathias.

8. United States Rubber Company. Interested in men who want to make selling a carcer. Application blanks available. See Dean Mathias.

9. On March 19 and 20, J. F. Ward, Personnel Manager of Montgomery-Ward, will visit the campus. He is primarily interested in men or women graduates in business administration but will employ men or women who have earned majors in other departments. Most men will be offered initial assignments in tha merchandising division. Women will receive assignments to the catalog unit organization and trained as catalog office managers. Studenta should aign up for an interview witb the Secretary, Business Department.

Betas Install Officers For Coming Year

Last Monday night Beta Theta Pi held elections of fraternity officers for the coming year. Retiring president Dick Yates installed Sid Keoughan as the new president, Cbuck Mollin took over the vice-presidency from Al Johnson, Larry Waddington succeeded George Abbott as secretary and Ron Sponsellor replaced Hiram Liggett as treasurer.

'Where Peace Begins'

On February 20, in South Hall, there was a movie by the Experiment In International Living entitled, "Where Peace Begins." It was about family life in Brussels and mountain climbing in Austria among other things. Under the Experiment plan a student may live with a family in a foreign country. This plan was followed by John Wheat and Marion Johnston who sponsored the movie.

"THE QUEEN'S HUSBAND"

Student activity tickets will be accepted at tbe door for tbe CC Players production of "The Queen'a Husband," Feb. 27, 28, and 29.

General Gill and Bill Shepard Reign at Golddigger's Ball

Well it's all over—after the Golddigger's Ball last Friday night with the girls paying and paying again, the men are back in their old routine of footing all the bills. The men had their moment of glory. The girls, with ready cash-on-hand, smothered their dates with filet mignons, cigarettes, beverages and anything else their revengeful little hearts desired. Articles made from old rummage sales, auctions or Woolworth made up the corsages presented to the dates.

The height of the evening was the crowning of the Golddigger's King. Phi Delt Bill Shepard took the honors as the "Sheik of the campus" and was crowned by the mistress of ceremonies, Barbara Prechtel. The Mysterious Mr. "X" turned out to be our own General Gill who reigned as "King of them all."

Nanda Ward's corsage was judged as the cleverest corsage aeen at the ball. Nanda'a efforts won ber a abare in the Cripple Creek gold mine as General Gill presented her with a cup for her efforts.

CONTEST ANNOUNCED

Beginning this week, the TIGER will award one carton of Chesterfields for the best "letter to the editor" or for the best suggestion for improvement of this publication.

Mail your letters to the TIGER, Cutler Hall, Colorado College, Colorado Springs. Each week's winner will be announced in the following issue of the TIGER.

Collegium Musicum To Be Featured in Sunday's Concert

Next Sunday's concert in Perkins Hall at 4:30 o'clock, will be a fenture of special interest. The choral group, directed by David Kraehenbuehl, called the Collegium Musicum, started two years ago and consists of music students and interested townspeople brought together by a genuine interest in the performance of music that is ordinarily unavailable on records or in the concert hall. Vocal and instrumental forces are combined to recreate for our Sunday audience the best music of the period from 100 to 1600, performed as nearly in its original form as possible. It will undoubtedly be an experience of unique character to most listeners, made more interesting as Mr. Kraehenbuel will make comments throughout the program.

Ten Coeds Earn Perfect Averages

Ten CC coeds achieved the highest academic average possible last semester. Earning grade averages of 4.0 were, Janet Adams, Connie Cover, Nancy Ferguson, Ruth Hunt, Cynthia Haymes, Pat Scott, Vivian Sabean, Marion Shaw, Jean Szymanski and Leslie Lockhart.

First semester sorority averages were as follows: Kappa Alpha Theta, 2.737; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 2.600; Gamma Phi Beta, 2.587; Delta Gamma, 2.534. The all sorority average was 2.032.

Speech Students Present Programs

Students in the course in Spoken English under Professor Woodson Tyree are putting their speech training into practice by presenting half-hour discussion programs on Radio Station KRCC.

Under the system, each atudent has the opportunity of presenting at leaat one half-hour program each semester. Students in tha 9:00 class are heard from 7:30 to 8:00 on Monday nights, the 10:00 class on Wednesday and the 11:00 class on Friday nights are at tha same time. Both students and faculty members' are heard on thesa very interesting and informativa sessions and they are certainly worth listening to.

A SENIOR SPEAKS

Recently I heard the mother of a classmate of mine say the following words about Colorado College, "I don't know what it is that you receive from CC, but it is a 'something' that sets you off from a graduate of any other college or university." Looking back over my three and one-half years at Colorado College, I hope that I have received that something. But what is it? I am afraid that I, like this woman, am at loss to define it. I know that I have received many things during my years here in Colorado Springs, but whether they all add up to this undefinable something is a question I can't answer.

Perhaps one of the most important things that I have received, stems merely from the location of the college. I am very grateful to have been able to go to a college located in the town of Colorado Springs, for I believe the life of the town has complimented to no small degree my education. Its social and cultural awareness, the Art Center, the symphony, Civic Players, the concert series, the dramatic productions at the Chief theatre, along with the obvious recreational facilities that lie within a few miles of the campus, all add up to giving the student the opportunity to develop himself socially as well as mentally during the four years at college, and that is a very important part of any person's education.

But you mustn't forget the education part of college, Colorado College itself. Many complaints have been made recently about CC, but its good points far outweigh the bad ones. One of the major advantages that this college offers to its students is the calibre of the student body itself. I have received much from my association with a group of young people whom I find culturally and intellectually superior. I have also received a great deal from the closeness that exists, particularly as you move into your major field, between the students and the professors. It is a feeling of being guided and counseled in the process of education, instead of being lectured at, hoping to catch your education as best you can.

A third thing that the college itself has offered me is the closeness that does exist between the administration and the student body. This opportunity to associate with and know personally the men and women who are running the college is something which cannot be found at larger schools and of which more students here at CC should avail themselves.

A fourth thing that I have received here is the opportunity to develop my potential, in whatever field it may lie. Be it music, art, athletics, student government, whatever it is, the students here at CC can participate and not be lost in the mob.

But what does all of this add up to? Have I received the "something" about which I spoke earlier? I still don't know. But one thing I am sure of. In my four years at CC I have received one of the best liberal arts education available, and I shall always look back upon these years as some of the best of my life.

—Jack Fitzgerald.

YOUR STUDENT COUNCIL

By NANCY WOLFER

GLAD TIDINGS

Seniors—The college is looking out for your future! Register in Dean Mathis' office for the placement bureau. During the following months many representatives of various business firms will be interviewing students on the campus and you will be notified and have the opportunity to discuss job opportunities with them.

ITEMS OF NOTE

A by-law instituting a committee to take over the functions of the National Student's Association has been proposed for the student body's approval. The committee is to be composed of the four class presidents and the social chairman of the ASCC (the Associated Students of Colorado College or your student council to the uninformed). The function of this committee shall be to conduct general school functions and activities which are of concern to all classes—such as: the Campus Chest Drive which includes the Variety Show, the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, and the individual solicitation, the Foreign Student Program (if continued), the student discount service, and perhaps a day of all-school inter-class competition. These and other activities as may be assigned to it by the ASCC should give our class officers along with the other commissioners a very real duty to perform. Think it's a good idea? If not COME TO COUNCIL yourself or through your representative. Remember any by-law to the constitution can be passed only with a two-thirds majority of the student body and that means YOU.

HONOR COUNCIL ELECTIONS TO BE HELD A WEEK FROM THIS THURSDAY

Representatives will be elected from all classes who will meet in the Pit and in turn elect to fill seven vacancies and the position of alternate. The new student body president serves as a member of the Honor Council.

COMPLAINT COLUMN

The following were brought up and will be referred to the proper committee or authority for ACTION: The condition of the obstacle courses, known as roads, on the west side of campus. The shortage of cool, clear water in the fountains in Palmer and Shove. And here's one for you—Assignments in class not clear, amount of work absolutely over-burdening, like to see a new course offered in your division? Talk it over with your prof or the head of your division. They're really quite understanding and harmless—the species that spit fire vanished from our fair earth long ago!

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

A "C" average or a 3.3 from our old grading system is equivalent to a 2.0 in quality points. Candidates for student body president must have maintained such an average for the past two semesters, must have attended at least ten council meetings, and must submit a petition with 25 names to be eligible for the presidential race.

TUITION CHANGE

In the new Colorado College catalogue just issued an announcement is made in regard to the tuition charges for the academic year 1952-1953. The basic semester tuition charge is to be $262.50, an increase of 15 per cent or $37.50 over that in effect this year.

This increase was voted by the Board of Trustees, reluctantly, but in the conviction that the step was absolutely necessary for financial safety. Even with this change there is still some uncertainty about a balanced budget.

Incidentally, notices have just appeared in regard to tuition charges at two other institutions, both of which are already charging more than Colorado College will charge next year. One of these announced an increase of 25 per cent, and the other 31 per cent.

I have heard some curious rumors which would be amusing if they were not definitely harmful to the college. In answer to some of these rumors I want to say that no important financial support has been withdrawn from the college, and that, on the contrary, there is evidence that the college is daily finding new supporters.

—William H. Gill, President.

C. C. Players to Present Comedy In Perkins This Week

The CC Players will open their second semester "season" with the presentation of "The Queen's Husband," a three-act comedy by the well-known American dramatist Robert Sherwood. The production will run three nights, February 27, 28, and 29, beginning at 8:15 in Perkins Hall. The play is a rollicking comedy about court life and is certainly action-packed. The plot centers about King Eric VII, a well meaning and kindly monarch who is dominated by his strong-minded co-regent Queen Martha. This ill-matched pair are the parents of a very democratic and charming young princess, Anne who is determined to marry her father's secretary at the same time rejecting a powerful neighboring prince. Anne's reluctance to enter into a political marriage sets off a series of very explosive events in the royal menage. How the king manages to resolve his ponderous problems, both domestic and political provides the humor of the play.

The cast includes Jerald Ketchum as King Eric, Kris Sinding as Queen Martha, Mary Jeanne Perenyi as Anne, Jack Fitzgerald as Granton and, Walker Wheeler, Andy Spiegel, Pat Free-

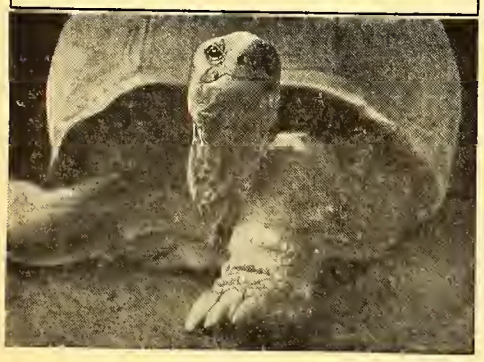
J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test



POOR SHEEDY was in the soup with a turtle named Myrtle. "I'm in a tortizzy," he wailed, "what shell I do?" "Well, it's your messy hare that parts you from all the girls," his roommate said. "Better get Wildroot Cream-Oil!" Non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Relieves dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's out turtle-necking all the time! So don't stick your neck out... get some terrapin-money and hurry to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hare at your favorite barber shop. Then you'll really be in the swim.

CLUBLICITY

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi will hold a meeting Thursday night at 7:30 in Lennox House. Since it is a very important meeting all members are urged to attend. An election of officers for the coming year will be held and it is therefore imperative that all actives be present so that a good slate of leaders can be selected and installed. Refreshments will be served.

IWA

Nominations for IWA officers were held Monday night in the observatory. The final elections will be next Monday evening in Lennox. The observatory is beginning to look very cheery with its new coat of yellow paint which was put on after the last business meeting.

The Independent Women are organizing a basketball team and all unaffiliated girls who are sport enthusiasts are urged to join. If you are interested, please contact Kay Bell.

CROWN AND LANCE

The Crown and Lance is holding a stag dinner at the home of Jim Brenner, 1420 N. Chestnut St., on February 27. All members are invited to attend.

After the Feb. 18th meeting most of the members of Crown and Lance went to the observatory to help the IWA paint their house.

The Crown and Lance voted Feb. 8th to buy a student council key to be given to each of our representatives while they are in office.

The Crown and Lance are represented in the new CC Players production by Gordan Spice and Walker Wheeler.

DELTA EPSILON

A coffee hour will be held from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. at Lennox House on Friday, Feb. 22. All majors in natural science, including psychology, mathematica, and engineering, are cordially invited, as are all faculty members of the college.

At 4:30 a motion picture on the Micro-manipulator and Micro Forge, made at the Pasteur Institute, will be shown across the street in the lecture room of Shove Chapel. Among other interesting demonstrations will be: how a legible inscription can be superimposed on the foot of a fly, how a parasite is released from a red cell, how a complete micro-manipulator can bs suspended in the eye of an ordinary sewing needle, and other amazing demonstrations.

SHORTHAND COURSE

The shorthand course is now in full swing. Tbere are 59 enrolled. four of whom are men. Everyone enrolled thinks the course is interesting and valuable, and it looks like there will be a lot of future secretaries from CC.

New Honor Council Members To Be Selected Next Week

By AL STRAND

One week from today, on Thursday, February 28, an honor assembly will be held in room 8 in Palmer Hall. This assembly will be made up of one representative from each classroom and will be held for the purpose of selecting six new members to the Honor Council and one alternate. These new members will be taking the places of Honor Council members who have graduated and of seniors who will graduate in June. Any student of the ASCC is eligible to become a member of the Honor Council except a senior.

In the past year the Honor Council issued sixteen warnings to students who violated the honor system here at Colorado College. Ten of these violations were reported to the Council by faculty members, the other six were reported by students.

Six students contested warnings issued to them by the Council, and all of these students were absolved as the Council did not feel they violated the honor system. Thess students are not included in the sixteen warnings issued.

The present honor system used in this college differs slightly from honor systems used by other colleges and universitics throughout the country. Our system is still young and a number of quirks have to be straightened out in order to make it run efficiently. We ars progressing each year in that the Honor Council is striving to improve the faults that are associated with the honor code.

Anyone who argues that the honor system will never work has a weak point of view. This can readily be seen in colleges and institutions all over the country which have the honor system. A number of these schools havs had an honor system for over one hundred years. Colorado College is not different from these schoola because we have the same calibre of studsnts as they bave, and like these schools, we are proud of onr honor system.

The students who will remain on the honor council are: Janet Adams, Tom Dunton, Harry Halsted, George Hamada, Mose Harrison, and Jack Fitzgerald. Mr. Fitzgerald's position on the council will be vacated when the new student body president is selected.

The students who have graduated or will graduate from tbe council are: Ned Mann, Marty Healy, Tom Groom, Nancy Winters, Bob Malowney, Nancy Wolfer, and Al Strand.

AWS First Round Results; Finals To Be Next Monday

Last Monday all the women students voted in Palmer and in hall meetings for the AWS board officers. The top two for each office were taken from the votes cast, and these girls will be voted on next Monday, February 25. Voting will take place in Palmer from 9:00-12:00 and in Hall meeting as before. The results of this week's election and a brief sketch of each girl running in the finals are as follows:

President—Emily Howe is a junior from Webster Groves, Mo., and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. In her freshman year she was a class commissioner, a member of Spanish club, and on Loomis Hall council. Her sophomore year aaw her as AWS secretary, deputy treasurer of Theta and a member of riding club. This year Emily is AWS vice president and Theta treasurer.

President—Betsy Todd is a junior from Indianapolis, Ind., and a member of Gamma Phi Beta. The activities of her college years include being pledge trainer of Gamma Phi, sargeant at-arms for Tiger club, chairman of AWS service committee, member of Wakuta, Personnel Board, Hostess Committee, WAA Board and Ya-ta-he. Betsy is a sociology major.

Vice President—Barbara Trotter is a sophomore from Mission, Kans., and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. This year B. J.'s activities are secretary of Hershey House, secretary of AWS, and chairman of AWS Election Board. She has also been social chairman of her pledge class, a member of Ya-ta-he, and was on the dean's list last year and this last semester.

Vice President—Peggy Root is a sophomore from Glencoe, Ill., and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Peggy's activities include being society editor of the TIGER, chairman of AWS publications, sophomore class commissioner, Theta student council representative, Theta food chairman, McGregor Hall counselor, member of Chapel Board, Ptarmigan club, and Ye-ta-he.

Secretary—Claire Chamberlin is a sophomore from Great Falls Air Base, Montana, and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta. During her freshman year Claire was class commissioner, AWS co-scrapbook chairman, and vice president of her pledge class. This year she is secretary of QA, Gamma Phi assistant social chairman, on the Chapel Board, and on Tiger club song committee.

Secretary—Gail Lund is a sophomore from Oak Park, Ill., and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Her activities are assistant pledge trainer of Thetas, Hershey House fire warden, member of Tiger club, Ptarmigan, and Ya-ta-he. Gail is on a scholarship and was on the dean's list last year and last Don't bother calling the Gamma Phi pledges, fellows. They can't speak to you this week. Both they and the Delta Gammas call this their "hell week." Both groups have to learn the names and home towns of the actives and address them as "Active Miss." The Gamma Phi pledges have to carry cigarettes and gum for their beloved actives. The Delta Gammas will be regular actresses when they have given all the skits required of them. Reward for all these troubles: the pledges will be initiated at the end of this week.

The Theta pledges are willing to go through a "hell week," but the actives won't tell them when their initiation will be. The actives say they confused all initiation plans when they took their sneak last week.

Twenty-four exhansted girls were walking around campus Tuesday. The Kappa pledges took their sneak Monday. After having their plans foiled three times, they finally left campus at 3:30. Actives got drift of the hideout and went in pursuit of their kidnapped president and vice president. The rendezvous was on a ranch near Fountain, but the pledges left before the actives got there. After a wild chase through Colorado Springs, the evening ended happily over coffee at Lennox. . . . almost. When the pledges went home their rooms were slightly disarranged.

Did you see the surprised looks on the faces of the hockey team Monday morning? Guess they didn't realize CC had so much pep. Nice going kids. Let's keep it up and take the team to N. C. A. A. Let's give orchids to the band for the swell music. They had been practicing since 7:30 that morning. Onions to the kids who slept in. And all our thanks to the administration for their co-operation on the welcome home of the Hockey Team.

Jane Addenbrooke has been voted treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Nancy Winters. Jane's appointment was unanimous by the board.

The basketball tournament is coming up! Practices will be this week, February 19, 20, 21, from 2:00 until 5:00 p. m. Three hours of practice are required for play in the tournament.

Due credit must be given to the girls who got up early Saturday morning for the basketball playday at Greeley. The stout-in-heart were Joan Todd, DeDe Beekley, Thora Hodge, Grace Jack, Betsy Cox, Jane Ellis, Hank Harris and Kay Bell. Our team played the PE majors from Aggies and Loretto Heights and lost both games.

Following is the schedule for the basketball tournament, which has been posted.

Saturday, Feb. 23—2-3 Gamma Phis vs. Thetas; 3-4 Thetas vs. IWA.

Sunday, Feb. 24—2-3 Delta Gammas vs. IWA; 3-4 Kappas vs. Gamma Phis.

Saturday, March 1—2-3 IWA vs. Kappas; 3-4 Kappas vs. Delta Gammas.

Sunday, March 2—2-3 Thetas vs. Kappas; 3-4 Gamma Phis vs. IWA.

Sunday, March 9—2-3 Delta Gammas vs. Gamma Phis; 3-4 Thetas vs. Delta Gammas.

Swim Team Meets State Saturday at Carson in RMC Meet

Colorado College's tankmen defeated Camp Carson for the second time this year by a score of 55-21 at the Camp Carson pool Saturday afternoon. Carson gained three firsts but lack of depth in the other seven events led to their poor showing.

Winners for the Tigers were Carky Rubens, Chuck O'Conner, Captain Squeeky Wilkins, Norm Brown, and Tom Abel. Both of CC's relay teams were victorious with Bill Schacht, Norm Brown, and Bob Wilkins leading the way in the medley relay race and Wally Harmon, Wilkins, Schacht, and Rubens winning in the sprint relay race. Also adding to the Tiger point total with seconds and thirds were Bard Brown, Ted Bilbarz, Tom Abel, Carky Rubens, Wally Harmon, and Norm Brown.

This week coach "Doc" Stabler's swimmers meet Colorado State at the Camp Carson at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday afternoon. Coach Stabler claims that this meet is the dual meet that he has been pointing for all season. Comparative records of both clubs show that the meet should be a real thriller, right down to the last splash.

The results:

220 yard free style—Mann (Carson), Abel (CC), B. Brown (CC), T. 2:40.8.
50 yard free style—Rubens (CC), Bilbarz (CC), Cammack (Carson), T. 26.7.
Individual medley — Smith (Carson), 1:55.1, N. Brown (CC), Jones (Carson.
Diving—O'Connor (CC), Hall (Carson), Thompson (Carson).
100 yard free style—Mann (Carson), Rubens (CC), Harmon (CC) T. 59.5.
200 yard backstroke — Wilkins (CC), (only entry).
200 yard breast stroke—N. Brown (CC) (only entry).
440 yard free style—Abel (CC), 6:02. B. Brown (CC).
400 yard relay—CC (Harmon, Wilkins, Shacht, Rubens), T. 4:22.
Medley relay—CC (Wilkins, N. Brown, Shacht), T. 3:37.

Greeley Drops Tigers 49-45 in Close Game At City Aud. Fri.

By DON STONE

The Tiger-Bear tilt Friday night ended with Colorado State overpowering the Tigers 49-45. The touted Bear cagers led the entire game; however, the fighting Tigers never admitted defeat until the final buzzer. The hustling Tiger team outscored the Bear team in the second period, but their halftime twelve point lead was conclusive for the Bear victory.

Halftime score—CS 26, CC 14.
Missed Free Throws—Williams, Lamat, Doolin, Sandatedt, Hiller 2, Schmidt 3, Pfeiffer 5, Bergstrom, Kensinger, Lodmell 3, Snyder.

The much improved Tiger club showed its reserve strength with the ball handling and hustle of reserves Frank Maynes and Ned Pfeiffer. Reserve Tom Dunton lifted his 6 ft. 3 in. frame high into the air to control much of the rebounding on both boards.

The Greeley Bears, second in conference standings, were sparked by Martin Schmidt and Tom Williams with 13 and 12 points respectively. Colorado State must now win over Montana State to capture the conference crown. Montana's upset by Colorado Mines last Saturday narrowed their lead and so the remaining battles for the leaders will be the decisive ones.

The Tiger cagers end their conference play with a doubleheader against Colorado Mines this weekend. Friday's game will be played at Colorado Mines and Saturday's here at the City Auditorium. Omaha University will be the contestant in the Tigers' final game and will undoubtedly be one of the strongest quintet's the Tigers meet. This game will be in Cossitt gym on Wednesday, Feb. 27.

TIGERS KNOCKING AT TOURNAMENT DOOR

Chances Very Bright After Successful Michigan Trip

By RAY SCHERER

With the first CC victory ever to come over the University of Mich., at Ann Arbor, the Tigers climaxed a successful road trip to the Wolverine State. There was one drawback, however, center Tony Frasca fractured a bone in his left ankle and will be out for the rest of the year. The loss of Frasca in the second period of Friday night's game at Ann Arbor made the light of victory lessen a great deal, but the twelve remaining men decided to take the exception instead of the rule. It was a marvelous job and special mention should go to CC goalie Ken Kinsley for an outstanding job in the nets on all four occasions.

The team started off with a pair of wins over Michigan State at East Lansing on Tuesday and Wednesday nights with Kinsley getting his second shut-out of the year as the Tigers rolled up three points. Wednesday night's result was a 6-3 win.

Saturday afternoon's game with Michigan produced the expulsion of Norm Diviney and Alex McClellan. The Tigers were forced to hold the pace with eleven men. At that, they held the lead three times before succumbing 7-6 in the overtime. Omer Brandt caught Michigan goalie, Ikola out of place on three occasions to pick up the only hat trick of the trip.

The M. W. H. L. now has an interesting bit of figuring to do. At this late date there are three teams tied for first place: the Wolverines, the Pioneers, and the Tigers. This weekend holds the key to the tournament, at least for CC, and for DU. If, and it's possible, CC and DU sweep the North Dakota series, these two teams will represent the M. W. H. L. despite any action by Michigan. On the other hand, if Michigan beats Michigan State at Ann Arbor, and they should, and CC and DU both split with the Dakotas then there will be a three-way tie once again and officials of the league will have to decide. If CC and DU wish to be in the tournament they better pick up at least three of the four possible points available to them this week. We can help by packing the Broadmoor this coming Friday and Saturday. Get those tickets—now!

LOST—Black Parker pen. If found please return to Janet Adams at Howbert.

The Tuesday night story saw the Sigma Chi powerhouse smother the Phi Delt five 37-19. Voshall and Steigelmeir led victor's scoring with 13 points each. The Kappa Sigs kayoed the Independents 51-34. Stellar performances were displayed by Conroy and Bildstein of the Kappa Sigs. Independent Lisowski was high point man with 14 points.

On Wednesday the Kappa Sigs edged a 41-38 victory over Phi Gamma Delta. High scorers were Bildstein for the Kappa Sigs and George for the Phi Gams with 15 points each.

Smooth ballhandling and teamwork emerged Beta Theta Pi victorious over Phi Delta Theta, 38-25. The floorplay by the Beta team is some of the best in the league.

League leading Sigma Chi rolled over Phi Gamma Delta 52-41 in the Thursday session. Voshall and Steigelmeir gave repeat performances with 17 and 15 points respectively to take the scoring honors. George was high for the losers with 10 points.

In the second game the Betas defeated the Independents by a score of 45-39. Dave Hender's sharpshooting paced the Betas as he scored 21 points for the winners. Lisowski led the losers with 14 points.

Heiss Calls Spring Practice Session Beginning March 1

It seems the pigskin is taking the job of the Robin to initiate springtime on CC campus. Coach Heiss announced that March 1 the spring training period would begin. The first session will be at two o'clock on March 1. He will introduce the offense and requests you to bring notebooks and pencils.

Uniforms will be given out previous to this date. Pads will be issued only to linemen; backs and ends will receive them when notified.

Fundamentals will be stressed and there will be a small amount of contact work. Practice will be five days a week including bad weather days when movies will be shown.

Best you gridiron stars be conditioning for the coming workouts.

Track Comments

There was an excellent turnout on Monday for the first meetting of the season. Active training started on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. The display of enthusiasm this early in the season is a very good indication of a satisfying season. Workouts are headed by Asst. Coach Morrow and Coach Thompson will join the squad at the end of the hockey season.

We are urged to remind you that the team is by no means closed to additional members. Twice as many men are needed and are urged to report. If you are now competing in another sport contact Asst. Coach Morrow for the training program. Men who have never competed in track but are interested are also asked to report and if you are willing to work, we guarantee you will make a creditable showing.

We are well on the way to a conference winning team, let's go all the way!

Coach Thompson.

interested are urged to attend.

Newly elected officers of the German club are: president, Larry Wells; vice president, Mrs. Walter Levin; secrstary-treasurer, Gretl Muenzinger; social chairman, Shirley Shaffer; and Eric Drexler is included in the executive committee. The club is advised by Dr. Thomas Brandt. The meetings are held once a month and displaced persons are invited to attend.

GAMMA PHI

"Ideal Week" started for 18 Gamma Phi pledges early Monday morning. The week's activities will be climaxed with initiation Sunday morning at Shove Chapel. Pledge projects for the week will include work with the YMCA and blood donations at Camp Carson. In addition to these projects, each pledge must complete a hand-made doll to be sent to the Gamma Phi Beta children's camp.

HISTORY CLUB

Ths first meeting of the History club was held last Thursday at the faculty club. The program was a discussion of modern Germany by Horst Hergel, one of the foreign students on the CC campus. Elections were held and the results are as follows: President, Bob Albee, secrctary-treasurer, Bettie Davis; program chairman, Jack Osborne; business manager, Dino Theodoran; publicity chairman, Betsy Bernard.

The next meeting of the club will be Thursday, Feb. 28 and the time, place and program will be in the next TIGER.

THETA

Twenty-one Theta pledges were quite suprised Wednesday morning, at 6:00 a. m., when the actives shining faces appeared in their rooms, and rushed them over to the Theta lodge. The pledges had been rather upset after Monday night's meeting when the actives told them "Hell Week" would have to be postponed. However, things are well underway, and they will be initiated Sunday, as planned. The pledges are required to make an active's bed before noon every day, carry gum, candy, and cigarettes for the actives and they cannot wear any lipstick until noon each day, and study table every night. Besides a pledge project, the pledges will make lunch for their mothers on Saturday.

Formal initiation will take place Sunday morning.

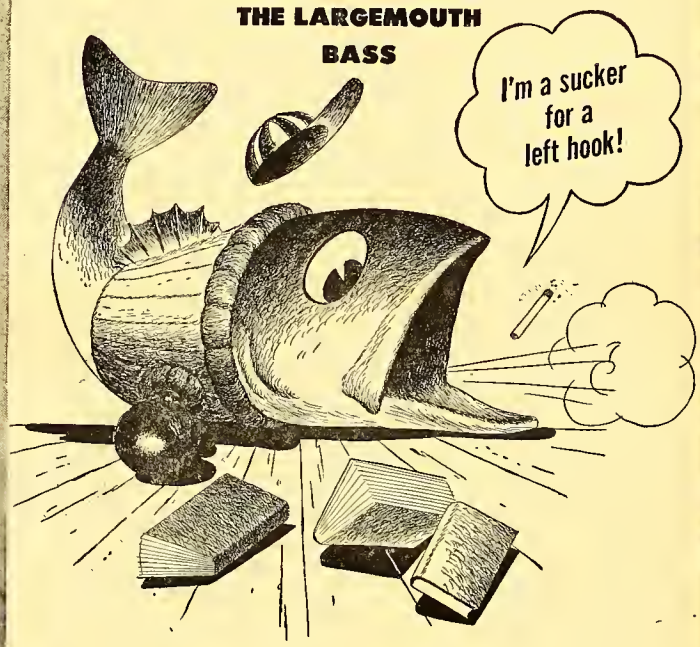
Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 35..

THE LARGEMOUTH BASS



Always a sucker for attractive bait, our aquatic brother went off the deep end and got caught on the quick-trick cigarette hook! But he wormed his way out when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness can't be tossed off reel lightly. Millions of smokers have found, too, there's only one true test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test—the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

EISENHOWER TO BE NEXT PRESIDENT; U. S. TO DEFEND EAST GERMANY

By BROOK KINDRED

Last week the applied psychology class, with the aid of professor Rice, conducted an interesting experiment. The idea was to conduct a poll on about one-third (247 students) of the total full time students enrolled at Colorado College, on what their opinions were on five pertinent national and world questions, that will, at some time or another have direct effect on all of us.

Each student in the class interviewed four students not in the class of applied psychology, making a total of 247 interviewed students, 61 of whom were seniors. In all 30 men and 30 women from each class were asked the five questions. The interviewees were not compelled to answer "yes" or "no," but could say if they were undecided as to their answers of the questions.

The five questions were: Who do you think will be the next president of the U. S.? Who would you prefer to have as the next President? Do you favor universal military training? Do you favor socialized medicine? If East Germany attacked West Germany, do you think the U. S. should intervene with military force?

Most certainly these questions are ones which most of us have thought about at one time or another, and the answers given by, what is definitely a fair cross section of the total student body, are quite revealing.

Who do you think will be the next President of the United States?

	Eisenhower	Taft	Truman	Undecided
All classes	51%	14.6%	14.6%	13.8%
Seniors	60.6%	8 %	9.9%	13.1%

Who would you prefer to have as the next President?

	Eisenhower	Taft	Truman	Undecided
All classes ..	45.8%	18.6%	6.9%	6.9%
Seniors	57.4%	8 %	1.7%	8 %

Do you favor universal military training?

	Yes	No	Undecided
All classes	53 %	40.6%	6.4%
Seniors	57.4%	37.7%	4.9%

Do you favor socialized medicine?

	Yes	No	Undecided
All classes	13.5%	83.5%	3 %
Seniors	9.9%	88.4%	1.7%

If East Germany attacked West Germany, do you think that the United States should intervene with military force?

	Yes	No	Undecided
All classes	72 %	22.4%	5.6%
Seniors	73.7%	19.7%	6.6%

As far as the outcome of this poll is concerned, it is fairly evident that the 247 interviewed students definitely think that General Eisenhower will be our next President, but what is far more important, they definitely want him to be our next President. There is not, however, a significant difference concerning the feeling of the student body on UMT. The reverse is true, however, on the controversy of socialized medicine. The students interviewed do not favor socialized medicine in any way whatsoever. They do, however, think that the United States should intervene if East Germany was to attack West Germany.

It is evident that the student body is fully aware of the current national and world situations, and have definite opinions regarding them. They do not object to a military man as President. Maybe this is because they feel that we, in the United States, are going to live in a war economy, at least for the next four years, and that we need a military man as President. The student body is somewhat divided as to their feelings on UMT. Could this be an indication that they feel they that are due to be inducted into the service shortly, and do not want any more military training than they will be required to undergo? The outcome of the socialized medicine question is an indication that the student body does not want socialism in any form in this country. Certainly socialized medicine would be a beginning of such a regime. The students think that the U. S. should intervene if East Germany attacked West Germany. This apparently is an indication that the students do not want the United States to adopt a policy of isolation, and that they want to fight if necessary to prevent the spread of Communism, and to promote our democratic form of government, which has been threatened before, and which most certainly will be threatened again.

Father Robt. McMahon Next Chapel Speaker

In line with the new chapel program, next week's chapel will feature a talk of a religious nature. The chapel speaker for next Tuesday will be Father Robert McMahon of Saints Peter and Paul Roman Catholic Church of Wheat Ridge, Colorado. According to Dean Burkle, the talk by Father McMahon will be the "piece de resistance" of the chapel programs dealing with religion and should prove a very interesting and informational session.

The speaker for the assembly program in Chapel Tuesday, March 11th will be Mr. Robert McGinnes of the American Friends Service Committee. Mr. McGinnes will speak on, "Freedom, Responsibility and Social Action."

Pres. Gill to Serve On Scholarship Board

President Wm. Gill has been selected as a member of the Tenth Circuit Committee to select candidates for the New York University Root-Tildon law scholarships. This is the second year Pres. Gill has served in this capacity for the Circuit which includes Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Utah, and Wyoming.

The Root-Tilden scholarships are designed to aid young men who give promise of becoming outstanding lawyers in the best American tradition. Candidates are selected on academic record and qualities of character and personality which will enable them to be honorable members of the profession in the broadest sense. Candidates are rated one-third for extracurricular activities, and one-third for potential capacity for unselfish public leadership. The value of each scholarship is $1200.

In the recent AWS elections Emily Howe was chosen president for 1952. Emily is a junior from Webster Groves, Missouri, and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. She is replacing Barbara Prechtel as president. Peggy Root was elected vice-president and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. The job of secretary of AWS goes to Clair Chamberlin who is a sophomore from Great Falls Air Base, Montana, and belongs to Gamma Phi Beta. B. J. Trotter was this past year's secretary. Artie Toll from Los Angeles, California, is the new treasurer. Artie is a junior and a member of Delta Gamma; she is taking over the treasurer job from Cynthia Haymes.

CC Players Exciting Comedy "The Queen's Husband" is Hit

Professor Woodson Tryee presents something different in this play, inasmuch as he focuses a light on new talent. Jerald Ketchum in the role of the "Casper Milquetoast," yet strangely strong King Eric, is excellent. He seems to live the part of Robert Sherwood's character who upholds his dramatic ideals even with the possibility of forced abdication coupled with anarchist uprisings constantly threatening him. Ketchum's interpretation of the "divine right of kings" discourse in act one is wonderfully executed. He sustains his character nobly throughout the performance.

Jerry is amply supported by Pat Gormley as the blustery Northrup, Mary Jeanne Perenyi as the emotional and dramatic Princess Anne, Andy Speigle as the "Richard Hayden" type diplomat, and Chris Sinding as the dictatorial queen.

Supporting players who add much stimulation to the play are: Don Cooper in the role of Major Blent, Jack Fitzgerald as the loyal Granton, Walker Wheeler as the king's checker playing butler, Paul Evans and Jack Hattstaedt as the revolutionary leaders, Gordon Spice as the stiff, unromantic prince, Pat Freeland, Ellen Hunt, and Ruth Mitchell as ladies-in-waiting, and Harvey Secor and Chuck McNab as the soldiers.

Adding impetus to the play is Professor Tyree's simple but picturesque stage setting which depicts a chamber in the royal mansion.

The story itself although a comedy contains deeper aspects of problems so pertinent to our present day world situation which is our struggle for the preservation of our democratic way of life. The result of attending a performance of "The Queen's Husband" will be a delightful entertaining experience.

Major Dinners Begin March 13

The annual program of dinners for majors in the various fields will begin on March 13, with a dinner for language majors. The dinners are held in Bemis dining room and are followed by meetings in Bemis Commons. The purpose of the dinners and meetings is to bring together majors in the same field, their professors and students interested in entering that particular major.

During the meetings, discussions are held as to opportunities for jobs in the chosen field and occupations in fields closely related for which the major will be

SOUND OFF

It's taken four weeks to get around to it but in our humble opinion, every newspaper should have a policy and even though some may dissent at our assumption of the classification of a newspaper we still feel that a policy is necessary. We are not going to pursue a policy of being against this and against that. Our policy will be a constructive one. We will be FOR. When there is something which we believe needs changing or some additions needed, we will be FOR these changes for the better, not against doing it the old way. It may be just another way of saying black is black but we still believe in the positive rather than the negative approach.

Specifically, some of the things which the TIGER will be for are: A strong student body which takes a real active interest in the affairs of the college other than its social life. It is perfectly evident that for the most part, the students at Colorado College are not really cognizant of the many good things Colorado College has to offer. This is not entirely the fault of the student, and therein lies another thing the TIGER will attempt to help change; the relations between student and administration at CC has been very poor. It has been the practice for the administration to remain silent, in most instances, about any changes in policy, new honors for the college ,or anything which might be of interest and aid in getting the cohesiveness which till now has been lacking.

A STRONG Student Council is also a must. The ASCC as such has very broad administrative power as laid down in its constitution and approved by the college. This is not a crack at just the Student Council as an organization, but we do believe that the organizations represented and the representatives to the council themselves have not really realized their position and taken advantage of it. In too many cases, the representative to the council is chosen not on ability but only with an eye on the political side of the picture with the ASCC president's job the plum to be pursued. Of course the sororities can not be accused of the latter but give it some thought girls, do you really choose a representative who will go to council and really represent you, or do you give the job to someone who has nothing else to do at 4 p. m. Mondays? If you can honestly answer the two above questions then you have a right to be indignant, but it is felt that not too many organizations on campus can honestly feel that they have done their job in this respect.

The election of president of the ASCC is coming up March 18. We cannot urge you enough to forget politics in this one instance. Let fraternity and sorority ties go by the boards and elect the man best fitted for the job. A personality contest has no place in student government. Critically examine each candidates' qualifications, his past record of service to the organizations of which he is a member and above all his ability to LEAD. Let's make this a real election without politics, electing the man who is most able to serve us, the student body of Colorado College.

STUDENT COUNCIL

A PAT ON THE BACK

CC campus drive netted about twice as much per student as did a similar drive held on the Mich. State campus. However, don't break your arm for there are still many weak points in our drive, YOU passed the by-law establishing the Inter-Class Committ; now see that they get YOUR suggestion for improvement which might increase the efficiency as well as the profits.

ITEMS OF NOTE

The Inter-Class Committee is also working on plans for that "all-school sneak day." The Publication Board is again going to propose that the trustees vote to give the ASCC an additional fifty cents from the general college fund (which comes from your tuition), per student, to support the Kinnikinnick next year. The Kinnikinnick—our literary magazine—is this year being put out at the expense of the ASCC reserve fund. We'd like to see it put on a stable financial basis along with the TIGER and Nugget.

The first elections for ASCC prexy will be held March 18. Are we going to make this an organizational vote or a popularity contest OR are we going to elect the one most qualified for the job?—Just food for thought.

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED

Your ASCC voted to join the Colorado Conference of Student Leaders.

Just About Things

In General

By ARDETH KINNA

Thought-provokers from the address of Rabbi Phillispborn:—a true faith is a tried faith—real science is no stumbling block to a belief in God since the scientist is merely discovering what laws govern the universe, then conforms to them—creation itself belies the idea that all is accident—two great lessons we have yet to learn: 1. the real and true meaning of the "brotherhood of man": 2. the laws of cause and effect—disagree with the statement that the lesson we learn from history is that it teaches no lesson—history teaches alright, but the pupils are dull and will not learn—What is God doing about all this? Nothing but patiently waiting for man to learn the lessons of brotherhood; of cause and effect—the world would be even less understandable than it is if the inhumanity of man to man would go on forever without producing unfavorable results.

If he were still alive and going to CC, the English soldier lad who wrote the following lines would probably win the poetry contest, first prize $20, second prize $10.

"Down in the wood with the chestnut trees
And down beyond
And the sound of the sea
A blackbird sang as delicate dawn
Swept light as gossamer over the hills
And all the dewy valley rang
With joy of the song that the blackbird sang."

True the exteriors need paint, but inside, the huts are kept clean and attractive and are a lot more comfortable than the $65-a-month walk-ups, shacks, and assorted rooms that is the lot of the off-campus vet with children. It is indeed a strange disease of society that makes it turn against its own young, refusing them a decent place in which to live.

Mrs. Evi Levin Teaches English for Adult Education Program

The Adult Education Program in Colorado Springs is getting a big boost these days from a Colorado College student. She is Evi Levin, wife of Walter Levin a member of the famous La Salle String Quartet. Evi is a music major at CC but is not planning on making music her career as "One musician in the family is enough," she says.

Evi's help to the Program is given in the form of teaching the course "English for the Foreign Born." Her class is made up of many people of foreign birth who have not as yet mastered English. Evi herself is of Bulgarian descent and is quite a linguist in her own right as she speaks six languages; German French, Spanish, Italian, Bulgarian and English. In addition she has a good knowledge of Portuguese and Russian. According to Evi her students are "wonderfully adjusted" to their new homes in America.

Evi is a naturalized citizen of the United States and has had extensive work with the "Voice of America" broadcasts from New York as an assistant editor, editor and radio script writer. She has also worked as interpreter and translator for numerous business and publishing firms.

Station KRCC Presents Chansons de Francais

Each Wednesday from 8:00 to 8:30 station KRCC will present "Chansons de Francais" a program of French music. The broadcasts are made possible through the co-operation of the French Broadcasting System. They have sent the station complete musical shows, songs in French and narration in English, transcribed in their studios in Paris. "Gai Paree" a half hour program of popular music starring the top singers and instrumentalists of the French stage, screen and radio will be the first and third broadcasts. On the second and fourth weeks "Songs of France" under such topics as "The Revolution" and "Paris Policemen" will be broadcast. The other half of this program will present among others, Mr. Boyce, head of the Colorado College French Department who will present items of interest concerning French culture and the music on the broadcasts to listeners in Colorado Springs.

"Gai Paree" and "Songs of France" will alternate from week to week.

"Chansons de Francais" is to be presented so as to be of interest to the layman as well as those conversant with the French language. Through the programs the listener may become acquainted with the French culture via its popular and folk music. The series will be produced by Jack Hattstaedt.

WRITE A CAPTION for this cartoon and turn it in to the TIGER before 3:00 p. m. next Tuesday. Prize for the winner of the contest will be the price of two tickets to any movie playing next week. The cartoon will be reprinted next week in the TIGER with the prize-winning caption and name of the winner.

Coleen Townsend To Address Youth

Mr. Louis H. Evans, Jr. and his wife, the former Coleen Townsend of Hollywood, California will be in Colorado Springs on Saturday, March 8. They will address a youth meeting at the First Presbyterian Church at Bijou and Nevada at 1:30 p. m.

Miss Townsend came into the headlines about a year ago when she very dramatically announced that she was giving up her contract with 20th Century Fox Studios to devote herself to religious endeavor. Soon thereafter she married Mr. Evans, a fellow student at San Francisco Theological Seminary.

On weekends and during vacations the pair travel about fulfilling engagements. This week they are expounding their faith in Portland, Oregon. They will be in Denver next week.

Austrian Film to Be Shown at Art Center

Festivities, music, charm, intrigue, wit, adventures of the heart, beautiful women and clever gentlemen moving and dancing about the background of serious political affairs, intricate diplomacy shown everywhere—this is the German-American film "The Congress Dances." Playing in 1815, the year of the Congress of Vienna, it was an instantaneous European success when it appeared several years before World War II. Action and actors—among them such favorites as Lillian Harvey and Conrad Veidt—engaged and satisfied the imagination of the public, however critical and exacting their approach may have been. The historic period of this film, showing everywhere the subtle hand of its producer Willy Forst, ought to prove particularly fascinating to the moviegoer of today since it has much in common with our own time tried by hopes and fear in the wake of a great war, as the Congress of Vienna was to solve the problems created by the outcome of the Napoleonic Wars. The specific merit of this film, however, is its great art to focus its attention to the human aspects of the congress, presenting a fireworks of emotions, sophistication, and plots, reflecting in a lighter and gayer mood the great events and decisions of the time.

This German film (with English subtitles) will be shown in the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center on Tuesday, March 4 at 2:30, 7:15, and 9:00 p. m. Admission 30 cents (Tax included.)

Edward Groth Speaks at German Club

On Tuesday evening in Hayes House Library, Mr. Edward M. Groth, former Consul General in Hamburg, Germany gave the members and guests of the German club an extremely informative and interesting informal talk on conditions in Germany just after the war. Mr. Groth, who has had a wide and colorful career with the State Department in all parts of the world, gave a clear picture of the difficult and trying period in 1946 by relating many of his personal experiences. His picture of the German people was one of fortitude and orderliness during a period of widespread misery and destruction. He pointed out that all through this period the Germans did not forget their cultural institutions. That the theater and opera at this time were something which helped keep the people's spirit from slipping into utter despondancy. It was a time, Mr. Groth said, when people were helping one another more than ever before.

His talk was followed by a period of questions after which refreshments were served.

Leap year wil be in full swing next week. Three of the four sororities are having dances. You "men about campus" better be on your best behavior until the girls write, telegraph or call you for a date. Of course, if you have a preference to which one you want to go to—better turn on some charm. The Delta Gamma's are having their dance at the V. F. W. along with the Sigma Chis "Kappa Korral" is the theme of the Kappa dance. The lodge will be the place, name bands will take care of the music and levis will be the proper thing to wear. A treasure hunt will be the high-light of the Theta dance. Can't tell you the place of the dance, because that is part of the treasure hunt. It will be wherever the hunt ends and that could be anywhere. The Gamma Phi's will have their dance in the near future. Not a bad idea. They can have their choice of the "men on campus."

Whew—it's finally over with. Now life can fall back in its old rut. Last week's nerve wracking, tear jerking and hair pulling "hell week" is finally finished. The "poor little picked on pledge" is now a "glorious active." Kappa Kappa Gamma had their initiations on Saturday while the Thetas and the Gamma Phis held their ceremonies Sunday. All the sneaks, work and early morning hours rewarded the gals with a Crescent, Kite, Anchor or Key and it was all worth it.

An article in the Free Press about the CC basketball team read: "No crowd, a fridgid first balf, a surge in the third quarter and an exciting final period—and another loss." This Wednesday was the last time CC could see their basketball team play thia year. It couldn't have been more conven-

Another group of Gamma Phis donated blood at Camp Carson last Monday through arrangements made by the Red Cross. The girls brought back the report that blood is urgently needed to fill the camp's blood bank quota. Those who gave blood were: De De Beckly, Ann Blake, Thora Hodge, Joanne McDonald, Caroline Pfeil. Dand and Mrstl Howard Burkle also gave blood.

Betsy Todd Elected Gamma Phi President

Monday night the Gamma Phis held election of officers for the coming year. Betsy Todd was elected president; Claire Chamberlain, vice-president; Marilyn Marksheffel, corresponding secretary; Gloria Townsend, recording secretary; Elennor Thompson, pledge trainer; and Diane Charlton, assistant pledge trainer.

Seven CC students are going to the convention of the American Society of Petroleum Geologists in Salt Lake City, held February 27 through March 2. Dave Tinsley, Bob Meranda, Glenn Scarcia, Al Schoenfeld, Ray Jacoby, June and Jerry Graham are those who are to attend the convention and the field study trip which is to accompany it. Mr. William A. Fischer is going as sponsor.

On March 11, at 4:00 in the A. W. S. room a United Air Lines representative will give a talk on openings for girls in the air transportation field. The stewardess position will be fully outlined and a movie may be shown. All those interested are urged to attend.

MERMEN EYE CONFERENCE TITLE IN MARCH

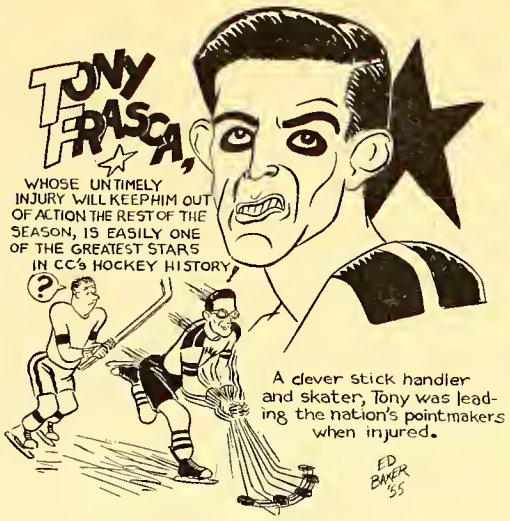
W.A.A. News

By CAROL RIVENES

The first round of the basketball tournament was played Saturday and Sunday. With the shooting of Sue Schlessman, the Gamma Phis defeated the Thetas, 20-9. Mary Ann Harmon, in spite of a ski injury scored often for the Thetas. The next game found the Thetas against the Independent Women. Kay Bell's constant accuracy gave the I. W. A. a 25-18 win. Linda Bjorklund displayed fine guarding skill for the Thetas.

Sunday's first game ended with a one point advantage for the Delta Gammas over the IWA team. Pattie Hahs led the DG's to their 25-26 victory. The Kappas were to play the next game, but were shorthanded and were forced to forfeit to the Gamma Phis.

The new date for the bowling tournament is March 8.



Swimmers Rack State 59-25 Meet Mines Sat. at Carson

The Colorado College swimming team met this year's first Rocky Mountain Conference opposition in the form of Colorado State last Saturday and thoroughly trounced the teachers of Greeley, 59-25. Colorado State was hindered by the absence of Dan Hurd, their ace freestyler, because of illness but his presence would not have changed the outcome.

So decisive was the Tiger victory that Colorado State was unable to capture a single first in the ten event program.

Leading point getter for the Tigers was freshman Norm Brown, who won the individual medley and breaststroke events and swam with the victorious 300 medley relay team to collect 12 points. Following close on Brown's heels was Tom Abel with wins in the 220 and 440 yard freestyle distance events for 10 points. Other winners for CC were Captain "Squeeky" Wilkins in the backstroke event, Carky Rubens in the 50 yard dash, Wally Harmon in the 100 yard dash, and Chuck O'Connor in diving. The only second captured by the Tigers was by Ted Bilharz in the 50 yard dash. Bringing home thirds were diver Harry Ebeling, backstroker Ed McGuire, breaststroker Chuck O'Connor and distance swimmer Bard Brown. Both the medley relay team of Wilkins, N. Brown, and Harry Holtom and the freestyle relay team of Harmon, Rubens, Holtom, and Bill Schacht were winners.

Next Saturday, Coach Stabler's mermen have a conference swimming meet with Mines at the Camp Carson pool at 2:30 p. m. in the afternoon. After last week's win over Colorado State, defending conference champ, the Tiger's are rated strong contenders for the Rocky Mountain Conference championship title on March 8 at Greeley. Should Coach Stabler's tankmen defeat Mines handily on March 1, CC will be tabbed as the team to beat for the crown.

Saturday's win was number five for Colorado College this year as against only two losses.

BASEBALL NOTICE

Coach Will Perkins announced that a meeting of all candidates for the baseball team will be held in Cossitt Gym, Monday, March 3rd at 4 p. m.

TRACK NOTICE

The track season is in full swing at the present time with workouts scheduled for each afternoon at 4 p. m. Anyone interested in participating please contact Asst. Coach Jim Morrow as soon as possible. Let's get out there and we will have a fine squad this year.

Basketball Team Bows to Mines

Last Friday night the Tiger basketball team journeyed to Golden for the first game of their final series of conference play. The Miners defeated the Tigers 61 to 59. Trailing in the entire contest CC fought an uphill battle, but when the game ended the Tigers had tied the count at 57-57. They were unable to hold the Miners in the overtime period and dropped a heartbreaking decision.

Miner Tom Johnson and Tiger Don Stone were high point men in the game. Johnson got 15, while Stone came up with 12.

This ended one of the poorest seasons of basketball here at CC. The Tigers wound up with a won 1 and lost 9 record.

Friday night's box score and final standings:

ICEMEN DOWN NODAKS FOR M.W.H.L. TITLE

BRITISH COLUMBIA HERE NEXT
DOWN SIOUX IN TWO, 9-5 and 9-2

By RAY SCHERER

These dates, February 22nd and 23rd, won't be forgotten for quite some time, at least by the members of this year's hockey team, for on these dates the Tigers issued themselves tickets to the fifth annual NCAA hockey tournament at the Broadmoor Ice Palace the 13th, 14, and 15th of March. They did it by soundly trouncing the Sioux of North Dakota in two games, 9 to 5 and 9 to 2, last Friday and Saturday nights. With the pair of wins the Tiger icers shoved themselves into sole possession of first place in the Midwest Hockey League, a spot no one will share with them.

Throughout the first and second periods in Friday night's encounter, CC spectators were on the edges of their seats as the score was tied six times before Ron Hartwell put the Tigers out in front to stay at 7:58 of the third and final period. Three more goals in that period put CC in a tie, at least, for 1st place in the MWHL.

Saturday eve brought the Bengals a chance to clinch the title, and they made the most of it with a three goal outburst in the second period, after Omer " the Bull" Brandt tied the game up at 19:23 of the first period. From then on "Rapid Ron" Hartwell led the Tigers to the tournament with five goals and two assists—a good night's work you might say.

Saturday night the 1st of March, a tough British Columbia team invades the Ice Palace in the first of a two game series which will be climaxed on Monday evening. In their last two meetings in 1950 the visitors went home with a pair of well earned wins extracted before capacity crowds. Viewers of those two games saw a powerhouse team, tough and rough but mighty smooth, and from all reports the Canadians possess the same sort of machine this year. The boys from the north country will prove to be plenty of opposition for this year's high flying Tiger sextet.

The games this week will be the last for Hartwell as he was declared ineligible for the tournament this year, it was announced Monday. Hartwell, who broke his own all-time high scoring record or one year, was pronounced ineligible two weeks ago by Victor O. Schmidt of the Pacific Coast Conference, according to Howard M. Olsen. Olsen is the faculty representative here on the Colorado College campus. Hartwell has scored 37 goals and garnered 25 assists for a total of 62 points to break the old record by one point with two more games to go. He will be greatly missed in the middle of March.

Tuesday night the Phi Delts won over the Independents 46-35 to decide the last place position. Phi Delt Ted Gould drove through the losers for 14 points to lead the victor's scoring. Independent Lisowski was high for the game with 17 points.

In a hard fought battle the Phi Gams handed the Betas a defeat by a narrow margin, 44-40. John Harris, lanky Phi Gam center scored 15 points to take scoring honors. Dave Hender tallied 14 points for the losers.

On Wednesday the much improved Phi Gams rolled over the Phi Delts to the tune of 47-34. Wheeling from the post, big John Harris of the Phi Gams dunked 21 points for the scoring honors. The Phi Delt scoring was led by Don Diones with 10 points.

The Kappa Sigs handed the Sigma Chis their first defeat in league play by a score of 51-40. The Kappa Sigs Bob Deyo dropped 13 points to lead their scoring and the entire team starred on hustle. Sigma Chi Bob Voshall was high point man of the game with 15 points.

Thursday night the Kappa Sigs won the first round of league play by defeating the Betas 50-39. Roger Bildstein, Kappa Sig ace, scored 16 points for the winners. Beta Bob Kroehnke led the losers with 19 points.

In the second game Phi Gamma Delta rolled over the Independents 52-38. Tony George of the Phi Gams and Independent Lisowski shared scoring honors with 16 points each.

must be over 20 years of age and not over 28 years of age, unmarried, and a male citizen of the United States. A candidate may apply either from the state in which he resides or in which he attended college. He must have received a bacculaureate degree from a college or university.

This is one of the most attractive national scholarships of the nation. Colorado College is represented at New York University by last year's selection from the Tenth Circuit, John S. Pfeiffer. Applications should be made by March 1st. Forms are available in Professor Mertz's office, West Hall 2.

Scholarships and fellowships in law, public administration, government, politicial science and international studies are now open to applicants of classes graduating in June. Due to limited bulletin board space, brochures and announcements are available in West Hall 2 in the office of Prof. Mertz. Persons interested should examine these opportunities at once because many deadlines for applications are early in March.

In the field of law, the Harvard National Scholarships of $1000. each and University of Pennsylvania Scholarships of $750 to $1400 are available. Government and social science opportunities are open in such schools as University of Oregon, University of Michigan, Princeton University, University of Minnesota, Wayne University, and others.

We believe that our high opinion of Erich Drexler and Horst Hergel is shared by the student body and faculty of Colorado College, and we hope that future selection of foreign exchange students will be as successful and valuable as the example of this year's two German students has demonstrated.

Modern Dance Group To Present Program At Perkins Sunday

An unusually interesting program is announced as the tenth in the Perkins Hall Sunday afternoon concert series, which will be held next Sunday (March 9) at 4:30, in the newly remodeled Perkins Hall auditorium. The dance department, under the direction of Molly Lynn, will present a short program of Gertrude Stein, and the LaSalle String Quartet will play a Haydn Quartet.

From Gertrude Stein's "Portraits and Prayers," the dancers will present Bent Women, A Very Valentine, Tremble for Small Examples, A Patriotic Leading, No Movement and Let Us Describe. They will follow this with Three Juveniles—Play, The Wild Pen (Lesson 19 First Reader), and Jenny (Lesson 13 First Reader).

The cast consists of Gay Gould, Molly Lynn, Cortland Bymaster, Bunny Berry, Jerry Ratliff, Rosmary Musgrave, Joyce Patterson, and Patricia Piepho. Lighting crew is composed of Anne Blackwell, chairman; Pat Dillon, Carmen Eddy, Ann Williams, Nancy Graham. The stage crew is Joyce Gladmond, chairman; Ann Warner, Diana Arshforth and Shirley Ross.

The program will conclude with a performance of one of the actractive string quartets by Josef Haydn, played by our brilliant young resident quartet.

Faculty, students and friends of the college are invited to hear this program which is free of charge.

Two Good Jobs Open For Men in Pueblo

The Pueblo District Office of the Denver Division of the Universal C. I. T. Credit Corporation has two openings for college or non-college graduates which they desire to fill on an early date; the position of Collection Manager, an Adjuster or Collector. The latter employee will be furnished with a car and assigned to a regular district. The opportunities for advancement are very good since this corporation operates 350 offices and the Denver Division expects, in the near future, to increase its offices from six to nine. Students interested in these opportunities should see Dean Mathias on an early date.

AN APOLOGY

The Fine Art Center wishes to express regrets for last Tuesday's showing of the film "The Congress Dances." The picture waen ordered was expected to be in German with English sub-titles, produced by Willy Forst. That shown was not identical with the great German film of European success.

Again, sincere apologies on the part of the Fine Arts Center and the Department of German on whose recommendation the film was ordered in good faith.

Dean Adams Adds to Prestige With His 'Doctors in Blue'

After many years of research the medical history of the Union Army, "Doctors in Blue," by George Adams, dean of the college and professor of history has been published. This important contribution to the history of the Civil War is the result of intensive investigation of a hereto undeveloped subject. Dean Adams originally became interested in this topic as the subject for his Ph.D. thesis. Although he had chosen it in the belief that there would not be too much material available he was extremely pleased to make the lucky find of one hundred and twenty-five dusty boxes of pertinent material from the Archives of the U. S. Sanitary Commission in the subcellar of the New York Public Library. He had planned to include the medical histories of both the Union and Confederate armies, and it was not until late in the book that he abandoned the Confederates when he found the material too voluminous.

DEAN ADAMS

Through his research Dean Adams has disproved such rumors as the one concerning Confederate medical leaders who planned to ship blankets infected with yellow fever to the North to bring about an epidemic. He also found no basis in fact for the tales by persons on both sides that the enemy had used poisoned bullets.

Dean Adams worked on his book until 1942 when he joined the navy, where he spent over three years as line officer specializing in communications. In 1943 he served as ghost writer for Admiral Ernest J. King, then commander in chief of the fleet. He and other ghost writers produced the first draft of the book later published as "Our Navy at War."

After leaving the navy in 1945, Dean Adams returned to Harvard as dean of special students and director of the university extension, and in September of 1948 came to CC. He is at present on a trip through the East interviewing candidates for professorships here.

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS

Those students, men and women, who wish to apply for scholarships for 1952-53 may obtain application blanks in the office of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women.

CORRECTION

The TIGER regrets that Dorothy White's name was omitted from the Dean's List which was published last week. Dorothy fa now a senior at CC.

Students at Colorado College Receive Over $81,000 in Aid

Comparison of products is not invited by competition in many instances but, not so in the case of Colorado College and its program of financial aid to students. Comparison is invited, as is a comparison between tuition and fees at like institutions. In 1950-51, Colorado College awarded three hundred and nine scholarships valued at over $81,000. A survey of seven private, liberal arts colleges of comparable standing and enrollment revealed that Colorado College ranked second only to Swarthmore in financial aid to students while having the lowest tuition figures. Swarthmore's tuition and fees for 1952-53 is $225 more than that recently announced for CC.

In comparing tuitions of colleges, many persons have overlooked the fact that the tuition of Colorado College includes all the general fees, (medical insurance, athletic admissions, etc.) in its all-inclusive single tuition. As the comparative chart below shows, CC has the lowest all-inclusive tuition.

Over one-fourth of the present CC student body receives financial scholarship aid. In this day of soaring prices and financial hardships for private schools, Colorado College is fortunate to be able to maintain such an outstanding scholarship program and as comparatively low tuition for its students.

	Enrollment (1950-51)	Tuition	Amt. in Scholarship
Colo. College	1,274	$450	$81,815

Rare Pottery Exhibit In College Museum

The museum in Palmer Hall on the Colorado College campus is currently showing a special collection of Southwestern prehistoric pottery dating from the 9th to 12th centuries which W. W. Postlethwaite, director of the museum, cites as being of special interest because it contains unusual specimens from the San Juan area and from the Gila river in Arizona.

Prominent in the collection are two large storage bowls, one filled with corn, the other with beans, about nine hundred years old. There is a ceremonial burial bowl and cover, filled with broken, burned bones from the Hohokam culture in Arizona. Characteristic mugs from Mesa Verde and the Chaco Canyon in New Mexico show very fine designs of the 12th century. Also included in the exhibit are two bowls of an early date from the Puereo area in Arizona, excavated by a Colorado College archaeological party in 1927, and many other unique ollas and canteens.

Other fraternity averages, in order, are: Beta Theta Pi, 2.160, Phi Gamma Delta, 2.060, Sigma Chi, 2.008 and Kappa Sigma, 1.921.

The all-over fraternity average was, 2.124, the average for all men students, 2.184 as compared to the all school average of 2.364.

Delta Epsilon to Discuss Rockets and Guided Missiles Tues.

On Tuesday, March 11, Delta Epsilon will present a symposium "Rockets and Guided Missiles at White Sands Proving Grounds." Four physics students who were working at White Sands during the past summer will present a series of talks. With slides and sketches, Harry Stine will tell about the purpose and location of the proving ground, a discussion on why a rocket flies, and a description of the V-2 Rocket. Marvin Squires will talk about the trajectories of high-altitude rockets and the work he did with the Impact Computer. Joe Price will speak on the means of getting the information back from high altitude rockets by means of telemetering, and Jerry Dummer will tell of the work of the timing section, which was concerned with the timing mechanisms on the rocket range. The program will be in Lennox House at 4:30.

The talks will be preceded by a coffee hour from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m., to which all science majors, including psychology, mathematics, and engineering, are invited, as well as all faculty members.

SELECTIVE SERVICE QUALIFICATION TESTS

Recording Facilities Offered by KRCC to Groups in Song Fest

With the Song Fest scheduled for April 27, organizations are hard t work on their choral arrangements or will be soon. With this in mind, Professor Woodson Tyree is offering the facilities of Radio Station KRCC to groups for recording their arrangements so that they may listen to their own singing and correct mistakes. Tape recordings may be made, or groups may buy discs which will be cut at South Hall and may be played at practices.

KRCC is also planning to present the various groups after the Song Fest on fifteen minute broadcasts. These programs will be presented in a series and groups may prepare other songs in addition to those used in the Song Fest. Groups interested in making use of this opportunity to record their selections may make arrangements by contacting Professor Tyree at South Hall.

Paris Trip May Be Won in Story Contest

New-Story Magazine has recently announced a new international short story contest for young people under 35 years of age. The deadline for submission of manuscripts is May 1, and the first prize winner will receive a round trip flight from Paris to New York or from New York to Paris and living expenses for one month's stay as guest of the magazine. Second prize is $200 and third prize is $150. Nine stories will receive honorable mention and the writers will receive $25 each. Stories winning prizes will be published in the magazine to bring them and their authors to the attention of publishers and critics in America and Europe. Winners of the contest will be announced June 15, 1952. Judges for the contest will be the noted authors, Martha Foley, Stuart Gilbert, William Saroyan and Richard Wright.

All manuscripts must be submitted in English, may not exceed

It's strickly a man's world on this campus. The last ratio, we heard, was three girls to every man. Chances seem hopeless for the coeds, but if a few ideas pan out there may be a change. Don't panic, it isn't official, but . . . an R. O. T. C. unit may be established at CC. It has a good chance because of its good recommendations. There will be more than enough men . . . also . . . there are some good chances for dates before then. When the National Hockey Tourney rolls around, each of the five women's organizations on campus will send ten girls to a party for the four participating teams. Oh yes . . . there will be an ample amount of dates for you girls March 22, if you want them. The School of Mines will be your escorts. CC will send your discription to Mines and they will match you with their men. The Miners will pick you up at the dorms and take you to a dance sponsored by CC. The Kappa Sigs and Phi Gams are also having dances that night, so you guys better get your bids in ahead of time. So . . . if these things work out, maybe the guys on campus will notice a few of the coeds.

The Gamma Phis will be hostesses of a "Poverty Ball" held at their lodge this Saturday night. Shouldn't be much of a problem as what to wear. The Kappas are the ones with the problem. The Phi Gams have invited them to a Hawaiian party at their house Friday night and they are to dress "accordingly." Such weather for that kind of a party.

The D. Gs are now smoking cigars. Oh these serenades, what doesn't come of them. The Kappa Sigs performed a double pinning serenade for Flemming, Cross and Adams, Conroy at the D. G. house last Monday night. Tom and Dick announced their pinning to the fraternity by each giving the Kappa Sigs a cigar. The Kappa Sigs presented Jane and Pam with a dozen red roses and gave the rest of the sorority their extra cigars. The fellows were invited in for coffee and cookies while the girls sat around and smoked their cigars. Sick . . . I guess.

Supper for Music Students

Dr. and Mrs. Max Lanner held the first of two buffet suppers last Sunday. The purpose of these parties is to get those students who are studying music together for better acquaintance and an evening of fun. Twenty-nine students were invited to each party, held in the Lanner house. The next supper will be held next Sunday at 6 p. m.

Dance at B'moor To Top Off NCAA Hockey Tourney

Hey gang, there is a pretty wonderful dance coming up in the very near future. On the night of March 15th there will be a dance which is to be held at the Broadmoor Ballroom. It makes no difference if you have tickets for the NCAA tournament or not for the whole school is welcome to a night of free entertainment. Music will be supplied by Bill Seriff and his orchestra and the dance will be from 9:30 until 12:30. This evening of fun is being sponsored by the Independent Women's Organization so let's see a big turn-out. Everyone come and support your hockey team; they have done a wonderful job this year. It will be a gala affair topping off the NCAA tournament and the visiting teams will also be there.

TANKERS GO TO GREELEY FOR R. M. C. MEET

Two Trophies to Be Awarded to Swimmers

Mr. Floyd A. Blick, owner of Blick's Sporting Goods store, has put up a trophy to be won by a member of the Colorado College swimming team. The winner will take permanent possession of the award, and it will be given to him on the basis of his having won the most points during the current tank season. Only those points earned in regular intercollegiate competition will count; this includes the forthcoming conference meet.

Coach "Doc" Stabler expressed his appreciation of Mr. Blick's generosity in donating this trophy Perhaps swept along by his enthusiasm Coach Stabler has also volunteered to give a trophy. This one will go to the man whom the team members vote as having shown the most improvement as a swimmer during the present season.

HUMBLE MINES SWIMMERS FOR SECOND CONFERENCE WIN SATURDAY

The Colorado College swim team tagged themselves as the team to beat for the Rocky Mountain Conference championship on March 8th in Greeley when they walloped Colorado Mines 57-27 last Saturday at the Camp Carson pool. It was the Tigers' second straight Rocky Mountain Conference dual meet win. Mines was able to capture only three firsts from the well-balanced CC squad in the ten event program, and all of these were captured by Jack Cain, star freestyler, of the Orediggers' aggregation. Coach Stabler's improving Tiger tankmen were able to capture six seconds and two thirds along with their seven firsts to completely dominate the meet from the first race.

Again it waa CC'a Norm Brown who led the Tigers to their victory with firsts in the breastroke and individual medley events and swam on the winning medley relay team with Captain "Squeeky" Wilkins and Bill Schacht. "Carky" Rubens again captured his specialty, the 50 yard freestyle sprint and Wilkins won handily in the backstroke race. Chuck O'Connor was again tops in diving and also placed third in the breastroke race, but was disqualified for not meeting form requirements. Trailing behind Jack Cain were Tom Abel in the 220 and 440 yard freestyle races and Wally Harmon in the 100 yard freestyle event. Ted Bilharz was touched out by Rubens in the 50 yard sprint to give CC a one-two finish. Ed McGuire finished strong in the backstroke race to give another perfect finish to the Tigers. Diver Harry Ebeling had trouble with some of his dives but accumulated enough points to finish above the best Mines could offer in the event. Harry Holtom tried the individual medley for the first time this year and was able to capture a third. Completing the Tiger point total was Ted Bilharz with a third in the 100 yard freestyle and the winning freestyle relay of Wally Harmon, Bill Schacht, Harry Holtom, and 'Carky" Rubens.

Coach Robert M. Stabler's mermen next travel to Colorado State to enter the Rocky Mountain Conference Championship meet in a day long affair on March 8th. This meet will close the season for "Doc" Stabler's tankmen and a wm would give them a seven won and two lost record this year and also a conference championship to top off a very successful season.

ICEMEN WIN 18 FOR BEST SEASON'S RECORD

HARTWELL BREAKS CC ALL-TIME SCORING RECORD WITH 163 POINTS

By RAY SCHERER

Record-breaking Ron Hartwell set a new all-time CC high scoring record with one hundred sixty-three points last Monday night breaking the old record set by Chris Ray last year of one hundred sixty-one, as the Tiger puckchasers downed British Columbia, 10-7. Hartwell compiled all of his points over a period of three years, while Chris Ray got his in four seasons of play. If Omer Brandt can come through with a season as good as this years, he will set a new record next year. To date he has a record of 109 points, fifty-five short of the new record set by Hartwell. Hartwell's best year, as far as points are concerned, was this year as he has accumulated a total of sixty-seven points, to lead all the Tiger icers. Tony Frasca so far is in second place this season with fifty-seven points while Brandt is in the third place slot with fifty-three, and he still has at least one more game to play this year.

Monday night's battle, in addition to producing a new record, also brought with it some of the best hockey seen at the Ice Palace this year, as the Tigers came from behind in the third period to notch their eighteenth win of the year. Incidentally, that too was a new record. The puckmen have won 18, lost 4 and tied one for the best record ever accumulated in CC hockey history.

Tiger spectators saw a new line in operation as Dick Kennefic was placed at center between Norm Diviney and Cam Berry, and they worked very well together, getting a total of six points with Kennefic netting the "hat trick." "Little Leo" Soligo got five assists as he worked between Brandt and Hartwell, both of whom picked up "hat tricks." But who will fill Hartwell's spot in the tournament? My guess is that it will be Ed Robson who missed last Monday's contest because of a "Charlie horse." He has been playing with Soligo throughout the season and is accustomed to his style of play.

Fight lovers got their fill as a result of the tiff in the second period. The outcome of it saw Steve Leolich of CC and British Columbia's Richer take the long walk to the showers at the 16:04 mark.

At the present time, the three other members of the tournament are unknown, but they should be picked within the week, and naturally the strength of the team we will meet will be unknown.

Tiger Five Roars Over Omaha U. In Final Game

The CC quintet displayed both talent and the desire to win as they romped over Omaha 76-53 in their final fray. Admidst the cheers of the home fans the Tigers overcame a four point half-time deficit to lead by twenty-three points at the final buzzer.

Forward Ben Snyder scored a sizzling 23 points to lead the Tiger's scoring punch. Shinrock led the losers with 20 points.

This final game produced more than just a win for the Tiger team; the support they received from the students and faculty buried the thoughts of their dismal season. All members of the team are eligible to play next year

W.A.A. News

By CAROL RIVENES

The second round of the basketball tournament was completed over the weekend. The first game Saturday onded 24-20, in favor of the Independent women over the Kappas. Jean Hargis displayed accuracy in difficult shots for the winning team. In the Kappa-D.G. battle, Liz Fuller created an edge of one point for the Kappas. Liz was awarded a free-throw in the remaining minutes of play and came through to make the final score 10-9.

Sunday's first game was a runaway for the Kappas. Theta's Mary Ann Harman chalked up the majority of their points, while Sue Pfeiffer lead the Kappas to their 44-13 victory. The next game was a hard fought battle between the Gamma Phis and IWA Diane Asho had to leave the game with too many fouls. Near the end of the game, Diane Charleton was also out on fouls. The Gamma Phis therefore were forced to forfeit the game with the Independents winning. It was a close game to the end. The final round will be played this weekend in Cossitt

SKI MEET MARCH 8, 9

Colorado College, for the first time in three years, is co-sponsoring one of the region's top ski meets, to be held Saturday and Sunday in Gunnison, Colo., and co-sponsored by CC and Western State College.

Not only from a standpoint of the enjoyment received as a spectator, but also because of the vast amount of help needed in staging a meet, interested students are urged to attend.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 36... THE OTTER

A usually mild-mannered and easy-going lad, he really made the fur fly when he realized the trickiness of most of the so-called cigarette mildness tests! He knew there was one honest test of cigarette mildness. Millions of smokers everywhere know, too — there's one true test!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

East and West Get Three Spots Each; Kinsley, Brandt Make Second Team

The East and West shared the 1952 All-American Hockey team, picked by coaches from 24 schools, as Colorado College's Tony Frasca, a center, landed a mythical all star bid for the second straight time. CC placed two men on the first team, with Wing Ron Hartwell snaring the other forward berth along with Bob Wheeler, standout wing from Brown. Rough and tough Eddie Miller of Denver and John Grocutt standout Dartmouth star were named at defense with Ray Picard of Northeastern winning the goalie spot.

Michigan Tech's Joe deBastaini, a first team selection last year, was named to a second-team defense spot along with Jim Haas, Michigan star.

CC's great goalie, Ken Kinsley was named in the nets for the second team, with speedy John Mayasich of Minnesota being picked for the center slot.

Frank Chiarelli of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute won one second team wing berth, while Omer Brandt of Colorado College and John Cherski of North Dakota tied for the other.

The balloting for the team was conducted by Sports Editor Ray Scherer of the Colorado College TIGER, and Bob Beier, sports editor of the Colorado Springs Free Press.

The teams were also released today on the United Press nationwide sports wire.

Tournament Week Schedule Filled With Social Events

NCAA Hockey Tournament Week brings with it not only sparkling athletic events, but a whirl of social activities as well. The week was off to a good start when Queen Leslie Lockhart, her attendants and a group of CC coeds met the visiting players at the airport yesterday at 4:00. At 10:00 this morning, coaches and officials met in the Lake Terrace of the Broadmoor to discuss tournament business.

The beautiful outdoor pool and terrace at the Broadmoor will be the scene of the reception to be held tomorrow afternoon from 3:00 to 5:00 in honor of the visiting players. Hockey Queen Leslie Lockhart, her court and ten girls from each of the women's organizations will be on hand to supply the feminine touch. Floyd Frame's orchestra will provide music for the reception.

Tournament officials, coaches and the members of the press working on the tournament will gather for cocktails at the Broadmoor outdoor pool Saturday afternoon from 5:00 to 6:00.

The big social event of the week will be the all-school tournament dance sponsored by IWA which will be held in the Broadmoor Ballroom Saturday evening from 9:30 to 1:30. Bill Scriff's orchestra will furnish music for dancing and there will be no admission charge. Whether CC emerges from the tourney victorious or not, the tournament dance is sure to be a double-barreled success and an exciting finish to a colorful week.

Seven Students Elected To CC Honor Council; Halsted New President

In the recent elections for the honor council seven new members were elected to fill the seats for the coming year that will be vacated by graduating seniors. These new members were introduced to the council at a recent meeting held in the office of President of the college, William H. Gill.

All-School Hop Will Climax NCAA Tourney

CC has been invited for an evening of free entertainment and loads of fun. To wind up the exciting NCAA tournament, the IWA's are sponsoring an all school dance. The hockey queen and her attendents will attend the dance which will be held at the spacious Broadmoor Ballroom Saturday night. Bill Scriff and his orchestra will supply the music for the gala affair which will be held from 9:00 to 12:30. St. Lawrence University, Michigan and Yale hockey teams have been invited and CC's own hockey team will attend also. The dance will top off the hockey tournament, so lets all get out to the Broadmoor for an evening of fun.

History Department To Sponsor First Major Dinner Tonite

The annual dinners for majors in the various departments will be held again this spring beginning with the dinner for History majors, professors of History and all interested students to be held in Bemis Hall this Thursday. The dinner will begin at 6:15 and will be followed by a meeting in Bemis Commons.

The purpose of these major dinners and discussions is to bring together students in the same major, their professors and all students who have not as yet chosen a major and might be interested in entering the particular major.

Discussions following the dinners will center around requirements for the major, requirements

Student Poll Shows Interest In Jounalism

Last Tuesday at Chapel, students were requested to fill out a questionnire concerning their interest in a basic journalism course. Four hundred and twenty-four questionaires were handed in with these results: In answer to the first question, "Would you take a course in basic journalism methods and practices if offered for credit?", two hundred and two students said "yes" while two hundred and twenty answered "no." The second question was: "Should students in basic journalism be required to contribute to CC student publications as a part of their course work?" In answer, two hundred and ninety-two voted for the measure and one hundred and twenty-nine against it.

The classes were fairly evenly divided as to their opinions. The affirmative answers to the first question were: Freshmen, sixty-three; Sophomores, fifty-two; Juniors, forty-eight; and Seniors, thirty-nine.

This poll, without a doubt, shows a definite student interest in a journalism course. Before the poll the faculty doubted if such a course would be popular, but this evidence certainly points out that the opposite would be true. On one questionaire a remark was made concerning the journalistic level of the articles in the TIGER. It was stated that they were of

Tiger Club Sponsors School Song Contest

Have you always wanted to be a second Irving Berlin? Here's your chance! Tiger Club is sponsoring a song contest to promote school spirit. Take any popular tune that you've always liked and invent new words that will make the tune into a school song. There will be a $10 first prize, a $5 second prize, and three honorable mentions. These songs that you write will be used in the songbook that the Tiger Club is having published for next fall. So get busy—and turn in your songs to Cynnia Golitzen in Howbert House and Janie Addenbroke in Hamlin House. Good luck!

Spartsmanship

The good sports of the athletic field are easily recognized. We enthusiastically applaud their fairness, their generosity, and their ability to be a good loser or a gracious winner.

On the campus, honesty in scholastic effort, whether in preparation of work or in examination; subscribing to the mores and regulations of the college, with sincerity and forthrightness—this too is good sportsmanship. Cheating in a game is looked upon with disgust. Is it sometimes in the classroom? The rules of the game protect and free the player. Are the regulations of the college sometimes accepted only to be broken, or criticized as an infringement upon personal freedom?

The dormitory is essentially a group working and living together; a team co-operation for the good of the whole. The person who respects the needs and rights of another to study without disturbance; the person who is thoughtful in the use of the radio; the persons who are considerate in regard to borrowing—they ask permission first, return the article promptly and in good condition—they also, are good sports.

To take an active part in student government, to cooperate with student leaders, to respect the democratic choice of an opponent for dormitory or college office—acceptance of the decision gracefully and without rancor—this too is good sportsmanship.

Training rules are important to the athlete for success in Olympic competition. So are good health habits important to the individual for effective every-day living. Why then is hygiene ridiculed by otherwise inteligent adults? The individual who respects and practices good habits of living is

Opportunities for sportsmanship—good or bad—are ever present, on the campus, at home and in the community, as also "playing the game."
well as on the athletic field. Let us try by relating and comparing experiences, to work for better sportsmanship everywhere. Let us recognize and applaud good sportsmanship wherever we find it.

There are meters of accents,
There are meters of tone,
But the best way to meter
Is to meter alone.

Folk Songs to Be Theme of Song Fest

The annual song fest, sponsored by the AWS will be held Sunday, May 4, at Shove Chapel. The theme this year is Folk Songs. Each group will be required to have a singing body of 75 per cent of their total dues-paying members and must provide music for 4 to 7 minutes.

Here are some of the points on which the judging will be based: stage appearance, group unity and ability to follow the director, pitch, rhythm, expression, interpretation and originality.

In view of the selections thus far submitted to the committee, the program is going to be a a colorful array of songs including some from the South African Veld, Scotland and Ireland, Negro Spirituals and Western Ballads. The Song Fest Committee, headed by De De Staskal, will meet again Tuesday morning March 18, at 10:30 in the Lennox living room, at which time, the final selection of songs will be made.

New ABC Contest

IT'S A CHESTER-FACT

Colorado College students have a chance to win free smokes for the next four weeks from Chesterfield campus representative, Byrd Parmelee.

"It's a Chester-fact" is the name of the contest which provides a free pack of Chesterfields if you know the answer and you are carrying a pack of Chesterfields when Mr. ABC asks you, "Do you know the Chester-fact?" You can win two free packs if you can state the Chester-fact verbatum and happen to be smoking a Chesterfield from your own pack.

The contest opens March 14 when Mr. ABC will begin making calls on campus. He will approach students at random to ask, "Do you know the Chester-fact?" The answers (a fact-a-week) will appear at the bottom of the Chesterfield ad in the TIGER and will be announced elsewhere on campus by posters and other media.

All you have to do to win is to correctly state the Chester-fact when you are approached by Mr. ABC. If you are carrying Chesterfields at the time, you win one free pack—two packs if you are actually smoking a Chesterfield from your own pack.

Mantgomery Ward Representative to Interview Students

On March 19 and 20, J. F. Ward, will visit the campus to interview students interested in employment. He is looking for men or women graduates, primarily in business administration, but will employ students who have earned majors in other departments. Most men will be offered initial assignments in the merchandising division. Women will receive assignments in the catalog unit organization and trained as catalog office managers. Students should sign up for an interview with Miss Fisher, Secretary of the Business Department, Room 102, Palmer Hall. Mr. Ward will interview students in this room during his stay on the campus. On Thursday afternoon he is scheduled to speak before Professor Jones' class in Personnel Management.

Denver Pianist to Be Featured Artist in Sun. Concert Program

The Sunday afternoon concert in Perkins Hall on March 16, starting as usual at 4:30, will feature a guest artist from Denver, Katherine Parmelee Race, who will play Beethoven's Piano Sonata Opus 110, in A-flat major. Mrs. Race studied with Louise Robyn at the first American Conservatory in Chicago, with Mark Wessell and Storm Bull. She is the sister of the well-known concert pianist, Paul Parmelee, faculty member of the University of Colorado. Herself an artist of unusual performing power, she is married to an outstanding pianist and composer, William Race, who is associate professor at Colorado Women's College.

The second half of the program will present Bach's Double Concerto in C minor for oboe, violin and strings. The solo parts will be played by Warren Stannard, oboe, and Walter Levine, violin. The accompanying group will be composed of the other members of the LaSalle Quartet and Margaret Kelley Smith.

All music lovers are cordially invited to attend this concert free of charge.

Sweet fragrances of blossoms, the twitter of birds and the painful sun burns can mean only one thing . . . .ah . . . . spring. Of course we may have two or three snows before then, but at least let's enjoy it while it lasts. The Kappa Alpha Theta's are taking full advantage of the sun and warm breezes by playing softball on Thursday afternoons. These weekly gatherings were for playing bridge, but as long as there is nice weather the gals will put in some hard work playing softball.

The Gamma Phi Beta's and Kappa Kappa Gamma's are giving blood this week. They aren't quite sure how, when or where, but they certainly know why. Real proud of you, girls.

It's free! ! Colorful posters advertising the big dance after the NCAA tourney are all over campus. The IWA's are working hard on this dance which will be held at the Broadmoor. Q. A. has granted the girls 2:00 permissions. . . . . ya going? !

Every Tuesday and Thursday night most of the Kappa's have a standing date. Dressed in high heels and shorts, they leave their various dorms and head for the Kappa lodge to spend a good hour ex??????? and learning to walk all over again. The object of all this is the Kappa's annual style show. The show, this year, will be held at the Garden of the Gods Club on March 21 and 22. Clothes to be featured will range from fur coats to bathing suits—should be worth seeing.

Leslie Lockhart to Reign Over Hockey Tourney Events

Chosen to reign over the four-day festivities of the forthcoming National Collegiate Hockey tournament is Miss Leslie Lockhart, 21-year-old senior at Colorado College. Chosen by the balloting of the nation's top contending hockey colleges, the Colorado Springs beauty is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Miss Lockhart is also one of the campus' combinations of beauty and brains, being recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, and maintaining a perfect straight "A" average this year. She is posing with the trophies for the Broadmoor Ice Palace event.

Leslie and her court, along with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, our hockey team, and officials from the Broadmoor, met the plane at 3:15 yesterday. Tonight, she will be presented as Queen of the Hockey Tournament by the captains of the two teams.

Friday afternoon she and her court will be present at a reception for the visiting players, which is to be held at the Broadmoor hotel, Saturday night, Leslie will present the trophies to the teams who take first, second, and third places. Also, individual awards will be given to the most valuable player and the first and second all-tournament teams.

THETAS

The Thetas will have an informal get-together at the Theta lodge next Thursday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:00. The gals will play baseball and refreshments will be served. Chris Toles, Jan Charters, Pat Carter, and Barb Robinson are in charge of the party.

DELTA GAMMA

Friday night is the time for fun at the DG house. The Delta Gammas are holding a sport dance from 9 until 12 with social chairman Pat Hahs, in charge of arrangements.

Miss Amanda Ellis will speak at the Delta Gamma Foundera' Day Banquet on Saturday, March 15 at one o'clock in the Park Lane hotel in Denver. Mrs. Robert McIlvaine is in charge and alumni and actives will be present.

CROWN AND LANCE

A nominating committee composed of three senior members of Crown and Lance, Joe Price, chairman; Bob Starks and Jerry Swanson, was appointed by President Charles Hawley at the March 10 meeting in order to draw up a slate of candidates for the yearly election of officers which will be held at the next meeting, March 17. Only members who have paid their dues may vote so all you Crown and Lance members bring your money and pay your dues so you can pick the officers to lead the organinztion next year.

SIGMA CHI

The Sigma Chi's will hold a record dance this Friday night at the Sigma Chi house. The dance will start at 8 o'clock and will last until 12 o'clock. Social Chairman Dave Becker has arranged to have the group listen to the hockey game before the dance begins. Cake and coffee will be served. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Tyree.

CC Newman Club will meet this Sunday evening at 7:15 in Lennox House. All members are urged to attend as pictures for the Nugget will be taken at this meeting.

Big Turnout at Junior Seniar Tea

Last Thursday President and Mrs. Gill honored the Junior and Senior classes with a tea which was held in Bemis Commons. In the receiving line were Pres. and Mrs. Gill, Ned Mann, Mel Kensinger, Barbara Bletsch, Pat Gormley, Lynn Jones, and Mary Crawford.

It was a huge success with a big turnout from both classes. Coffee, tea, cake, and sandwiches were served and a good time was had by all.

JAZZ LOVERS 'NOTE'

The Kappa Sigs, going all out for the student body, will hold another one of their sizzling Jam Sessions at the Kappa Sig house. The rhythmic festivities will begin with a solid beat at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. All staunch supporters of good Be-Bop and Jazz are urged to attend.

Woody Herman to Be Aired on KRCC

In the interview with Chubby Jackson, famed bassist now featured with Herman, he comments that this present band with new personnel will in the next six months probably gain recognition as the third "Herd."

Herman's band has often been popularly known as the "Herd," the smaller unit as the "Woodchoppers." The first "Herd" gained teriffic popularity in 1945 with such recordings as "Caledonia" and the Woodchopper's Ball." New versions of these numbers of today's band will be broadcast on Monday. The second "Herd" of 1948 featured the "Four Brothers Sound," created by new voicings of four tenor saxaphones. This "Sound" has been incorporated into the present band's arrange-

AWS Committee Heads To Be Chosen Soon

Now that the AWS elections for officers are over, it is time for all CC girls to start thinking about AWS committees. Application blanks for those interested in becoming chairmen of committees and thus being a member of AWS Board may be obtained by dorm girls in their dorms. Interested town girls may obtain applications through the Town Girls Club or at Bemis service desk. Application blanks must be turned in to the AWS box in Cutler Hall by Wednesday, March 19, no later than 5:00 o'clock.

The AWS committees are as follows: Service Committee — The Service Committee performs services to aid the campus, the community, and the world through its student volunteer work. Its work on the campus included the AWS Second-Hand Book Store. In the community it provides students to do volunteer work at the Child Care Center, YWCA, Girl Scouts, Half-Way House, and the Red Cross. Another project is to send CARE packages to the needy overseas.

Personnel Committee—The main project of the AWS Personnel Committee is to help girls get into the extra-curricular activities in which they are interested. This is done principally through interest blanks which are distributed to all new women students. The chairmanship of this committee offers a good chance to get some experience in personnel work for those who are interested in that vocation after graduation.

Vocational Guidance Committee—This committee sponsors the series of "Major" dinners which are held in the spring. Professors of different departments are invited for dinner at Bemis, which is followed by a discussion in which the professors answer any questions the students may have. This committee works closely with the Counseling Center and handles its publicity.

Publications Committee — The project of this committee is to publish the Tigress Tips which covers all phases of co-ed life at CC.

Publicity Committee—The Publicity Committee is in charge of publicizing both past and future AWS activities through posters, the TIGER, and the town papers.

Social Committee — The main job of the chairman of the committee is to be in charge of planning the annual Golddigger's Ball which is one of the most important all-school dances given during the year.

Song Committee—The chairman is in charge of planning the annual all-school Song Fest in which all the sororities, fraternities, and independent organizations on campus participate.

Debby Greiner Elected New Kappa President

C. C. SWIMMERS TAKE CONFERENCE MEET

Norm Brown Leads Mermen To First R.M.C. Tank Title

Last Saturday, March 8th, a well-balanced Colorado College swimming team made shambles of the Rocky Mountain Conference swimming meet at Greeley, Colo. The Tigers easily won their first conference championship in swimming in the history of Colorado College. The team rolled up 91 points in its relatively easy victory, with second place Mines trailing 30 points back, amassing 61 points, and host team Colorado State last with 56. The 12-event meet involved two relays and 10 individual events. The Tiger tankmen captured five firsts, six seconds, four thirds, two fourths and three fifths among the individual events, and took first in one relay and second in the other.

Evidence of the overall depth of the Colorado College aggregation was shown by the fact that 13 members of the 14-man squad entered the scoring column to help add to the Tiger point total. Top individual scoring honors again went to CC's Norman Brown, conference breastroke sensation, who captured firsts in the 100 and 200 yard breastroke events, and in the 150 yard individual medley. His feat was equalled by Jack Cain from Mines, with victories in the 100, 220, and 440 yard freestyle races.

Closely following CC's Norm Brown in scoring was Captain Bob Wilkins, who took firsts in his specialties, the 100 and 200 yard backstroke race, and also swam the backstroke leg of the Tiger's winning medley relay team.

Chuck O'Connor took third place honors for Colorado College with thirds in diving and the 100 yard breastroke, and swimming breaststroke on the victorious medley relay.

Ed McGuire and Tom Abel both wrapped up a pair of seconds, with Ed's coming in the backstroke races, where he pushed CC's Wilkins home to give the Tiger mermen a one-two finish to completely dominate these events. Tom Abel's seconds were in the 220 and 440 yard distance races behind Jack Cain, Mine's iron-man swimmer.

Former Colorado Springs Terror swim team star Wally Harmon, took much needed points with a third in the 100 yard freestyle and also anchored the winning medley relay team and lead the way for the second-place freestyle relay team.

Carky Rubens, last year's team captain, picked up a third in the 50 yard freestyle and a fifth in the 100 yard freestyle, in which races competition was exceptionally stiff this year. He also anchored the second-place Tiger freestyle relay team.

The much-needed depth which brought home the conference bacon for the Tigers was provided by Ted Bilharz's blazing second in the 50 yard sprint, Harry Ebeling's beautiful second place fancy diving, Harry Holtom's fourth in the individual medley, his fifth in the 50 yard sprint, and his leg of freestyle relay, Andy Spiegel's welcome fourth in the 200 yard breastroke, Bill Schacht's fast leg of the freestyle relay, and Bard Brown's place in the 440 yard freestyle grind.

Coach Robert M. (Doc) Stabler, CC zoology prof, deserves a heap of congratulations for molding a conference championship team at Colorado College. Much credit for the team's success also goes to Bill Mann, of Colorado Springs, the unofficial "assistant coach," whose tremendous enthusiasm and expert know-how were an insipration to all. Corporal Jack Cammack, who was in charge of the Camp Carson Pool where the team practiced, deserves a hearty thanks for his willing and expert cooperation throughout the successful season. Hats off to the coaches and members of the Colorado College swimming team, a team that wouldn't be stopped, the Rocky Mountain Conference Champs of 1952!

Tigers Dominate Western Hockey Star Selections

The Midwest Hockey League all-star team selected by the team coaches and sports writers found Colorado College players dominating the first team.

Four members were given berths on the first team: goalie Ken Kinsley and frontliners Ron Hartwell, Tony Fresca, and Omer Brandt. Eddie Miller and Don Burgess, Denver defensemen received the blue line berths.

The second team consisted of Willard Ikola, Michigan goalie; Joe DeBastiana of Michigan Tech and Elwood Shell of North Dakota, defensemen; John McKennel of Michigan and Bill Abbott of Denver, wings; John Mayasich of Minnesota, center.

Tiger Ron Hartwell, CC's all-time scoring ace, received the most first team votes with 17. Injured Tony Frasca was second with 15 votes. Omer Brandt received 13 votes and Ken Kinsley 12 votes.

MICH. FACES ST. LAWRENCE TONITE AT 8:15

Tonight at 8:15, Michigan, the defending champion of the west, will put its title on the line when they meet St. Lawrence of Canton, New York in the first round of the fifth annual NCAA tournament. The Wolverines, who gained entrance to the tourney by vote of Western officials over Denver University, possesses a record of twenty wins and four losses for a percentage of .833, while St. Lawrence has won fifteen and lost four for a percentage of .773.

In the second round tomorrow night CC will face Yale who appeared here at the Broadmoor during CC's regular season of play. In that two game series in December the Tigers split with the Eli by scores of 5-3, and 3-6. The Bulldogs have an overall percentage of .695, winning sixteen for their twenty-three games. The Tigers possess the best season's record in CC history, winning eighteen and losing four and tieing one for a percentage of .816.

The winners of Thursday and Friday night's game will meet in the finals Saturday night, while the losers will playoff Saturday afternoon for third place.

5th N.C.A.A. HOCKEY TOURNEY OPENS TONITE

Wolverines After Third Title; Tigers, Eli, Larries, Contend

By RAY SCHERER

Tonight begins the fifth annual NCAA hockey tournament which has been held here at the Broadmoor Ice Palace for as many years, and only once has the favorite emerged victorious. In such a spectacle as this anyone is a potential champion, since one loss eliminates a team from the finals. To emphasize this point take the example of the 1950 collegiate "Stanley Cup" playoff, when Colorado College, after sneaking into the tournament by the skin of it's teeth, smacked both Boston College and Boston University to win the nationals.

But let's take a look back through the years to the year the first tournament was held. It was 1948, and from the East came mighty Dartmouth and Boston College, while the West was represented by the Wolverines and Colorado College. The Green were heavy favorites as they had bowled over all opposition on the way to the classic. They sailed through the Tigers by an 8-4 count and met Michigan in the finals. Here they ran headlong into troubles and came up this time on the short end of an 8 to 4 decision. Michigan, the only two time winner in tournament play, carted home the big trophy.

In the month of March in the year 1949 a capacity crowd saw the defending champions fall beneath a revenge seeking Hanover bunch 4-2, but Dartmouth was not a championship outfit and lost to a powerhouse B. C. team 4 to 3.

The following year Boston University, replacing Dartmouth who hasn't been back since, came through with a stunning upset, setting Michigan down 4 to 3 before an amazed crowd in the second round. CC showed amazing poise that year thrashing BC in the first round 10-3, and then came on to paste BU in the finals 13-4. It was a sizziling third period for the Tigers who were deadlocked at the end of the second 3-3. They utterly exploded in the final stanza with ten goals.

In last years headliner a mighty Michigan sextet, favored from the outset, proved their worth as they roared over second place Brown by a score of 7-1. CC fell before Brown in the first round 8-4 and then bowed to BU 4 to 3 to wind up fourth.

This season sees the West favored once again as a result of a dispute in the east caused when eastern officials wanted a playoff to determine their representatives. The two Boston teams would have nothing to do with it, and consequently St. Lawrence and Yale, owning the next two best records, were given the bids.

"He was killed by a weasel."

"How did it happen?"

"He was driving along in his car and was killed at the railroad crossing. He didn't hear the weasel."

A professor, coming to one of his classes a little late, found a most uncomplimentary caricature of himself drawn on the board. Turning to the student nearest him, he angrily inquired, "Do you know who is responsible for that atrocity?"

"No, sir, I don't," replied the student, "but I strongly suspect it's parents."

ments. The third "Herd" which is now becoming a reality combines now the features of both the earlier "Herds" with the addition of new progressive ideas.

Woody Herman said that the new band has been enjoying great enthusiasm everywhere as was in evidence at the Hiawatha Gardens. He stressed that his band is able to play the music which the musicians "want to," with little compromise with commercialism. It is rare for a band to be able to do this and have financial success.

It is a compliment to the American public that they will support such a band as that of Woody Herman in his endeavor to bring them the best in fine dance music.

To hear the new Woody Herman Band and the comments of Woody Herman and Chubby Jackson, listen to Station KRCC at 6:30 on Monday night.

Who Will Be ASCC Prexy?

JACK FITZGERALD

JACK FITZGERALD
ASCC President

Election time has come again to the CC campus. Again it is the week of serenading, speech making, entertainment at Bemis, and all of the general excitement that goes to make up the election of a student body president. To me it seems but a short time since this week last year, and yet it has been a complete year. I wish that I could say that it has been a good, smooth year for student government. But, to be truthful, I think it has been a trying one, a year of testing for student government at CC; and I believe that the ASCC has come through the test as strong as ever. This could not have been done without the wonderful cooperation of the student council and the administration, and I wish to thank them for it. I also wish to thank "you" for the opportunities and experiences that have come to me as president of the Associated Students of Colorado College.

In this year's election we have a fine group of candidates. I believe that each of them could perform admirably the duties that the position entails. However, it is up to you, the student body, to select the man best qualified to perform these duties. The cry has been echoed year after year and I repeat it now; that you become familiar with the qualifications of each of the candidates, discuss them with your friends, and then cast your vote for the man you believe best qualified to be president of ASCC, not for the organization which is supporting him, or for other personal reasons.

The above paragraph has three words in it which are, I think, the most important of this letter. They are, "cast your vote." Tomorrow the polls will be open in Palmer from 10:30 until 1:30. If you desire strong student government here at Colorado College, it is your duty to take a few minutes tomorrow to go to the polls and back the man you believe to be best qualified for ASCC president. If all you get out and vote, I'm sure that the coming year will be a successful one for student government at Colorado College.

Bab Voshall

SIGMA CHI

This year's ASCC election faces issues that are as crucial as any in the history of student government at Colorado College. Due to the economic and international pressures of the day, many serious difficulties have arisen which have tended to place the student body in opposition to the administration. This is definitely not as it should be. Only by a sustained cooperative effort on the part of the administration, student body and the faculty are we going to be able to overcome the obstacles that confront us. It is for this reason that the forthcoming election is vitally important.

The man elected to the position of student body president for next year must have certain qualifications in order to handle the difficulties mentioned above. He must be tactful, he must be broad-minded and above all, he must have an inexhaustable store of patience. Nothing is ever accomplished by ramming head-on into a problem without regard for the consequences. The president must approach each problem from every possible angle and then act in the best interests of his constituents. He must be able to express himself clearly and in a persuasive manner in order to gain the confidence and hold the attention of those with whom he deals.

The members of the Sigma Chi chapter on this campus feel that Bob Voshall is admirably qualified for the position of ASCC president. He is a convincing speaker and he has the patience and broadmindedness that is so essential. His past record speaks for his leadership ability. He was a class officer for four years in the high school in Pittsfield, Ill. In college, similar responsibilities have been given to him. In the fraternity, Bob has been rush chairman, intramural manager, active in intramural sports, and last but, by far the most important, he has been a very active member of Student Council. Outside the fraternity, Bob is a member of the Honor Council, a strong member of Alpha Kappa Psi and active in the Growlers. He has thus had a solid background in leading and administering various activities which would be of great assistance to him as ASCC president.

PHI DELTA THETA

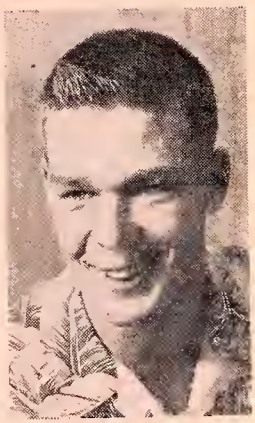
The purpose of this editorial is to convince you that it is worth both your time and your effort to see that our next student body president is the most superior person available. We, of Phi Delta Theta, are confident that Ted Gould is the superior man for the office.

Ted is practically a native son, hailing from Casper, Wyoming. He attended Casper's local institutions where he was widly recognized for his athletic, scholastic, and leadership capabilities.

During the past three years at Colorado College, Ted has achieved a record of continuous merit. Academically, he has maintained a strong B plus average. Ted is a business major, and is active in Alpha Kappa Psi, honorary business fraternity. He is an avid sports enbusiast — participating on football, baseball, track, and basketball intramural teams. In his freshman year Ted won college numerals in track and basketball.

Ted's student leadership is evident by his activities on student and intrafraternity councils. In the recent elections for the new honor council, Ted received a greater plurality than did any other candidate for the position.

The highest office any candidate can have is that of president of his organization. Ted Gould is president of Phi Delta Theta. As our president, he has demonstrated his outstanding abilities and capabilities. We hope you feel as we do: "Get Good GOVERNMENT—GO GOULD!"



Harry Halsted

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Here is Phi Gamma Delta's candidate for ASCC president, Harry Halsted. As most of you know, Harry has not been too well during this school year, but his condition is rapidly improving and HE DOES INTEND TO BE BACK AT CC NEXT FALL.

Harry, a 20-year-old theology major from Honolulu, has definite reasons for wanting to become head of the ASCC. He feels that better relations between the faculty and student body must be affected, and the best possible way to do this is through a student council that is more fully representative of the student body, and that under strong leadership will work for the best interests of the entire school.

Harry has just been elected president of the Honor Council, and is very much aware that many refinements are needed to strengthen our honor system. His faith in this system, and his guidance, will undoubtedly maintain and increase the respectability of the honor code on this campus.

KAPPA SIGMA

Kappa Sigma's candidate for the position of ASCC president is a quiet, hardworking boy from Denver, Colorado. He qualified for the candidacy by being tried in the position of our Student Council representative; and having been found worthy to do the job was nominated for ASCC president. In the short time that each of the candidates has as a representative on the council, it is difficult to judge their qualities and responsibilities. Nevertheless, Bill Jobe has been instrumental in arousing discussion and bringing in new ideas and suggestions to this year's Council. It is this type of quality that we are looking for when picking a man who will be the ASCC president. No one can offer any rash promises as to what they will do as president, but they can offer the ability to present new ideas and stimulate intelligent discussion on the problems that you students bring to the Student Council.

Bill has other qualifications which entitle him to be our candidate, of course. First of all he has maintained a "B" average through three years of school in spite of his participation in the fraternity as Grand Scribe, Interfraternity Council representative and Student Council representative. He has worked for two years at Lennox Grill and also as a lab instructor in zoology. He is secretary-treasurer of the Growlers and was one of the key men in its reorganization. Bill was the person responsible for getting the library hours changed and has often voiced his opinion on the roads in the Quad. This shows that anything he undertakes he will confront with enthusiasm and vigor. The meeting between students and administration held just before

GEORGE ABBOT

George Abbot

BETA THETA PI

One of the more outstanding candidates for ASCC president is, George Abbot. George, whose home town is Kirkwood, Mo., is majoring in business administration here at Colorado College. Though prominent in all the school activities, George still finds time to maintain a 3.3 grade average.

During the past year George has served on the Student Council and at the present time holds the office of treasurer. At a state-wide convention of student councils held in Boulder last fall, George conceived a plan that will allow the Rocky Mountain colleges to have big name bands at their dances. George has also established an impressive list of triumphs on our debate team. There are few of the more important committees or councils that have not in some way benefitted from George's help.

George, or "Burley" as his friends call him, is affiliated with the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He has just finished a successful term as secretary for the Beta's and is now serving them in the capacity of scholastic chairman. George also takes an active part in the fraternity executive committee. The Christmas party that the Betas held for the crippled children at St. Francis hospital was under his able supervision.

His long list of service to the college, his outstanding record as a student, and his warm, amiable, personality, all tend to designate George as the ideal choice for ASCC president. It would be difficult, if not impossible, to list and define all the qualities of a leader. Nevertheless, friendly, conscientious, George Abbot seems to possess them all.

Get Out and Vote

We feel that Bob could do a fine job as president. He is well qualified and sincerely interested in student government. However, all the candidates in this election could do a competent job. The most important factor in any election is that the candidate who wins must have the complete support of the student body. Choose the man you think will do the best job and then get out and vote for him. And in choosing that best man, remember — VOTE VOSHALL.

Harry's awareness of the everyday problems of the student body and his many close friends among the administration and town alumni, combined with the mature attitude so necessary to fill a position of this sort capably, fully qualifies him for the office of Student Body president. The Fijis are confident that Harry can handle the problems that this most important work entails.

It is not necessary to emphasize the need for you, the student, to get out and vote Tuesday. Your vote will help assure CC of a competent student leadership next year.

Christmas was a bigger success than anticipated because of the follow-up suggestion of Bill Jobe. He is the type of man who will express his opinion in matters even though it be to the faculty or the administration. He is not afraid to speak up in the behalf of the students and fight for their needs.

With this type of background, Bill realizes the problems facing the new ASCC president and is well qualified to carry out this year's policies and aims in the future.

Harry Wins Finals in Drive To President's Chair in ASCC

Harry Halsted, junior from Honolulu, Hawaii, was elected to the post of ASCC president in the run-off election held this afternoon in Palmer Hall. Halsted and Bob Voshall were the two top vote getters in the primary elections held last Tuesday. Bill Jobe, Ted Gould and George Abbott were the other three candidates for the office, but were eliminated in the primaries.

Out of a total of 738 full-time students enrolled, 581 went to the polls in the primaries. This is a 78 per cent turnout and is one of the best in many years.

After a week of intense campaigning in the form of speeches, serenades, posters, etc. the ASCC elections are over for another year. Now all that remains to be seen is if the confidence expressed by the students in their candidates will be upheld.

Tabulations of today's election votes showed Harry Halsted received 270 votes while Bob Voshall came up with 148.

David Kraehenbuehl Has Work Published By Associated Music

The Music Department is pleased to announce that the Associated Music Publisers of New York have just released a composition of our faculty member, Mr. David Krachenbuehl, who is teaching music history, theory and composition in the department. The title of the work is "Variations on a Pavanne for Krummhorns" by Herman Schein. Written for a quartet of clarinets, the work has a performance time of five minutes and is intended for school music groups. It can be performed by various other instrumental combinations besides the clarinet quartet for which it is scored. The theme, by Herman Schein, an early Baroque master who died in 1630, is a dance composition for a choir of four antique instruments known as "krummhorns" (crooked horns) because of their odd shape.

A copy of the publication has been presented to the Colorado College library and we hope for an early opportunity to perform this composition for Colorado Springs audiences. Other compositions of Mr. Kraehenbuehl, also mostly of the school music variety, are presently being considered for publication by Associated. A large work for concert band by the same composer, was recently performed by the Yale University Band in their annual symphonic concert, and Mr. Kraehenbuehl is working on compositions which will be heard in the Colorado College dance concert in May during the summer music festival.

Colorado College Stotement of Income ond Expense–1951

Colorado College's Board of Trustees today released a statement of income and expense for the 1951 fiscal year, designed for the general information of supporters of the college in the community and across the nation.

Taken from the large and detailed 1951 "President's Report," compiled by President William H. Gill, the statement gives the figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951. The trustees' report today lists a college budget of more than one million dollars annually.

In releasing the figures today Pres. Cill pointed out that in addtion to the college's million-dollar budget, surveys and estimates show that CC students annually spend elose to one million dollars in and about the eommunity of Colorado Springs.

Requirement for SC Law School Lowered To Two College Years

A new program of study for the Bachelor of Laws degree, open to graduates of two-year colleges and students who have completed two years of college, will be started by the University of Southern California School of Law in September.

Four years of law study will be required for the Bachelor of Laws degree. This is the first time that students with two years of college work have been eligible as four-year candidates for the degree in the SC School of Law.

The new "2-4" program was developed by the SC law school to provide a four-year course of study to enable students to attain a more complete legal education than is possible in the normal three-year curriculum.

Applicants for admission are required to take the national Law School Admission Test, which will be given on April 26 and August 9.

Information concerning the test and application blanks for admission to the SC School of Law may be obtained upon request to the Office of the Dean, School of Law, University of Southern California, 3518 University Avenue, Los Angeles 7, California.

Application for admission should be filed by May 1, if possible.

Varied Program At Perkins Hall Sunday at 4:30

The program for the twelfth concert of the Perkins Hall Sunday at 4:30, will open with a day afternoon series, next Sunday at 4:30, will open with a Sonata by the Baroque composer, J. B. Loeillet for flute, oboe and piano, presented by David Kraehenbuehl, flute; Warren Stannard, oboe; and Max Lanner, piano. This charming work was written in the form of the old church sonata in four movements, alternating slow and fast.

The main part of the program will feature two guest artists, the well known contralto, Edalyne Bledsoe Burger, and Roy Wass, first horn player of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, presently a member of the Camp Carson band.

Mrs. Burger, an alumnus of Colorado College, is soloist at the First Baptist Church, and has given local audiences several opportunities to hear her beautiful voice. Accompanied on the piano by Frances Pond, she will present a song cycle by Anton Dvorak, called "Gypsy Songs."

Mr. Wass will conclude the program with the Beethoven Sonata for Horn and Piano, assisted by David Krachenbuehl. All interested music lovers are cordially invited to attend the concert free of charge.

Because of spring vacation, there will be no concert on Sunday, March 30. On Sunday, April 6, the Boys' Choir from Holy Cross Abbey, Canon City, will sing a program of liturgic music in Shove Chapel. There will be no Perkins Hall concert on Easter Sunday, April 13, nor on April 20 when the Colorado College Choir, assisted by part of the faculty, will fulfill an engagement in Denver. The next regular Perkins Hall concert, which will be the last one of this year, is set for April 27, and will feature the Colorado College Choir under the direction of Prof. Edward B. Greene.

Shopping Survey Conducted by CC Business Students

Students of the Department of Business Administration under the leadership of Mr. Paul Jones and Mr. Arthur Taitt recently completed a survey which they conducted for Ambrose-Williams & Co. of Denver.

The survey was an attempt to determine the advisability of building a shopping center at Jackson and Wahsatch Streets in Bonnyville. Such a center is a rather recent development that provides for a centrally located group of retail stores where people can buy nearly all of their day to day needs.

Some of the questions asked in the survey were "At what store do you usually buy your groceries;" "How often do you buy groceries?"; and "How often do you shop for other items?"

The students who took part in the land use survey were: Jon Charleston, David Hender, Donald Johnson, Hiram Liggett, Emily Howe, Betty Ann Kinzel, Ned Mann, Gene Swank, James Stransky, Roy Keller, and Joseph Barron. Charles Beazell is helping with the tabulation of the survey.

KRCC to Broadcast West Point-CC Debate In Perkins Hall Friday

The United States Military Academy debate team, now on tour through the Rocky Mountain area, will visit the Colorado College eampus on Friday, March 21, appearing in the auditorium of Perkins Hall at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

In a debate program designed for the community as well as college students, the CC team will hold public debate with the West Point team on the subject: "Resolved, that the federal government should adopt a permanent program of wage and price controls."

Scheduled as a decision debate, with the West Point team upholding the affirmative and CC the negative, the evening's program will see two of the local college's finest debaters in action.

Pat Cormley, senior from Grand Junction, and John Hawthorne, Colorado Springs senior, will represent CC's negative side of the debate. Appearing as West Point's team will be Cadet Kenneth Kronlund of Long Beach, Calif., and Cadet Vann Brewster of Cedartown, Ga.

In addition to the debate program Friday night in Perkins Hall, open to the public, the college has scheduled a panel discussion over Radio Station KRCC between the

CONGRATULATIONS

I should like to take this opportunity to publicly congratulate our hockey squad for their great work during the season just ended. In using the term "our hockey squad" I include all those individuals who by their contributions made it possible for our hockey team to complete a highly successful season. The spirit, courage, and determination shown by individual members of the team throughout the season and especially during the NCAA tournament made us all very proud to belong to an organization that can produce such a team.

While on the subject of athletics I should also like to congratulate the members of our basketball team. While their record of wins was not impressive, the result of their final game was impressive and showed the fine spirit, courage and sportsmanship which after all are the important things.

I cannot close this congratulatory message without mentioning with pride the fine record of our swimming team, which won the Rocky Mountain Conference Championship this season.

We are all very proud of our students, men and women, who take part in athletics and demonstrate their leadership, sportsmanship, unselfishness, and ability to work as a team.

I have said these things to various individuals—here it is for the record.

WM. H. GILL,
President.

SOUND OFF

It all started like a scrub baseball game. Both teams were ill-clad and ill-equipped. One team represented the north end of town and the other the south. It wasn't long 'till a crowd of interested spectators had gathered to watch this test between the bullies from the north and the friendly south. Before long it became evident that the north was getting help from someone, as along about the third inning they started to push the south all over the lot. One of the spectators said, "we ought to do something about this." Soon he had called on his people to come to the assistance of the poorly equipped and routed south. Soon he had rallied what small forces he could, and jumped into the "game" to put a quick end to the designs of the "reds" from the north. This should have put a quick end to this "game" and ended in a complete victory for the south.

Things didn't work out that way however, as the north had more friends who appeared on the scene shortly and proceeded to whale the tar out of the boys who "would be home by Christmas." That's US brother! The "game" turned out to be a tough, brutal, monster which flailed out in all directions, maiming, tearing, and shooting the tail-feathers off the mighty eagle. In so doing many of our friends got hurt and needed help. But, where was the help? It was not forthcoming and many of them lost out for the lack of it. The people back home still didn't believe that this was WAR.

The kind of help that we could have given and never missed, was too much trouble. Now the message is finally starting to get home. The boys need blood; they need it badly. Those of us who have not as yet been down to the Red Cross to donate our pint of blood should be ashamed of ourselves. Those of us who have, need not sit back and rest on past performance. It's time to go again.

It seems to me that here is a wonderful opportunity for organizations on this campus to do something really constructive. To do something which might be considered out of their realm by some, but which is really everybody's duty. Let's not be complacent. Many of us will soon enough be in the position to really see at first hand how badly the men in Korea need blood. When that time comes it will make the job easier to know that at east a few of the people at home really CARE and are doing as much, in their way, to help as the fellow who is carrying a Garand.

I would deeply appreciate it if any of the students who took my History 226, The World Since 1914, last semester will allow me to borrow the November and January issues that they have of "Current History" so that we may use them for work in the Freshman history course. Please leave them at the Reserve desk in the library, and we will see that you get them back.

ATTENTION GOLFERS

There will be a meeting of all candidates for the varsity golf squad in West Hall at 10:00 a. m. Saturday, March 22. Freshman will be able to play on the varsity this spring.

EDITORIAL POLICIES OF LOCAL DAILY NEWSPAPERS EXPLAINED IN SERIES

By JACK HATTSTAEDT

ED NOTE—This is the first in a series of article concerning the policy of the newspapers of Colorado Springs. In this the first article, the policy itself has been outlined. In succeeding issues, Jack Hatstendt will give his opinion on these policies.

As students of Colorado College we have reached the point when we will soon be actively responsible for the kind of government we will have. As citizens of a democracy it is pressing for us to examine the political arguments of today and decide where we stand. Here in Colorado Springs is a heated political controversy, on a local scale, but of national signifigance. The stimulus for the controversy stems from the conflicting views of the two newspapers, the Cazette-Telegraph and the Free Press. Debate between the two newspapers and their supporters has developed since the beginning of the year.

The G-T, circulation of over 20,000 is editorially aligned with nine other newspapers under Freedom Newspapers, Inc. It has been under its present editor, Mr. H. H. Hoiles for the past 6 years. The publication follows the same editorial policy which has been that of Freedom Newspapers, Inc. for many years.

The Free Press circulation about 10,000 has had as its owner and editor Mr. E. P. Hoyt for about six months. During this period he has risen in opposition to the policy of the G-T.

The G-T is directly opposed to the "Big Covernment" of today. The basis of the argument is that moral law should be and is very widely not observed in government practices. A limited government, guided by these moral precepts is advocated.

Here is a summary of the G-T's stand:

First, human behaviour should be in accord with Cod's Law the Ten Commandments, the Colden Rule, and the Sermon on the Mount.

Second, these expressions of "Natural Law" bring the C-T to oppose "all things in which an individual or group seeks to initiate force (curtail the rights) of any individual or group." As the Golden Rule, " a summary of the ten commandments" states, " Do Unto Others as You would Have Them Do Unto You."

The best form of government is defined as giving equality before the law and governing according to the Constitution which tends to assure no violation of any individual's rights. This government, however cannot give the majority the unqualified right to rule as the majority is not necessarily in accord with "Natural Law."

The policy of the C-T may be startling to many as it amounts to a crusade for the consideration of moral law in a re-evaluation of many established government institutions.

Many tax supported institutions are considered immoral and a violation of a citizen's rights. The tax in these instauces supports a facility for one man's use and not for another man's. Still, every citizen is forced to pay taxes for that institution.

Public Housing financed by the government, residential zoning, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation are, as set up today, immoral and a violation of the individual's freedom.

The G-T, however supported a raise in the tax on gasoline as this, they claim, affected only the motorists who might gain direct benefit from the tax through support of facilities designed to aid him as a motorist.

The editor of the G-T, interviewed by the Tiger, said that the first and second world wars were unnecessary as well as the present Korean War. He said the Selective Service Drafts are and have been representations of "involuntary servitude" which is uncoustitutional. He further indicates that if this country were really threatened and war were necessary, a draft would not be necessary. Opposition to Universal Military Training is curreutly of top editorial priority.

World Government is opposed as just another step towards world wide socialism and "Big Government."

The biggest issue of local controversy is the public schools question. The G-T attacks them as immoral and spreaders of government propaganda through government control.

In the next issue of the Tiger the public schools controversy will be presented.

The Free Press stands more substantiully in favor of the status-quo of the government and its institutions. Improvements in government institutions are advocated but many of them are defended as vital to the welfare of this nation.

Here is a quotation from an editorial of last Monday in the Free Press in answer to charges of the Gazette-Telegraph.

"Our rights as citizens must be governed by the needs of the majority of citizens. It is on this basis, for the protection of the many against the few, that our country has grown great."

(Unless noted in the article, the above quotations are from speeches, editorials, and statements of policy by the Gazette-Telegraph and Mr. H. H. Hoiles).

Magazine Offers Drama Scholarship

The editors of Photoplay Magazine have announced the Pasadena Playhouse Scholarship which is open to high school graduates and college students who will be 25 years of age or under on June 1, 1952. The winner will receive a two year scholarship to the Pasadena Playhouse, College of Theatre Arts, where she will be given expenses including transportation and spending money.

In addition to the scholarship received by the winner of the contest, the top contestants may receive movie contracts, radio and television appearances, or scholarships to summer theatres.

Applications must include pictures, an enrollment form, and the completed questionaire that appears in the April or May Photoplay Magazine. Part of the questionaire is a 300 word letter on: "Why I want to be an actress." This letter will be judged on content, not literary style.

The contest is sponsored to find girls who are deserving of recognition but have not had the opportunity to meet people in the theatrical profession.

Those interested may obtain further information and application blanks from Miss Morgan's office.

Amanda Ellis to Be Honored by Theta Sigma Phi

According to a story in last Sunday's Kansas City Star, "Inez Robb of New York City, International News Service correspondent, and Miss Amanda M. Ellis, Colorado Springs writer, lecturer, and teacher," are to be honored by Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary sorority for women at a dinner at the Hotel Muelbach in Kansas City Saturday evening, March 22. "Women's accomplishments in the writing field will be highlighted at the dinner." There follows a picture of "the Colorado author," on account of Miss Ellis' writing, and the fact that she is and associate-professor at Colorado College. At the dinner, a two hundred dollar scholarship is to be awarded a young journalism student. The scholarship contest has been open to women students at the University of Missouri, the University of Kansas, and Kansas State College.

Miss Ellis is the author of eight books and of many articles. Her latest book, a novel, "Elizabeth the Woman" has received high critical praise.

CLUBLICITY

HISTORY CLUB

Mr. Dickson Leavens, economist, will speak at the History Club meeting next Thursday, March 20. Mr. Leavens will talk on the history of Chinese money. The meeting will be held at Lennox at 4:15. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

DANCE CLUB

There will be an important meeting this Friday at 4:15. Pictures for the NUGGET are to be taken at this meeting. Be sure to attend.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Canterbury Club will meet at 6:15 at Grace Church Sunday night. There will be a chapel service at 6:30 followed by supper and a program.

Dr. J. Lindsay Patton, Rector of Grace Episcopal Church, will talk on "Easter—Its Meaning and Importance" at the meeting of the Canterbury Club this Sunday evening at 6:30. All students are urged to attend.

Dr. Patton's speech will be preceded by an Evening Prayer Service and a supper in the Grace Church Parish House, 631 N. Tejon. The Canterbury Club Vestry meets every Thursday noon in Lennox Grill.

Mike Strayer, CC junior from Colorado Springs, was elected president of the Canterbury Club at the Episcopal student group last Sunday evening.

Other officers elected were Barbara Cannon, vice president; Carmen Eddy, secretary; Paul Towner, treasurer. John Wolff was chosen to serve as Chaplain for the Club.

These officers have been elected to serve for a year's term.

CCers—The Counseling Center is open for appointments to discuss majors and job opportunities.

There will be a meeting of the Future Teachers of America at Cossit this coming Thursday at 12 noon.

KAPPA SIGS

The Kappa Sigs wish to extend their thanks to all those who attended their Variety Show this past Sunday. Due to the students enthusiastic support the show was a big success.

SOCIOLOGY DINER

On Thursday, March 6 Miss Van Diest held a dinner at her house for the Sociology Club. At the meeting afterwards a discussion was started about making the Sociology Club into a Fraternity. Those who attended the dinner wish to thank Miss Van Diest for the dinner.

DELTA GAMMA

The Delta Gamma's Founder's Day dessert was sponsored jointly by the D. G.'s and the alumns. The alumns dressed up in "gay 90's" costumes. The actives and alumns both gave skits.

The tea Thursday from 4:30 until 6 is being given by the Delta Gamma's in honor of the faculty.

SCIENTIFIC GERMAN CLASS

Dr. Brandt's Scientific German class, 204, is planning a series of 10 minute KRCC radio programs. The programs, each with a short English introduction, will consist of talks, given by the students, on music, Albert Schweitzer, Fine Arts, and other topics. These programs, a part of the Scientific German course, will be announced at a later date.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES WITH UNITED AIRLINES

Two representatives from United Air lines showed the film "Highway to Hawaii" in South Hall, Thursday, March 13th. A United Air Lines stewardess, Miss Slocum, and a Personnel Department representative talked to the girls about job opportunities for stewardess and reservation clerk positions. Application blanks were left at the Counseling Center for those interested.

Phi Delt, Beta, Sigma Chi Celebrate Triad

The Beta Theta Phi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi fraternities will commemorate the founding of their organizations next Friday night at the Miami Triad dance. All three fraternities were founded on the Miami University campus at Oxford, Ohio, and thus started the famous Miami triad. Reigning over the dance will be three lovely young ladies elected by the respective fraternities. They are, Sally Moffitt of Tacoma, Wash., Beta Theta Pi; Jean Roberts of Colorado Springs, Phi Delta Theta, and Carol Rogers of Colorado Springs, Sigma Chi. Also attending as chaperones, will be Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Stabler and Professor and Mrs. Arthur Taitt. Special guests of honor will be Mrs. B. F. Judy, Mrs. Mary D. Brusse, and Mrs. Carl Roehrig, the respective housemothers. The dance will be held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 101, Memorial Hall, 402 N. Cascade Ave., from 9 until 12. Verne Byers orchestra will supply the music for the dance.

Social chairmen of the fraternities, Dave Becker, Sigma Chi; Hiram Liggett, Beta Theta Pi, and Jon Charleston, Phi Delta Theta, have made elaborate plans for decorating the hall in the spirit of the dance. They expect this to be one of the outstanding formal dances of the Colorado College year, as it has been in the past.

Kinsley Gets MVP Award; Maccini Unanimous Selection

By RAY SCHERER

Michigan's mighty Wolverines wrapped up the 1952 NCAA ice hockey championship last Saturday night with a hard fought victory over a "never say die," and undermanned Colorado College six 4 to 1. It was the third title that Michigan, who has been one of the western representatives along with CC for the last five years, has carted back to Ann Arbor.

The Tigers, hampered no end by the loss of first Tony Frasca and then Ron Hartwell, were dealt another severe blow in Friday night's game when Omer Brandt had to be taken from the game as a result of a cracked vertabra in his neck. That completed the loss of the Tigers' number one line, which lead the nation in scoring this past year. Without these three, hopes of a first in the tournament were mighty slim, but the remaining puckchasers proved their worth as they played hard and skated to a victory over Yale and second place in the nationals. Our hats are off to you for a gallant effort.

In the first round a timid St. Lawrence squad fell before the reputation of Michigan as well as their superior skating—9-3. Saturday afternoon the losers of the first and second round games, St. Lawrence and Yale (who bowed to CC 4-3), met in the consolation playoff. Yale picked up

Harvey Carter Out Six Weeks; Tiger Nine Speeds Up Workouts

The 1952 edition of Colorado College's baseball team is being proofed these days by the Tiger mentor Will Perkins in daily indoor and outdoor practice session. Hopes for a conference title were dampened somewhat when Harvey Carter, the number one hurler for the Bengals last year, was injured when he fell and broke his hip recently. He will be out of action for approximately six weeks.

Coach Perkins has six returning lettermen from last year's team which finished second in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Also on hand is the nucleus of the 1951 freshman team which was considered by many as being the best freshman team to perform at CC in many a spring.

Returning lettermen include Jim Bergstrom, 3rd base; Bill Hanson, catcher; Ned Mann, outfield and Tony Frasca, last year's "Tiger" first baseman who fractured his ankle in the first game with Michigan at Ann Arbor, but hopes to be able to play again this spring.

From the freshman team are Stu Klein, a smooth infield prospect; Tony George, a hard hitting catcher; Ed Robson, flashy shortstop of last year's cub nine; Steve Leolich, Leo Soligo, and Tom Reichert return to bolster the outfield. Sophomore hurlers Walt Stone, Tom Dunton, and Red Davis are trying to land positions on the hill. Also on hand are newcomers Tommy Carson, all state prepster from Denver; Regis Lisowski, and Dick Kennefic, two top notch pitchers. Wally Paris, from Chicago, looks very good around second base to round out those who have been out during these early workouts. "Pinky" Pearson, Ray Long and Chuck Williams are also on hand to give the team added strength in the outfield and at first base.

CC Gridders Finish Spring Workouts

Coach Bill Heiss announced that spring practice will end this Friday for next year's gridiron aces. He is very pleased with the talent that has turned out and will depend on it to form the nucleus of next year's team. Returning from last year's elevens will be Ronny Zier, Ned Pfeiffer, Tony George, Chuck Mollin, Gerry Engelson, Andy Gambucci, Bobby Deyo, and Wes Boucher in the backfield. Craig Richardson, Don Linger, Wally Charm, Gene Anderson, Tom Lux, Ben Snyder, Terry Burke, Dick Meyer, Dick Pearson, George Demos, and Harvey Carter are the returning linemen.

With the material he now has and that he will receive next fall Coach Heiss believes the Tiger team will be stronger than last year's. The team being acquainted with his offense will also be a beneficial factor.

On Tuesday night the Betas rolled over the Independents 61-46. The Betas captured the game with team play while Regis Lisowski held the Independents in the game with 28 points.

In the second game the Sigma Chis overpowered the Phi Gams 57-36. Gene Swank led the Phi Gams with 13 points and Jack Steiglemeier was high for the Sigma Chis with 23 points.

Wednesday night the Betas captured third place in league play by defeating the Phi Gams 45-39. Bob Kroehnke of the Betas was high point man with 18 points. John Harris sparked the Phi Gams with 10 points.

The second and final game of the season found the Sigma Chis smash the frigid Kappa Sigs 55-30. The win gave the Sigma Chis the league championship for the second straight year. The Sigma Chis led the entire game with a big 16 point surge in the third stanza to ice the game.

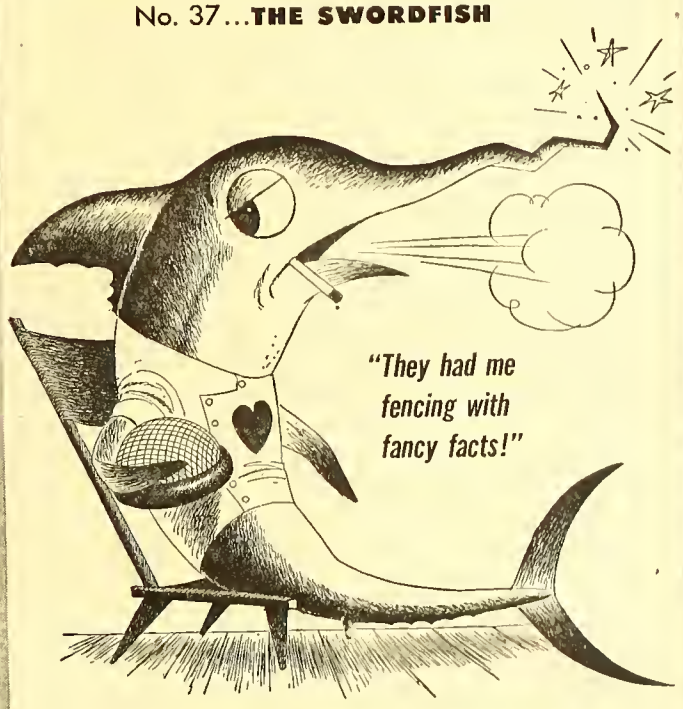
No. 37...THE SWORDFISH



They crossed swords with the wrong man when they engaged this swashbuckling senior in combat! At first, he was foiled by the tricky, "one-puff" . . . "one-sniff" cigarette mildness tests. But he parried their thrusts with this gleaming sword of logic: The only way you can judge mildness is by steady smoking. That's the true test of cigarette mildness!
It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests . . .
Camel leads all other brands by billions

TO THE STUDENT BODY

There are enough people on this campus with the qualifications to be Student Body President that it should not be necessary to waive the A. S. C. C. by-laws in order to nominate a fraternity's "favorite son." The fraternity should think far enough ahead to put up someone who could qualify to do this job instead of selecting one who can get the votes. If they do not have a well qualified man to run, then they should be big enough to vote for the man who can do it instead of "voting party." It would be better not to have a candidate at all than to have one who can get the votes, and after he gets them, not to be able to handle the office intelligently.

Because most of the people on the campus have no idea what the qualifications for A. S. C. C. president are, may we point out that the constitution states: "Candidates must have completed eighty credit hours and must have maintained a 3.3 (2.0) scholastic average for each one of the preceding two semesters." The candidate must be a member of the Junior class.

There must be five men on this campus who have these qualifications. If the organizations would nominate the men who could do the job, and then put on a campaign that would acquaint the student body with their candidates' qualifications, we would have a president who could do the job. Handing out sweets and singing under the dorm windows at midnight does not tell the voting student one thing about how much the boy can do if he gets elected, or whether he has the ability to fight for the things he believes and the common sense and discretion to know what will be best for the students and for the school. The students are not illiterate, although they might appear so; they should acquaint themselves with the qualifications of the candidates and then vote for the man who can do the job. An apathetic student body that does not take the trouble to find out about the candidates will not have any right to complain next year when things don't go the way they think they should.

goals in the first few minutes of each period then threw in one more for security and marched off with the third place trophy taking the contest 4 to 1.

Concluding the tournament, the writers and officials selected an all-tournament team which found CC's goalie Ken Kinsley and defenseman Len Maccini selected for first team berths. In addition Ken was voted the most valuable player in the classic. Other members of the team were defenseman Jim Haas, Doug Philpott, George Chin, and John McKennell all of Michigan. Incidently, Maccini was the only unanimous choice on the team, and Kinsley was named to his post on 13 out of 18 ballots. I would like to express here, my sincerest congratulations to all the members of the team for a wonderful job all through the year.

"Why is a tight girdle like an income tax blank?"

"I dunno. You'll have to tell me," was the reply.

"Well, if you try to fill it with the wrong figure, you get pinched!"

An English soldier in a French village, seeing a wedding in progress, asked a passing Frenchman whose wedding it was.

"Je ne sais, M'sieu," answered the Frenchman.

A few hours later, the same soldier saw a coffin going into the same church and again asked a passing Frenchman the identity of the individual.

"Fe ne sais pas, M'sieu," was the response.

"Blimey,!" ejaculated the Tommy, "he didn't last long."

Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Opportunities for Collegians Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is a real man-size opportunity! You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Aircraft Observer in America's swiftly-expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. However, seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can insure their future and serve their country best by applying for Aviation Cadet Training today. You receive the finest training and experience when you fly with the U. S. Air Force—experience that pays off in later years.

WHO MAY APPLY
AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good, especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

1. Take transcript of college credits and copy of birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.

2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base at Government expense.

3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Tests and enlist for two years only!

4. The Selective Service Act awards you a four-month deferment while awaiting class assignment.

5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Classes starting May 27, July 19, August 19 and October 2, 1952.

6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for one year—either as Pilot or Aircraft Observer. Get $105 monthly plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.

7. Graduate and win your wings! Commissioned as a second lieutenant, you begin earning $5,000 a year. In addition, you receive $250 uniform allowance and a 30-day leave with pay.

WHERE To Get More Details

Beauty Contest Now Open

the Tiger

Vol. LV, No. 24 | Colo. Spgs., Colo., Thurs., April 10, 1952 | Colorado College

Max Factor Contest Winner to Receive Scholarship and Trip

The college coed who best personifies the "fresh, young, natural American look" will be the recipient of a carload of exciting prizes including a $1000 scholarship for herself and a $1000 fund for her school as well as an all-expense-paid trip to Hollywood for herself and her mother or chaperone.

The purpose of the college beauty contest, sponsored by Max Factor, head of the famous Hollywood make-up studio, is to find the one college or university coed who can most dramatically call attention to the fact that American college girls are the most beautiful girls in the world.

Any girl of regular undergraduate standing, in her first, second, third or fourth year at a participating college or university in the United States, may be officially selected by her school as one of its six, or less, authorized representatives who are eligible to enter the national "Max Factor Girl" contest.

The campus contest is being sponsored by the TIGER and will be conducted through the four sororities and IWA. Each organization is asked to submit five recent photographs of girls chosen to compete in the preliminary contest at CC. The winner of the preliminary contest will receive a valuable award and her picture will be submitted to the national contest. Presidents of the women's organizations will be contacted by Nancy Jones, contest director at CC next week and given further directions concerning rules for submission of photographs. The Tiger will select an impartial panel of judges for the local contest from Colorado Springs photographers and other prominent connoisseurs of beauty and their decision will be final. Deadline for submission of pictures to the campus contest will be May 1.

The Big Day Isn't Far Away All School Sneak Day Coming

Sometime in the near future, we can't say just when, there will be an all-school sneak day. Its purpose is to bring the entire Colorado College family, faculty and student body, together for a day of fun and relaxation. This project is undertaken by the Inter-class commissioners.

There will be competition between classes and faculty; seniors, juniors, etc., rather than Beta, Figi, or D.G. It will be an opportunity for everybody to become better acquainted. The different classes will be recognized by different colored armbands. These bands will be given out to each person at the outing. There also will be a loudspeaker system installed at the location of the sneak.

To stimulate competition between classes and faculty we have decided to have several contests. There will be softball, tug-o-war, potato sack races, chariot racing, volleyball and other such events. These contests will be run on a point basis. At the end of the day the class with the highest amount of points, is the champ for 1952.

We will be serving varied liquid refreshments as well as light snacks. You can have all you want of anything as long as it lasts.

As we said before, we cannot tell you the date. You'll know when it is. One day you'll come to class and there will be signs telling you that "SKIP DAY IS HERE." The festivities will start at 10 o'clock in the morning at Lazy Land out at Austin Bluffs. We will have transportation in the form of school buses to get you there and back in case you can't obtain a ride elsewhere. You can pick up the buses at Palmer hall. Don't forget!! The day the word is out it's that day, 10 o'clock in the morning at Lazy Land.

Your class president will act as captain of your various teams. Let's all get behind this Sneak Day and make it a good one. The success of this undertaking determines the possibility of future Sneak Days. We hope all of you will get behind this project and make it a success.

Faculty Lecture Series Led Off by Dr. Worner

Dr. Lloyd E. Worner, associate professor of history at Colorado College and recently-named winner of one of the cherished Ford Foundation fellowships for a year's advanced study, opened the college's annual Faculty Lecture Series, Wednesday, April 9, at 8 p.m. in Perkins Hall auditorium, it was announced today by Dr. George W. Adams, dean of the college and chairman of the school's lecture committee.

Dean Adams announced that the four-week lecture series would revolve around the general topic, "The Role of a College in an Era of Cold War." He pointed out that on successive Wednesdays in the month of April this subject would be discussed from the viewpoint of four outstanding faculty men, each from a different department in the college.

The lectures, an annual event offered by the college, are free to the general public and to all interested servicemen and tourists. Question and answer sessions follow each lecture, often providing enlightening discussions for the many interested spectators.

Dr. Worner discussed the subject in the opening lecture, Wednesday, from the aspect of the social sciences.

Prof. Richard M. Pearl, acting chairman of the geology department, will discuss the subject on April 16, speaking from the standpoint of the natural sciences. David Kraebenbuehl, local composer and member of the college music faculty, will appear April 23 to discuss the general subject matter from a standpoint of the humanities.

The college's 1952 faculty lecture series will close on April 30 when Prof. Frank Krutzke of CC's English department will give a general summation of the topic, speaking without limitations as to particular divisions or departments within a college.

Do You Need $500? Apply for Nugget Executive Position

Applications for Editor and Business Manager of the NUGGET, terms to begin in September, 1952, are being accepted by the Publications Board. Any student desiring to apply for either job should write a letter of application, stating his experience, qualifications, grade average, and any other pertinent information.

The Publications Board urges all qualified students to apply for these positions. If the $500.00 remuneration for each job is not sufficient enticement, we wish to remind you that greater competition for each position will very probably result in more new ideas, a fresher attitude, and a much better yearbook.

All applications must be in the NUGGET box in Cutler no later than 5:00, April 24th.

La Salle String Quartet Final Concert April 17

Returning from their recent tour of the eastern and midwestern portions of the United States, the LaSalle Quartet of Colorado College will present its final local concert for this season in the Fine Arts Center, Thursday, April 17, at 8:30 p.m.

Now in its third year as string quartet in residence at CC, the LaSalle Quartet has established itself as one of the most outstanding and enthusiastic chamber ensembles in the country, highly acclaimed by critics and audiences on the tours. The group is engaged year after year for repeat performances in most places where it has once appeared.

In its final concert on April 17, the Quartet will be joined by Max

'They Went to College' Shows Influence of College Degree

In 1947, Time magazine sent a questionnair to college presidents asking them what they wanted most to know about their graduates. In answer the presidents sent suggestions to the magazine which were the basis for research on the question of just what is gained in later life from a college education. A survey was taken among college graduates of all faiths and races and the results were compiled into an informative and in some aspects surprising new book, "They went to College." Here are some of the facts about college graduates revealed in the book.

The majority of the graduates credit their college training for substantial help in their occupations. Seventy per cent felt that their educations had helped a lot and only 2% said they had not helped at all. Men are more satisfied with the results of their college training than women, but still almost 2/3 off all college women did feel that college had been helpful to them.

Higher education has a definite function as a population redistributor. Almost 2/3 of the graduates who go away to school are lost to the "home state" for good. If the graduate does stay home for his education, there is a good chance, again almost 2/3, that he will remain within his state after he finishes his education. It also appears that migration is more common among those who were the best students in college.

The success achieved after graduation apparently bears some relationship to grades earned in colleges but little or no relation to the degree of participation in extra-curricular activities. "Grinds" make out just as well as people whose college careers were more rounded, and the achievements of the "Big Man on Campus" are not in any way reflected in his later earnings.

Among college graduates there is a direct relationship between income and family life. For example, as the graduate's income increases, so does the number of children. This is the exact opposite of the figures for the general population where the poorest groups have the largest families.

Quartet Poster Painted By French Art Student

Many of us have been wondering who made the original poster in Bemis Hall for the LaSalle Quartet's next concert on April 17. The artist is Suzanne Mazabras, a student at C.S. High School and the Vocational School, winner of the recent regional student art competition in Denver.

Suzanne came over from France not long ago and soon won scholarships for her work at the Fine Arts Center. This summer, again, she will study on scholarship with the famous New Cork artist, Vytlacil at the Art Center. So far, Suzanne has won three golden keys in national student competitions. At present, two of her paintings are being judged by the National Student Competition in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Rev. Howard Schomer Next Chapel Speaker

The Chapel programs for the next two weeks have been announced by Dean Burkle.

April 15 will be an assembly program, and will feature the Reverend Howard Schomer. Schomer is a missionary, representing the Congregational - Christian Churches of the United States. His mission assignment with that body is as professor of history at College Cevenol, Le Cambon, France.

In addition to this Schomer is Latin Consultant for National Council of Christian Churches in the U.S.A. These journeys have taken him throughout most of western Europe, speaking and consulting with leaders in those areas. Schomer is exceptionally well informed, and more than this is intelligently analytic about the problems there.

On April 22, the LaSalle String Quartet will present a program of chamber music. That too will be an assembly program.

BANQUET APRIL 10

The Colorado College Association Winter Sports Banquet honoring members of the ice hockey, basketball, soccer, swimming and skiing teams, will be held at the Broadmoor hotel at 7:00 p. m. Thursday, April 10.

CC's FOSTER CHILD

The little boy in this picture is our child. Each year, we give $180.00 which furnishes him with a monthly package containing food, clothing, and a few little extras. But our job doesn't end when we send in our yearly check; it just begins.

Each month, Jean-Pierre Portzenheim, our foster child, writes us a letter thanking us for his package. It's hard for him to write now. He's a very sick little boy. The doctor took him out of school for quite a while, as he was having fainting spells.

Jean-Pierre doesn't have much to tell us any more. There are no glowing accounts of his good work at school; there aren't many soccer games for a little boy whose nerves are as tight as his. There are no vigorous games, no Boy Scout hikes . . . none of the things that make a little boy's life happy. There's just a growing feeling of hopelessness, of sadness.

Our little boy wants friends. He wants to know that someone over here cares about him. He'd like to have answers to his letters . . . answers that tell him about his "dear friends", answers that give him a little encouragement, a little hope for the future. Are we his friends? Or are we just a self-satisfied little group, trusting that our money can buy hope and security for a confused, frightened little boy?

Perhaps his latest letter will give you an idea of how things are in Jean-Pierre's family. It's shorter than uusal, and not as happy as his earlier letters. Maybe a letter from YOU would help to cheer him up . . . or are you too busy to give a child a little peace of mind?

February 15, 1952

Dear Foster Parents,

I thank you with enormous pleasure for the package I received. Mama asks me to thank you for herself, too. So, I'm happy to thank you for her.

I'm happy to tell you that there is snow here, which made it possible for me to go sledding with my big brother and some friends. It's the first time this winter that that has happened, and because it never lasts long, we certainly took advantage of it. We had to do it on Sunday, for during the week, both my brother and I have school; then my brother works, too, as an apothecary's apprentice.

I have gone back to school, although I am still under the doctor's care for my nerves.

I hope you are all in good health—if I could say the same thing, it would be much better, for I would be able to study much better.

Dear friends, I leave you with lots of kisses,
Your friend,
Jean-Pierre

By SUE PFEIFFER

CC is in full swing again. After ten days of glorious loafing—it's back to the old grind. During the vacation, most of the campus moved to California. How was "Cal" and "Bal"? Aspen took care of the skiing CC'ers—the ones with the black faces and broken legs! A chosen few journeyed home—attending a few parties between here ond there. The smallest number kept the home fires burning on Campus. Oh—to get back to the eight o'clocks.

"Thou art more lovely and more temperate. . . " Page after page of poetry is being assigned to the Freshmen. It certainly fits in with the season. Spring is the time for love and poetry, although the sun, soft breezes and sweet flowers effect the campus in different ways.

Many a sunny afternoon will be spent in the Garden of the Gods. "Picnic" season was officially opened Monday.

The baseball team has been taking in a little sun on Stewart Field for the last month. Their season opens this weekend with two games against Mines. They should be good—so make a point to see the games and back CC.

The sun decks of oll the girls dorms are filled with coed bathing beauties. Equipped with sun tan oil, magazines and portable radios, they soak up the sun. If classes clutter up the day—the sun lamp burns into the wee hours of the morning.

Face it, this weather jnst isn't conducive to good studying.

Miami Triad, Mar. 21 Was Big Success

The annual Miami Triad dance of the Beta Theta Phi, Sigma Chi, and Phi Delta Theta fraternities was held March 21. The dance was in honor of the founding of the three fraternities at Miami University.

The dance was held at the V. F.W. from 9 to 12. The Phi Delts, Betas and Sigma Chis and their dates danced to the music of Verne Byers Orchestra. The lovely queens, Jeon Roberts, reigning for the Phi Delts, Sally Moffitt, for the Betas and Carol Rogers for the Sigma Chis, each were presented with a bouquet of thoir respective fraternity flower. Everyone joined in to sing the fraternities' sweetheart songs to the queens.

The dance celebrated the 97th year of existence of the Miami Triad

DUNTON OR LISOWSKI TO TWIRL FOR CC NINE IN SEASON OPENER

Colorado College's baseball team opens its 1952 schedule this Friday and Saturday in a series with Colorado Mines, tackling the Miners here on Stewart Field at 3 o'clock Friday and journeying to Golden for a 2 o'clock encounter Saturday. Coach Wilfred Perkins finds a Tiger team this year just an exact opposite of the heavy-hitting, no pitching clubs of the past five years. Rated one of the finest hitting clubs in the entire Rocky Mountain region since 1946, the Tigers have consistently boasted five, six and even seven .300 hitters in the lineup. Lack of standout pitching prevented Tiger scoring sprees from standing up and the best the locals could do was second in the Rocky Mountain conference.

This year Coach Perkins boasts four better-than-average starting hurlers, only two of whom are in top shape for the coming Mines games. Tom Dunton, ace lefty of last year's frosh squad, and Regis Lisowski, newcomer to CC's diamond fans, have been handling the chores in practice games and will draw the starting nods this weekend.

Harvey Carter, speedballer from last year's team, is still recovering from a ski injury and won't be able to run for another three weeks. Dick Kennefic, top freshman hurling prospect, is trying to work out a bruised shoulder. Walt Stone is currently CC's reliefer.

With this pitching staff has come a complete absence of any solid hitters. In two practice games to date the Bengals have garnered two hits. Gone are the fence-busters of the past few years.

CC's lineup tentatively finds Tony George catching, Pinky Pearson on first, Stu Klein at second, letterman Jim Bergstrom at third and Ed Robson at short. Wes Boucher, Leo Soligo and Steve Leolich are currently handling the outfield duties.

Friday's game, which begins at 3 o'clock on Stewart Field, will be open to the public without charge.

Golfers to Denver Saturday to Meet Regis in Opener

The C.C. golf season opens this Saturday with our linksmen traveling to Regis for their first match. Returning lettermen, Captain Bob Strang and Dale Arie, give the team the needed experience and newcomers Chuck O'Conner, Henry Royer, Bob Kroehnke, Ken Simon, Roy Keller, and Dick Casey round out the squad.

Schedule::

April 12—Regis there
April 19—C.U. there
April 26—Regis here
May 2—D.U. there
May 3—C.U. here
May 8—D.U. here
May 9 and 10—Broadmoor Invitational Tournament.

TIGERS DROP EXHIBITIONER TO L.A.B. MINERS HERE FRIDAY IN R.M.C. TILT

By RAY SCHERER

The Colorado College baseball Tigers journeyed to Denver last Friday to meet Lowry Field. It was the first game for both teams and the lack of polish on both sides was very noticeable. The Tigers picked up three runs on two singles by Wes Boucher and Steve Leolich.

Tiger mentor Will Perkins started Regis Lisowski on the mound and he worked five innings before being replaced by left hander Tom Dunton. Lisowski was hampered by poor support in the field and consequently gave up four runs, all of which were unearned. Dunton worked the final three innings allowing only one hit, giving up one unearned run, and retiring six men via the strike out route.

The Tigers showed possibilities and also some glaring weaknesses, the main one being that of power at the plate. It is too early to say that the Tigers will be weak hitters for they have showed ability in the lengthy drills that Coach Perkins held during Spring vacation.

The chips are down this weekend when the Tigers face their first conference foe and arch rival in Colorado School of Mines. The Miners, who dropped to Colorado State last weekend, will be trying to get back on the winning side of the ledger when they meet the Tigers at Stewart Field at approximately 3 o'clock.

Again, enthusiastic support from the stands makes the difference with a ball club, so if you have a chance, be on hand. See you down there.

Politics Come to Campus

the Tiger

Vol. LV, No. 25 Colo. Spgs., Colo., Thurs., April 17, 1952 Colorado College

Democrats, Republicans Will Hold Conventions on Campus

National politics comes to Colorado College! Starting next week and continuing through May 12 a Mock Presidential election is going to be held here on the campus. The election will be complete with primarys, national party conventions and a final run-off election to see who is the Colorado College choice for President. This venture into politics will be run primarily by the Student Council, the TIGER, the debate team and political science majors. It will attempt to give us, the rank and file voter, the opportunity to see just how political conventions work and how Presidents are elected. It will give us a real opportunity to find out about the inside workings of party politics, and a real chance to find out about the qualifications of all the various Presidential candidates now under consideration.

The delegates to the convention will be assigned through the various social organizations on the campus. Monday, April 21, each organization representative to the Student Council will draw for the states to be represented by his organization, at the regular meeting of the Council. Also, on Monday these drawings will be taken back to the organizational meetings where state caucuses to elect preferential delegates to both the Democratic and Republican conventions will be held.

During the week of April 27 thru May 3, two "National Conventions," will be held. Members of the debate team will give the keynote speeches. Political science students will propose platforms, and voting on Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates will take place on the basis of actual voting power of each of the states at such conventions. All students will be invited to attend the conventions.

Following the convention and the nomination of the Presidential candidates from both parties, a run-off election will be held on the basis of electoral votes in the organization meetings on May 5.

This year many of us will be voting for the first time in a national election. Here is a real opportunity for us to find out what is behind all the ballyhoo now going on and to learn of the qualifications of each candidate. Let's all get in the swing of the thing and make it a real election!

UNESCO Council Will Present International Hour in Perkins Hall

The UNESCO Council of Colorado Springs will present an International Hour in Perkins Hall on April 21 at 8:00 p. m. Colorado College students and faculty will take a prominent part in the program consisting of music of various nationalities and the experiences of foreign students.

Henry Margolinski of the CC music faculty will be featured at the piano in Preludes by Chopin and the Spinning Song from "Flying Dutchman" by Wagner-List. Mrs. Irene Margolinski, soprano, will sing Schubert's "Freulingsglaube", Brahms' "Vergehliches Staeudchen" and Rosbach's "Trees." Horst Hergel and Erich Drexler, the two German students at Colorado College, will present some of their impressions of American students and America.

Mrs. Lise Lotta Camp, formerly of Austria and France, will tell of life in Vienna. A Latvian chorus will sing native songs and appear in native costume. Representatives of the Colorado Springs High School International Relations Club will give their views and impressions of the exchange student program.

Dr. Fox, Mr. Krutzke Attend Medical Education Conference

Dr. Richard Fox, Chairman of the Committee of Pre-medical Advisors, and Mr. Frank Krutzke, member of the Committee, recently attended the Second National Conference of the Survey of Medical Education. The Conference was held at Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania, April 6-9. Three hundred people attended the Conference, including delegates from colleges and representatives of medical schools. Schools are asked to attend the meeting according to their merits as preparatory institutions. The prime consideration of the Committee was what is being done in pre-medical training, and what part the humanities play.

NOTICE

Comprehensive examinations for seniors will be held on Saturday, May 10, on Monday, May 12, and on Tuesday, May 13, as each academic department may decide.

Departments which require individual oral examinations as a part of the comprehensives may extend the dates for oral examinations beyond these days. However, all reports on comprehensive examinations are due at the Registrar's Office not later than noon on Saturday, May 17.

"The Lady Is Not For Burning" Next Players Offering in May

Drama lovers of Colorado College and Colorado Springs will again have the opportunity of attending an outstanding play by the brilliant young British dramatist, Christopher Fry. Since audiences so enjoyed the CC Player's production of "A Phoenix too Frequent" last summer and fall, the group decided to tackle Fry's most difficult drama, "The Lady Is Not for Burning." The verse play will be presented in Perkins Hall on May 1, 2, and 3 at 8:15 p. m.

Fry's masterpiece to date, the play is written in the sonorous, smooth-flowing verse style for which he is justly famous. Fry's dialogue is full of alliterative and onomatopoetic words and phrases manipulated skillfully and subtly into a pattern of imagery. The plot of the piece is not a complicated one, it concerns: 1) a young man who seeks to escape from the world by means of the gallows and who attempts to persuade town authorities to convict him of murder. 2) a young woman of great beauty and dignity who is falsely accused of witchcraft and attempts by two young men to save her from burning, 3) the efforts of a mother to marry her son to a charming young woman raised in a convent, 4) the love of a clerk for thia same comely lass and lastly the frustrations of the pompous town magistrate, the befuddled mayor and a slightly senile, fiddle playing chaplain. In itself, the plot would be enough for a very engaging comedy but as usual, Fry uses the plot primarily as a vehicle for much profound comment on humanity and eternity. The comments, eloquently voiced by the heroic characters of the play are the core of its worth.

The players cast, chosen with gravity and care by director Woodson Tyree, includes both veteran campus actors and newcomers to the Perkins stage. Starring as Thomas will be Don Cooper, the very talented young man who will be remembered for his skillful portrayals in Players' productions of "The Glass Menagerie," "The Male Animal," "A Phoenix too Frequent" and many others. Other cast members are Ruth Mitchell, Del Hitch, Gordon Spice, Tom Freund, Andy Spiegel, Rosie Musgrave, Judy Clave, Ted

Quartet Tour Ended; Last Concert to Be Given on April 17

The LaSalle Quartet has just returned from its annual eastern spring tour. The quartet performed again for colleges and universities in addition to its formal concerts in the large cities in the east.

Most interesting, from the Quartet's point of view, were concerts given in Dayton, Ohio, for the Dayton Music Club, and at Wilmington College in Wilmington, Ohio. The Dayton Club is an extremely active group which organizes two complete annual concert series. One series presents local talent and the other features guest artists from this country and Europe. The LaSalle Quartet's concert in Wilmington marked the first time a string quartet was ever heard in that community. The response was spontaneous and enthusiastic.

The Quartet frequently encounters the preconceived notion that string quartets are made up of elderly bearded gentlemen. Members of the audience expressed their surprise at the youthfulness of the performers and the liveliness and vigor of their music making.

Concerts on the East Coast included an appearance at the New York State University Teachers College in New Platz, New York, and the third annual concert in the Gardner Museum in Boston, Mass. In New Platz, the Quartet gave both an assembly program and a formal concert for a standing room only audience, including C.C. alumni and parents of students now at the college.

The Quartet will present its final concert of the season in Colorado Springs at the Fine Arts Center on Thursday, April 17, at 8:30 p.m. The program will include works by Haydn and Beethoven and will feature Mozart's Piano Quartet in E-flat Major, with Max Lanner as assisting artist. Faculty and students admitted free on activity books.

A SOCIAL PROBLEM?

Editor's Note: The following does not necessarily reflect the views of the TIGER. However, in printing it we are following our policy of publishing what we feel will be of interest to the student and will provoke interest in The TIGER.

From some of the actions around campus, it would seem that the female members of the Colorado College family are somewhat less than pleased with the social relationships that currently exist. This weekend is the first of a series of abortive plans to issue forth from West Campus attempting to remedy this deplorable situation. At first glance, this importation of gigilos to satisfy the "social" desires of the better half of our campus, might be taken as somewhat of an insult to the male members of the student body. However, after serious consideration of the problem, we are of the considered opinion that this plan may have some merit.

After having spent some number of years on this campus, we have all too often seen the amorous proclivities of the male members of the student body squelched by the aristocratic tendencies of the moneyed snobs who occupy the women's residence halls. So now we await, with bated breath, the outcome of this mass encounter. It would not be an exaggeration to say that, after two or three years of the aforementioned treatment, even the most sensitive male can condition himself to the environmental factors involved in dealing with the average CC female. However, it would seem a gross injustice to lure a group of unsuspecting and, knowing Mine's, probably frustrated young "gentlemen," down here. It would seem to be something akin to Nero's throwing Christian's to the lions. We can honestly say that we approve of this action, if only for its educational and psychological revelations. If the Miners can satisfy this "Princess Margaret-Rose" complex regarding romance that exists on this campus, more power to them. Here at CC, the men seem to have no desire to become the Queen's husband!

—Jack Fitzgerald
Pat Gormley

A Letter to the Unaffiliated Men of CC

With the beginning of the new Student Council year, I take this opportunity to remind you that I am, as ASCC representative of the Crown and Lance, the representative of all the independent men on this campus, whether organized or not. I am your only direct voice and vote in your student governing body.

In order to do my job properly I must know what you think about the activities of this school as they effect you. If you have suggestions or criticisms of any phase of student life,bring them to me. I will do everything in my power to see that they receive a thorough consideration before the Council. That is my job and the job of your Council.

The effectiveness of student government on this campus depends upon the support which it receives from the student body and the willingness of the students to use their ASCC Council to express themselves in the conduct of the college. Again let me urge you to help me do my job by giving me your opinions on college affairs.

—Charles Hawley

Frankly Speaking

Student publications seem to rate along with soap box contests in student popularity these days. Or, at least, there are those of us who hope they rate that high. Last week the TIGER tried the "Do you need stacks of money?" angle—so often employed by soap, brush and lingeree companies to boost their sales—to raise some student interest in the available NUGGET executive positions:

"Do You Need $500?
Apply for Nugget
Executive Position"

We hesitated to stoop so low; but far be it from us to stand in the way of the possibility of interesting some student, abnormal and destitute as he may be. Who, we speculated, could withstand the thought of 50,000 free smokes?

We are moderns. We believe in the "pocket-appeal" techniques of modern hucksters. We believe in the basic human dignity and sense of responsibility of the modern student. But we also believe in the importance of the student yearbook and the newspaper.

Among the things we've learned in this institution, is the fact that the quality of a yearbook is in direct proportion to the quality of its editor and business manager—and the common denominator of the quality of both rests in two factors: 1) competition for the executive offices and 2) student interest in these offices.

Thus far, the results of our pecuniary appeal have been negligible. The evidence of student interest in these portions would justify our consideration of discontinuing the NUGGET. We don't wish to do so, but we can't stoop lower in our appeal.

YOU HAVE JUST ONE MORE WEEK TO TAKE ADVANTACE OF THIS AMAZING OFFER! YOU MAY WIN $500! JUST DROP YOUR APPLICATION IN THE NUGGET BOX IN CUTLER.

Editorial Policies Of Local Papers Revealed By Student

Editorial note: This is the second in a series of articles on the editorial policies of the two newspapers of Colorado Springs, The Gazette-Telegraph and The Free Press.

In a recent issue of the TIGER the basic policies of the Gazette-Telegraph and the Free Press were presented. In this article the hottest argument between the papers, concerning public education is described. This subject has become an issue of considerable public attention. Mr. Hoiles, editor of the G-T attacks public schools on the following points.

Broadly speaking ,he claims that public tax-supported education is immoral. It violates the commandments, "Thou shalt have no other Gods before me," and "Thou shalt not take unto thee any graven image." The violations occur because support of public education violates other commandments and thus places the government schools into a position of consideration above that of God and his commandments.

Here are the other violated commandments. The tenth commandment is clearly violated: "Thou shalt not covet anything that is thy neighbor's." Mr. Hoiles has said, "Do not those who advocate compulsory education covet the children of their neighbors and take these children from their neighbors for five days a week, nine months out of the year, for a period of twelve years?". The eighth commandment, "Thou shalt not steal," is violated. The government takes funds from dissenters, in the form of taxes, in order to support public schools. The Golden Rule is violated because, "Does anyone claim that compulsory education which takes the children from the parents without consent does not violate the Golden Rule."

Other than on the basis of God's morality, the G-T argues that the education of American children is being controlled via the government. The teachers and texts are propagandizing for socialism.

It should be noted that Mr. Hoiles opposes socialism in any form as it infringes upon the moral principles that every man is born with certain rights and that no government or man may forcibly opposing these rights. Through restriction of man's freedoms socialism infringes on man's rights. (See TIGER, March 20).

Opposition to the stand of the Gazette-Telegraph, on public education has arisen.

All 17 PTA Educational Committees have adopted a resolution which would strive to "combat influences subversive to public education." The implication is that the Gazette-Telegraph is a sub-

KRCC Offers Music Haters no Comfort

Be sure to read this article if you don't like music.

Never tune in on an FM set to the 91.3 spot at 8:30 p.m., Monday through Friday if you're sure that Classical music is not worth the fine records which are played at those times until 9:30 and sometimes later. The broadcasts of all classical music events which take place on campus can be avoided by staying away from FM sets.

You might particularly take this warning to not listen to two new musical programs which will be respectively aired at 8:00 and 8:30 on Friday evenings. The first is Masterworks From France with many maliciously enjoyable new and old compositions recorded complete with English commentary in Paris by the French Broadcasting System. The second is "Music Theatre" featuring the finest operas and operettas in complete recorded performances. Tomorrow night KRCC will presumptionsly feature the atrocious, to the inhuman, "Lost In The Stars" by Kurt Weill and Maxwell Anderson.

If you have a loathing for "Jazz", the heart felt musical expressions of backward, common people of America, do not tune in at 6:30 on Thursday evenings for the probings of Bob Rhoades and Professor Tom Ross into this

Be Happy-Go Lucky!

I wonder if my answer's right
Each time I take a test.
No guesswork, though, for cigarettes—
For Luckies taste the best!
Barbara Mencher
Brooklyn College

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

When I light up a Lucky,
I know just what's in store—
A cigarette of mildest blend
And taste that calls for more!

Elizabeth Cowles To Lecture at CC On Everest Climb

On Thursday, April 24 at 8 p.m., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Cowles, one of America's finest Alpinists, will give an illustrated talk on "North to Everest" at Perkins Hall, Colorado College, under the auspices of The Woman's Educational Society. For the first time, Mrs. Cowles, who has spoken on the first white man's expedition so high on Everest, will show motion pictures in addition to the magnificent Kodakrome pictures she has.

Mrs. Cowles, the only woman member of the first American expedition to Mount Everest, has given illustrated talks on climbing the world's most inaccessible mountain to groups in Philadelphia, Bryn Mawr, New York City, Boston, Santa Fe, Denver, and Colorado Springs. Accounts of the climbing of Everest have appeared in The New York Times, The Louisville Courier Journal, Charm Magazine, Trail and Timberline, The Santa Fe New Mexican, Country Life, The Philadelphia Bulletin, Look Magazine, Time, and in Colorado newspapers.

The New York Times, in commenting on the expedition to Everest undertaken by Mrs. Cowles of Colorado Springs, Dr. Charles Houston of Exeter, New Hampshire, Dr. Oscar Houston of New York, Anderson Bakewell of Kurseong, Bengal, and Major H. W. Tilman of Merioneth, Wales, stated that "until the Houston expedition, Mount Everest has been a British monopoly, with the exception of one New Zealander, L. V. Bryant, in 1935. Few parties have been able to obtain permission from the government of Tibet to make the trek to the foot of the unconquered peak . . . No other persons except natives have ever been within seventy miles of the South foot of Mount Everest before . . . Everest's precipitous icy spire, reaching 29,141 feet, is one of the world's most dramatic challenges to man's mastery of nature. The photographs taken by the expedition add to the none too plentiful knowledge of a part of the world never before seen by white men."

Time magazine, in writing of "one of the last few remaining spots on the earth to defy human explorers," says that many expeditions have "tried to claw their way" up Everest, but have been beaten back by the near-stratospheric cold, the almost continual gales, the treacherous, sliding snow and the thin, high air; some have disappeared in a mist and have never been seen again. The Houston expedition investigated the unexplored southern slope, which lies in friendly and comparatively accessible Nepal. The Houston party did not attempt to reach the summit of the mountain, but scouted the southern slope to see if it offered better climbing routes than does the wind-lashed north. It took two weeks to ascend 13,000 feet to the Buddhist monastery of Thyangboche, where Mrs. Cowles witnessed Lamastic rituals, reportedly the first American woman to do so. Two members of the expedition, Dr. Houston and Major Tilman, climbed 19,000 feet where they made maps and took photographs. The south face of the mighty mountain, they reported, presents greater climbing difficulties than the northern side. They could find no practical climbing route on the south face. If this pessimistic judgment is correct, Mt. Everest may not be conquered for a long time, for Tibet which owns the northern slope is in the process of becoming a part of Communist China, a country unlikely to welcome English or American alpinists.

Asiatics have never shown much interest in climbing mountains for the joy of it.

Tickets for Mrs. Cowles' illustrated talk are on sale at Edith Farnsworth's Book Shop. After April 18, tickets may be reserved by calling Main 6660, extension 41. As the capacity of Perkins Hall is limited, it is urged that tickets be purchased now.

Representatives of Mosier Business School Here Today

On Thursday, April 17, Miss Mayhew, representative of Mosier Business School in Chicago, Illinois, will be on the C.C. campus. Miss Mayhew will have lunch in Bemis Hall with girls interested in learning about the school. At 2:30 she will give a talk at the Counseling Center explaining the policies of the school. The Mosier Business School specializes in placing girls in occupations according to the major or special interests of its graduates. All are welcome to attend the talk.

Betas Spring Dance At Garden of Gods Club Saturday Night

The beautiful Garden of the Gods Club will be the site for an evening of formal entertainment this Saturday night from 7:00 to 12:00 when the Betas will hold their annual Spring Formal. Drex Broome and his orchestra will set the mood during dinner, and for dancing on the terrace afterwards. Mom Judy, the Beta's housemother will be the guest of honor, and Dr. and Mrs. Curran and Mr. and Mrs. Taitt will be the chaperones for the evening.

Testimonial received by a drug concern: "For nine years I was totally deaf, and after using your ear drops for only ten days, I heard from my brother in South Dakota."

CLUBLICITY

The last meeting of the History Club this year will be held a week from this Thursday, April 24th. Dean Adams will be the speaker and will talk on his book, "Doctors in Blue." Further information about this meeting will be in next week's Tiger.

The WACS, WAFS and WAVES offer college women chances for commissions in their services. For further information contact Miss Grant in the Counseling Center.

SENIORS—Don't wait too long in making plans for getting jobs this summer. If you have any questions concerning type of work, interests, or how to find a job, see Miss Grant any afternoon in the Counseling Center.

Vocational Guidance Dinners will be resumed April 24 with the English department. Those remaining are: May 1, Sociology; May 8, Languages; and May 15, Psychology.

The Crown and Lance is going to make a written request that the carriage house at Jackson Hall be loaned to them as a club room.

All Independent men interested in playing intramural golf or softball contact John Munger at Hagerman.

The currently elected officers of the CC Wives Club are:

Ardeth Kinna, President

Frances Keller, Recording Secretary (second term).

The wife of any CC man is eligible and cordially invited to join. The Club's picture for the Nugget will be taken at the next club meeting which will be held Wednesday, at 8:00 p.m., April 23rd, at Lennox House.

The Kappa Sigs are happy to announce the pledging of Dick Davids, Pelham Manor, New York.

MINERS TO BE GUESTS OF CC COEDS SATURDAY

Miners of the Colorado School of Mines will be entertained by C.C. this Saturday, April 19. One hundred invitations have been sent to Miners for a day of activities with C.C.

The baseball game between C.C. and Mines will be the first thing on the agenda for the Miners and their C.C. dates. After the game from 5 to 7, there will be a picnic supper held at the Garden of the Gods. A dance from 9 to 12 at Patty Jewett Country Club will climax the day.

One lecturer on this campus was so boring in one of his classes that two empty seats got up and walked out.

Phi Beta Kappa Initiates 22 CC Juniors and Seniors

On Thursday, April 17 at 5:30 p. m. the Phi Beta Kappa Chapter of Colorado College will initiate at the Garden of the Gods Club 22 students who have recently been elected to membership in the organization. Following initiation there will be a buffet supper and a short talk. Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest Greek letter organization in the United States was founded at William and Mary College before the Revolutionary War. Its membership is limited to those who rank high scholastically; approved colleges and universities elect each year from seven to ten percent of those students achieving the highest scholastic average.

In a recent book, "They Went to College: The College Graduate in America Today," Ernest Havemann and Patricia Salter West state:

"There are two completely opposite theories about how to get the most out of a college career. Educators, and most parents, like to hold up the Phi Beta Kappa as the good example; if you study hard you are sure to go to heaven, and incidentally have the happiest and most profitable life en route. But a good many students have the notion that grades are mostly nonsense; they figure that an A in philosophy sells no insurance policies, and that the way to get ahead in life is to be a campus leader and make a lot of friends. Thus the Phi Beta Kappa, bookish fellow, and the Big Man on Campus, a hail fellow well met, are generally considered to be two antithetical types.

"Actually they are not so far apart as commonly thought. The all-A students, by and large, are not so unsociable and retiring as pictured. Indeed they are more likely than anyone else to be the campus leaders. Among college graduates it turns out that 29 percent of the A students held at least two campus offices, as opposed to 22 percent of the B students and only 16 percent of the C and D students. The better a student's grades, in other words, the more likely he is to "get around" on the campus. And, conversely, the students who accumulate a long list of extra-curricular activities and offices are more likely to be the better students than the poorer ones. The Phi Beta Kappa usually has a lot of interests, of which grades are only one."

This same study points out that eight percent of all Phi Beta Kappa students enter government; 44 percent, business ;and 48 percent, the professions. In every occupational field ,it states, the A students have the best earning record.

Artists and Models Dance to Be Held at Iran Springs Saturday

The Kappa Sigs will hold their annual Artists and Models dance this Saturday night from 9 until 12:30. The gala affair will be held at the very popular Iron Springs Chateau. Entertainment will be provided by Drex Broome and his rhythmic orchestra. Costumes for the dance will be towels, pajamas, bathing suits and any other informal attire suitable to the occasion. Chaperone for the evening will be Mother Haugh.

Four CC Students To Attend Newman Club Convention

The Newman Club of the University of Utah will act as the host school for the Inter-Mountain Province convention of the Newman Club to be held in Salt Lake City April 18, 19, and 20. Among the schools represented will be Utah University, Wyoming University, Colorado University, Denver University, Colorado State College of Education, and Colorado College.

Convention headquarters will be the Newman Hall on the Utah campus. General meetings, discussion groups and round-tables will be held, and the delegates will be entertained at a banquet and dance.

Delegates who will represent Colorado College Newman Club are Cynthia Haymes, Sally Condon, Martine Barrett and John Sarlo. The club's chaplain, Father Robert Freudenstein also plans to attend.

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

By Liz Hugins

At this week's meeting of the Student Council, George Abbott was elected to the office of vice-president and will act as the head of the organization until such time as Harry Halsted can assume his duties. The Publications Board Chairmanship as well as the Social Chairmans job went to Joan Shepard. Sally Le Roi was elected to the Public Relations job. An election committee was also selected. Mose Harrison was appointed chairman and will be aided by Joan Martin and Don Stone.

The Student Council approved a plan to hold mock primary elections, Party Conventions and a final run-off election for President of the U. S. Publicity will be handled by the Tiger.

COVER ELECTED NEW PANHEL PRESIDENT

The new officers of the Panhellenic have recently been elected. They are as follows:: President, Connie Cover; vice-president, Betty Breland; secretary, Phil Seymour; treasurer, Sue Nesbit; social and publicity chairman, Janet Adams; president elect, Margie Epler, Junior members, Jane Runyon, Ann Royer, Pam Adams, and Sally Powell; and the sponsor is Viki Hann.

The council met Thursday noon at Cossitt for lunch.

HONOR WINTER ATHLETES THURS. AT DINNER

PRESENTATION OF INDIVIUAL AND TEAM AWARDS HIGHLIGHTED FETE

Seventy-one athletes sat in a crowd of over 100 Thursday night in the dining room of the Broadmoor hotel as the Colorado College Association honored the athletes of five winter sports with the largest sports award dinner ever held at the local college. With Dr. Joe Lewis, president of the Downtown Quarterback Club, serving as toastmaster, they honored athletes from teams of bockey, basketball, soccer, skiing and swimming.

Appearing for the CAA was Mortimer B. Hopper, vice president, speaking for Pres. Wally Walholm, who instigated the dinner and who was called out of town on business.

Speaking for Colorado College was Dr. George W. Adams, dean of the college. Pres. William Gill was ill and unable to attend, missing his first major athletic function in over two years.

In addition to letter and participation awards, singular awards were made in bockey and swimming.

Capt. Wilkins of the Rocky Mountain conference swimming team received the championship tropby from Coach Robert Stabler, while Tom Abel was named 1953 captain. Norman Brown received the Blick Sporting Goods trophy as the high point man for the season, while Lombard Brown received the Stabler trophy as the most improved swimmer.

Larry Wolf of Frederic's Jewelers presented Capt. Bud Eastwood with the permanent Frederic trophy for the Midwest conference championship, and then personally awarded an automatic gold watch to Tony Frasca, named by the college as winner of the sportsmanship award.

Henry Coupland presented his annual tropby for the most improved bockey player to Leo Soligo. Named winner of the second annual Thompson trophy, most valuable player as selected by his teammates, was Ron Hartwell.

Winter sports athletes honored with awards were as follows:

Basketball: Jim Bergstrom, Thomas Dunton, Moses Harrison, Milburne Kensinger, Stuart Klein, Edwin Lodmell, Frank Maynes, Edward Pfeiffer, Benjamin Snyder, Donald Stone and Manager John Stewart. Coach William Heiss.

Hockey: Cameron Berry, Omer Brandt, William Clark ,William Dewire, Norman Diviney, Fred Eastwood, Walter Eastwood, Anthony Frasca, Ronald Hartwell, Thomas Kelly, Richard Kennefic, Kenneth Kinsley, Carl Lawrence, Steve Leolich, Leonard Maccini, Edward Robson, Leo Soligo, Bill Thompson, and Manager James Gubbins. Coach Cheddy Thompson.

Skiing: James Bergstrom, Harvey Coit, William Coit, Charles Mollin, Peter Roberts, Ronald Sponseller and John Wheat. Coach K. G. Freycshlag.

Soccer: Michael Burk, Francis Daly, Erich Drexler, Arthur Gammell, John Hattstaedt, Horst Hergel, James Hill, Frank Kin-Maung, Milton Nichols, George Rushitzky, Saad Sahawneh, William Smith, Walter Stone, Paul Trietsch, and Edward Wardwell. Coach Dr. Richard Fox.

Freshman hockey: James Weir, Peter Kosick, John Pearson, Wallace Charm, Jack Wilbur, Douglas Bates and Eugene Anderson.

Intramural volleyball opened last Tuesday night with each victor winning the first two games in a two-out-of-three series. The Phi Gams, defending champs, defeated the Sigma Chis, while the Kappa Sigs defeated the Phi Delts. The Betas defeated the Independents and the Sigma Cbis defeated the Kappa Sigs. The volleyball tournament ends this week but bas touched off a rigorous spring season for intramural sports.

To follow is the intramural track meet in which more athletes participate than any other intramural sport. It will begin today at 3:30 p.m. and will probably expose talent that will be sought after by track coach Cheddy Thompson.

Tuesday April 22, will begin the sunrise softball games. This year's circuit will be highlighted with a sensational new team composed of faculty members. However, tbey are ineligible for this amateur league and will not be included in the standings. The softball schedule and rules are posted elsewhere on this page.

The intramural golf date will be announced later—watch for it.

TIGERS SLIDE PAST MINERS 7-6 IN OPENER

BATMEN HEAD FOR GOLDEN FRIDAY DOUBLEHEADER SLATED HERE SATURDAY

Colorado College successfully opened their 1952 baseball season here last Saturday when they defeated Colorado School of Mines 7-6. It was a dismal afternoon for baseball with a slight wind and plenty of moisture which drove spectators to automobiles parked behind the cage and along base paths. The onlookers watched the lead change hands three times.

Going into the last of the fith with rain coming down more steadily, rightfielder Fred Eastwood slammed a home run to tie the game up six all with a sharp bingle to right centerfield. As the Tigers came to bat in the last of the 8th, Eastwood again stepped to the plate and lashed a double down the left field line while the Miners were playing him quite definitely to the right. Robson raced home from second base and that was the ball game.

The hitting was surprisingly strong. For instance, Wes Boucher came in with three; Pearson, two; Bergstrom, two; while Soligo, Robson, Hanson, and Leolich each got one apiece. In addition, a lot of those went for extra bases.

Coach Will Perkins, who is apt to yank a pitcher at the slightest provocation, used three hurlers. He started with Regis Lisowski, who went two, Tom Dunton got in five and Dick Kennefic wound it up. All gave a fine account of themselves and none were pulled because of lack of control. Perkins pulled Lisowski for Dunton because of Dunton's speed, which is more effective on a dark day. Dunton gave up the clore to Kennefic, with the game tied, because of a bad blister on his left hand. Kennefic was the winning pitcher.

A lot of baseball will be in the air this weekend as the Tigers are slated for three ball games. Friday, the Tigers meet the Miners at Golden, and then both teams tangle here on the campus Saturday in a doubleheader. The starting pitchers have not yet been named.

ADAMS, MINES, WESTERN, CC IN CINDER MEET

Western State, Adams State, Colorado Mines, and Colorado College trackmen take to the cinders in a quadrangle meet this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. It is the first appearance of the Tiger team and Coach Cheddy Thompson declined to comment until he has seen his largely inexperienced squad in actual combat. However, the team boasts greater manpower and enthusiasm than in previous years. Experienced cindermen who will stable the team are Captain Carl Lawerence, distance runner; Craig Richardson, hurdles and pole vaulter; and in the weights, George Demos and Hugh Graham.

The visiting teams, Colorado Mines, Adams State, and Western State are vastly improved squads and will provide a great deal of competition.

Coach Thompson announced the contestants in the events, but stipulated a few changes may be made before meet time Saturday.

The way it stands now:

100-220 yd. dash—Bill Clark, Dick Evans, Fred Tomlinson, George Rushitzky, and Bill Howell.

Distance—Captain Carl Lawerence, Ned Pfeiffer, Tom Abel, Carroll Hill, Charles Rider and John Wheat.

Middle Distance—Dick Savage, Denzil Gaskin, and Mid Gammell.

Hurdles—Richardson and Rushitzky.

Pole Vault—Richardson.

High Jump—Ron Schisler and Tom Linson.

Broad Jump—Clark, Howell and Evans.

Weights—Demos, Graham and Schisler.

CC Golf Team at Boulder Sat. in First Dual Meet

Colorado College's link artists tee off their 1952 season Saturday afternoon in Boulder when they tackle the potential par-busters from Colorado University.

Coach Lou Worner, who handles the reins of the Tiger golfers in addition to his full-time professorial duties at the college, finds only two lettermen returning from a mediocre 1951 club.

Leading the Tigers will be Bob Strang, former Colorado Springs High School golfing star and the one top golfer on CC's team last season. At present he stands as the only man capable of snaring any medalist honors for the Tigers. The other letterman out for the squad is junior Dale Arie.

Four of the newcomers to this year's team are upperclassmen who have not turned out for the golfing six-some in previous years. Chuck O'Connor, sophomore from River Forest, Ill., heads the list, followed by Henry Royer, another sophomore also from River Forest. Roy Keller, married local student, now a sophomore, and Bob Kroehnke, Wheaton, Ill., sophomore, have also been trying out for the squad.

Ken Simon, freshman and member of the past season's Jayvee hockey team is is the only freshman out for the team. Simon hails from Park Ridge, Ill.

Baseball season brings with it the baseball tournament for the girls. Practice will begin next week to prepare the teams for good tournament play. The captains of each team will meet next Tuesday, April 22, after Chapel in the Shove lecture room where Connie Chesmore will preside over the meeting to acquaint the captains with the rules of the sport.

Two changes of the tournament schedule have been announced. The archery tournament is now set for this Saturday, April 19. Another change in plans resulted in the cancellation of the skating contest.

versive influence. The resolution also recommended among other items that local PTA members cancel their subscriptions to the G-T and subscribe to the Free Press as a statement of their sympathies. The League of Women Voters and Local 113 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers have been two organizations to voice support of the public schools, in opposition to the stand of the G-T.

Mr. Hoyt, editor of the Free Press has said, "I firmly believe that such things as adequate education for our children cannot be assured unless we do them through government through tax-supported schools." He concluded a speech by saying, "We want to print all the news available about our schools so that the people will know the facts as they are and not the facts as they are distorted by those who want to destroy our system of education."

This footnote to the above description of the active political assertions of two newspapers might be appropriate.

As students, the moulders of the future, it is imperative that we make an examination of and evaluate the position of the Gazette-Telegraph in opposing such institutions as our public schools. It is a credit to the practice of our democratic system of government that the Gazette-Telegraph and the Free Press are bringing their views on these fundamental issues of our day to wide attention.

ALICE BEMIS TAYLOR SCHOLARSHIP WON BY OUTSTANDING WICHITA YOUTH

Rule E. Olson of North High school, Wichita, Kan., one of the outstanding students in the history of his school, has been named winner of the $4,000 Alice Bemis Taylor scholarship to Colorado College, it was announced today by Dr. George W. Adams, chairman of the college's student aid committee. From among the most lucrative list of applicants the college has received in the six-year history of the award, Olson was chosen for his academic record, his leadership and service to his high school and for his all-around extra-curricular activities.

Ranking first in a graduating class of 549, the North High school senior boasts a record of all A's except for two B's during his high school career. He plans to undertake pre-medical study at CC. Olson's mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Olson, both attended CC in 1921 and 1922.

Named to National Honor Society in his junior year, Olson was vice president of the junior class and is president of the senior class at North High in Wichita.

In addition to his academic work, Olson has lettered in football, basketball and track and this past year was named to the All-American high school football team.

Established in 1947, the Alice Bemis Taylor award is one of the region's most prized scholarships. Applications are received from all over the nation for the grant, which is $1,000 per year for the four years at CC.

Past winners included Patrick Killen of Pacific Palisades, Calif.; Polly Robison of Omaha, Neb.; Robert Trevithick of Pueblo; Georgianna Shaw of East High school in Wichita, Kan.; and Marcia Manning of East High school in Denver.

Non-Partisan Review of Presidential Candidates

Friday night at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium there will be a meeting sponsored by Life, the National Broadcasting Company, and the League of Women Voters. There are going to be meetings like this in 300 cities in the United States to discuss the issues in the Presidential campaigns. Afterwards, the people will vote on domestic and international issues that they want the Presidential candidates to discuss.

On May 1, at the National Convention, the League of Women Voters is going to have all the Presidential candidates and present to them the questions that were brought up in the 300 various meetings. It is a non-partisan discussion and open to everyone even though you are not 21. It is a good idea to learn about these issues before the Mock Conventions start here on campus.

Marine Corps Offers Seniors and Grads CCS Opportunities

Denver, Colo., April 17—First Lieutenant Bernard S. MacCabe of the local Marine Corps Officer Procurement Office at the Old Customs House, 16th and Arapahoe Street, Denver 2, Colorado, announced today that all male college graduates and seniors will have an opportunity to earn commissions in the Marine Corps this summer.

By June 1 the expanding Marine Corps will enroll a total of 1,000 officer candidates, according to Lt. MacCabe. Candidates begin their training July 14 at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

Married or single college graduates between 20 and 27 years old are eligible for the program. Seniors who will graduate at the end of the current semester also are eligible, but must apply before the June 1 deadline.

Married men will receive family allowances as soon as their candidate training begins.

Candidates successfully completing the 10---week training course will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve. Following this they will receive five additional months of specialized officers'

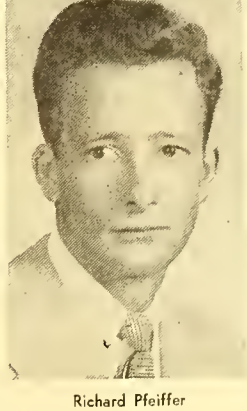
Dick Pfeiffer '51 Wins CC's 2nd Root-Tilden Scholarship

LAW SCHOLARSHIP

Willard H. Leavel of the University of Denver and Richard E. Pfeiffer of Colorado College were selected from the Tenth Federal Judicial Circuit to receive Elihu Root-Samuel J. Tilden scholarships awarded by the New York University School of Law, it was announced by Dean Russell D. Niles. The selection committee, composed of Chief Judge Orie L. Phillips of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit; John Evans, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board for the Tenth Circuit; and President William H. Gill of Colorado College, interviewed candidates from Kansas, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, and Oklahoma.



Richard Pfeiffer

Twenty Root-Tilden scholarships, each valued at $6,600 for the three-year period, are awarded annually, two to each of the ten federal judicial circuits.

Mr. Pfeiffer, a resident of Durango, Colorado, was graduated from Colorado College in June 1950. He has been a delegate to regional and national conventions of the National Students Association, a member of Phi Delta Theta, captain of the varsity track team, business manager and editor-in-chief of the school yearbook, and was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Mr. Leavel and Mr. Pfeiffer both originally appeared before the Colorado Root-Tilden state committee composed of Chief Justice William S. Jackson of the Supreme Court of Colorado, Mr. Hatfield Chilson, president of the Colorado Bar Association, and Mr. Lawrence Martin, associate editor of the Denver Post.

Qualifications for the awards include a high scholastic record, extra-curriular activities and a potential for public leadership. Both Root and Tilden, distinguished graduates of the New York University School of Law after whom the scholarships are named, Democrats to Convene Tuesday Republicans to Follow Thurs.

Plans for the two big political conventions to be held next week here on the CC campus are going forward with great spirit under the direction of Chuck Hawley. Hawley announces that at last week's Student Council meeting, the drawings for the states to be represented at the conventions were made. In order to give each organization an equal vote, as nearly as possible, the states were divided according to number of delegates and then one large state, two medium sized states and one small state were chosen by each organization. At the organizational meetings last Monday, caucuses were held and delegates to the conventions chosen.

The big fireworks are due next week when the Democratic convention will be held Tuesday night and the Republican meeting Thursday night. The conventions will be held in the "Pit" in Palmer Hall according to present plans.

National party chairmen have been tentatively selected. Larry Waddington will be the Republican's tub-thumper while Pat Gormley will lead the Democrats in their quest of a Presidential candidate.

Nominating speeches will be made by the members of the debate team with a time limit of ten minutes for nominating speeches and five minutes for the seconding speeches. Also, sure to provide fireworks will be the keynote speeches (limit 20 min.) to be given by prominent local men active in the respective parties. The political science and pre-law students will formulate the rules under which the conventions will be run, insuring an efficiently run meeting.

Outstanding Talent To Be Featured in Fry Drama in May

The CC Player's production of "The Lady's Not for Burning" features some of the finest student actors at CC. The play, which will be presented in Perkin's Hall on May 1, 2 and 3 at 8:15 p.m., promises to be the outstanding campus drama offering of the year. It will certainly present an array of unusual student talent at its best.

Starring in the role of Thomas will be Don Cooper, one of the most versatile young aspirants to the theater who ever graced the Perkin's stage. Don's performances in "The Glass Menagerie," "The Male Animal," "A Phoenix Too Frequent" and many other Players productions are evidences of his outstanding talent which is at its best in his difficult role as Thomas.

Playing opposite Don in the role of Jennet, the lady who was not for burning, will be Ruth Mitchell, a Sophomore who has managed to capture leading roles in several Players presentations in two years. Probably the most outstanding role carried by Ruth to date at CC has been her character study in "Ladies In Retirement" which she performed with dignity and insight. "The Lady's Not for Burning" offers Ruth a true challenge and she is expected to come through with flying colors.

Rosie Musgrave, a Junior from Santa Fe and a veteran Players character actress, will appear as the cynical Margaret. Rosie's comical antics as the maid in "The Imaginary Invalid" were applauded as an unusual piece of subtle humor and came as a surprise to many who remembered her in "The Male Animal" in which she was more or less the "straight man" among a host of comic characters. It will be interesting to watch Rosie in her first really literary characterization, her interpretation is sure to be an effective one.

Many new faces will be in evi-

College Journalists To Meet in Utah for RMIPA Convention

College journalists from five states will gather at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, for the annual meetings of the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press Assn. on May 1,2 and 3.

Delegates representing student newspapers, yearbooks and magazines are expected from nearly 20 colleges and universities in Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana and Colorado.

Leading newspaper and advertising executives of the region will be featured in special sessions on editorial, advertising, circulation and production problems. Publication, editorial and business staffs will also swap ideas in a series of student-led workshops during the three-day meet.

Dick Wohlgenant of Montana State University, Missoula, is RMIPA president, and Ford R. Paulson of Brigham Young University is convention chairman.

CC Chorus Will Be Attraction Sunday at Last Perkins Concert

The last concert of the Perkins Hall series will be held next Sunday, April 27, at 4:30 o'clock, and will feature the Colorado College Chorus directed by Edward B. Green, assisted by Patricia Meudlus, soprano, Glorin Townsend, contralto, George Garriques, tenor, H. Werner Schwartz, bass, with Charles Burkhart and David Krachenbuehl as accompanists.

The program will include sacred music of Franz Schubert, most of which will be heard for the first time in Colorado Springs, secular music of the 20th century, and American folk songs. Among the interesting numbers to be heard will be "The Lobster Quadrille" and "Father William" from Alice in Wonderland by Irving Fine.

The Colorado College Choir appeared in a similar program in Denver last Sunday, as the fourth chorus in a series of concerts given by choirs from Colorado colleges and universities.

This choral concert will close the Perkins Hall series for this season and the public is invited to attend free of charge.

SENIORS

Seniors, get your money for the Senior Sneak Day in to Miss Berger's office or to Pat Gormley as soon as possible so that plans for entertainment and refreshments can be carried out before the last minute rush!

IN MEMORIAM

To Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Gormley, and members of their clan.

Judging from the sneers and growls of Tiger males which accompanied the article in the TIGER last week, the "men" on campus must have heartily approved of the biased presentation of the "Social Problem." Actually the article was nothing more than a ridiculous display of high-flown language, inaccurate literary allusion, and an uncalled for, unmannerly insult to the gentlemen (and the word doesn't need quotations) from Mines.

Princess Margaret Rose was probably thought of as being given royal attention by carefully weeded suitors, but in reality she is known as a loose gad-about of indiscriminate tastes. Furthermore no one was thrown to the lions. The Miners came of their own free will and were massacred only in the baseball game. And what was wrong with the Queen's Husband! He put General Northrup in his place didn't he? In short the Tigers have acted like cubs.

The narrow viewpoint of the article proves what we, the girls, have known for a long time—that the CC males wouldn't wake up to the facts until someone lit a fire under them. The facts are that the dorm windows blaze with lights every Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights. The Miners have very nicely provided the blast.

Also the article proves that CC males can't take competition. It hurts their pride to think a girl won't break a golden opportunity to accept a Thursday night invitation for a Saturday night fraternity dance. Neither are the fellows happy with the telephone-operator-high-school-Terror-last-resort substitutes.

Those who are assured of dates because they are pinned or going steady better see that their secure perch isn't under-Mined. They should have heard the "I wish I were going too" remarks made by pinned girls watching from the windows last Saturday.

Then too, the Mines picnic wasn't just a Sadie Hawkins affair designed to trap a Miner and spite the indifferent CC males as the article seemed to imply. The picnic and dance were designed to be fun and they were. On Saturday night for the first time all year there wasn't a single girl left in the dorms. That is the way it should be every weekend. Why isn't it? Because last September the CC male population found gin bottles and poker chips more interesting company than girls.

BURYING THE HATCHET

In regard to the article in last week's TIGER titled "A Social Problem?", we would like to express our views on the situation.

We do not wish to condemn the views stated by Pat and Jack or any other male, on campus, but merely the manner and extreme vocabulary used in their article. Such immature name calling as "moneyed snobs," "gigilos," "frustrated young gentlemen," "Princess Margaret Rose," "deplorable situation," etc. is inexcusable for young men of such fine caliber.

To defend ourselves on some of the radical generalizations made, every girl on this campus would undoubtedly prefer to date a CC man. Unfortunately it is the male prerogative to first ask them. Another fact that greatly reduces dating possibilities for the girls is that the ratio is almost even.

Isn't it only natural, Jack and Pat, that girls our age should and would want to enjoy a good time with members of the opposite sex? Do such "social desires" prove us abnormal?

Contrary to your accusation of CC coeds having aristocratic tendencies toward being moneyed snobs was entirely false and unjust, besides having no bearing on the article. Can you find any girl on this campus who does not enjoy a picnic, a show, a coffee date, or even a game of cards with an affable boy?

We would like to stress the point that we think that CC men on this campus are the greatest, but there just aren't enough interested in dating.

This article was not written with malicious intention but to try and uphold the standard that was set for us when we came here; that is to maintain a congenial CC family.

———— : : ————

BOOM! ! !

To the Men at CC:

By the way of reply to the letter in the TIGER, by Jack Fitzgerald and Pat Gormley we would like to make a couple of points clear. This letter, however, cannot be taken to represent all the "Miners," but only a few of us.

The first point we would like to make is, that by attending a co-ed school you men have something which you may take for granted and which definitely should not be—namely, women. Evidently, when you have something around constantly the newness wears off. Well, at Mines we don't have the constant association with women and we must admit that if we did we would be more appreciative of co-eds than you seem to be.

Secondly, in Messrs. Fitzgerald and Gormley's letter they compared the CC co-eds to prima donnas. I don't believe any "Miner" saw such a resemblance. All of the women were darn nice to all of us and made us feel that we were something. Possibly you men treat the co-eds like dirt, with an attitude that you can always give them a break by taking out the co-eds.

It seems to us that you men better shape-up in your attitude toward the co-eds. There were an awful lot of co-eds who wanted to go out with us "Miners," possibly more so than to go out with you men. This appears to give a reflection on many of you.

So to you we would like to say—you have it pretty great with women on your campus. From our own viewpoint that is something which is very desirable, so why don't you men wise up and treat the co-eds right?

Bill Lang — Al Mellilli
George Luso — Carl L. Blazel

———— : : ————

What is the answer to the social problem? That's what we'd like to know! What is a girl supposed to do—ask a boy to his own dance two weeks ahead of time because it's leap-year? Here's a clue to the CC males—they'd better change their stripes before the plans for an Ent Air Base Tea Dance at Bemis have materialized.

—Elizabeth Burton.

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

By SALLY LeROI

Complaints are often heard on this campus about the lack of opportunities to get practical experience in preparation for jobs after college. It is hard to believe that those who are doing all the griping have investigated the situation to any extent. In this week's Student Council meeting announcements were made concerning a number of openings which could prove quite profitable to any C.C. student with a little initiative. No matter what your major is, you could gain useful experience by getting into any of the following jobs.

1. The Vaudeville Show given to support the Campus Chest needs a director, business manager and publicity director. Applications for these positions must be given to Joan Shephard by Friday, April 25.

2. Editors and business managers are needed for the Nugget, and the Kinnikinnik. Applications for these positions on the Nugget should be made to Bob Humphrys, and those for the Kinnikinnik to Joan Sheppard, Leslie Lockhart, or Nancy Ferguson by May 1.

3. The positions of Prosecutor and assistant Prosecutor to try cases of misconduct and violation of regulations are open to students in Pre-Law. The assistant should be an underclassman. Applications are to be given to George Abbott or put in the ASCC box in Cutler.

4. The positions of Enthusiasm chairman and Assistant (an underclassman) are open, and those interested in seeing C. C.'s Homecoming a success should give their applications to George Abbott or put them in the ASCC box.

5. A few CC songwriters are badly needed. School songs are at a minimum, and anyone can string together some appropriate words to an available tune. Songs are to be submitted to Cynthia Golitzen or Jane Addenbrooke.

Presidential elections are coming up soon. All students who are a little hazy on the mechanics of voting and the issues at stake will profit greatly by going to the Colorado Springs High School Auditorium this Friday night at 8:00. "Life" magazine, the National Broadcasting Company, and the League of Women Voters are sponsoring "The Citizen's View of '52", a non-partisan discussion which should be of great help to you new voters in November.

MAX FACTOR CONTESTANTS MUST ENTER PICTURES BEFORE APRIL 25

Five Photogenic young ladies have been chosen by each of the women's organizations on campus to compete in the preliminaries of the Max Factor beauty contest. The photographs are due on April 25 after which a panel of experts will select one to be submitted to the national contest. Next week's Tiger will present the photos of the five finalists in the campus contest. The winner of the campus contest will be awarded an expensive pair of Paramount Pumps donated by Kaufman's Shoe Salon.

The lucky young lady who is chosen as the most beautiful coed in America will receive a scholarship of $1,000 and a fund of $1,000 for her school. She will also enjoy an all-expense-paid, one week vacation trip including transportation, hotel accommodations, meals and entertainment to Hollywood, California and return for herself and her mother or chaperone and many other valuable prizes including a 17 jewel watch, a suit and topper, a portable record player and 25 albums of records, a 3 piece set of luggage, an Emerson table radio and a Royal portable typewriter.

CC Contest Director Nancy Jones urges all candidates to submit one glossy photographers print, full figure before April 25 so that the five finalists pictures may appear in next week's Tiger. All photos should be put in the Tiger box in Cutler Hall in a manila folder.

Anyone with further questions about the contest may contact either Nancy Jones or TIGER editor Dale Arie.

Women Needed For Nat'l Defense

The folowing appeal for young women of high caliber to enlist in the women's branches of the service was received by the Tiger and merits the careful consideraation of young women who can meet the qualifications. It is the opinion of officials in these services that many young women would be interested in helping with the National Defense if they were informed of the need for their services.

Women must be alerted to the mounting seriousness of the defense problem and to the pressing need for their services in the WAC, WAF, WAVES, Women Marines, the three Nurses' Corps and the Women's Medical Specialist Services.

There are not enough men for both military and industrial requirements. With the thought that all Americans have an equal stake in the defense of our freedom, we are asking young women to help the Nation expand its military prepardness machine efficiently.

For the Nurse and the Women of the Medical Service Corps the service means a continued vital use of their chosen life's work. In the case of the WAVE, WAC, WAF and Woman Marine, both Officer and Enlisted, it means training in a field or various fields which can be used later in civilian life.

Women's components of all services have offices in Denver and are interested in interviewing young women who have the intelligence and patriotic spirit to serve well the cause of FREEDOM. Young women you have a place in the National Defense plan. It is your duty to give it careful consideration. In all honesty, the Armed Forces offer you a life of self-respect and achievement.

Be Happy-Go LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

Exams are coming round once more,
And cramming is the style—
But just the taste of Lucky Strike
Will guarantee a smile!

French Club Hears Reverend Schomer

Tuesday night the French Club met in Hayes House library. The Rev. Howard Schomer, who talked last week in chapel, spoke in French of the school in France where he has taught and where he will soon return. Illustrating his interesting talk with slides he described the school and the life of French students and the students from other foreign countries who attend this school.

There was then shown a movie of the Renaissance Chateaux of Loire Valley, followed by songs and refreshments. This was the last formal meeting of the club but a pique-nique francais a l' americaine is planned for the month of May.

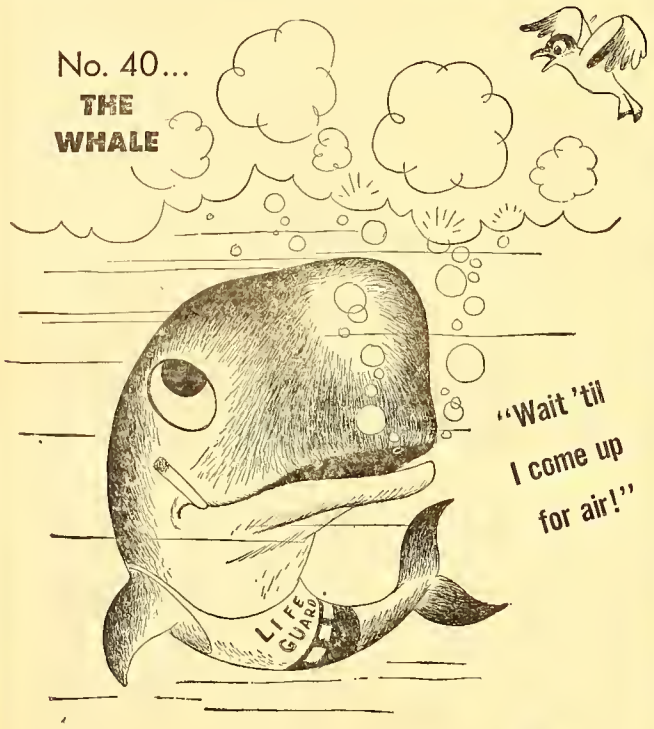
Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests



Poor guy was submerged in a veritable sea of cigarette tests! He didn't know whether he should "blow"—or just jettison the whole job! But he fathomed the matter when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness can't be judged in one quick spout! Millions of smokers have found, too, there's a thorough cigarette test!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

Annual IWA and Crown and Lance Picnic Coming Soon

Attention all Independent Students of Colorado College:

On May 4th the Independent Women's Association and Crown and Lance will hold their annual softball game and picnic. All unaffiliated students are invited to attend and to participate—there is no requirement to play softball.

The game will be played under the rules agreed upon by both groups. These are: shortened baso lines for the women, five outs to tbe men's three, and a 15 point lead. The men have agreed to run their bases backwards, and to bat with only one hand.This game is played for possession of the Golden Horseshoe, now in the possession of Crown and Lance.

Food arrangements are being made by Crown and Lance, with the exception of drinks. Theso are to be supplied by each individual. There is a charge of 10c per person which is to help in some degree to defray the cost of food.

All those attending will meet in front of Lennox by 2:00. Transportation will be provided from there. The site of the game will be announced later.

All who wish to attend may notify Mike Baltzer at Ma. 5728-R or June Murray at Gregg House not later than the evening of May first.

FRENCH CLASSICS OVER KRCC ON FRIDAY NIGHTS

"Masterworks of Franco" courtesy of the French Broadcasting System is presented each Friday evening from 8:00 to 8:30 over KRCC. Featured are the finest contemporary and ancient classical music of France. Included in the series are recordings of works from the 13th International Festival at Strasbourg and a first performance in three hundred years of compositions by Marc Charpentier.

Rev. Dick to Talk On 'Love and Marriage' Sunday Evening

Tigers Win Two "Close" Ones After Bowing at Golden

By RAY SCHERER

Good pitching and unexpected power at the plate sent the Miners back into their shafts last weekend as the Tigers notched two more victories in Rocky Mountain Conference competition on Stewart Field. The only drawback to a most successful baseball weekend was an unexpected loss at the hands of the Miners in Golden on Friday afternoon when the Tigers ran into a little bad luck and dropped their first decision of the year 11-10. But the diamondeers proved their worth on Saturday smashing the Orediggers in a double header 14-1 and 21-4. Both were seven inning contests.

A not surprising but pleasant item of note was that in both games Saturday the Tiger pitching staff held up to expectation of C.C. rooters as they went all the way and showed no strain. Dick Kennific was never in serious trouble in his seven innings; while Tom Dunton, with a commanding lead, had a tendency to let up, but only for an inning and then cama back to set the visitors down in order. Friday, the Tigers led 9-5 in the sixth lnning, but then old lady luck turned her head, and easy fly balls began dropping in four hits, routine ground balls went on through the infield, and the big sticks were lacking. So, the Bengals lost their first R.M.C. game as well as the first one of the young season. The record to date: three wins, one loss.

Saturday's opener was sewed up when, after the three leadoff men were safely on the base paths, Pinky Pearson smashed a grand slam hom run down the left field line for a 4-0 lead. That broke tha Miner's backs and it was easy from there.

In the nightcap homeruns by "Little Leo" Soligo, Ed Robson, and Jimmy Bergtrom drove in plenty of runs to make the outlook grim for the boys from Golden.

The Miners could not find a single pitcher in their group that could do anything with the Tiger batsmen as they used Phil Foster, Neil Harr, Lou Lombardo, and Charlie Baroch.

And here are the statistics for the last game:

Golfers Bow to CU Meet Regis Here in First Home Meet

The Colorado College golf team went down to defeat at the hands of the Colorado University Buff golfers in a meet held at Boulder, Saturday, by the score of 23-4. Although the score looks lopsided, the matches were all close with most matches being decided on the final holes. The match was the first of the season for the inexperienced Tigers, while the Buffs had already played a total of nine. The results were much better than last year's and prospects are for a much better season, in light of the play at Boulder.

The CC golfers take on Regis University this Saturday and prospects look good for the first golf victory in two seasons for Tiger linksters. The probable lineup will be: Bob Strang, Ken Simon, Dale Arie, Henry Royer, Chuck O'Conner and Bob Kroehnke, on the basis of last week's medal scores.

Backlund, 72, defeated Strang, 77—3 to 0.

Bodovitch, 79, tied Simon 79—1½ to 1½.

Billehus, 78, defeated Arie, 80—3 to 0.

Eldridge, 78, defeated Kroehke, 89—3 to 0.

Kettman, 82, tied Royer, 83—1½ to 1½.

Beel, 78, defeated O'Connor, 82—2½ to ½.

Tenny undertook to establish, as a part of Colorado College, the New West Theological Seminary for the professional training of ministers. The Reverend R. C. Cross tells how he stopped Tenny and the single student of this seminary as they were riding along a country road one day and begged leave to commiserate tha poor horse that was carrying on its back the entire theological department of Colorado College.

MINES CINDERMEN WIN IN QUADRANGULAR

BENGALS SECOND IN FIRST MEET; WESTERN THIRD; ADAMS FOURTH

By DON STONE

Colorado College lifted the lid on its 1952 track season by placing second in a quadrangular meet last Saturday with Colorado Mines, Western State, and Adams State. Colorado Mines romped to a win scoring 100 points with the Tigers their nearest contender with 54½ points. Western State copped third place with 42 points and Adams State was last with 27½.

Scoring for the Tigers was gained in the distances by Captain Carl Lawerence and Ned Pfeiffer; George Demos and Hugh Graham in the weights; Craig Richardson scored in the pole vault and low hurdles; Bill Clark, Bill Howell, and George Rushitsky were scoring sprinters; Ben Snyder scored in the broad jump along with Howell and also in the javelin.

Training and conditioning seemed to be the weak points for the Tigers in their debut, but Coach Thompson expects to have the team at its peak by conference meet time. New talent was uncovered in the intra-mural track meet giving the squad more strength which definitely rates it a strong contender for the conference crown.

Meet results:

CC

Colorado Mines	100
Colorado College	54½
Western State	42
Adams State	27½

Your college sports reporter Ray Scherer along with Ray Werner will be on hand this weekend for a play-by-play description of the CC-Colorado State conference baseball game from Stewart Field over "the voice of Colorado College," KRCC—FM.

Independents Win Intramural Track Meet In A Close Battle

Iron men Ned Pfeiffer, Bill Howell and Bill Clark, all due to work now with the Colorado College varsity, sparked their respective teams Thursday afternoon on Washburn Field as the Independent Men walked off with their first intramural track championship. Clark, a regular member of the CC hockey team, anchored the Independent's relay team to close a gap of 40 yards and give his team the 880 yd. relay medal and the team cup. He had previously won the 440 yd. dash and the 220 yd. dash to total 11¼ points.

High point honors were shared by Pfeiffer and Howell, each with 18¼ points. Pfeiffer's Phi Delta Theta fraternity finished third with 29 points, while Howell's fellow Beta Theta Pi members finished fourth with 25 points. They were trailed by the Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Chi fraternity, in that order.

In second place, hehind the Independents, was the Kappa Sigma fraternity, with 31½ pointe.

Pfeiffer, youngest brother of the former trio of CC track greats, won the mile run, the 880

The awarding of the Root-Tilden Scholarship to Dick Pfeiffer marks the second time in two years that a CC student has won the coveted award. Last year, Dick's brother Jack, brought the same honor to Colorado College. CC is batting 1000 in the scholarship competition since the school has only entered it twice. Both years the awards went to one student from CC and one from DU.

Publications Board Awards Plaque to Nancy Jones Monday

Members of the Publications Board and student staff members of the Tiger, the Nugget and the Kinnikinnik gathered Monday night at the Swiss Chalet restaurant for the first Publications Dinner. The dinner had a two-fold purpose; to promote discussion of plans for improvement of student publications and to present the first awards in the field of student journalism to be given at CC.

The G. K. Gaylord Award, a plaque donated by Mr. Gaylord, CC's most outstanding alumnus in the field of Journalism and which will be awarded each year to the undergraduate who has made the most outstanding contribution to CC publications went to Nancy Jones for her work on the Tiger and the Kinnikinnik. Chip Shaw was honored as the Freshman who had made the greatest contribution to CC publications. Chip's name was inscribed on a permanent scroll which will be hung in Lennox House.

Following the presentation of awards by toastmaster Bob Humphreys, faculty members on the Publications Board were asked to start off discussion on improvement of college publications. With almost everyone present entering into the discussion, various problems were presented and suggestions made for remedying them. Everyone felt that the discussion was very valuable and gave all those who work on the three publications an opportunity to voice their opinion.

Faculty members on the Publications Board who were at the banquet were Dr. Gray, Dr. Tom Ross, Dr. Scott and Mr. Simcock, college assistant treasurer. Joan Sheppard, new chairman of Publications Board, was introduced as was Nancy Wolfer who was chairman this year.

Colo.-Wyo. Acad. of Letters to Meet at Colorado College

The Colorado-Wyoming Academy of Letters, a group of teachers of Humanities will meet at Perkins Hall on May 10. The meeting will begin with the reading of interesting papers by the various members in the morning. The afternoon session will consist of entertainment.

All students who are interested in the Humanities are invited to attend either the morning or afternoon portions of the program. The morning session will begin at 9:30.

Special College Qualification Tests will be given May 22. Applications postmarked later than May 10 will not be accepted.

This special test is for students who for reasons beyond their control were unable to take the tests on previous dates. Applications can be obtained at the Registrars Office. New tickets of admission will be issued.

Harry Halsted Passes Away Tues. After Prolonged Illness

Harrison Halstead, 22, Colorado College junior, died Tuesday night at a local hospital after a long illness.

Elected president of the CC student body at the annual spring elections in April, Halsted had recently relinquished his duties as ASCC president and also as president of the college's Honor Council.

Son of Mrs. Clarissa Halsted of Honolulu, Hawaii, Halsted had been an outstanding student and athlete at Punahou High school in Honolulu and had come to CC on the recommendation of his football coach, Fritz Minuth, former CC alumnus and CC freshman football coach.

After entering CC in September, 1949, Halsted continued to establish a record as an outstanding all-around student. He received a part-tuition religious scholarship and worked at many part-time jobs throughout the campus to finance his education.

Halsted reported for spring football practice in 1950, but did not continue his football participation after complaining of a shoulder pain. He had been under medical care for the majority of this past school year, and when his name was placed on the ballot for Honor Council president and for ASCC president it was felt he would soon recover.

The CC junior was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at CC and had been an active member of the Grace Episcopal church.

Mrs. Halsted asked Wednesday morning that no flowers be sent and that any donations be made to Colorado College in young Halsted's name. No arrangements for the funeral have been made.

Harrison Halsted

Memorial services for Harry Halsted, who died Tuesday nite, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5:00 p.m. in Shove Chapel.

The Colorado College Choir will sing an anthem at the service. Members of the Choir are requested to report at 4:55 p.m.

Florey-Weiskopf To Head Nugget Staff Next Year

The Publications Board announced at the Publications dinner the appointment of Frank Florey as editor of the Nugget and Gil Weiskopf as business manager. Both will take over their new positions next year.

Frank Florey transferred to CC this year and is a Sophomore. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. This year, Frank has worked in an assistant editorial position on three sections of the Nugget and is well qualified for the editorial position. He is a resident of Colorado Springs.

Gil Weiskopf is in his junior year at CC and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is from Denver, Colorado. Gil has worked for three years on the advertising staff of the Nugget.

Positions of editor and business manager of the Kinnikinnik, CC's student literary magazine are still open and interested students are urged to submit applications for these jobs to any member of the Publications Board or to leave them in one of the publications boxes in Cutler Hall.

Job Opportunities For Graduates in Outstanding Firms

The office of the Director of Admissions announces the following job opportunities for young men seeking employment following graduation. Those interested may see Mr. Williams in Cutler Hall for further information.

The Ice Cream Division of Swift and Company is interested in employing young men interested in sales as a stepping stone to management. These positions offer opportunities for advancement.

The Arthur Fulmer Company, manufacturers of automobile seat covers is seeking capable employees in merchandising. The company offers complete training and no experience is necessary.

Graduates in Geology, Geological Engineering, Math and Physics are needed in seismic work. The Seismograph Service Corporation of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is offering good positions to qualified young men. These positions carry many worth while benefits for employees.

Young men seeking interesting summer employment will be interested in traveling sales jobs offered by the Mandeville and King Flower Seed Company.

NEW POLICY GOVERNING ABSENCES IN EFFECT NEXT SEPTEMBER AT CC

A new policy concerning class absences to replace the "cut" policy now in effect and to be inaugurated with the fall semester 1952, has been announced by President William H. Gill. The policy is the outgrowth of widespread dissatisfaction with the present system and a desire to produce a more equitable and workable solution to a knotty problem.

Many faults were readily apparent in the present system, some of which can be enumerated: Far too many absences; penalty hours meant in some cases that students who were doing good academic work were none-the-less dismissed from college due to too many absences; students who had piled up penalty hours in their under graduate years entered their last two years of college facing the problem of carrying heavier academic loads right at the time when they were supposed to be concentrating in their major fields of study; and, the system did not bring faculty, students, and administration together in trying to work out the causes for absence, and remedies for absence in the case of individual students.

The new policy is the product of a committee composed of faculty, administration and students. This committee consisted of Dr. Worner, chairman; Dr. Malone, Dr. Gray, Mr. Olson, Dean Adams, Dean Mathias, Miss Leslie Lockhart, Pat Gormley and Pat Muresen. This committe worked over a period of several months and collected many facts on the old system as well as writing to the Deans of twenty-two leading colleges to find out how they were attempting to solve the problem of absences.

The new system was drawn up and presented to the faculty and to the Student Council for suggestions and discussion. The Student Council approved by unanimous vote all sections except the section concerning holidays, which was approved by a vote of ten to two.

Upon the recommendation of the committee and the Student Council the new system was accepted by the faculty and administration and will go into effect next September. See page two for the new policy.

VA Reminds Vets To Follow Steps For Advanced Ed.

Veterans training under the GI Bill were reminded today by the Veterans Administration of steps they must take in order to move up from their present courses to courses at the next higher level.

First, said VA, they must apply for the advanced training either before they complete their current course, or within 30 days following its completion.

And second, they must go ahead with their additional training either within 30 days after finishing their present courses, or on the first day that enrollment of students in their new course is permitted—whichever is later.

The normal summer vacation period doesn't count as a period of interruption for veteran-students in colleges and other schools organized on a term, quarter or semester basis. A veteran, for example, who receives his AB degree in June, and who applies for graduate training in time, need not start his advanced course until the fall semester.

VA said its rules apply to nearly all veterans in training under the GI Bill: those discharged on or before July 25, 1947, who started their courses on or before the July 25, 1951, cut-off date, and who have been in training since except for certain reasons beyond their control.

Beauty Contest Deadline Is Now Extended One Week

The deadline on pictures for the Max Factor Beauty Contest has necessarily been extended to Tuesday, May 6. Pictures of the five finalists will be run in next week's Tiger and the winner will be featured in the Tiger the following week.

The winner of the campus contest will receive a beautiful pair of Paramount pumps presented to her by Kaufman's Shoe Salon. Her picture will be submitted to the national contest and she will have a chance to win the $1,000 scholarship and the $1,000 fund for her college as well as the trip to Hollywood and many other valuable prizes.

May 6 is definitely the final deadline and all pictures not submitted by that time will not be considered in the judging.

Graduate Record examinations will be given Saturday, May 3rd at 1:15 in Room 203, Palmer Hall.

Two Operas to Be Presented by Theater Singers

Two short American operas, sung in English, will be presented by the newly organized group known as the Theatre Singers, on the stage of the Fine Arts Center Friday and Saturday nights, May 2 and 3, at 8:30 o'clock. This is the first appearance in Colorado Springs of this group of singers who have been organized by Edalyne Bledsoe Burger, an alumnus of Colorado College, to produce operas in English.

The operas chosen for this occasion are Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Telephone" and "The Medium"—works which have been heard on the radio, and which have been produced with great success by several colleges in the East and Midwest. "The Telephone" is a great favorite with the men because it pokes fun good naturedly at the women who practically spend their lives on the phone. Words and music are gay and witty and the tunes are very catchy. "The Medium" has to do with a fraudulent spiritualist who meets with a strange, dramatic retribution. The two acts are full of haunting melodies and strong surprises. Together the two operas make a well-contrasted evening's entertainment.

Edalyne Burger, who takes the part of the medium, and who has directed the production, studied voice as an undergraduate at Colorado College where she took leading roles in the college productions of "Carman" and "Mignon." Arline Lewis McKinney, who is also

CLASS ABSENCES

I. The following policy concerning Undergraduate Absences from classes having been recommended by the members of the Student Council on April 7th and adopted by faculty action on April 21, 1952, is approved and published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

1. Students are expected to attend all classes regularly, and are responsible for class work and assignments whether present or not.

2. The college believes in giving to each student as much freedom as is consistent with his academic progress. However, if at any time an instructor believes that a student's work is suffering because of excessive absence, he may officially warn the student and report the fact of his warning to the Dean of the Lower Division, or to the Dean of the College as the case may be. At the time the warning is given the instructor should make clear to the student what the consequences may be if absence continues, and if it does continue, the instructor must report this fact to the appropriate Dean. The Dean, after careful review of the student's case, will prescribe a suitable penalty, which will be either such special probation as the Dean shall direct, or dismissal from the course. A student so dismissed shall receive a grade of "F" for the course.

3. It is the practice of the college to give a generous amount of time for vacations. Therefore, unless excused by the Dean of Women or the Dean of Men, any absence from the last meeting of a class immediately preceding, or from the first meeting of a class immediately following the Christmas or Spring vacations will result in such special probation as the appropriate academic Dean shall direct, or in dismissal from the course with the grade of "F".

4. Students who are absent at any time, and who wish to be excused, must obtain from the Office of the Dean of Women, or Dean of Men, a statement of the reason for the absence and must present this statement to their instructor. The Deans shall issue such statements only in case of illness on record, and in such emergencies which, in his or her opinion, constitute sufficient reason for absence.

5. The Dean of Women, or Dean of Men, shall not grant an excuse later than one week after the student's return to class.

II. The above policy is effective September 1, 1952.

WILLIAM H. GILL
President

IS RELIGION OBSOLETE?

Every Tuesday morning as I strain to hear the speaker through the rattle of newspapers I keep asking myself: What has happened to religion in our times? Is it something which has become obsolete? Do we all demonstrate in our personal lives that we have attained such a degree of harmony and perfection that religion is no longer necessary? What is to become of a group whose God seems to be money, property, and gross materialism? To all these questions there are of course many plausible answers. To me, however, the blame falls on the laxity of the American parent. Mother and Dad have too much to do now-a-days to be bothered teaching their children the fundamentals of common courtesy or with giving them more careful training in basic values. They say instead, "Send Johnny off to school and let them teach him." But, has the home a right to expect the school to succeed where it has failed? The early years in the home are the most formative ones. This as I see it is the basis of the indifferent and discourteous attitude of many students in chapel.

Do we always have to be entertained? Is it asking too much of anyone to give 30 minutes a week to quiet meditation or to listen to a speaker who perhaps might have learned something from his own experiences which might save us a few of the pitfalls of life? Certainly not all our speakers are worthy of the absolute indifference of the student body. Not even the throwing of rotten eggs could insult a speaker any more than facing a sea of newspapers and books as one does in Shove Chapel. The argument that students do not listen because the speakers are poor or because they speak on religious topics holds very little water. We have had some excellent speakers who have delivered useful and worthwhile talks—the majority of which have not been religious but secular.

But no matter who speaks, there is always that defiant group who continue to sleep, to read their newspapers, to write their letters, or to do their crossword puzzles. Disregarding the fact of whether the speaker is good or bad—the apalling thing to me is that here we have a group who appear to be absolutely lacking in the most fundamental characteristics of civilized people. They don't even seem to know what the word "courtesy" means—they have complete disregard for their neighbors who might be trying to listen (and I might add that contrary to the general opinion there are many who want to listen) and they rattle their newspapers or talk with their friends. Is it too much to ask of a person who is supposedly qualified to enter an institution of higher learning that he be courteous? When we attend church or any public gathering at home do we usually put our feet up on the seat in front of us or slouch around as if this were our only opportunity to sleep? Are most of us so pressed for time that the chapel service is the only time we have for homework? I ask anyone to check the dorms any evening and see how "busy" these same people are.

The argument is often presented that chapel should not be compulsory. I agree wholeheartedly with this argument. I realize that if a person has no interest in religion before he comes to college that it is a little late for anyone to try to "reform" or interest him in it. At the same time it must be recognized that we voluntarily come to Colorado College with the knowledge that chapel is required. If we don't want to subject ourselves to such a system then we have the privilege of selecting another college with a set-up more to our liking. But to come here and then in a rebellious, non-intelligent manner try to change Colorado College's policy is nothing short of being immature. There are more adult ways for college students to realize changes in policy.

We are here at Colorado College to gain the necessary knowledge we need in order that we may live happier and more useful lives but if we do not "get wisdom: and with all (our) getting get understanding" (Prov. 4) then I feel we have wasted four years. An accumulation of information will be of no use to us unless we know how to apply it in practical experience—how to live harmoniously with one another. Americans who have now been thrust into the position of world leaders must fortify themselves with and be prepared to offer their world neighbors something besides materialism. We must show the world that we are a spiritual people, that we realize in proportion to its reliance on God is a nation rewarded. It is for this reason that we ALL need some spiritual training. We should strive to approach our chapel service with a more positive attitude and enter there each Tuesday morning in a more humble spirit—with the feeling that in the next 30 minutes there is something to be gained not lost. Few of us have reached the point where we can afford to be smug or where there is nothing more we can learn. Reliance on God is not old-fashioned as reflected by the numerous declarations of faith being made daily by leading world figures on such a radio program as "This I Believe". T. E. Murray wrote in an article appearing in "Electrical Engineering" and republished in The Christian Science Monitor of April 19th these challenging statements, "Atomic bombs are only dangerous because some atomic men cannot be trusted . . . The crisis we face today comes from the greed of men and their will to power regardless of conscience. The responsibility for the crisis is a man's refusal to submit his behaviour to reason and to reason's God . . . The rising tide of paganism in the Western world will make our civilization cold and ruthless, as cold as interstellar spaces, as ruthless as atoms which smash each other . . . Let us never forget that we will have bought our conquest of matter at too high a price if it robs us of that humility which enables us to detect in every majestic scientific discovery the pathways and the laws marked out by the Divine Architect."

'THE LADY'S NOT FOR BURNING' TONITE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY IN PERKINS

Students, faculty and towns people will have an opportunity to attend one of the finest dramas of recent years on May 1, 2 and 3 when the CC players present Christopher Fry's prize-winning verse comedy, "The Lady's Not For Burning". The curtain will go up on what promises to be the outstanding student drama offering of the year at 8:15 p.m.

The scene of the philosophical comedy is laid in 15th century England, in the office of the chief magistrate of a small village. It is a day of great excitement for the town's citizenry is out en masse in persuit on an accused witch who takes sanctuary in the mayor's office. The confusion is increased by a young man who loudly demands that he be hung for two murders he professes to have committed so that his exit out of this "mortal coil" may be insured. To make things even more complicated, the magistrate's sister is anxious to clear up the difficulties so that she may announce the engagement of one of her sons to a lovely young lady against the protests of her other son who is likewise enamored with the same comely lass. These are all difficult situations to resolve without any bloodshed, but believe it or not, Fry manages to do so with much good humor and a great deal of sound philosophy. How he does so remains to be seen by those who attend the performance.

The play features a well-chosen and capable cast including both veteran student actors and neophytes to the stage. Starring in "The Lady's Not For Burning" will be Don Cooper and Ruth Mitchell with support from Rosie Musgrave, Tom Freund, Del Hitch, Judy Clave, Ted Boardman, Nick Galbraith, Gordon Spice, Andy Spiegel, and Dr. Tom Ross.

Students and faculty will be admitted by their student activity tickets. Admission for townspeople is one dollar and for servicemen fifty cents.

Tom Freund as Humphrey in "The Lady's Not for Burning," suggests an alternative to burning to Ruth Mitchell who portrays Jennett.

A German came up to an American soldier who knew no German and began gibbering into his ear so that it sounded like this:

"Das Hutenbuten is Verspoutenteuten alligemein Eisenbahn verspaltnichten."

The American tried to humor him.

"Oh really?"

"Nein," the German answered, "O Reilly".

A Scotsman had to send an urgent telegram, and not wishing to spend more than necessary, wrote like this:

"Bruises hurt erased afford erected analysis hurt too infectious dead."

Psychiatrist to sad-eyed patient: "My dear man, you have no complex. You are inferior."

The reason the Romans gave up their big holidays was because of overhead. The lions ate up all their prophets.

Phi Delts Win Pravince Award

Last Saturday, April 28, Colorado Beta won the "Daniel A. Millett Trophy", an award given annually to the best and most outstanding Phi Delta Theta chapter in this province.

The winning of this trophy was occasioned by the annual banquet and party held in Denver. In achieving this honor, Colorado Beta gained recognition over Phi Delt chapters in Wyoming, Utah, and New Mexico, in addition to the two Colorado chapters.

Mountain Day Huge Success

The long awaited Mountain Day has come and gone. Thursday, April 24 was declared as the all school sneak day and the school headed for the mountains for a day of fun and relaxation. Busses and cars provided the transportation and the day was well under way by 10:00.

Softball seemed to be the high light of the morning activities. The teams, formed by classes, battled it out for first place. The seniors were challenged by the juniors in an exciting game in which the seniors won by one run. The sophomores literally tromped the freshman with a wide margin for their victory. Faculty members took the painful task of umpiring the games. Volley ball games were held at the same time between the various classes.

After a morning of strenuous activities, the sandwiches and ice cream were welcomed. A good hour for lunch was set aside for everyone to gain enough strength for the afternoon events. The faculty took most of the honors after lunch. Two races were won by the faculty while the students took the three legged race.

The day ended around 3:30 with the sophomores and seniors tieing with the most points.

Day of Recollection To Be Oberved by CC Newman Club Sunday

The Colorado College Newman Club will hold its annual spring "Day of Recollection" on Sunday, May 4, at El Pomar. All students planning to attend are asked to meet at Lennox House at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Transportation out to El Pomar, in Broadmoor, will be provided.

Tickets for the retreat may be purchased from Joan Wittges, Joan Castellan, Gloria Lahr, or Cynthia Haymes, or out at El Pomar the day of the retreat. The price of the tickets, which includes breakfast, cokes and cookies, and dinner is $3.00.

Faculty Members Will Participate in Science Conference This Week

The Colorado-Wyoming Academy of Science, a part of the Southwestern Division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will hold its 23rd annual meeting at Colorado University May 1-4. The Academy sponsors a Research Foundation which attempts to increase the quantity and improve the quality of scientific investigation in the Rocky Mountain Region. The Academy is divided into nine sections of scientific study, and Colorado College is represented in three of these sections. Dr. Fox and Dr. Stabler will participate in the Zoology section, Dr. Malone and Dr. Carter in the Social Science, and Dr. Michel and Mrs. Grill in Chemistry.

Together Dr. Fox and Dr. Stabler will present a paper on a new species of fly upon which they are the first to report and describe. This new type of fly is wingless and is found only on bats. The species was first discovered by Dr. Stabler on a bat caught north of Divide, Colorado.

Dr. Stabler will also report on the curative effect of a drug called enheptin on a disease of the mouth

AWS Recognition Dinner to Be Held May 14, at Bemis

Tickets will go on sale next week for the annual AWS Recognition Dinner, in honor of senior women, to be held Wednesday, May 14, in the Bemis Hall dining room. The price of the tickets is 35c. Girls living on campus may purchase their tickets in their respective dorms, and the town girls will be contacted through the Town Girl's Club.

The theme of this outstanding event will be, "From Campus to Community," and Mrs. Tom Hylbom of Colorado Springs, will speak on that subject. Many awards will be presented to outstanding girls in the senior class.

All women students are urged to buy tickets soon, and to honor the graduating seniors by their attendance.

Delta Gamma Spring Formal Friday Night

The lovely Garden of the Gods Club will be the setting for the annual Delta Gamma spring formal to be held this Friday night. Dinner will be served at seven-fifteen with dancing from nine until twelve.

Sharing in the festivities as chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Taitt and Dean and Mrs. Burkle. Pat Hahs is in charge of the decorations.

Dr. Malane Gives Luncheon for Students

Cossitt took on the atmosphere of a small cafe in Chinatown April twenty-third when Dr. Carroll Malone played host to several modern European history students and faculty members. Dr. Malone provided the chopsticks and the instructions on how to use them. In addition to chop suey served in bowls, everyone drank Chinese tea scented with jasmine blossoms. During the course of the meal, Dr. Malone described Chinese rules of etiquette. The lunch ended when an assortment of nuts was passed —eaten, of course, with chopsticks.

Kappa Sigma's Weak This Week After Giving Blood

R.M.C. RELAY CROWN TAKEN BY IDAHO STATE

W.A.A. News

By CAROL RIVENES

The first half of the baseball tournament was completed last weekend. The Kappa-Theta game, Saturday, proved to be a last inning runaway for the Kappas. Theta's Ann Worner brought about a tie game in the fifth with a three run homer. In the sixth, with Jane Zerkowsky's strong hitting, the Kappas romped away to win with a score of 26-16.

On the same day the Delta Gammas, I.W.A. game ended in a tie, both teams with 16 runs. Dot Dern pitched for the D.G. team while Evelyn Cummins and Betsy Coxe held the same positions for the Independent women. June Hartwell pitched for Sally's Pains to give them a 31-17 victory over the D.G.'s.

The next day the Sally's Pains succumbed to the Gamma Phi

CC Grid Encounter With Denver Moved To September 19

DENVER (AP)—Changes in the dates of Denver University's first two home football games this fall were announced Saturday by Athletic Director E. E. Weiman.

The opener with Colorado College will be under the lights at D. U. Stadium Friday, Sept. 19, instead of Sept. 20. The second game at the Pioneers' home with Lowry Air Force Base will be Friday, Sept. 26 instead of Sept. 27. They will be the only night games at D. U. Stadium next season.

Weiman also said the game with Utah State at Logan has been set back to Friday, Nov. 21 instead of Nov. 15 as originally scheduled. The later time was set because of a schedule conflict, Weiman said.

Mines Win Second Place; CC Breaks Medley Relay Record

The Idaho State Bengals swept the R.M.C. relays at Golden last Friday night in a twilight meet under the lights. The Bengals from the Potato State scored 19 points and Colorado Mines ran a close second with 15 points.

The Tiger team took a first place in the medley relay for their only score. They entered two other relays but were disqualified after placing second in both; false starts and improper passing were the disqualifying acts. The medley win now holds the record in R.M.C. relays.

The C.C. trackmen journey to Greeley this Saturday for a meet with the Teachers from Colorado State. Workouts have been hampered this week by bad weather, but the tracksters will go on the field a stronger squad than in previous meets. Intramural stars will be competing for the first time for the squad and may give C.C. added points towards the honors of the meet.

A meet was scheduled on Wednesday of this week with Camp Carson and Lowery Air Base to give the Tigers a warmup for the meet this Saturday.

Netmen Get Caught By Pioneers Friday Restrung Saturday

Colorado College lost to the University of Denver's Pioneers at Denver Friday in a lopsided tennis match nine to nothing, then journeyed to the Springs Saturday to drop their second nine to one. C.C. picked up their only point in Saturday's match because Denver chose to default in the third doubles match.

The tennis Tigers, however, are leading the conference with a won one and lost none record. They go against Colorado State in Greeley Saturday, May 3, in quest of their second.

The racketeers wind up their season with the Rocky Mountain Conference tourney at Colorado State May 16 and 17.

TIGERS PLAY GREAT BALL FRIDAY; BLOW SATURDAY IN EIGHTH FOR TEN

By RAY SCHERER

In one of the tightest and best played baseball games in recent seasons, the Colorado College Tigers pulled through with a well deserved win over Colorado State Friday, 6 to 2. The second game, for the most part, was much the same type —that is for 7 innings. In the fateful 8th and 9th innings, the game proved to be only half over, as each team tried to give the conference affair to one another. The last two frames took close to two hours to wind up.

But back to Friday's masterpiece. Right hander Dick Kennefic, who was the winning pitcher for the Tigers, worked the entire nine innings and finished up practically as strong as he started out. He scattered six hits for the Bears and generally provoked good play. The entire outfit was a wonder to watch as they handled themselves like a bunch of veterans.

Again to Saturday's game which started out with all the aspects of a thriller. Tom Dunton, ace lefthander for the Tigers, and Milt Ardrey, a boy with a lot of stuff on the ball for the Bears, fought out a bitter pitching dual for the first seven innings, and then, as I have mentioned, the whole thing "went up for grabs." Dunton was relieved by Reg Lisowski, who is usually one of the most consistent pitchers as far as control is concerned, in the top of the eighth, and he blew sky high. Ardrey was pulled for Jake Labone, who followed in the foot step of Lisowski after Reg was through in that same disastrous inning. Wally Parus, regular second baseman for the Bengals, came in to snuff the rally after Llsowski, but he allowed two more runs to bring the grand total to thirteen.

It wasn't until the Tigers came to bat in the last of the ninth that they started to do somehing about it, and at that they didn't do as much for our cause as did the Bear pitchers. The Tigers started pushing the runs across, via the freepass route, to come within two of the Staters before Pinky Pearson was called out on strikes to close out the game four hours and seven minutes after the first pitched ball at 2 p.m. That last strike, incidentally, was the topic of some discussion after the game.

It is this reporter's opinion that pulling lefty Tom Dunton was a mistake. It's not hard to see that Coach Will Perkins plays percentage baseball, which apparently sometimes backfires; and who could tell that Reg would get his ears pinned back? On the other hand, to pull a boy who usually tends to bear down when the road gets rough seems to me to be a mistake. I'm second guessing of course, and otherwise bave a great deal of respect for Will's ability. I'm just opposed to such a move. Undoubtedly, "Perk" had his reasons, but they weren't easy to follow from the top of the hill.

Here are the statistics for Saturday's "track meet."

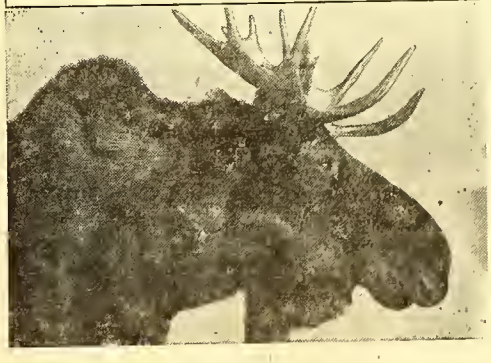
J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test


"YOUR HAIR looks as though it's been in the rein, deer," a campus Caribou told Sheedy. "If you want to horn in on the sororities, it might behoof a man of your elk to try Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's Favorite Hair Tonic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes moose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test!" Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now no girl wonders whether he's man or moose! If your moose is cooked by unruly hair, collect a little doe and take a taxi-dermist to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hair at the barber shop so your deer won't think you've let herd down. (What she'll say will be moose-ic to your ears!)

Bernard DeVoto Noted Critic Here Next Thurs.

Bernard DeVoto, famous literary critic, fiction writer and historian, will speak at Perkins Hall at 8:15 p.m. on Thursday, May 15. Sponsored by the Public Lectures Committee of the college, Mr. DeVoto will take as his subject, "Literature as a Profession". While the lecture is free, students and faculty must pick up tickets at the office of the Secretary of the college in Cutler Hall.

Although born and brought up in Utah, Mr. DeVoto went to college at Harvard and has continued to live in the East. His interest in the West has remained keen, however, and many of his novels and short stories have a western locale. His two notable historical works, both of which won the Pulitzer Prize, deal with the West. These are, "Year of Decision" (1846) and "Across the Wide Missouri".

As the literary executor of Mark Twain, Mr. DeVoto has done considerable work on that great writer both as a critic ("Mark Twain's America") and as an editor ("Mark Twain's Papers").

DeVoto is best known to many readers as the editor of the "Easy Chair" department in Harper's magazine, a post he has held for seventeen years. In the "Easy Chair" he holds forth on every subject imaginable. Some readers find him opinionated, but there is general agreement that he is always interesting and that he would rank high on any list of "most fascinating characters of our generation".

William Mitchell, '51, Participates in Latest Marine Atomic Tests

William R. Mitchell, class of 1951, now a Marine corporal, was one of 2,000 U. S. Marines taking part in the latest series of atomic tests at the proving grounds at Camp Desert Rock, Nev.

A member of the El Toro Marine Corps air station, Santa Ana, Calif., he along with other members of the group specialized in physical protection following the blast and in fire prevention.

Cpl. Mitchell enlisted in the Marine Corps in July, 1951, following his graduation in January, 1951. His older brother, Richard, is also a member of the class of 1951.

While at CC, Mitchell was a football letterman for three years and was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Outstanding Senior To Be Elected At "Symphony of Spring" Senior Prom

Getting into the swing of activities that close the school year, IWA is sponsoring "Symphony of Spring," a formal dance honoring the graduating seniors. The gala affair will take place May 10 from 9 to 12 at the Patty Jewett Golf Club. Red Borgman's band will furnish the music for this all-school dance, which is free to the seniors and only $1.50 per couple for non-seniors.

Voting for the most outstanding senior will take place at the door. Each organization has put up their candidate for the most outstanding member of the senior class. The candidates are: Nancy Wolfer, Gamma Phi; Lynn Jones, Theta; Pat Scott, DG; Ruth Hunt, Kappa; Bob Humphreys, Beta; Ned Mann, Phi Gam; Jim Hill, Kappa Sig, Jerry Dummer, Phi Delt; and Pat Gormley, Sig.

Come and vote for your candidate at the "Symphony of Spring" formal.

Professors of the Humanities to Meet At CC on May 10

This Saturday, May 10th, Colorado College will be host to the Colorado-Wyoming Academy of Letters, an organization of professors of the humanities in regional colleges and universities. A committee headed by Prof. Frank Krutzke has been in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Plans now call for the morning session to open at Lennox House at 10 o'clock with a brief welcome to the campus visitors from President Gill. Four papers, each approximately 20 minutes in length, will take up the balance of the morning program.

Six Beauties Chosen For Finals In Beauty Contest

Six lovely coeds have been chosen as finalists in the campus Max Factor contest and from this group will be selected the one girl who most typifies the fresh, young American girl. Her picture will be submitted to the national contest and she may be the winner of a thousand dollar scholarship and trip to California plus many other wonderful prizes including a one thousand dollar fund for her school.

A panel consisting of casting and directing personnel from the Alexander Film Company, after much serious consideration finally agreed that Judy Baker, Marge Else, Martha Kirtley, Mary Ann Harman, Joyce Gladmond and Debby Greiner had successfully "put their best face forward" and most typically personified the fresh American look. The panel was headed by Mr. George Brown, casting director for Alexander Film Co.

By next week, the connoisseurs of beauty will have selected the young lady whose picture will be sent to Mr. Max Factor for consideration in the national contest. She will be presented with a beautiful pair of Paradise pumps from Kaufman's Shoe Salon. At this point, the final decision is in the lap of the gods so be sure to look in the TIGER next week for the picture of the winner.

Drama Honors to Be Awarded to Ten by Pic and Pan Group

Pic and Pan, CC's honorary drama organization each year awards special honors to students who have made the most outstanding contributions to drama, debate, radio and publicity during the school year. Those chosen for these honors receive special honors medals designed by Pete Buchan and Professor Woodson Tyree several years ago. The medals are presented at the annual Pic and Pan picnic held each year at "Chief Tyree's" home at which time students who qualify for membership in the organization because of their contributions to drama, debate or radio activities are named.

Those receiving honors this year will also become honorary officers in the organization. Honors are awarded on the basis of seniority, services to activities of the organization over and above work done in connection with class assignments. Pic and Pan is essentially an active organization and only one actual meeting is held, the picnic in the spring. Therefore, membership and honors as well as executive positions are determined solely on the basis of work done for the organization. The burro, symbol of the organization, stands for good, hard work and service to the group.

Honors this year will go to, Jerry Ketchum, Kris Sinding, Rosie Musgrave, Don Cooper and Ruth Mitchell for work in drama. Bob Rhodes, Ray Scherer and Nancy Jones will receive honors for contributions to radio and publicity. Pat Gormley and Paul Evans will be awarded honor medals for debate. The Appolonian Award, an award of long standing at CC, which carries with it a monetary prize of $25.00 and is announced at Commencement will go to John Hawthorn for outstanding work in debate for the college.

The annual honors picnic will be held some time this month and all members of Pic and Pan will be notified through the mail of the date.

A MATURE EVALUATION

To those of us who plan to return next year, the cut policy is of second importance only to the draft. Though there seems to be no foreseeable cure to the draft problem, it appears that, at last, we have found a solution to our antiquated and impractical cut policy.

The new system is so constructed that it will work only if the students and faculty give it their whole-hearted support. The new policy will allow student-professor relationships to be based on an individual plane rather than on the old, impersonal basis. Of course, there will be abuses of the system, as there would be of any system, by a few students who are not mature enough to accept adult responsibilities. We believe, however, that, for the most part, the students are advanced enough to see the new policy as a good one and to accept it as such.

Some criticism has already been leveled at the looseness of the structure and the vagueness of many points of the new policy. It should be understood, however, that this was done purposely in order to promote a more personal relationship between professor and student. The disinterested, machine-like nature of the old policy offered no consideration to such individual relationship—relationships which are so vital to the health of a liberal arts college. All responsibility was removed from the hands of the professor, and many capable students suddenly found themselves no longer attending our school. The old system had no place on our campus and served only to promote dissension within the Colorado College "family."

Our new cut policy cannot be expected to be perfect, nor is it likely that there is, or ever will be, any such system. We do feel, however, that it is a step in the right direction. Only such a policy can further our aim for closer cooperation between students, administration and faculty. Through this kind of coordinated effort, the best interests of CC have been served and will continue to be served in the future.

MEMORIAL FUND

May 6, 1952

To the Students of Colorado College,

All of us have heard many suggestions as to what should be done to create a memorial to Harry Halsted.

The Grace Church Canterbury Club, of which Harry was a loyal active member, has voted to take the action suggested by Harry's mother—to make a donation to Colorado College with the request that it be used to help establish a scholarship in memory of Harry Halsted. This idea, of all those suggested, seems to us the most appropriate: Harry loved Colorado College; he was happy here; he was dedicated to and for the activities of the college. What more fitting memorial to Harry than in his name to enable a student to come here and perhaps to contribute to and to gain from the College as did Harry himself.

It is our hope that other persons and other organizations will promote this plan for a memorial scholarship through contributions of whatever amount, however small. For in doing so we feel that we will be doing something that would have pleased Harry. A scholarship student himself, Harry contributed something as a student and as a citizen through his unfailing courtesy, his willing activity and his eventual bravery—and we want to keep these contributions ever alive on the campus.

Sincerely yours,
Michael Strayer, President
Richard M. Fox, Faculty Sponsor
Canterbury Club.

Dear Foster Parents:

I want to thank you for the package you so kindly sent me. as well as for the clothes I received. I'm very happy to have gotten a pair of long pants—and the ahirt is so pretty.

I made an airplane with the help of my big brother, and it turned out very well. I have it in my room on my dresser.

The underwear fits just right, and I don't want to forget to thank you for the delicious candy.

Just now, I am at home for a few days. I hope to reurn to school soon.

I hope to go back to the farm in the country at Easter, where I went last year. The doctor says it will do me a lot of good.

I leave you now, dear friends, thanking you with all my heart.

Your friend,
Jean-Pierre

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

By SALLY LeROI

The big issue of the moment is the new CC policy on class absences. Many of you are violently hostile to the plan while others accept it as the adult, progressive policy it can be. Its loose wording makes possible a great deal of misunderstanding and misuse by those students and professors who follow the letter of the law rather than its spirit. Those students who are so opposed to the policy might do well to read it more carefully and not jump to the conclusion tbat the faculty is going to stab them in the back at the first opportunity. Granted there are many loopholes in its general statements which would allow uncooperative professors to completely defeat the policy's purpose—a closer relationship between the students and faculty of CC.

We, the student council, after much consideration and heated discussion, have come to a tentative answer to the problem. At least we are going to try to throw a little light on the subject. Each atudent council member will talk at length with several professors to get their personal views on the new cut policy. As the professors have a great deal of leeway in their individual execution of it, these conferences ought to give you a clearer picture of what they have in store for you next year. Although there is little chance that the cut policy can be altered radically, we do hope to bring about the understanding between the atudents and the faculty that its purpose will not be violated by either party but followed by both in a rational manner.

Other Notes:

Due to insufficient funds the Sonny Price award for activities will be purely honorary this year. In the future, however, the winner of this award will receive the monetary prize which has always been given in the past.

Several of the positions mentioned last week have now been filled. The Variety Show directors are Brook Kindred, Connie Cover, Gloria Townsend, and Paul Triche. Publicity director is Dick Hayes, and the business manager is Hiram Liggett. Gabe Duque is the new Enthusiasm chairman, and Derry Cowles will assist him. Larry Waddington was elected as prosecutor and Dick Hayes will be his assistant.

The offices of editor and business manager of the Kinnickinnick are still open, and applications should be given to Nancy Ferguson, Leslie Lockhart, or Joan Shepard by 5:00 p.m., May 8.

EISENHOWER-STASSEN TROUNCE DEMOCRATIC TICKET ON CAMPUS

Last week the political pot boiled over on the campus. Two mock political conventions were held, the Democratic on Tuesday night and the Republican on Thursday night. The candidates nominated by both conventions were then voted on by the various participating organizations in their meetings last Monday.

The delegates convened at each convention clutching votes, partisan convictions, and confetti in their respective hands. As the hours of politicing swept hy and the co-eds dormitory curfew approached, the delegates hecame louder, the floor cluttered with confetti, and the politicsl dealings more involved.

The Democratic Convention nominated Harriman for the presidency and Russell for the vice presidency. From the Republican Convention emerged Eisenhower for prsident snd Stassen for vice president. The voting last Monday revealed the Republican ticket of Eisenhower and Stassen ss the student's choice.

Out of sll the red tape and haggling of the political conventions and the elections students could feel that they had gained an insight into the workings of American politics.

Foreign Student Plan Provides Opportunity For Knowing the U. S.

There is s record-breaking foreign student population in U. S. colleges and universities, according to a report issued today by the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67tb Street, New York.

The current "census" conducted jointly hy the Institute and the Committee on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students, shows tbat well over 30,000 students from other lands are being trained this year in the United States.

Top countries, with the largest number of their young citizens studying here, are Canada, China, and Germany. The higgest jump in numhers over past years, however, is in the rapid increase in students coming from Asia, the Near East and Africa. There is only one European country (Germany) now among the "top ten" as compared with the four from Asia and two from the Near East.

Nearly 3,000 of the Chinese students tabulated have heen in the U. S. two or three years, and are unable to return to China today.

Another sign of the times is that nearly one-third of the 30,000 students are women.

Tbe Institute estimates that these students represent a financial investment of $75,000,000, working on the basis that total cost of travel, tuition, room and hoard for the average student is $2,500. Almost half of them are "scholarship students", receiving their training on funds provided by their governments, our government, private agencies, or by the colleges and universities themselves.

In distrihution, tbe foreign student population of the U. S. this year roughly corresponds to the total population. Witb beavy concentrations in New York and California, foreign students can be found in every state in the union. For sheer numbers, the most "popular" American schools among foreign students are the University of California, Columhia University, and New York University—eacb having over 1,000 foreign students in their student body.

Engineering remains the chief field of study for visiting students. However, while our engineering schools are the main drawing cards for Soutb Asians and Near Easterners, most European students are now coming for study in social sciences and the liberal arts. An interesting development this year is the fact that religion is among the top ten fields of study for the first time.

Applications Must Be in Today for Kinnikinnick Jobs

The Kinnikinnik, student creative magazine at Colorado College, still needs a new editor and business manager. The deadline for the applications is this afternoon at 5 o'clock, and applications should he turned in either to the Kinnikinnik box in Cutler hnll or to Joan Sheppard, chairman of the publication board.

Mnde up of student creative contributions in the fine nrts and of features pertaining to culturnl aspects of the college as a whole, Kinnikinnik has been puhlished by the students of CC for the past three years. It was only this year that the magazine attained equal rank witb the Tiger and the Nugget as a student publication, and its continued success depends on student editing and contributions

The duties of the editor are to appoint and delegate duties to staff members, to edit and make the final decision on the contents of the magszine, and to set up the finished

Anyone may apply for these positions; previous journalistic experience is not a definite requirement. Application should be turned in hy 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Gowles Lecture to Be Given Thursday Night, May 8 in Perkins Hall

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Cowles, well-known nlpinist and the only woman to explore the southern slope of Mt. Everest, will show colored pictures and several colored motion pictures of the recent expedition to Mt. Everest. The proceeds of this lecture will go to the Perkins Hnll project. The Woman's Educntional Society of CC during the last three years has spent a little over 28,000 dollars in rennovating Perkins Hall auditorium. Included in these expenditures have been the following: 1. The purchnse of the velvet curtains on the stage; 2. The purehnse and installation of lights on the stnge nnd in the nuditorium; 3. The enlnrgement of the stage; 4. A new ventilnting system; 5. Raising the floor of the auditorium; and 6. Decornion of the nuditorium.

Tickets for the lecture nt 8:00 p.m., Thursday in Perkins may be purchnsed at the music depnrtment office in Perkins Hnll.

Feudin', Fussin' And a Fightin'

The Kappa Alpha Thetas now have a beautiful show case of Phi Cam trophies. Monday night while the Sigma Chis were helping the Thetas wash dishes after their serenade, a few Thetas stole over to the Phi Gam house and looted the place. The Phi Gams didn't put up a fight because they were serenading the Delta Gammas. Among the stolen articles, the Thetas took a number of trophies, a flea bitten tiger rug, and the Phi Gam's most treasured possession, their penguin. Then . . . war was declared. The Phi Cams finding their possessions stolen, headed for the Theta house. All the girls were gone and the house was locked so they did little damage. They did manage to put a beautifully painted car of Don Linger's on the Theta lawn.

The next morning the Thetas had both the Phi Cams and Sig Chis to breakfast after their 6 a.m. ball game. As soon as the boys ate the Thetas out of house and home, they proceeded to drag each girl out and literally drench her.

Along with the Phi Cams, the Kappa Kappa Gammas are suffering the loss of their most treasured possession, the "milk wired and will throw any girl who finds it thirty feet, have not scared the Kappas. "If" the Phi Delts win the softball game on Sunday, May 11 they may have the milk can, but until then the Kappas will fight to the bitter end to retrieve the trophy that the Phi Delts so illegally stole.

Plans For Coming Year For QA Subject of Dinner Meeting

"With Steadfasterness of Purpose," was the theme recently used to keynote a day of discussion on counciling ability and problems, held at Bruin Inn, Saturday, May 3. The hall counselors and head residents for next fall were entertained with a program and luncheon planned and carried out by the Quadrangle Association. The idea of a counciling work shop originated last year as a solution for the need of a counselor training program. Into this one day in the mountains the essentials of good counseling were condensed. In order to present the material and to benefit from the exchange of ideas, small informal discussion groups, organized on a dorm basis, were utilized.

The agenda for this year's program included such topics as: What is a good counselor? What is a good hall council? and, What problems are apt to arise in the dorms? The highlight of the day's business was a skit presenting a "typical" hall council meeting, in which all possible attributes of a good meeting were violated.

The committee on arrangements was headed by Marion Johnston. The program planning committee included: Janet Adams, chairman; Mrs. Barkalow, Kris Sinding, Hank Harris, and Ann Pinkney. The group discussion leadera were: Ann Pinkney, Gail Lund, Louise Bohanon, Liz Huggins, and Georgia Shaw. The group reporters were: Diane Ashe, Crace Jack, B. J. Croves, Derry Cowles, and Jean Watson.

The luncheon and the beautiful surroundings aided in making it an enjoyable as well as profitable day for all who attended.

can". This trophy was won fair and square from the Phi Delts last spring in a softball game between the Kappas and Phi Delts. Now, two weeks before this year's ter hose and three Phi Cams to game, they invaded the Kappa house and stole it.

The Kappas were having song practice when the Phi Delts arrived, but went on with their anging while the boys searched for the milk can. The can had been wrapped in a box and mailed from the Colorado Springs post office to the house. It was addressed to a former CC girl and it was out in plain sight. Realizing that something was fishy, the Phi Delts took off with the package. A law suit should be brought against them for opening someone else's mail.

The Kappas, after working up some courage, headed for the Phi Delt house to retrieve their trophy. The Phi Delts, using unfair methods as usual, met the Kappas with weapons of water hoses, rotten eggs and jars of jam. The girls losing the first battle, are now setting up plans to attack the Phi Delt house. Hints from the Phi Delts that the milk can is

AWS Recognition Dinner To Be Held Wed., May 14 in Bemis

The annual AWS Recognition dinner honoring senior women will be held next Wednesday, May 14, in the Bemis Hall dining room. Carrying out the theme, "Open Door to Opportunity," Mrs. Tor Hyblom, prominent Colorado Springs resident and president of the Colorado State League of Women Voters will speak on "From Campus to Community." Highlighting the evening will be the recognition of various outstanding senior girls. Dean Morgan will present the awards to eight outstanding senior women in activities, scholarship and general participation. Miss Morgan will also present the Ann Rice Memorial award to an outstanding girl in the sophomore class. The award was established last year by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rice of Glendale, Calif., in memory of their daughter, Ann, who died suddenly st the first of the 1950 school year.

Following these awards will be the presentation by President Gill of the scholarship award to the senior girl attaining the highest scholastic average. Miss Dorothy Dickie will then present the Women's Athletic Association awards, recognizing outstanding senior women and the outstanding sorority in athletics.

After the presentation of awards, Emily Howe, newly elected president of the Associated Women Students, will introduce the new AWS board.

The guests of honor in addition to all senior women include General and Mrs. William Gill, Dean and Mrs. George W. Adams, Dean Sallie Payne Morgan, Dean and Mrs. Howard Burkle, Mrs. Louise Fauteaux, Dr. and Mrs. Roger Whitney, Miss Lorena Berger, Mr. Philip Stewart, Mrs. Hartley Murray, Miss Dorothy Dickie, and George Abbott, student body president.

Tickets for the dinner are 35c, and may be purchased, by girls living on campus, in the dorms. Town girls will be contacted thru the Town Girls' Club, and may buy their tickets from Peg Charlson.

Trackmen Fall Before Potent C-State Saturday

It was a weekend of defeats for the Colorado College Tigers, barring the 12-10 baseball victory, as the track team fell before a powerful Colorado State aggregation 80 to 51.

The Bengals, nevertheless took firat in six events and were led by Bill Howell, who won the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Other winners for CC were Bill Clark in the 440, Carl Lawrence in the two mile. George Demos in the discus, and the quartet of Pfeiffer, Savage, Anderson and Clark in the mile relay.

High point honors for the meet were divided between two C-State men, Martin Schmidt and John Lamat. Each had 13 points. Bill Howell was the high point man for the Tigers as he compiled 10.

The summary:

Dunton Pitches Two Hitter Fri. Win 7-1 and 12-10 Saturday

By RAY SCHERER

Behind the two-hit pitching of lefthander Tom Dunton and with fourteen hits by Tiger batsmen, Colorado College clung to a contending berth in the Rocky Mountain Conference with a 7 to 1 victory over Western State College in Gunnison Friday. Dunton was never in trouble as he led his mates to their sixth conference win getting two hitts himself.

in the well played contest Dunton, in addition to giving up but two hits, fanned eight and walked five. The seventh win was to follow Saturday.

Leading the hit parade Friday, along with Dunton were Wally Parrus and Jimmy Bergstrom with three for five, and Ed Robson with two for five. Tom Reichart, Leo Soligo, "Pinky" Pearson, and Steve Leolich each got one. Incidentally, Leolich got the only Tiger extra base blow, a double in the eighth inning.

The Tigers bopped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning on Bergstrom's single with two on, and the Bengals were never really in doubt from that point on. They picked up another tally in the second frame before Western State got their first and only run which came on a walk and a triple by Tanner.

For the Tigers, Saturday seemed to be a bad day, and this past Saturday afternoon started out to be no exception. Western State held a 10-6 lead going into the ninth inning, and the outlook was dark for a seventh conference win. Fred Eastwood opened the ninth with a walk, Kennefic singled to left, and Lisowski's double scored Eastwood and Kennefic. There was one away and Robson beat out an infield hit. Bergstrom singled to score Lisowski, and with the score 10 to 9 and two men still on for the Tigers, Boucher came to the plate. Smack—the distance of the line drive was something to see. It was three more runs for the Bengals and the Saturday jinx was a thing of the past.

Kennefic was the starting CC pitcher, Lisowski came in the sixth, but Coach Will Perkins, seeing that Kennefic was having a field day at the plate, moved "Herk" to right field. This idea proved to be good judgement, for in the ninth Lisowski ran into trouble. Dick came in from right to reassume the mound chores, and

SIXTH INVITATIONAL GOLF TOURNEY HERE

CC HOST TO TEN SCHOOLS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY IN ATTRACTIVE MEET

Colorado College's sixth annual invitational golf tournament, rapidly becoming one of the most attractive invitational golf meets in the nation, is scheduled on the Broadmoor Golf Course for Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10, it was announced today by Juan Reid, CC director and instigator of the tournament in 1947. Staged in cooperation with the Broadmoor hotel, the meet is expected to attract a record entry field, with ten schools already indicating their intentions of attending.

Heading the list of entries will be the defending champion Oklahoma University squad, winners in 1951 and 1949.. Hottest competition is expected from Denver University, 1950 and 1948 champs, and from Colorado University, 1947 winners.

In addition to Oklahoma and CU, entries from the Big Seven, North Texas State, NCAA champions the last three years, is entered.

Accompanying DU from the Skyline conference will be Wyoming U. and Colorado A&M with New Mexico U. entering for the first time. Host school Colorado College and Montana State will be the only entries from the Rocky Mountain conference. Regis college of Denver will again be an independent entry. Medal play will be held Friday and Saturday on an 18-hole route each day, with the four lowest team scores to count.

Coeds from the host school will serve at a special buffet luncheon on Saturday, May 10, in the Broadmoor Golf Club. Robert Meek, Oklahoma medalist of last year's tournament, will be back to defend his title.

The WAA picnic will be held next Tuesday, May 15, for all sports heads and board members.

Most of the final baseball games were played last weekend, thus nearing the end of the tournament. Saturday showed two losses for tha IWA team and the Kappas and the Gamma Phis wera victorious.

The first game, Kappas vs. Independents, ended with a score of 26-11 and the Gammas Phis won 24-5.

The Delta Gammn team picked up two wins on Saturday. They defeated the Kappas, 18-12 and the Thetas 34-14.

Sunday there was an exciting game between the Kappas and Sallie's Pnines. The latter team was leading throughout the first four innings but when tha Kappas stepped up to bat in the last inning of the game, they came through to win 14-13.

Also played on Sunday was the game between the Gamma Phis and the Delta Gammas, with the the Gamma Phis winning 3-1. A Theta-Gamma Pbi game was scheduled but the Thetas were forced to forfeit.

scoring. Pitchers for the Independents were Jack Wilber and Peter Kosick.

The Phi Gams defeated the Sigma Chis this Tuesday 16-8 in a close game until the bottom of the sixth when the Phi Gams batted in seven runs to win the game. It was a pitcher's duel in a sense with Phi Gams Glen Scarcia allowing nine hits and Sig Chis Pat Gormley giving up 10 hits. The victory was hinged on errors with three errors for the Phi Gams compared to ten for the Sigma Chis.

Vol. LV, No. 29 Colo. Spgs., Colo., Thursday, May 15, 1952 Colorado College

Dr. Mark Skidmore Resigns Dr. Henry Carter Appointed

The retirement of Dr. Mark Skidmore as head of the Foreign Language Department at Colorado College, and the appointment of Dr. Henry Hare Carter as his successor, was announced today by President William H. Gill. Dr. Skidmore, who has been voted the title of Professor Emeritus of Romance Languages, expects to remain in Colorado Springs.

A native Missourian, Dr. Skidmore received his undergraduate education at the University of Missouri graduating in 1905. After two years in the Graduate School of the University of Illinois, where he won the Master of Arts degree in 1909, he continued his graduate study at Columbia University and ultimately received the Ph. D. from that institution with a thesis entitled "Moral Traits of Christian and Saracen as Portrayed by the Chasons de Geste".

Dr. Mark Skidmore

Dr. Skidmore spent three years as a public school teacher in Missouri (1905-1908) but after receiving his Master's degree transferred to college teaching and was instructor in Spanish and French at Dartmouth College. He left there in 1913 to become assistant professor of French at the University of Kansas and in 1917 joined the faculty of the University of Arizona. He came to Colorado College as professor of Romance Languages in 1920. His long career at the local college was broken by four years in South America.

Mrs. Skidmore is as well known in Colorado Springs as her husband, since she was for many years a teacher in the Colorado Springs High School.

Dr. Henry Hare Carter who succeeds Dr. Skidmore as Professor of Romance Languages and as Head of the Foreign Language Department, comes to the College from the faculty of DePaul University. His teaching career has included varying periods of teaching at the University of Pennsylvania, Northwestern University and the United States Naval Academy.

He received both his graduate and undergraduate education at the University of Pennsylvania and holds the A. B., the A. M. and the Ph.D. of that institution. He has spent one summer each as a graduate student at the Universities of Rome, Madrid, Paris and Lisbon. Although trained in all the Romance Languages, Professor Carter has done most of his teaching in Spanish and most of his research in Portuguese. Most of his writings have been of a scholarly and critical nature and have been concerned primarily with medieval literature.

Professor Carter spent several years in the service of the United States. From 1943 to 1945 he was an officer in the Navy, serving a part of that time as Flag Secretary to the Chief of Staff of the Tenth Naval District at San Juan, Puerto Rico and in 1944-1945 he was Liaison Officer with the Submarine Service of the Brazilian Navy at Recife, Brazil. After the War, he spent a year as Cultural Attache of the State Department at Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Dr. Henry Carter

While in Brazil, Dr. Carter met and married Gloria-Maria Castello-Branco de Couvevia. The Carters are the parents of two children, Bruce aged four and Christine, aged two. They expect to move here from Chicago about September 1st.

Last Vocational Guidance Dinner This Thursday

The last of the Vocational Guidance Dinners will be held Thursday, May 15, in Bemis Hall. The Psychology Department will be represented to wind up the year's activities. Men students interested in learning about psychology as a possible major are invited to attend the meeting in Bemis Commons at 6:45. These dinners and the discussions afterwards have been very helpful to all who have been undecided as to their college majors.

Pic and Pan to Hold Breakfast Sunday to Present Honors Pins

Student members of Pic and Pan drama organization chosen for honors in drama, radio and debate will be entertained at a breakfast Sunday morning at 8:00 at the home of Professor Woodson Tyree. At this time they will be presented with special honor medals in recognition of their outstanding contributions to activities of the group.

Students who will be honored at the breakfast are: Ray Scherer, Rosie Musgrave, Bob Roades, Don Cooper, Ruth Mitchell, Jerry Ketchum, Kris Sinding, Nancy Jones, John Hawthorne, Pat Gormley and Paul Evans. Invited guests include Dr. Evan Scott, Dr. Ray Werner and Mrs. William Murray.

Rumor hath it that pancakes smothered in Southern sorgum plus the trimmins will be served. Another outstanding barbeque is on tap for all new and old members of Pic and Pan next week.

Correction

The listing in last week's TIGER of Stassen as the student choice as vice president was incorrect. Warren was nominated and elected as vice president with Eisenhower as President.

CC To Have ROTC Unit Beginning Next Semester

Colorado College officials termed the approval of the ROTC unit one of the greatest single events in the college's 77-year history. Educators, meeting together during the past year to discuss problems created by the selective service and the resultant drop in enrollments, have been led to believe that th present emergency creating such problems must be treated not as a 5-10 year emergency, but more like a 25-50 year situation. This makes an R. O. T. C. unit even more important to the survival of a college today.

President Wm. H. Gill breathed a sigh of relief as he received the phone call from the War Department in Washington, D. C., Tuesday morning. The CC prexy has been hard at work in his efforts to obtain a unit for the local college since he was first named president in December, 1947. Disappointed when CC was left off the list of the 62 air force units assigned in 1951, Pres. Gill did not give up, but continued his correspondence and travel in pointing out the benefits of Colorado College to the War Department.

The CC head is not new to ROTC units, having served as head of the infantry unit and professor of military science and tactics at the University of California from 1930-1940.

All male U. S. citizens enrolled for the first time at CC next year, who pass the physical requirements, will take the basic freshman and sophomore course. The advanced course will be elective. During his college career, the ROTC man who remains in good standing will be exempt from the draft.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the entire program is the general nature of the unit, offering choice of service in the army to the individual. Upon entrance into his senior year at CC the student names his choice of type of service. Following graduation from CC, at which time he receives his second lieutenant's commission in the army, the student then enters this type of service, if no emergency exists. If no emergency exists at the time, the graduate merely becomes a commissioned member of the reserve, not on active duty.

Dean H. E. Mathias, director of admission at CC, indicated that while the enrollment picture for male students at the college appears much better now than at the same time last year, the announcement of the R.O.T.C. unit is certain to have a healthy effect on the plans of prospective students.

Dr. George W. Adams, dean of the college, cited the faculty of CC for giving its wholehearted approval to the measure. "Our faculty has voted to grant two hours credit each semester for the basic freshman and sophomore course, and three hours credit each semester for the advanced junior and senior course."

Dr. Thomas H. Rawles, treasurer of the college, indicated that the college expected the army to set up the unit and its facilities on the campus this summer. He pointed out that the college buildings and grounds provided ample space for classroom work, outdoor drills and exercises and space for equipment.

Colorado College is not inexperienced in handling service units. CC was cited following World War II for outstanding service in conducting a U. S. Navy V-12 unit from 1943-1946.

Thirteenth Annual Song Fest To Be Held Monday at Shove

The annual song fest is one of the most prominent traditions at Colorado College. The first song fest was called an Intra-mural Song Contest. It was held on the steps of Palmer on the evening of May 22, 1936. It opened the spring music festival which was held the following week. Eight groups participated and the winners in the first contest were Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Delta Theta. Six years later, traveling trophys were awarded for the first time.

The tradition of the song fest has grown. Last year it was attended by nearly five hundred people. The trophys, signifying first place, were awarded to Gamma Phi Beta and Phi Delta Theta. Carol Fisher and Al Mathias were the song directors for the winning groups.

This year the song fest will be held May 19 at 7:30 p.m. at Shove Chapel. Eight groups are entered in the competition. The program includes folk tunes of Swedish, Scottish, American, and African origin. At the close of the program traveling trophys will be awarded to the winning organizations. Immediately following the program there will be a reception at Lennox House. At this time Mr. Tyree will play his tape recording of the program.

Another recording of the song fest will be put on wax. Anyone interested in buying a record of it will have an opportunity to do so.

The song fest here at Colorado College is sponsored by the Associated Women Students. This year De De Staskal is chairman of the event. Song leaders of the various organizations are Connie Cover, Paul Trietch, Betty Lou Cunther, Al Mathias, Mary Ann Graham, Daphne Kinsey, Gene Swank and John Munger.

Annual Dance Concert To Be Presented at Fine Art Center May 22

Colorado College's annual Dance Concert, staged by the members of the regular college dance classes and the evening laymen's class and directed by Molly Lynn, will be held in the theater of the Fine Arts Center at 8:30 on the night of May 22.

One of the highlights of the college's extra-curricular entertainment program, the elaborate dance concert is staged in cooperation with the college music department. Among the three numbers to be presented by the music department, the feature work will be a new composition by David Kraenbuehl and Charles Burgart, a student of composition. The two will be heard performing their own composition at the twin pianos. Also on the program is the famous two-piano Stravinsky sonata, which was performed with such great success during the college's regular winter concert series.

Complete choreography for the concert has been done by Molly Lynn, director of the CC dance classes and former student of Hanya Holm in New York. The CC dance instructor will also appear in the concert in a small role as dancer.

Tickets for the concert will go on sale at Their Book Shop on Monday, May 12.

DeVoto Speaks At Perkins Hall Tonight at 8:15

One of the top attractions of the season will be presented tonite in Perkins Hall when Bernard De Voto speaks on "Literaturo as a Profession". Mr. DeVoto is being presented under the auspices of the college Public Lecture Committee.

Mr. DeVoto has two notable historical works to his credit, both of which have won Pulitzer Prizes and deal with the West. These are: "Year of Decision" (1846) and "Across the Wide Missouri".

DeVoto is best known to many readers as the editor of the "Easy Chair" department of Harper's magazine, a post he has held for seventeen years, and from which he holds forth on every subject imaginable.

The lecture is free, but students and faculty must pick up tickets at the offiee of the Secretary of the College in Cutler Hall.

CC CHARITIES

After last week's chapel program, the Student Body voted on the charities which they wish to support during next year's Campus Chest Drive. The results, given below, will be used by the committee in setting quotas and percentages for next year's drive.

The committee hopes that the student body will live up to the promises they made when casting their ballots for charities. If every student cooperates next fall, the Campus Chest Drive can be the most successful in CC history. However, without the help of every student, the drive will be a failure, hardly wortb the time spent on it. We feel that if each student is sufficiently informed as to the importance of the drive and its member agencies, we cannot help but succeed. We intend to do our best; we trust that you will do yours.

PORTRAIT OF A COLLEGE MAN

By BERT STILES

He came to college from Grand Rapids, or was it Denver, or Pittsburgh, Chicago, L. A., or just Colorado Springs itself. He's a junior now, or sophomore-senior-freshman. He's handsome maybe even beautiful, or probably just medium ugly like most college boys. The important thing is he's in college.

He takes M. & M. history, Ec. History, Biology, or Psych-Soc and Ec. He might even look at the models from one-thirty to four every afternoon at the Art Center. The important thing is he takes courses in Palmer Hall, Hayes House, the Art Center. He is exposed to learning.

He has a girl who hails from Council Bluffs, Peoria, or San Bernadino. She is short and sweet, tall and cool or just commonly attractive like most other college girls. She may not be good looking: but she's got something. These two, this boy and this girl, go to shows, dance together at an Apache-Bowery-South Sea Island Dance. They woo on the steps of the little house on Stewart Field, or the Art Center, or or in front of the Chapel just as it lights up for eight-thirty. They have to run to get in on time.

This college man ardently claims to all bartenders he is twenty-one, though he left his registration card at home. He ardently proclaimed himself for Wilkie, mostly because his dad has some dough and figured if Roosevelt got in he would stand to lose most of it. This college man ardently proclaims himself for many things, without thinking too hard or too long on any of them. He is for a big army and reduced taxes and other incomprehensible combinations. He is for cheaper theatre tickets, cheaper cigarettes and better cokes at Murray's. He is for more parties and better lectures, and beautiful women. He would like better chapel speakers; but would probably sleep through most of them anyway. He has no faith in tbe government economists under the Roosevelt administration: but falls asleep in economics. He may belong to the book of the month club: but most likely he doesn't. He reads almost no novels unless he takes a lit course. He reads "Life" and the comic books, and looks at the "New Yorker" and always the "Esquire." The important thing is he does proclaim himself for some things, he does read a little, he does do a little thinking. This college man may develop.

Depending upon where he come from this college man wears sweat-shirt and saddle-shoes, sport coats and doe-skin slacks, black sweaters and cords, dirty white shoes and numeral sweaters, fingertip coats and ankle high drawers. The important thing is he wears and buys clothes and wishes he had more money to buy and wear more of them.

He is our college man. He lives in the great age of change. In his day he will see a new world arise out of the destruction of the old. Yet it touches him very little. If he gets his loving, his drinking, his lying on the lawn in the prespring sunshine he is all right. He has a mind: but it doesn't work overtime. Really he is pretty much animal, eating, drinking, sleeping, going through the preliminaries to mating. But the important thing is that he is a very nice fellow with a great many possibilities and capabilities, and perhaps sometime in his journey through his institution he gets fired up, inspired, touched-off. Then he has a world at his feet, for it is a big world crying for men who can think and do. This college man may someday be something. It is very possible. Stiles and his contemporaries of 1944. War is impending, our lives are in balance under the threat of war and we still have our movies, classes, parties, and Tuesday morning Chapels.

Some of us may soon give up our lives to prevent a "change" as did Burt Stiles.

Most of us will emerge from Colorado College into a world where we will have to fight to preserve our way of life. It is encouraging for those of us who believe in what we have, that Burt Stiles and his contemporaries have succeeded in preventing "change".

Has 'Change' Come to Colorado College?

In this "Tiger" is a reprint of an article written by Burt Stiles when he was a student here. Stiles majored in English at Colorado College and went on to write in New York City prior to his joining the armed forces. His only book, on his reflections during the war, "The Big Bird" was recently posthumously published in this country.

Throughout this year at Colorado College we have seen our controversies over Chapel, courses, sports support, and social life reflected in the "Tiger". We live in the so-called revolutionary era of "change"; yet we have not caused any revolutions on the campus. We feel that our's is the decisive, dynamic age at Colorado College, but have we or do we really want to change the essence of what it means to be a student at Colorado College. This era of which we are a part appears to be basically little different from that of Bert

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

By SALLY LeROI

The student council again had a spirited discussion of next year's cut policy. Council members each interviewed members of the faculty last week, asking for their personal views on the policy. According to their findings the council feels that the new system will work quite well and although there are bound to be problems at first, they will be ironed out without difficulty.

Cynthia Haymes and Mary Jeanne Perenyi have been elected to joint editors of The Kinnikinik for next year. Hyram Liggitt was re-elected to the post of business manager.

Bill Jobe was elected vice president of A.S.C.C. to fill George Abbott's position. George was elected to serve as president.

Anyone who is traveling in Europe this summer and who would like to visit Jon Pierre, our foster child in Belgium, please contact Joan Shepard.

Debby Griener CC's Choice For Factor Beauty Contest

An impartial panel of experts from Alexander Film Company have selected Miss Debby Griener as CC's candidate in the Max Factor Coed Beauty Contest. Debby's picture has been sent to Hollywood for consideration along with hundreds of others from college and universities all over the country. If she is selected as the American coed who best personifies the fresh, young American look, which Mr. Factor believes makes American college girls the most beautiful women in the world, she will be the recipient of dozens of valuable prizes.

In the event that Debby is chosen winner of the contest, she will receive a $1,000 scholarship and a fund of $1,000 for her college to be used in any way it decides. She will also enjoy an all-expense-paid trip to Hollywood for herself and her mother. Debby undoubtedly has a very good chance of winning the national contest and bringing another honor to Colorado College (Barbara Harvey Esdon triumphed over all contenders in the national Esquire Girl contest last year).

As winner of the campus contest, Debby will be presented with a lovely pair of Paramount pumps by Kaufman's Shoe Salon. She was one of five candidates submitted to the campus contest by Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Miss Debbie Griener

The very small boy came home dejectedly from his first day at school.

"Ain't goin' tomorrow," he sputtered.

"Why not, dear?" his mother asked.

"Well, I can't read, and I can't write, and the teacher won't let me talk, so what the heck's the use?"

Change in Chapel Programs

There has been a slight change in the Chapel program for the remainder of the year. May 27th will be a program devoted to the celebration of Memorial Day, rather than a talk by Alfred Heinecke as planned earlier. Mr. Heinecke will be heard a week earlier (May 20). At the conclusion of Mr. Heinecke's talk, Dean Reid will discuss the new regulations concerning educational deferment from the draft.

Wolfer and Gormley Elected Outstanding Seniors at Prom

The Patty Jewett Club was the site of the annual Senior Prom sponsored by the IWA. The all-school dance honoring the seniors was held last Saturday night, May 10. Dancing was from 9 to 12 and the music was furnished by Red Borgman's band.

"Symphony of Spring" was the theme of the prom and miniture graduating hats were given as favors. Nancy Wolfer and Pat Gormley were elected as the outstanding seniors. Paul Evans, president of Crown and Lance, presented them with gifts.

Chaperones of the dance were the Carter's, Boyce's, Vickie Hahn and Dr. Leach. The Crown and Lance sponsors, Dr. and Mrs. Curran, were also present.

Jimmy was assigned by his teacher to write a composition about his origin. He questioned his mother.

"Mom, where did Grandma come from?"

"The stork brought her."

"Well, where did you come from?"

"The stork brought me and you too, dear."

So the small modern wrote as the introduction to his composition: "There have been no natural births in our family for three generations."

Gabe Duque Elected New President of Phi Delta Theta

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity held elections for next semester officers which are as follows:

Gabe Duque succeeded Ted Gould as president of Phi Delta Theta. Eddie Craig was elected to replace Gabe Duque as vice-president. Clint Cole succeeded Karl Nelson as secretary. Ned Pfeiffer replaces Dick Taylor as treasurer. Brook Kindred is the new warden and song chairman.

Fijis Hold Truce Party for Thetas

Last Thursday at 5:00 p.m. the Phi Gams gave the Thetas a truce picnic over at the Phi Gam house. The Thetas marched over with all the Fiji trophies and what not that they had collected during the week. After a delicious picnic supper on the Fiji lawn, the Thetas and Fijis played volley ball and dodge ball. Art Patterson, the Phi Gam social chairman, and Peggy Root, the Theta social chairman, announced that the fighting would cease until some time after comps, and that the next fighting will consist of a search for the Fiji's penguin, which Art and Peggy will hide.

CLUBLICITY

KAPPA

The Kappas will hold a breakfast in honor of their eight senior girls Sunday morning at nine o'clock at the Kappa lodge.

PAN HELLANIC

This Thursday Pan Hellanic is giving a party for the girls of the Colorado Springs area interested in entering Colorado College next fall. Eight girls from each of the sororities will be present to answer any questions about CC. The picnic will be held at Monument Park from 4:30 to 6:30.

GAMMA PHIS

The Gamma Phi Betas will honor house mother, Mom Rundle, at an informal tea to be held at the lodge from 4-6 on May 26. Liz Huggins is in charge of the party.

The annual Gamma Phi senior breakfast will be held at the lodge next Sunday. Ten seniors and many alumnae will be honored this year. The pledges will present their annual skit and the actives will be in charge of the breakfast.

The annual Beta and Gamma Phi picnic and softball game will be held May 17, at Lazy Land. Everyone will meet at the Gamma Phi lodge and leave from there. The Betas have agreed to accept the rules for the game provided by the Gamma Phis.

CROWN AND LANCE

There will be a short business meeting at Lennox House following the Song Fest, Monday, May 19.

EDWARDS CLUB

Dr. Lloyd Worner, popular CC history professor, will lead a discussion of this year's presidential election and its effect on the Cold War at the meeting of the Edwards Club on Sunday, May 18, at 7:15 p.m. in Gregg library located just west of the Congregational church, Tejon and St. Vrain. Everyone interested in this timely subject is welcome to attend and participate or just to listen.

BETAS

The Betas will join their local alumnae in a picnic at Austin Bluffs this Sunday. The festivities will last from two to five.

A meeting of all Colorado Springs girls enrolled at CC will be held on Tuesday, May 20, at 5:00 p.m. in the AWS room in Ticknor Hall. This is a very important meeting and all town girls are requested to attend.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club will hold its annual spring picnic at Austin Bluffs Sunday afternoon, May 18. There will be games in the early afternoon followed by a picnic with plenty of food. This year the guests of the club will be the German speaking members of the faculty of the college. All club members and any other students interested in German are invited.

For members who have paid their dues there will be no charge, otherwise the charge will be fifty cents per person. If you plan to attend our picnic please let Gretel Muenzinger know and pay her or Dr. Brandt in Hayes House by Saturday, May 17. We will meet at Hayes House at 2:30 p.m.

Next to a ring or pin nothing is appreciated more than a portrait. Why not let us make a set of proofs for your approval.

'Queens for a Day' Defeat Kappas at Own Game Sunday

The Phi Delts now have the "milk can" legally. After the annual Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Delta Theta spring softball game, the boys carried the can triumphantly home.

Breakfast was served to the Kappas at the Phi Delt house before the game on Sunday, May 11. The game began at 10:30 at Monument Park. The umpire was A.T. & T. Taitt and the game was played "according to Taitt". The Kappas set up the rules for the game, but between Taitt and the Phi Delts, they worked around every rule. Mits were not allowed on the field for the boys, so they used bushel baskets, megaphones, and hats to catch the balls.

Mrs. Art Taitt was official scorekeeper and judge. The game began with a score of 26 to 0 in favor of the Kappas. When the game ended the score was 32 to 22 in favor of the Kappas, but Taitt forfeited the game to the Phi Delts.

The umpire delayed the game unnecessarily by taking time out for lunch in the second inning. There was undue disturbance in the fourth inning by the entrance of "glamour girl Theodoran" in the game.

Uniforms were provided by the Kappas for the Phi Delts. Awards were given to the following. "Most Curvacious", Jerry Dummer; "Most Glamorous", Dino Theodoran; "Most Girlish", Dale Arie; "Most Devilish", Gabe Duque; "Most Sophisticated", Ned Pfeiffer; "Most Dramatic", Ted Lorish; "Most Tomboyish", Sam Maynes.

The honor of "most wood on the ball" went to Liz Burton. The person who "carried through the best" in the game was third baseman

BILLBOARD

By DON STONE

On Thursday, May 8, the Phi Delts defeated the Betas 10-5 to remain unbeaten in league play. Pitching by both teams was strong, with the Phi Delts gaining the edge by fielding and base running. Beta Bob Krochnke and Phi Delt "Sleepy" Wendnagel were the moundsmen.

The Friday morning picture found the Independents defeating the Sigma Chis 8-6. Two-hit pitching by Independent Pete Kosick sparked the Independent victory.

Tuesday, May 13, the Phi Gams outscored the Independents 7-5. Independent Kosick allowed five hits to Phi Gam Scarica's eight, but Independent errors sent the Phi Gams to victory.

The standings:

	W.	L.
Phi Delta Theta	3	0
Phi Gamma Delta	2	1
Beta Theta Pi	2	1
Independents	1	2
Sigma Chi	0	3

Netmen Leave for Greeley Thursday

The CC tennis team journeys to Greeley this Thursday for the R.M.C. tennis matches Friday and Saturday. The Tiger netmen have placed second for four straight years, but plan to break the streak with a first place this year.

The men and positions are: Jack Orsborn, first position; Bob Trevithick, second position; Del Hitch, third position; and Ted Boardman, fourth position.

Billy Maxwell Sets New Mark Texans Tour Together In 590

Despite playing under ridiculous conditions similar to those most often found on top of Pikes Peak, the North Texas State golf team came up with two new records in winning the sixth annual Colorado College Invitational Golf Meet held at the Broadmoor course last Friday and Saturday. Led by National Amateur Champion Billy Maxwell's par-busting 65 Saturday, the Texans turned in a new team total of 590 strokes, 21 strokes better than the old record held by the University of Oklahoma. Maxwell's 65 along with his first day's 75 also bettered the tournament medalist record by five strokes. The medalist's record was formerly held by Bob Meek of Oklahoma and Babe Lind of the University of Denver.

Defending champion Oklahoma finished a distant second, twenty strokes back of North Texas, with Colorado University and Denver University taking third and fourth respectively.

Following Maxwell in the medalist race were Don January of North Texas State and Jim Vickers of Oklahoma each of whom toured the tricky Broadmoor layout in 148 strokes.

Ken Simon, the only freshman on the Colorado College squad, was low man for the Tigers as he turned in rounds of 85-80. Simon was closely followed by Captain Bob Strang with 82-86. The Tigers

TIGERS NEED TWO WINS AT GREELEY SAT.

BOW TO REGIS IN TWO GAMES THEN COAST PAST THE ARMY

By RAY SCHERER

They've dropped two out of three in a week. Yes, that is the record the Tigers have for the past week in three baseball games, two of them at home. But the most important ones are coming up this weekend in Greeley against Colorado State. The Bengals must win both of them to gain the Rocky Mountain Conference crown for 1952. On the other hand, Colorado State has only to take one of them to be the sole owner of the title and a berth in the N.C.A.A. playoffs in June.

In the first game of the preceding week, under the governing hand of Will Perkins, the ball chasing Bengals bobbled bungled balls all over the place, blowing a nice lead, and finally dropping an 11-10 decision. Dunton went all the way for the Tigers who, after playing nine innings at Regis, commented that Stewart Field was like Yankee Stadium in comparison with that field in Denver. Tom picked up his third loss as compared with two wins.

Saturday was a different story as the batsmen returned to home ground to meet the 4th Field Artillery nine. They picked up three quick runs in the first inning and then took things easy and coasted to a 4-1 win. Perkins used three of his pitchers in that game, and the trio only allowed a total of four hits. The Tigers picked up five.

Pinky Pearson led the Tigers at the plate with a big stick to account for two of the four runs. One of his drives was good for a round trip ticket on the base paths. It came in the first inning and sparked the first stanza rally. His other hit was a double.

Tuesday afternoon, meeting Regis at home, the outlook was bright for another win after losing in the last inning in Denver. However, hopes dwindled in the fifth as Regis hopped to a 4 to 2 lead which they never relinquished. They gathered two more in the sixth, and then sewed it up with four more in the seventh. Those two runs in the fifth inning came as a result of Collins' homerun with one on. Actually, that broke the Tiger's back, although their play was of a listless variety throughout. Undoubtedly, they are pointing for the two very important wins needed this weekend.

RMC Crown Final Meet for Tiger Thinclads

Colorado College track season will end this week end with the Tiger thin-clads competing for the R.M.C. crown in a two-day meet at Creeley. The touted Colorado Mines team holds a slight edge but the Tiger team is considered a strong contender for the crown.

The Tigers are strong on first-place-getters, but lack depth for needed points and as of yet have no meet wins this season. In a meet on Tuesday, May 6, with Lowery Air Base and Camp Carson, the Tigers placed second copping four firsts in nine races and two firsts and a tie for first in six field events. If the Tigers can repeat these performances and the place and show are well distributed they will undoubtly be at the top of the scorers' bracket.

In the meet on May 6 the Bengal thinclads met some of the toughest competition they have seen this year. It was the fastest meet held at Washburn Field this year with some of the contestants nearing Washburn Field records.

The results of the May 6 meet:

One Mile: Porterfield (L), Lawrence (CC), Porter (Carson), Winkler (Carson). Time: 4.53.

440 yd. run: Kamrus (L), Clark (CC), Fritz (Carson), Peterson (L). Time: 51.5.

100 yd. run: Howell (CC), Kolbe (L), Turner (Carson), tie for fourth, Rushitsky (CC), Frazer (Carson). Time: 10.1.

120 yd. high hurdles: Cooper (L), Richardson (CC), Hyde (Carson), Gould (CC). Time: 16.0.

880 yd. run: Porterfield (L), Roberts (L), tied for third, Savage (CC), Porter (Carson). Time: 2.12.

220 yd. run: Howell (CC), Kamras (L), Kolbe (L), Frazer (Carson). Time: 22.8.

Two mile run: Lawrence (CC), Mc Adam (Carson), Eleazer (L), Hill (CC). Time: 11.20.

220 yd. low hurdles: Richardson (CC), Cooper (L), Daniels (Carson), Boyles (Carson). Time: 27.1.

One mile relay: Peterson, Roberts, Porterfield, Kamrus (Lowry). Time 3.36.

Pole vault: Jackson (Carson), Richardson (CC), Hacker (Carson), Wedgeworth (L). Distance: 11 ft. 0 in.

High jump: Jackson (Carson), Wedgeworth (L), Schisler (CC), Nelson (Carson). Height: 6 ft. 6 in.

Last Thursday, on May 8th, the WAA board held its annual picnic at the Carden of the Gods for the old and new board, reports heads and representatives. Salad, potato chips and steaks were well received.

On the new board for next year, yours truly was elected publicity chairman. The organizations have elected their representatives which are: Derry Cowles for Delta Gamma, Connie Chesmore for Theta, Judy Baker for Kappa, Sandy Shepard for Camma Phi, and I am representing the Independent Women.

The heads of the various sports for next year have also been elected and are as follows: volley ball, Joan Martin; swimming, Shirley Gregory; skating, Joan Wittges; bowling, Marion Johnston; basketball, Diane Ashe and Sue Pfeiffer; baseball, Lou Ann Scheideman; archery, Sandy Shepard; tennis, Jane Ellis; and badmitton, Marion Shaw. The points awarded as a result of these tournaments will be added up for the WAA trophy presented next year as they are this year. The badminton tournament is a new idea and it will be the hope of the WAA board that it will be as popular and well supported as are the other tournaments.

The women's baseball games ended on May 4th and the results were: Cumma Phis and Kappas tied for first, each receiving first team points, Delta Gamma third, Thetas fourth and the Independent Women fifth. The interest and support was much appreciated and we wish to thank those boys who umpired our games.

Notice Seniors!

Seniors may pick up their announcements in the Secretary's Office.

The quiet little freshman co-ed from the country was on her first college date, and thrilled beyond words. She didn't want to appear countrified. She had put on her prettiest dress, got a sophisticated hairdo, and was all prepared to talk understandingly about music, art, or politics.

Her hero took her to a movie, and then to the favorite college cafe.

"Two beers," he told the waiter.

She, not to be outdone, murmured: "The same for me."

The gentleman slipped on a staircase of the subway and started sliding to the bottom. Halfway down he collided with a lady, knocking her off her feet, and the two continued the journey together. After they had reached the bottom, the lady, still dazed, continued to sit on the gentleman's chest. Looking up at her politely, he finally said: "Madam, I'm sorry, but this is as far as I go."

Gentleman: Any man a girl hasn't been out with yet.

Phi Delts, Gamma Phis Win Trophies at Annual Song Fest

Beautiful Shove Chapel, delightful musical performances, and tense moments climaxed the annual 1952 Song Fest held Monday evening. The Song Fest was attended by a capacity crowd of nearly seven hundred people, making it the most successful one ever held at Colorado College.

The audience saw Gamma Phi Beta under the leadership of Georgie Shaw, and Phi Delta Theta, directed by Al Mathies take the two first place trophys. The Gamma Phi Beta sorority sang selections from the African Veld which included "Stellenbosche Boys", "Here Come Alibama", and "The Crickets". True American folk tunes were the selections of Phi Delta Theta. They were "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair" and "Cindy". This is the second consecutive year that the Phi Delts have received the trophy. The Gamma Phis have won it for three years in a row which entitles them to keep the traveling trophy. A direct broadcast of the song fest was featured over KRCC.

Judges for the event were Mrs. James Anthony, Mr. Harold Lynn, Jr., and Mr. Walter Illian.

After the song fest a reception was held at Lennox House. At this time a tape recording of the song fest was played. Records of the song fest will be available. Student Council members will take orders at sorority, fraternity and independent meetings. Jack Hattstaedt is in charge of the arrangements for records.

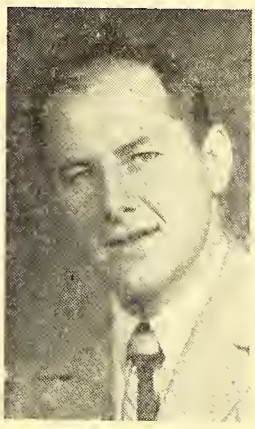
This song fest will go down in records as one of the most colorful events of the school year. It has added much to the old traditions of Colorado College.

Pictured in Lennox House last Monday after the Song Fest are Harold Lynn, Jr., judge; Georgiana Shaw, song chairman of the winning Gamma Phi Beta sorority; DeDe Staskal, chairman of this year's Song Fest; Al Mathies, song chairman for the Phi Delts, winning fraternity and Mrs. James Anthony, judge. The third judge, Mr. Walter Illian, was not present for the photographer.

Sonny Price Award Goes To Ned Mann, Outstanding Senior

It has been announced that as the senior who has participated in more activities and services than any other member of the graduating class, Ned Mann, is the winner of the Sonny Price Award for 1951-52.

This award was established by the Student Council in 1949 as an honor for the outstanding leader in the senior class. Although the award usually takes the form of a $200 prize, this year because of lack of funds it will be purely honorary. The activities of each senior are graded through the distribution of questionnaries according to an established point system, and the winner is then determined by a committee appointed by the Student Council.



Ned Mann

Ned won the award with a total of 256 points. His activities have included: member of the CC football, basketball, and baseball teams and designation as an all RMC guard in football; president of Phi Gamma Delta; secretary-treasurer and president of the Inter-Fraternity Council; president of the "C" Club; president of the Red Lantern; president of the senior class; an inter-class commissioner; a member of the chapel board; participant in intra-mural sports basketball, golf, boxing, tennis, track, and volleyball; member of Canterbury Club; member of the Honor Council; and mention in Who's Who In American Colleges.

Professor Taitt Appointed to Indiana Faculty

Arthur T. Taitt, popular instructor in business administration at Colorado College, has announced his acceptance of a part-time teaching appointment at Indiana university, effective in September. At Indiana he will continue his work for the degree of doctor of commercial science with specialty in finance. Taitt and his wife, who live at 1619 N. Tejon St., will remain here until he completes his CC summer school teaching in August.

During the three years of their residence here the Taitts have been much sought after as chaperons for student affairs, indicating just one phase of the popularity the couple has enjoyed. Taitt, also a special enthusiast for CC athletics, is currently serving as a faculty member of the CC Athletics Board. A lieutenant in the Naval reserve, Taitt has been the executive officer of the Colorado Springs Surface unit of the reserve for more than a year.

Amanda M. Ellis Elected Member of Theta Sigma Phi

From Chicago, comes the announcement that Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in Journalism, which extends honorary membership to a selective list of women who have "distinguished themselves in the field of letters," has elected to membership, Professor Amanda M. Ellis of Colorado Springs, author of the best selling novel "Elizabeth, The Woman" and seven other books.

"In joining these ranks," says Betty Hinkle Dunn of Chicago, "Miss Ellis takes her place alongside of the best known writers of our times." Over the years, others so honored include: Bess Streeter Aldrich, Margaret Culkin Banning, Margaret Ayer Barnes, Mary Ellen Chase, Edna Ferber, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, Ruth Suckow, Ruth Comfort Mitchell, Ruth Bryan Rhode, Eleanor Roosevelt, Harriet Monroe, Dorothy Thompson, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Margaret Widdemer, Louise Pound, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Ida Tarbell, and Sara Teasdale.

"Honorary membership in this organization," Mrs. Dunn, the president, says, "constitutes a special badge of distinction, for it represents the accolade of women whose profession is writing and who are schooled to represent the best."

Amanda M. Ellis is an associate professor of English at Colorado College.

Dr. Lester A. Michel Promoted to Rank of Associate Professor

President William H. Gill of Colorado College announced today the promotion of Dr. Lester A. Michel to the rank of Associate Professor of Chemistry, effective September 1st. Dr. Michel came to Colorado College in the fall of 1947 as Instructor in Chemistry and was promoted to Assistant Professor a year later.

A native of Indiana, Dr. Michel took his undergraduate work at Taylor University in that state, graduating in 1941. He won the M. S. Degree at Purdue in 1944, and received his Ph. D. from the University of Colorado in 1947.

In 1944-45 Dr. Michel was a technical adviser on one aspect of Construction on New Men's Dorm To Begin June 15

Colorado College's Dormitory Committee has news of paramount interest to undergraduate students of the college, regarding the new men's dormitory.

While it was originally hoped that construction might begin before the exit of students from the campus this June, unavoidable delays in plans have been encountered which make this impossible.

However, Dr. Thomas H. Rawles, treasurer of the college, revealed this week that th architects plans have been completed and that the college has advertised

LETTERS TO THE STUDENTS

Colorado Springs, May 20, 1952

Dear CC Family:

About a year ago I was waiting desperately for a letter from the U. S. High Commissioner for Germany. Several months before I had applied for a scholarship to study in the United States. In the meantime I had given up almost every hope. On the last day of my final examinations in June, however, I got the good news. I was informed that the State Department and the students of Colorado College in cooperation with the Institute of International Education had granted me a scholarship for two semesters. Thus I became one of those lucky German students who invade American colleges and universities every year.

When the foreign students' project was strongly emphasized after the second World War it was probably felt that we need much better understanding throughout the world. Perhaps it was also felt that the job of creating good will could be done best by young people because they seldom have resentments against each other, share the same ideals wherever they may live, are more able to understand other nations. Thus among others, young Germans were sent to this country to look, to listen and to try to understand what is happening on the other side of the Atlantic. They were not sent to justify events which had occurred in the past but to look towards the future and to bring and to take back friendship. They never could have come to the United States without the generous help of the American people who invest a lot of money in these foreign students knowing that they won't get back interest in form of any currency but that they would get back something which is probably more valuable than money.

Looking back at the last eight months I have to thank you for this great chance of my life. I owe too much to you to be able to express it in words. For eight months you made me feel at home at Colorado College. You have never treated me like a stranger and never made me feel that I was a foreigner among you. All of you were helpful in the difficult situations which a foreigner is sometimes running into. I am especially thankful to the four fraternities who provided for my board. It was a very good idea that I had to change the board table every two months and I only hope that you will do the same during the years to come. I am very thankful too that I had such fine teachers during these two semesters who took into consideration my fight with the English language.

If I have one wish for the future it is this that you won't discontinue having foreign students at Colorado College. You may be sure that you already have many friends all over the world and with the cooperation of administration, faculty and student body, I am sure, you will still make more friends in the years to come.

Last but not least: If you should ever come to Europe be sure to give me a ring. There will always be a place to stay for you at my home (Nuernberg 34, Reichelsdorferkeller, Am Weissensee 4, Phone: Nuernberg 6 71 79). If I should not see you there, I'll be back at CC for Homecoming 2002!

Erich Drexler

Dear Colorado College:

Let me address all of you students, your faculty and administration as well as the wonderful place where all those kind people live and where I have lived with them for almost a year. It is approaching the end of this outstanding period in my young life, which makes me take a look back on this past year and since we lived it together, I also want you to take part in this sort of review.

I do not know, whether you have seen me on this hot day of September last year, when I—together with Erich—looked for this campus, counting the blocks of North Cascade and sweating under my European hat and topcoat; but I finally made it and was cordially welcomed at the Phi Gam House. This was the beginning of my American College career.

Soon followed more or less hard work in school, a principaled fight against language troubles—I am still fighting—my introduction to the Newman and German clubs on our campus and various other clubs and families in town. There also was a successful season on the CC soccer team and a less fortunate one on our track squad. For Christmas I was the guest of a very nice family near Chicago and for the rest of the vacations I always got a chance through you to go skiing. These, of course, are only the major events leaving unnamed so many others as well as the most valuable experiences of daily life.

Yet, all of them were equally important to me and I think it is a good place here to thank you wholeheartedly, because you as a whole gave me this chance, which I appreciate so much.

If you ask me now for the results of this year and what I have gotten out of it, I could almost fill a book with details which, however, chiefly will emphasize the main thought—that we have more in common than we are different. We have to get to know each other in order to realize that, and I think, we are on the right path by this personal exchange. Therefore, go abroad sometime yourself and have this experience; only then will you be convinced completely.

Should you go through Southern Germany, look me up! Though I cannot offer you a scholarship I would like to have each of you as my family's friend in Regensburg Elferstrasse 9. (Note this anyway, because you never know!)

Once more I would like to thank you for your aid during this past year and your friendship, which I will take back with me. If we should not see each other before, then a hearty "Auf Wiedersehn" 'till we meet for our 50 years' homecoming anniversary.

Cordially yours,
Horst

Dear Friends:

In a few weeks my stay at CC and in the U. S. A. will be concluded. I came for a purpose which I reached. This would not have been possible had it not been for the generosity of the college and help of all my instructors and friends. Indeed I am in great debt which I shall never forget. These five years I have spent at CC have become an integral part of my life, and God willing, I shall do my best to make them fruitful.

A few years ago it was my dream and only hope to come over and get a degree from an American college. And now that I have acquired the preparation it has become my hope and duty to serve my country. I have watched, observed, learned, and experienced, and found myself in a position where I cannot escape the responsibility of extending what I gained.

At this moment I am reminded of a verse inscribed on the bell in the tower of Shove Chapel, "Yesterday is but today's memory, and tomorrow is but today's dreams." As much as I hate to leave I say goodbye all. It has been fun knowing you.

Your friend,
Saad Sahawneh

Student Council HIGHLIGHTS

By SALLY LeROI

Last Saturday the Student Council was invited to a luncheon by Dean Mathias at the El Paso club. After a delicious meal we discussed the recruiting of new students during the summer and plans for next year's Freshman Week.

At this week's meeting the following announcements were made:

1. All students wishing their Nuggets sent to them during the summer should put their home address and thirty cents in the Nugget box in Cutler. All snapshots for the Nugget should be turned in as soon as possible.

2. The CC calendars sold at registration will now be handled by the Interclass Committee, as they previously were taken care of by the NSA.

3. Derry Cowles, new assistant enthusiasm chairman, was appointed as treasurer of the Enthusiasm Committee.

An Englishman arrived in America for his first visit, and a New York publisher, bursting with local pride, took him uptown in an open car. "There is the municipal building," he pointed out "It's sort of our city hall. American workmen put up the whole building in 132 days."

"That's not very remarkable," said the Londoner, "Our city hall was built in 94 days."

A little later the New Yorker pointed out the Williamsburg bridge. "They built that in four months flat," he boasted.

"Our new Waterloo bridge," answered the Englishman, "was put up in two months and a half."

The New Yorker pointed out several other architectural triumphs, but the Englishman topped him every time. By this time the New Yorker was very annoyed.

Suddenly the Englishman gasped in surprise as their car passed the Empire State building. "What's the name of that building?" he inquired. The American shrugged his shoulders, "I couldn't tell you," he said. "It wasn't there when I came downtown this morning."

"Oh boy!" cried the Russian genius, who had somehow come into possession of a Sears-Roebuck catalogue. "Look at these wonderful things to invent!"

Three Zoology Majors Win Fellowships for Graduate Research

Once again Colorado College graduates are proving the value of a liberal arts education in an outstanding and long-proven school. Both jobs and graduate fellowships for continued study are awaiting practically every CC senior who is due to receive a degree come June 8.

Worth of the CC training in zoology, long established as one of the finest types of training of its kind in the nation, was proven today with the announcement of three fellowships awarded to top zoology seniors.

Columbia university, Johns Hopkins university and the University of Oklahoma will be the site of graduate study of these three CC seniors.

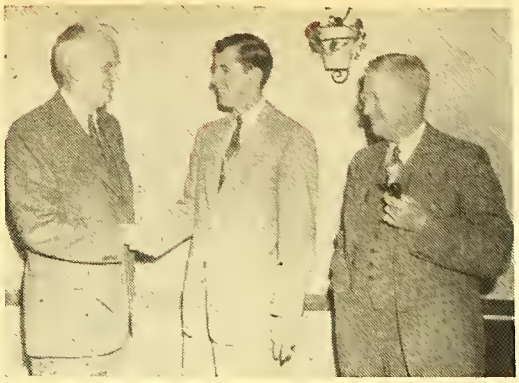
Allen W. Mathies of 225 N. Wahsatch, will enter the School of Public Health at Columbia university in September. Mathies has been awarded a $1,200 assistantship for the coming academic year and has been advised that his award will be renewable during his two-four year stay. Planning to specialize in parasitology, Mathies will be working toward an M.D. degree.

A member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, the Colorado Springs senior has been active in drama, choir, the Workshop Singers and is a member of Delta Epsilon, national honorary scientific fraternity.

Herbert L. Klewer, Van Wert, O., who is also due to receive an A.B. degree in zoology in June, has been awarded an assistantship for $1,200 to study at the University of Oklahoma. Klewer, a member of Phi Gamma Delta and a veteran of the U. S. Navy, plans to study for three years, working toward a Ph.D. degree in medical science.

Andrew Spielman, Long Beach, N. Y., who graduates with a B.S. degree in zoology this year, will go to the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health, where he plans to study approximately for three years in quest of an Sc.D. degree in public health.

President of the CC mountain club, a member of the ski club and a member of Delta Epsilon, Spielman has received an $800 tuition scholarship and a research assistantship totaling $100 per month.



HONORARY MEMBER—Jim Hill, president of Alpha Kappa Psi at Colorado College congratulates H. Chase Stone at the dinner held at the Swiss Chalet last Sunday, at which Mr. Stone was honorarily initiated into the National Business fraternity. Looking on is Roy A. Davis, last year's honorary member.

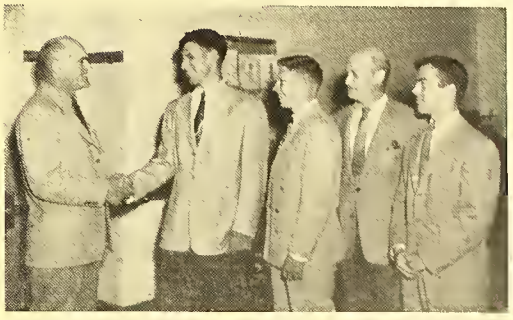
De Voto Lecture Well Received At Perkins Hall

Last Thursday evening the noted writer Bernard DeVoto spoke to a packed Perkins Hall. Tickets which were available at the Secretary's Office at Cutler Hall had all been handed out well in advance. Dean Adams introduced DeVoto as a Westerner in spirit, a professor at Northwestern University, and Harvard as well as a writer for Harper's magazine and author of the Pulitzer Prize winning books, "Year of Decision" and "Across the Wide Missouri."

Mr. DeVoto concerned his lecture with a discussion of writing as a profession. The opposite of the "professional" writer, he said, is not the "amateur" but the "dilletante". The "dilletante" is the "literary man", the unskilled writer who writes to boost his own ego for the purpose of being published. He uses high flown phraseology and literary devices to create an impression of being a man of letters. The amateur, practically non-existent, is the man who writes for his own personal pleasure and satisfaction, with no thought of publication. Unfortunately, DeVoto declared, the professional writer and what goes into his making is "like gold", hard to find.

Advice for the aspiring writer was then given by DeVoto. First, he stressed the meager chances of anyone, particularly the non-professional, of ever being published. Most everyone realizes that such professions as those of the pianist and physicist require training and skill but with little or no training practically everyone feels that he is a potential writer. As examples he cited the thousands of books and articles which are written and discarded by the publishers each year. Harpers, with whom DeVoto is associated, publishes only one out every two hundred and seventy articles submitted to them. 60% of these articles are written by professionals. However he added that the editors of publications are not in league against aspiring writers. As a matter of fact the editors are "developing ulcers" trying to find new writers. Many rejected writers feel that their work was not accepted because it was of too subtle a nature, too non-commercial. DeVoto claimed nevertheless that all the good writing is published besides a vast amount of poor writing.

The conclusion of the lecture was devoted to a plea for fine writing. DeVoto said that in this era writers must protect the purity and integrity of words as of "minds." Writers should not become involved in ambiguity in writing of words. In this day who can define, "American Democracy", "Patriotism" or "Dictatorship?" The word is an instrument as a musical note and should be used carefully.



RECEIVE GRADUATE AWARDS—Dr. Robert Stabler, left, chairman of CC zoology department, congratulates Andrew Spielman, one of three CC seniors graduating in zoology this June who have received top graduate assistantships in graduate study. Looking on are Allen Mathies, winner of an assistantship to Columbia; Dr. Richard Fox, associate professor of zoology; and Herbert Klewer, winner of an assistantship to the University of Oklahoma. Spielman's award is for study at Johns Hopkins university.

Red Lantern to Initiate Thirteen Tuesday at "C" Club

The annual initiation of new members to the "Red Lantern" senior men's honorary organization will be held next Tuesday at 6 p. m. in the "C" Club rooms in Cossitt Hall. Election of officers for the coming year will be held at this time, it was announced today by retiring president, Ned Mann.

Members to be initiated include: Don Linger, Mel Kensinger, Chuck Mollin, George Abbott, Bill Jobe, Wes Boucher, Jim Gubbins, Omer Brandt, Bob Voshall, Ben Snyder, Ted Gould and Dale Arie.

Harrison Halsted, this year's president-elect of the ASCC, will be posthumously initiated into the organization as a small token of the esteem which he deserved, but will be unable to receive. Harry passed away shortly after his election to the presidency of ASCC.

Alpha Koppa Psi Fraternity Honars H. Chase Stane

Sigma Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, largest national business fraternity in existence, presented an honorary membership to H. Chase Stone, president of the First National Bank, during a banquet Sunday, May 18.

About 75 attended the affair, which got underway at 3 p. m. at the Swiss Chalet. Guests included prominent local businessmen and members from Colorado College, Denver University, University of Colorado and the University of Wyoming.

According to organization officials, Stone was chosen for honorary membership because of his "outstanding contributions to business since his arrival in Colorado Springs approximately 25 years ago."

Stone entered the investment business after coming to Colorado and in 1935 became a cashier at the First National Bank. From that position he worked up to his present post as president in 1951.

Included in his many interests and honors are the presidency of Colorado Springs Baseball Club; trustee of the El Pomar Foundation, board member of the Boys' Club and Gazette Telegraph "Man of the Year" in 1949 for his outstanding work as president of the Chamber of Commerce.

In 1951, Roy A. Davis of the Davis Typewriter Company was made an honorary member in the organization, which was founded on the New York University campus in 1906. The local chapter was installed at Colorado College in 1918.

A professor at the University of Oklahoma has come up with a reliable test of student boredom. It's called the "Wiggle Meter." Wires are strung along on the backs of chairs; and every time a student yawns, stretches or wriggles, the impulse is recorded on a graph.

KRCC CELEBRATES FIRST ANNIVERSARY WITH SPECIAL PROGRAMS NEXT WEEK

Radio Station KRCC-FM, Colorado College radio is almost one year old. It was during last year's summer session that KRCC first went on the air. Running for only ten hours a week, for eight weeks for testing purposes, the station aired disk shows, personal appearances, live children's shows and electrical transcriptions.

The machinery was really ready to go into action when the station was officially opened in October, 1951. Since its opening the station has offered a variety of excellent programs to the public. Regular fare on KRCC includes, both classical and popular platter shows, discussion programs featuring students, faculty and interesting personalities outside the college. The weekly chapel services are recorded and re-broadcast each week and KRCC sports staff presents on-the-spot broadcasts of outstanding athletic events. Really unusual are the children's programs directed by Rosie Musgrave and featuring children from the Colorado Springs schools.

Both students and residents of the city are informed of activities on campus which are of interest through the College Calendar and Tiger Review presented each week and KRCC follows through by broadcasting outstanding musical and dramatic productions as well as debates and lectures. Another unusual offering is the new series of programs transcribed in France and contributing to American understanding of French culture.

Its easy to see that KRCC is more than an instrument of practical education for the radio, though that is an important part of its contribution to the college. It is an idea vehicle for better public relations between the campus and the community. Through it citizens of Colorado Springs begin to see the real value of this institution to themselves and to take a real interest in activities of the college from which they may benefit.

KRCC didn't just happen, it is the result of years of hard endeavor towards realization of their dreams by Professor Woodson Tyree and his students. Dozens of individuals have contributed both financially and in actual hard work towards the project. Of the latter, Bud Edmunds is an outstanding example. Bud has given unselfishly of his time and technical skill in setting up the station and successfully running it since its beginning. In a recent replacement evaluation of equipment, it was found that the station is valued at $11,000, but its value in the experience it makes possible for students and in good will between CC and Colorado Springs can never be measured.

There are now three courses in radio available to students in which the station plays an important part as a practical laboratory. Students who are planning to attend the Summer Session and are interested in radio training may register for one of these courses as they will be offered again this Summer and in the Fall.

Pic and Pan Picnic

All old members of Pic and Pan, radio staff members, participants in this year's drama productions, debate team members and invited guests are reminded of the annual Pic and Pan picnic which will be held next Saturday, May 24, at 4:30 p.m. at Chief Tyree's home, 601 Mesa Road.

"What's this about—ye joinin' the Communists?" demanded Pat. "Are you crazy, man?"

"It's the truth," replied Mike. "I joined up with them because the doctor told me I've got but a few weeks to live, and I figure 'tis better for a Communist to go than a good Irishman."

When a worried-looking man in a florist shop asked for potted geraniums, the clerk, out of geraniums, suggested chrysanthemums.

"No, they won't do," replied the man. "I promised my wife I'd water her geraniums while she was away."

We should exchange problems. Everyone knows how to solve the other fellows.

Two Recipients of First Boettcher Scholarships To Enter CC Next Fall

Twelve young Coloradoans, eight boys and four girls, June graduates of 1952 in Colorado high schools, have been selected as the first recipients of Boettcher Foundation Scholarships, it was announced last night. They will continue their education next fall, each choosing one of the state's ten accredited colleges and universities.

Selected under the plan devised by the Scholarship Committee of the Boettcher Foundation, with the counsel of leading Colorado educators ,the twelve make up unquestionably the most highly qualified group of young people in all-around potentiality ever assembled in the state. They represent ten Colorado communities. Three are Denver products. They are the pioneers in the scholarship program conceived by Claude K. Boettcher, Denver industrialist and financier, who is president of the Boettcher Foundation. The Foundation will name a similar group each spring hereafter.

Each scholarship will include full tuition and fees at the college of the student's choice, and will also prvoide reasonable allowance for books and an annual cash grant of $500.

Kappa Sigs Hold 'Stardust' Dance This Saturday

The Kappa Sigma fraternity has sent pictures of twelve lovely coeds to Hoagy Carmichael who is a Kappa Sig and composer of "Stardust." Mr. Carmichael will choose one of the coeds to reign as queen of the annual Stardust Formal dance to be held this year at Bruin Inn. The Queen will be revealed with appropriate crowning ceremonies by social chairman Warren Abbate at 11:00 p. m. Music will be furnished by Drex Broome and his orchestra. Chaperones will be: Mother Haugh, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taitt and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones.

CLUBLICITY

BETA RECORD DANCE

Beta Theta Pi will hold their final dance of the year this Saturday night. The dance will be informal and will be held at the Beta house. Music will be on records. The chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Curran and Mr. and Mrs. Pearl.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Last Sunday morning a breakfast was given at the lodge by the Colorado Springs alumnae in honor of the graduating Theta seniors. Sally Genoways was voted the most outstanding senior in the chapter, and the senior prophecy and will were read.

On Monday night the town mothers will hold a dinner at the lodge for the entire chapter.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi elected the following officers at their last meeting: President, Bob Voshall; Vice-President, Tom Fruend; Treasurer, Mel Kinsinger; Secretary, Henry Royer; Faculty Adviser, Professor Jones; Deputy Councilor, Professor Curran.

AWS

This Thursday from 4:30 until 7:00 the old and new AWS board members will have a picnic out at Austin Bluffs. The picnic is being planned by Gail Lund, the new AWS social chairman.

GERMAN CLUB

Despite gray skies, the German Club picnic took place at Austin Bluffs last Sunday. A group of German and Austrian exchange students from Wyoming joined the picnic. There was plenty of food, fun and games, and the brave picnickers were rewarded with sunshine at the end of the day after all.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

The Psychology Club held its annual picnic for the seniors in the department, May 13 at Lazyland. Food and refreshments were followed by at fast-moving softball game. The officers for next year are: President, Joyce Enright; secretary, Sue McMillan; and treasurer, Brook Kindred. Varied and informative meetings are being planned for next fall.

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. Graduate Fellowships Awarded to Two CC Physics Students

Jerome E. Dummer, a senior with a major in physics at Colorado College, has accepted an Atomic Energy Commission Graduate Fellowship in radiological physics. Radiological physics, as studied in this training program, deals with the health problems associated with the handling of radioactive materials and the release of nuclear energy. His program of training bgins with nine months of study at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., followed by three months of special training at Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

Joseph E. Price, major in physics and member of the class of 1952, Colorado College, has accepted a graduate fellowship in physics at the Rice Institute, Houston, Texas. The department of physics at Rice is now engaged and the Ph.D. degrees at the Rice in an accelerated program of research in nuclear physics. Mr. Price will begin his studies in September, 1952.

Robert M. Brugger, of last year's graduating class, 1951, is now completing his first year of graduate study at Rice. Dr. Paul E. Boucher completed his graduate work for both the master's and the Ph.D. degrees at the Rice Institute.

Many will remember Jack O'Brien who graduated from CC two years ago, who completed this training program last year. He is now employed by the Dow Chemical Company in the new plant being completed near Denver.

RMC Draws Up Athletic Code, No Spring Drill

GREELEY. Colo., (AP)—Faculty representatives of the Rocky Mountain Conference Saturday adopted an athletic code for the league.

Conference President P. C. Gaines of Montana State College said the new code, effective next September, was an endorsement of principles in the revised athletic policy of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Caines said the vote on the code by the six members of the conference was unanimous.

It eliminates spring football practice and delays fall practice until Sept. 1. Basketball practice would be held only after Nov. 1 with the cage season limited to Dec. 1 to March 7, except for NCAA playoffs and tournaments.

The policy provides that awarding and continuance of scholarships should not be based on athletic ability alone. Items in the code dealing with admission policies and enrollment of athletics follow the policies of the NCAA.

The ruling permitting freshmen eligibility for varsity, in effect this year on a temporary basis, was adopted as RMC policy.

Meeting in Creeley, the faculty representatives named Dean M. I. Signer of Colorado School of Mines the next conference president. H. J. Dorricott of Western State College was elected vice president.

The group voted to hold its 1953 meeting at Colorado College next May. The conference track and tennis meet will be held at the same time.

TIGERS FIFTH AS IDAHO STATE WINS EASY RMC TRACK VICTORY

GREELEY, Colo. (AP)—For the second consecutive year, Idaho State Saturday won a thumping victory at the Rocky Mountain Conference track and field championships here.

The Idaho trackers built up a point score of 86½, more than twice the total of their nearest rival, Colorado State, with 40 2/3. Colorado Mines recorded 34 9/10, Montana State 19, Colorado College 18 1/5 and Western State 16.

Individual high point honors were tied between Bob West and Boyd Martindale, both of Idaho State, with 10 1/4 points.

Colorado College's only first place was garnered by George Demos, who won the discus event. Demos tossed the platter 135 feet 9 inches to cop the blue ribbon.

The summaries:

KRCC 'Colorado College Radio' Covers Sports

This past school year, through the cooperation of both KRDO and KVOR, KRCC-FM has brought to sports enthusiasts of the Pikes Peak region, who own or hear radio sets, quite a variety of athletic events.

In the fall we aired all of the 1951 home football games of both our Tigers and the St. Mary's Pirates. Together they totaled ten, and some of those games hold a number of memories for those who were on hand for the broadcasts.

As the winter months rolled around, the "voice of Colorado College" was the first to bring to the populus of the Colorado Springs area high school hockey direct from the scene of battle—Broadmoor Ice Palace. We presented a play by play description of games played by St. Mary's, Cheyenne, Colorado Springs, and Fountain Valley. In addition to the play by play account, our "mike" was handed over to various members of this year's Tiger hockey team for some very interesting and colorful commentaries at intermissions. Then preceding the fifth annual NCAA hockey tournament, our sportscasters were on hand to interview for you several of the coaches and officials at the Broadmoor for this classic.

In a series of Tuesday night fight broadcasts, KRCC brought to you a blow by blow account of all the intramural boxing matches from Cossitt gymnasium.

Each and every Thursday night throughout the school year our sportscasters held forth at 7:00 bringing you up to date on important happenings of the past week as well as for that day in the world of sports, along with interviews of coaches and players here at CC. Often, you could get an inside story "direct from the horses mouth" if you had your F.M. dial tuned to 91.3.

At the present time our sports department is broadcasting all of the scheduled Tiger home baseball games. It certainly is the hope of our entire staff that we can be on tap again next year to give play by play accounts of these and other sporting events.

Fall Tennis Meet Set by RMC as Weather Solution

GREELEY (AP)—Rocky Mountain Conference tennis teams will try a new experiment next fall.

The conference net meet, scheduled here this weekend, was called off because of inclement weather and tentatively reset for Oct. 24-25 here.

The conference has been considering making tennis a fall sport for a couple of years, a spokesman said, and this week's wet weather resolved the issue.

The move had been advocated previously as a solution to the "spring jam" of sports.

TIGERS RAINED OUT; TO TRY AGAIN MONDAY

Face CU in Boulder Today, Go Again Sat. at Memorial

Rain, rain, rain—nothing but rain, has postponed the Rocky Mountain conference playoff in Greeley with Colorado State four times in the past ten days. Once again they "hope" to play the doubleheader Monday afternoon, weather permitting. The Tigers have to take both ends of the twin bill to be eligible for a shot at an NCAA berth for the playoffs in Omaha June 10. On the other hand, the Bears have only to come out on top in one of the games in order to obtain the same ends.

Before meeting the Bears the Bengals must take on the Buffs of Colorado University today and Saturday in a home and home series. The game in Colorado Springs Saturday will be played at Memorial Field—home of the Sky Sox, and the first pitch will be thrown at 2 p.m.

Scheduled to start on the mound for the Tigers in Boulder today is ace lefthander Tom Dunton. Dick Kennefic, the curveball artist, will undoubtedly split the chores with Dunton in order that they both might be spared for Monday's meeting with Colorado State. Saturday at Memorial Field, righthanded Regis Lisowski will probably get the nod in the home season finale. Also due to see action on the mound is speedy righthander Harvey Carter who is getting into top shape after a skiing accident at the beginning of the season.

There have been some changes in the Tiger lineup since their last conference game against Western State in Gunnison. Jimmy Bergsrom, hard hitting third baseman for the past season and one half, has been moved to the outfield and will probably pley in left with Tommy Carson in center and either Tom Reichert or Ned Mann in right. Around the infield it's Pinky Pearson at first, Wally Parus at second, Ed Robson et short, and Leo Soligo at third. Wes Boucher will be behind the bat.

The four postponements of the final conference games could be a blessing in disguise, because of the fact that both Colorado University's field and the Sky Sox' park are comparable to Colorado State's new "million dollar" Jackson Field. Most of the parks that the Tigers have played in this year have been of the "bush league" variety, and playing on a grass infield will be a new experience for the Bengals.

GOING TO CALIFORNIA?

If you are going to the vicinity of L. A. and need a ride, I am driving to Californie shortly after school is out in a brand new Buick and want riders to share expenses and driving. Contact Jesse Chalfant.

"Hey," yelled the devil to a new arrival, "you act as though you owned the place."

"I do," came the reply, "my wife gave it to me before I died."

By DON STONE

The Intramural golf tournament found the Sigma Chis sweeping the honors with a sizzling 84 point average among the teammates, Bob Wilkens, Jay Stone, Hank Royer and Chuck O'Conner. Kappa Sigma was second with a 91 3/4 point average. The competitors for the Kappa Sigs were Dick Pearson, Ed Robson, Wes Boucher and Leo Soligo. Third place went to Phi Gamma Delta with a 94 1/4 point average. Warren Arter, Mel Kensinger, Art Patterson and Len Maccini were the linksmen for the Phi Gams. The Independents copped fourth place with a 97 1/2 point average. Ed Luke, Roy Keller, Chris Ray and Jack Wilbur. Phi Delta Theta placed fifth with a 107 3/4 point average. The golfers were Don Diones, Ron Godar, Ted Lorish and Don Stone. Only two entries were made for the Betas with Ken Simon taking medalist honors with a 71, a one under per total.

The softball league is still led by the unbeaten Phi Delt team, who have one game yet to play with the third place Phi Gams. A win will give them the first place trophy which will be their first Intramural win of the year.

The Phi Gams easily swept the All-Intramural trophy for the year. The results excludlng softball ore:

for bids from the contractors of the state and region.

Rawles indicated that contractors' interest in the construction of the dormitory was high and that bids were being submitted rapidly in order to meet the deadline of June 5, 1952, at which time bids will be opened.

In times such as these it is difficult to guess when real construction can begin and can be completed." Dr. Rawles emphasized. "However, for the information of CC students, we do expect the contractor who receives the job to begin work on June 15 and to have your new men's dormitory completed by June 15, 1953, ready for occupancy in September, 1953."

Luther Sharpe, assistant to the president, reported the drive for funds has been very successful with the following groups contributing:

532 College alumni	$194,068
215 Colo. Springs Firms	171,520
94 parents of students	30,699
Total pledges	$397.699

Of this amount Sharpe said, "Over $230,000 is cash with the balance to be paid during construction."

"I just got out of prison this morning," a traveler told a man on the train. "It's going to be tough facing old friends."

"I can sympathize with you," replied the other; "I'm just getting home from Congress."

Sports Comments

Manager Chuck Dressen of the Dodgers was asking for it when he told first baseman, Gil Hodges, he would reward him with $10 the first time he bawled out an umpire. At least one umpire has promised he will keep this in mind the next time Dressen gets in his hair.

If Jack Hurley, who has done a masterful job of ballyhooing Harry Matthews, permits his fighter to get in the same ring with Rocky Marciano this summer, as the IBC proposes, he will not be as smart as we thought he to be.

The two-stroke penalty slapped on Babe Zaharias out in Seattle because someone had fouled up her scorecard and she had innocently signed it was all out of proportion. She was the one who called their attention to the error. It was equally silly when Byron Nelson lost an Open championship because his caddy stepped on his ball.

Why all the excitement about a Mexican, Lauro Salas, winning the lightweight title? Speaking as one who watched the Baby Arizmendis and Kid Panchos fight in the old days in San Antonio, we have long been puzzled that Mexicans did not dominate the lighter divisions. For that matter, we cannot explain why there are not more of them in the big leagues.

The Yankees are in serious trouble when they have to bring Irv Noren in from centerfield to play first base and Manager Casey Stengel talks about turning Vic Raschi into a relief pitcher. Cleveland might win it by eight or 10 games.

Sports writers in from the Midwest speak gloomily of the attendance figures at their home parks. Something, they say, has become of the entertainment dollars. The family parties of three and four, in particular, are missing.

School, Denver, recipient of one of the coveted scholarships, has chosen Colorado College as the best institution in which to further her studies. Joyce plans to enter either retail business or social work.

Because there were so many fine students competing in the scholarship contest, Mr. Boettcher asked the Scholarship Committee to recognize four additional scholars. These were voted Boettcher Foundation educational grants in amounts equal to about half the value of a Foundation scholarship. Among those receiving grants is Leah Jane Carrol of East High School, Denver who will enroll at Colorado College next fall.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests
No. 42...
THE PORCUPINE
"They picked on the wrong guy when they tried to needle me!"

He's listened to the weak thread of so many shallow claims he's fed-up! His point is—there's a thorough test of cigarette mildness. Millions of smokers throughout America concur.
It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...
Camel leads all other brands by billions
